OTH-B Controversy Was 1986's Top News Story

While 1986 provided a number of significant news items of area importance, the long-standing controversy regarding location of an OTH-B radar receiving station west of Thief River Falls has been selected by the Times new staff as the number one story of the year. The situation provided a number of articles and reader opinion regarding the U.S. air force proposal and area land owners' objections and concerns.

Other stories selected for their impact on the community, general reader interest or public involvement are listed among the top 10 stories. In some cases events were combined as they related to general circumstances, such as the continuing adverse farm situation. The list of top stories is as follows:

(1) The United States Air Force proposes to locate an Over-the-Horizon Backscatter radar site near Thief River Falls.

(2) The United States government proposed to establish a secondary nuclear waste repository and one possible site was located near Thief River Falls.

(3) Northwest Regional Development commission moved from Crookston to Thief River Falls.

(4) A large number of candidates were on election trail and election results showed close races. State Sen. Collin Peterson challenged the election results for the Seventh district congressional seat, forcing a recount between challenger Peterson and Congressman Arlan Stangeland.

(5) Argiculture outlook was still poor.

(6) Falls Day Activity Center was embroiled in controversy.

(7) The 85th annual county fair held in Thief River Falls.

(8) Traffic fatalities were in the news.

(9) A measles outbreak caused cancellations.

(10) Theft by swindle of $37,850 from the Pennington county welfare department resulted in a prison sentence for a department employee.

(1) In February it was announced that an area near Thief River Falls was being considered as a candidate receiver site for a radar system called Over-the-Horizon Backscatter. The system would provide surveillance of aircraft approaching North America. Information on the site and meetings were constantly in the news, however the system attracted little public attention until one local farmer began talking with farmers in the affected area about the implications of the system in September.

Don Dyrdal, one of the local residents to oppose the system, was featured in a Times article in September. Opposition as well as support groups continued to grow until discussion to be entered into the record ended on December 8. As the year closed, area residents — whether for or against the project — were anxiously awaiting the results of a final environmental impact statement and decision by the air force.

(2) On January 22 one of the first of many articles on the nuclear waste disposal site appeared in The Times. One of the 12 sites considered acceptable for a second high level nuclear waste repository was a 300 square mile area beginning about six miles west of Thief River Falls and including parts of Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake and Polk counties.

Reaction to the announcement was instantaneous. Local and state government officials as well as the public were virtually unanimously against the idea. Many meetings were organized and groups developed

NEW YEAR'S BABY at Northwest Medical center is Mark Gerald Nichols, born at 9:27 p.m. on New Year's day (Thursday) to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nichols of McIntosh. Mark weighed in at nine pounds, 11½ ounces and was 21 inches long. He joins his brother, James Edward, age nine and one-half, in the Nichols family. Maternal grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bernard of Erskine and maternal great-grandfather is John Thompson of Rochester.

Chuck Cavanaugh Sets Sights As Rural Nurse

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

When Chuck Cavanaugh completes his LPN and RN training in Thief River Falls, he doesn't plan to take his education and head for the city. "I wouldn't move back to any big city for any amount of money unless it was a direct order from the Lord," he states flatly, "and even then I think I'd have to see His I.D. card!"

Cavanaugh got his fill of the city when living in Philadelphia, PA. He was attacked three times in four years of living there, including being accosted in a parking lot and only half a block from his house. When a good friend was mugged at gunpoint....at 3 o'clock in the afternoon....100 feet from a policeman, he decided he had had enough of the city life.

Having read an article in an outdoor publication about wilderness living, he packed up his wife and family and moved to northern Minnesota, building a cabin south of Roosevelt. There was no phone, no electricity, no modern conveniences. Chuck loved it; he gained 15 pounds. His wife hated it; she left.

"I didn't think there would be any problem getting work here," he said, "but Minnesota doesn't accept my PA certification. I had five months of training in the navy (he served four years, seven months and 22 days and received his discharge at 1600 hours), and was a paramedic. In Philadelphia I worked in physical and emotional rehabilitation of catastrophically injured or multiple sclerosis patients."

He came out of the woods to become what is now being popularly referred to as a "non-traditional" student — someone beyond immediate post high school age. He is also involved in a profession which has been dominated by females and is one of three male students in this year's AVTI licensed practical nurse program. The others are Lance Stoddard of Thief River Falls and Jason Nupdal of Cavalier, ND.

Last year there were no male students in the LPN program. There were two in 1984-85, none in 1983-84, three in 1982-83 and only one in 1981-82, according to instructor Sharon Erickson.

"God put me in a place where I didn't have a choice," he said, "and the doors have opened miraculously. This school is incredibly helpful if you will only go and ask for help. The instructors are helpful, they accept change and the school is receptive to new ideas. Students who say they aren't getting help probably haven't let it be known they need help."

Cavanaugh attends the AVTI under the Job Partnership Training Act which pays for his tuition through Job Service. He also works with Life Star Ambulannce service which tailors his work time to fit his school class schedule. Although he approached going back to school with some trepidation ("after all, I had spent 30 years of my life not going to nursing school"), he has carried an A average, represents his class on the AVTI student sendate and is vice president of that student group. He has also been named director of disaster services for the local Red Cross chapter.

"I didn't expect to find this high an activity level in a small community," he said: "I miss going to the art galleries and museums, but Thief River Falls has everything else Philadelphia has — except the roving gangs trying to rob you, organized burglary and nasty cops. You can get to know the law enforcement people here. They're good people."

He said that being a non-traditional student has been no problem. There are a lot of non-traditional women in

Social Security Reps Move To Heritage Center

Ted Hoversten and Neil Rowe, field representatives of the Grand Forks social security office, will be in Thief River Falls at the Heritage Center, 301 Fourth St. E., on Tuesday, January 13, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Note the change of address of the meeting place. "We are happy to be part of Thief River Falls new Heritage community center," Hoversten and Rowe said. "Our thanks, too, for the years of service provided by the good people in the city auditorium."

Plummer School Opens Library For Adult Use

Plummer public school is opening its library to the adult residents of the school district each Wednesday from 3:30 to 5 p.m. beginning this week, according to Supt. Christianson.

Any materials in the library may be checked out with the exception of encyclopedias. People are also welcome to bring magazines for exchange.

Appoint Sparby To Task Force On Development

With the legislature gearing up for the 1987 session, Rep. Wally Sparby, Thief River Falls, has been appointed to serve on the House DFL economic development task force. Purpose of the task force is to pinpoint the most critical economic development issues facing Minnesota and to make recommendations for legislative action during the 1987 session.

Sparby said he has attended the first two meetings at which a broad range of issues were discussed, including rural development, job creation, economic diversification and business cost issues such as taxes, unemployment and workers' compensation, and insurance.

At the second meeting at the Capitol December 18, task force members heard presentations by the department of energy and economic development and the department of jobs and training. Representatives from these two agencies, which handle the state's economic development programs, outlined the funding status and results of current programs and made some recommendations on steps they believe the 1987 legislature should take to further promote economic development.

"I feel fortunate to be a member of the economic development task force because I will be in a good position to call attention to the concerns we have here in District 1B on such issues as small business development and commercial tax structure," Sparby said.

Investments And Retirement Are Program Topics

"Planning for Retirement-Investments" is the topic for a program to be sponsored by the Pennington county extension service Friday at 1:30 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room in Thief River Falls, according to Deborah Zak, Pennington county extension director.

"The program will include rules for successful investing, IRAs, the effects of the 1986 tax reform act on consumer spending and information on forming an investment club," Zak said.

Lynnea Pritchett, a financial advisor, will explain various investment options for individuals and the degree of risk associated with each type. Anyone interested in learning more about basic financial planning and investment options is encouraged to attend.

Flood Protection Meet Wednesday Set At Goodridge

Informational meeting on possible flood protection projects which would affect some property in northeast Pennington, southeast Marshall and northwest Beltrami counties will be conducted Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Goodridge senior citizen center.

The meeting will be conducted by the Pennington county board of commissioners and Red Lake Watershed district and all interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Wayne L. Olson, Pennington county highway engineer, said the purpose of the meeting is to provide information on preliminary engineering data developed by the Red Lake Watershed district at the request of the Pennington county commissioners.

"Area landowners have had severe flooding problems in the area of Pennington, Marshall and Beltrami counties described," Olson said. "At the request of the Pennington county commissioners, the Red Lake Watershed district studies the possibility of an impoundment site to control flood water and a number of possible sites were located.

"This information was reviewed at a meeting with the watershed district," Olson added. "The county commissioners requested additional information concerning feasibility of alternatives that would address the problems in Pennington county."

At a meeting with landowners in the watershed district office, Pennington county was requested to obtain cost estimates for a ditch improvement project on the Judicial Ditch 30, 13 and 18 system. That work was completed and reviewed at a county board meeting.

Wednesday's meeting in Goodridge was suggested to allow a better opportunity for persons in that area to attend. Information to be presented includes the costs of ditch improvement on the JD 30, 13, 18 system in Pennington county. Charles Anderson, Red Lake Watershed district engineer, will be present to outline details of options for impoundment sites that he has studied.

Olson said that a very important point for landowners in the area to be aware of is that neither the Pennington county board of commissioners nor the watershed district can further develop plans unless they receive a petition for improvement from the landowners. This means any further action must be requested by the property owners in the area.

1986 News Events Summarized In Review

As 1986 comes to a close and 1987 gets rung in with cheer, another year of news recorded in the Times has become a part of history. What follows is a summary of some of the news happenings during the first six months of 1986:

January

As 1986 began the Pennington county board increased their salaries and Tony Lenzini, a long distance snowmobile rider, stopped in Thief River Falls on his way to Prudhoe Bay, AK. The 46-year-old camera repairman from Duluth, MN, was not new to long distance snowmobile rides. In 1980 he established a world record when he bounced a Ski-Doo snowmobile from Houghton Lake, MI, to Anchorage, AK, a distance of 5,627 miles. His 1986 trip was around 10,000 miles long.

At the beginning of the year Minnesotans also found out that Minnesota's total state and local per capita tax burden remained at 5th highest in the nation in 1984. For the third consecutive year the state's percentage rise in tax collections outstripped the national average, according to the Minnesota Taxpayers Association (MTA).

In January the long and difficult search for a new home for the Northwest Regional Development Commission began. Eventually the commission moved from its location at 425 Woodland avenue in Crookston, which had become unsafe; to the Arctco complex in Thief River Falls, but not without a difficult struggle amongst commission members.

Other events in January included: approval of the purchase of a 911 emergency telephone number for Pennington county, which became effective in September of 1986; a story about a conversion unit system built by Steiger Manufacturing company of rural Red Lake Falls, which converts a half-ton or three-quarter ton van or pickup from a wheeled vehicle to a tracked vehicle for travel over the snow; gross receipts from charitable gambling in Thief River Falls totaling nearly $1.5 million in a period less than eight months; Don Liden and Don Barron joining the Thief River Falls city council which now includes Mayor Bob Carlson, Clayton Restad, Milan Borsheim, Kenneth Murphy, and Dale Wennberg, and J.J. Womack; Northwest Medical center started a closed circuit television show featuring many staff members; on January 17 approximately 400 people attended an open house of the Area Ag Information center at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute and following a 39-cent meal a tractorcade with more than 30 tractors left for St. Paul where a farm rally was held; and the U.S. Department of Energy announced that three sites in Minnesota were among 12 areas in seven states proposed as high level nuclear waste repositories.

February

As February began about 18 members of the local skating club were set for the North Country skating competition, a three-day competition for which 456 skaters were registered; Northland's Sno-Fest began and Tony Perpich, deputy minister for Minnesota department of energy and economic development, energy division, visited Thief River Falls to inspect a new heating system at Northwest Medical center which burns pellets from Future Fuel in Thief River Falls. In sports, Mark Baker bowled a 300 game in the Commercial league at Family Bowl.

Total building permits decreased slightly in 1985. The number of building permits issued by the Thief River Falls building inspector decreased from 171 in 1984 to 166 in 1985. At Northland community college, an Indian services director was named. Melody Hamlin of Bemidji was named the director of the new services to Indian people program of the Clearwater community college region. Throughout the month of February several meetings on the proposed location of a nuclear waste repository were held.

Acting on the appeal of Sgt. Allen Melbye of the Thief River Falls police department, district court, division 1 of the ninth judicial district, Judge Russell A. Anderson reversed the decision of the Thief Riover Falls police civil service commission in the veteran's preference hearing of Melbye. Later in the year the decision of the police civil service commission was reinstated by the state appeals court.

Marshall county central girls withstood a late-game Middle River rally to come up with a 41-37 high school basketball win that clinched the North Border conference title for the Nordics, who remained unbeaten in league play.

Cynthia Solem-Douglas Kilen Wed In October 18 Ceremony

Cynthia Jo Solem and Douglas Arthur Kilen were united in marriage October 18 at a 4 p.m. double ring ceremony at Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. Officiating were Rev. D. Josh Nelson and Rev. Kermit Solem of Duluth, uncle of the bride.

Parents of the couple are Roger L. Solem and Peggy Solem of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. A. Roger Kilen of Middle River.

Serving as organist was Mrs. Dorothy Larson, playing the traditional "Bridal March" as processional. Vocalists were Jan and Deidre Nordin. duets were "The Rose", "Annie's Song", "He Has Chosen You For Me" and "My Only Love".

The church was decorated with floral arrangements of gardenias, carnations and green ferns. Two large brass candelabra accented with greenery and large white bows were placed on the altar, along with two table top candelabra. White bows decorated the front pews. Candle lighters were Greg and Brad Kilen, brothers of the groom. Jody Christofferson, Holt, cousin of the groom, registered the guests.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a traditional white gown of bridal satin featuring a Queen Anne neckline and closely-fitted bodice trimmed in Venise lace, seed pearls and sequins forming a V-shape dropped waist. Long Elizabethan sleeves were gathered through the middle, coming to a point over the hand with a closing of eight satin buttons.

The back of the gown was sheet lace with 32 satin buttons. A satin skirt flowed into a semi-cathedral train with silk floss-embroidered lace trimming the scalloped hemline. To compliment her gown, the bride wore a bridal headband of rhinestones and pearls that came to a point over the forehead with long back veil. She carried a fresh cascading bouquet of gardenias, sweetheart roses, carnations, freesia, babies' breath and greenery.

Jennifer Johnson, Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Jody Solem, Thief River Falls, sister-in-law of the bride, and Debbie Torgerson, Thief River Falls, friend of the bride. All wore identical long teal blue satin gowns with spaghetti straps, closely fitted bodice, fish tail back accent and straight skirt with back slit. Short, fitted jackets had a stand-up collar, Elizabethan sleeves and criss-cross front closure. The bride's attendants carried small bouquets similar to the bridal bouquet and wore pearl and rhinestone earrings and necklaces, their gifts from the bride.

Miniature brides were Katie and Kristi Kilen, Newfolden, nieces of the groom. They wore identical long, white satin gowns with square neckline, long Elizabethan sleeves, fitted bodice and dropped waist. The satin skirt flowed to a train similar to that of the bride. In their hair they wore wreaths of seed pearls and babies' breath with back veil. Complimenting their gowns were their gold, heart-shaped, opal necklaces, gifts from the bride and groom.

Valerie Solem, Grand Forks, aunt of the bride, and Deon Haugen, Roseau, friend of the bride, assisted as personal attendants.

Bruce Kilen, Thief River Falls, served as his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Roger A. Solem, Thief River Falls, brother of the bride; and Steve Haugen, Roseau, friend of the groom.

The groom was attired in white Pierre Cardin tails with matching cummerbund and bow tie. His boutonniere was two white sweetheart roses, freesia, babies' breath and greenery. Attendants wore black Pierre Cardin tuxedos with matching cummerbunds and ties. Their boutonnieres were white sweetheart roses, babies' breath and greenery.

Ushering the 400 guests were Mike Solem, St. Cloud, cousin of the bride; Scott Peterson, Coon Rapids, friend of the groom; and Greg and Brad Kilen, brothers of the groom from Middle River. They wore black Pierre Cardin tuxedos with matching vests and bow ties, and boutonnieres of two red wedding stars, babies' breath and greenery.

Miniature groom was Zakary Solem, nephew of the bride. He wore a white tuxedo similar to that of the groom, with matching cummerbund and bow tie, and a boutonniere of two white wedding stars, babies' breath and greenery.

Mothers of the couple were presented with corsages of white roses, carnations, freesia, babies' breath and greenery. The mother of the bride wore a caramel street-length gown with matching shoes and accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in a gray pin-striped skirt and jacket with mauve accessories.

Honored guests included the bride' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solem and Mrs. Celia Koropatnicki, all of Thief River Falls; the grooms' grandfather, Art Olberg, Middle River, godparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kalls, Walhalla, ND; and godparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haugen, Middle River.

Following the ceremony, the father of the bride hosted a reception in the church parlors. Host and hostesses were the bride's great-aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Koropatnicki, Walhalla, ND; the groom's great-aunt, Mrs. Helen Kilen, Greenbush; and the groom's aunt, Mrs. Carolyn Ruud, Leesville, LA.

Highlight of the serving table was the three-tiered white and chocolate wedding cake with a flowing fountain at the base. On the bridal stair were miniatures of the entire wedding party in wedding colors of teal blue and black. The cake was baked and decorated by Margaret Rupprecht.

Cutting the cake were Darlene Koropatnicki, Goodridge, and Kathleen Christofferson, Middle River, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively. Pouring were Carmen Solem, Grand Rapids, aunt of the bride, and Shirley Kilen, Holt, aunt of *the groom. Mike and Kathy Peter*son, Pillager, presided at the punch bowl. Flowers were arranged by Judy's Flowers and Gifts.

Waitresses were Linette Olson, Vonda Peterson, Nikki Christofferson, Kari Nelson, Jennifer Ruud and Jana Vacura. Jeremy Ruud, Leesville, LA, cousin of the groom, and Odetta Blomker, Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, served as gift carriers. Kent Nelson, Spring Lake Park, cousin of the bride, and Nathan Blomker, Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, distributed programs. Providing the guests with wedding matchbooks and candy kisses were Cody Gillund, Middle River, cousin of the groom, and Jonathan Blomker, Thief River Falls, friend of the bride.

Following the reception, a dance was held at the Thief River Falls country club with music by "Impulse."

The parents of the groom hosted a supper at the Middle River American Legion clubrooms following the rehearsal.

Out-of-town guests were from Hibbing, Duluth, Chisholm, Fosston, Mountain Iron, Dilworth, Kelly Lake, Moorhead, Grand Rapids, and the Twin Cities area; Grafton, Cavalier, Walhalla, Backoo, Dickinson, Grand Forks and Bismarck, ND; and Vancouver, British Columbia.

After their honeymoon trip to Duluth and North Shore Drive, the couple is at home in Countryside Trailer Court in Thief River Falls. The bride is a graduate of Lincoln high school and is employed at Vidcom Marketing, Inc. the groom is a graduate of Middle River high school and is engaged in farming.

Minnesota's Tax Burden Drops To 6th In Nation

Minnesota's state and local per capita tax burden fell to sixth highest in the nation in 1985 according to the Minnesota Taxpayers association (MTA). This is down from the number five ranking in 1984. For the first time since 1981 taxes in other states increased faster than in Minnesota. However, when taxes are compared to income Minnesota ranks fifth highest in the nation — the ranking held since 1983.

Although this tax level is still uncomfortably high, the MTA welcomed this change. The slower increase in taxes may signal the beginning of a "warming trend" for taxpayers in Minnesota.

According to Don G. Paterick, executive director of the MTA, "These figures reflect the state's position between July 1, 1984 and June 30, 1985. This was after the income tax surtax was removed, but before the 1985 tax cut took effect. This 1985 tax cut will be reflected in the 1986 rankings. Therefore, Minnesota's tax ranking will drop again in 1986."

The state-by-state tax rankings are based on data collected by the U.S. census bureau and are analyzed each year by the Minnesota Taxpayers association. The burdens are compared on a per capita basis (revenues divided by population) and per $1,000 of personal income.

The total state and local per capita tax burden in Minnesota for 1985 is $1,767, a 3.5 per cent increase over the $1,706 reported in 1984. Nationally, state and local taxes increased by eight per cent to $1,465 per capita in 1985. four states — Alaska, Wyoming, New York and Connecticut, plus the District of Columbia — outranked Minnesota. Minnesota's taxes are 21 per cent higher than the U.S. average and higher than any state in the Midwest.

"Other states in our area have much lower taxes," Paterick stated. "The next highest Midwestern state is Wisconsin which ranks 12th at $1,611 per capita. Our other neighboring states are still lower: North Dakota ranks 25th at $1,357, Iowa is 27th at $1,331, and South Dakota is 45th at $1,043."

The MTA report also breaks down the tax burden for the major taxes.

A reduction was most noticeable for the income tax, where Minnesota's rank dropped from a dangerously high number two to fourth. The per capita amount fell from $557 to $533, or from 191 per cent of the U.S. average of 171 per cent. The national per capita average was $312. Since this ranking was before the 1985 income tax cut, Minnesota's rank should drop again for 1986. Based on income tax collections per $1,000 of personal income, Minnesota's ranking dropped from first to fourth place.

The corporation income tax ranking fell from 10th to 11th in 1985. The per capita burden of $91 is 12 per cent above the U.S. average of $82.

The sales tax rank fell from 14th to 15th while tax collections increased from $301 to $322 per capita. The average U.S. citizen paid $300 in state sales taxes, $22 less than the average Minnesotan.

Property tax collections increased from $466 to $497 per capita while the ranking dropped one place to 20th. Minnesota is 14 per cent above the U.S. average of $435.

The higher taxes in Minnesota support higher spending by state and local governments. Spending rose from $2,611 per capita to $2,842, an 8.9 per cent increase. This was just above the 8.5 per cent average increase for state and local governments nationally. This put Minnesota at the number five rank for spending. Minnesota's per capita spending is $529 or 23 per cent above the U.S. per capita average of $2,313.

One-third of Minnesota's spending is for education, the largest piece of the spending pie. The per capita amount of $936 is 16 per cent above the U.S. average. Minnesota ranks 10th highest in total education and sixth highest in spending for elementary and secondary schools.

The second largest spending category, "public welfare", includes cash assistance, medical care payments and other programs. Minnesota is paritcularly high in this catelgory; at $431 per capita, we are 44 per cent above the U.S. average for a rank of fifth highest.

Highways constitute the third highest spending category at $291 per capita, 55 per cent above the U.S. average. Minnesota ranks ninth highest for highway expenditures.

Health and hospitals amount to $232 per capita in Minnesota or 12th highest in the national, and is 11 per cent above the national average.

These three categories of highways, welfare and health and hospitals constitute another one-third of state and local spending. Minnesota's spending in all these categories is substantially above the U.S. average. The remaining one third goes for all other spending categories such as police, fire, corrections, sewers, natural resources, parks and government administration. Minnesota's spending is below the national average for police, fire, corrections and airports.

Paterick concluded with a hope that tax burdens for Minnesotans will continue to decline from the high rankings previously witnessed.

"The slight drop for 1985 and a projected further drop for 1986 has been an intentional effort to reduce Minnesota's high tax rankings. Minnesota's current projected deficit problem for the next biennium must not override the progress which has been made. Conforming to the new federal income tax law without a reduction in rates is not a windfall, but an income tax increase. Federal conformity should not be the vehicle to provide a hidden tax increase," Paterick said.

News Events Of 1986 Summarized In Annual Review

Falls and Pennington county for the past two years were active. Jan Kramer of All Seasons Realty, Inc. prepared a summary which showed 137 home sales in Thief River Falls during 1985 — up from 111 in 1984 — and 47 residential homes with 40 acres of land or less in Pennington county — down from 53 in 1984.

Other news events in brief, included: an agreement by the governments of Manitoba, Minnesota and North Dakota to cooperate in an effort to prevent the location of a nuclear waste repository in Minnesota; a story about Verner Arveson and Mildred Hanson being named Pennington county farmer and homemaker; a new bus for Tri-Valley Opportunity council which began service in Thief River Falls; Northland community college clinching the 1985-86 Northwest division basketball title with a 105-85 win at Brainerd; Steve Houle became the overall C.C.C. high-point winner of the 1985-86 season which concluded at Thief River Falls with the World Series snowmobile races; the U.S. air force announced that Thief River Falls was being considered as a possible location for an Over-the-horizon backscatter radar system; and Will Dekkers of rural St. Hilaire was crowned King Agassiz XXVI at the annual program in Crookston.

March

An unidentified gunman robbed the People's state bank of Warren getting away with about $9,800 as the pages of the Times unfolded in March. And Police Chief Kenneth Froschheiser reported to the city council that crime in Thief River Falls has remained at a relatively stable position, with few surprises, except in juvenile shoplifting crimes.

Number four-seeded Thief River Falls picked off number one-seeded Moorhead 61-55 in the North Subregion 8AA girls high school basketball tournament semifinals.

In Goodridge the community fire department was reorganized. The reorganization was helped on its way by a $37,000 donation from the Goodridge area development corporation. Also in March opposition groups formed and waged campaigns against the possible location of a nuclear waste repository near Thief River Falls.

Readers of the Times also saw ground-breaking ceremonies at Land O'Lakes turkey processing plant in Thief River Falls; school boards struggling with finding ways to cut budgets; a new cat litter packaging plant for Leo's Luxury Litter at the Occupational Development center; more hearings on high-level nuclear waste disposal siting; Cinderella performed by Lincoln high school students; a 15-car Soo Line derailment near Newfolden; and voting members of the Northwest Regional Development commission voted not to rescind previous action, thereby sustaining transfer of the commission's headquarters from Crookston to Thief River Falls.

April

Headlines in April noted continuing interest and opposition to a possible nuclear waste repository near Thief River Falls.

Third degree murder charges were filed in Pennington county district court division I, against Darrin Nick Funk, 19, Red Lake county, for the death of Ronald Hal Jorgenson of Thief River Falls. The charges claimed Funk deliberately drove on the wrong side of the road and caused a head-on collision with Jorgenson. The complaint alleged that Funk, who is deaf, admitted in sign language to an interpreter that he was attempting to kill himself when he crossed the centerline of the highway traveling at about 88 miles per hour and collided head on with the Jorgenson car at 1:20 a.m. on March 25.

While Pennington county's total tax delinquency of 5.72 per cent on Dec. 31, 1985, was the highest percentage since 1944 and up from 5.01 per cent a year ago, the actual dollar amount of delinquency was down by just less than $10,000 according to statistics compiled by Ellsworth Jorgenson, Pennington county treasurer.

A light aircraft registered to Lowell Swanson of rural route Goodridge crashed upon landing at the Thief River Falls airport when the plane was caught in a gust of wind turning it sideways and then causing it to hit the ground hard enough to cause the landing gear to collapse. Extensive damage was reported to the aircraft but no injuries to the passengers or pilot. No names were released.

The Northwest Private Industry council voted to establish its own administrative entity, a move which paved the way for the council to sever its direct connections to the Northwest Regional Development commission.

Statistics reported at the AVTI farm management analysis meeting in Thief River Falls showed a continuance of huge individual farm debt, a very modest increase in farmer equity or net worth on the average and a vast spread from farm to farm in return to capital and family labor.

Thief River Falls Area vocational-technical institute became an authorized training center for the Auto CAD system; and the Measles outbreak which caused Prom for Lincoln high school students to be delayed at least two weeks were also major news items in April.

May

As May began restrictions on normal school activities because of the measles outbreak were lifted. Most students and residents within the age group affected had vaccinations for immunization against measles and no reports of second generation infections had been received by state epidemiologists.

Dave Tyler of Grand Forks, ND, won the People's choice first place award with a 1936 Ford Coupe and Tom Tollefson of East Grand Forks won the Participant's Choice with a 1935 Ford tudor at the North Country Auto Showtime competition conducted at the sports arena and curling club on the Pennington county fair grounds in Thief River Falls.

Don Stewart was named by the city council in Thief River Falls to replace Jack Quinlivan as city planner. However a new position was created to accommodate Stewart's duties as city planner and Jobs Inc. director. The position is now known as the community development director.

Graduation exercises and construction projects were underway throughout the region. And Edgar Hetten's people movers, a wheel lounger which is much more comfortable than the traditional wheel chair, was featured in the pages of the Times. At the end of May Northland community college graduated a record number of students. The class of 171 was the largest to graduate from Northland in its history.

June

June started out tragically as Constance J. Hagen, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hagen drowned in the swimming area just off LaFave park. It was the last day of school before summer for Thief River Falls students.

United States department of energy's (DOE), second round nuclear waste repository site selection process was postponed indefinitely, according to Secretary of energy John Herrington.

Carol Bergeron was preparing to enter the Miss Minnesota pageant; two elk that had been moved during the ill-fated attempts to move the herd near Grygla were found shot north of Gonvick; and drier conditions gave farmers a chance to catch up on their long delayed spring planting. During June, a new entrance to the Pennington county memorial village in Thief River Falls was dedicated by members of the Burns family. A $5,000 donation for a memorial to Michael Burns came from Gerald Ardron of California, a relative of Burns.

Cloudy skies occasionally threatened rain but dry weather prevailed as the 37th annual edition of Northwest Dairy day was conducted on schedule at Floyd B. Olson park in Thief River Falls. And ground breaking ceremonies for the new Heritage community center were held. Also during June, news events included: repair and reconstruction work being considered for the Red Lake river dam in Thief River Falls; more dry weather, aiding crop seeding; the American Legion held its district convention in Thief River Falls; and Gayle Borchert was named 1986 Girls state governor.

Chuck Cavanaugh Sets Sights On Rural Nursing

the nursing program as well, he said, and when everyone found out he was serious about his career and not a "wolf on the prowl" he became just another student.

The nurse's role in health care has changed tremendously, he said, with more independent nursing intervention and freedom to take appropriate action. He said he had been constantly amazed when he had asked, "what do you do in this case?" and the answer was, "wait for the doctor to tell me."

"Well-trained paramedics have more hands-on experience," he said. "But nurses are being given the knowledge of the whys instead of only the hows. There is some truth to the statement— that 'doctors treat patients, nurses care for them.' "

Cavanaugh has applied for the second year of the program — the RN portion which is conducted through Northland community college. With his good grades and demonstrated abilities it appears he should be accepted. There are a limited number of training slots so not all students who want to take the second year of training are able to do so.

When he completes the two-year program, Cavanaugh says he would like to teach and work with native Americans. He said he is interested in pre-hospital and extra-hospital care and believes it would be a challenge and rewarding experience to teach those who have limited knowledge of medicine some common sense health care.

Chuck told about a friend named Jim, a five-foot, 11-inch, 240-pound logger with four children who went broke as a logger and was living poorly on employment. He filled out form after form with the Job Service but found no jobs. Finally he went to the Job Service office and implored the people there to "tell me how to go some place and learn how to do something else."

Aptitude testing showed big Jim was suited to be a nurse and he agreed to go to nursing school at Rainy River community college. He is now an LPN at the Moose Lake clinic and proclaims it to be "the best job I ever had."

"If Jim can do it," Cavanaugh smiled, "I guess I can."

OTH-B Selected As Top Area News Story For 1986

campaigns in opposition. On February 19 The Times reported that Minnesota Governor Rudy Perpich, Manitoba Premier Howard Pawley, and Earl R. Pomeroy, state insurance commissioner representing North Dakota, voiced strong opposition against the selection of a nuclear waste site in Minnesota. The three governments later signed an agreement to cooperate in opposition to the nuclear waste site proposal.

In June the United States department of energy's (DOE) second round nuclear waste repository site selection process was postponed indefinitely, according to Secretary of Energy John Herrington.

(3) In January the long and difficult search for a new home for the Northwest Regional Development commission began. Eventually the commission moved from its location at 425 Woodland avenue in Crookston, which had become unsafe due to ground shifting in the area, to the Arctco complex in Thief River Falls. However, the move did not take place without heated discussions. The commission members voted twice to determine if the move should be made. In both instances the vote was for the move to Thief River Falls.

(4) In July two veteran Pennington county elected officials with a combined service of 58 years announced that they would not be on the ballot for 1986 elections. Sheriff Charles Richards with 30 years in office and Treasurer Ellsworth Jorgenson with 28 years of service both announced they would not seek reelection.

Two Marshall county officers with a combined service of 40 years also announced intentions to retire from their elected offices at the end of their terms. Auditor Charles Cheney with 24 years of service and county recorder Sandford Tverstol with 16 years in that office announced that they would not seek reelection. These announcements set in motion a scramble for voter confidence and caused the need for a primary in September.

The ballots for the September 9 primary included 10 candidates running for two positions in Marshall county and another 12 running for two positions in Pennington county. In Marshall county six candidates were running for county recorder and four for auditor-treasurer. In Pennington county nine candidates ran for county treasurer and three for county attorney.

Expected close races in the general election materialized in a number of cases in Pennington and Marshall counties and in the Seventh Congressional district. Voters turned out in good numbers in Pennington and Marshall county while Red Lake County — with only one write-in candidate disturbing a slate of unopposed incumbents — was a sea of tranquility amidst area election turmoil. Seventh Congressional district race between incumbent Arlan Stangeland and challenger Collin Peterson saw Stangeland win by 121 votes. A recount was conducted but Stangeland gained ground and Peterson moved for dismissal of the election contest.

(5) "In summary, there's a helluva lot of corn and helluva lot of wheat," stated Bill Penning, area extension agent in farm management from Thief River Falls, in addressing a sparse crowd at a market outlook meeting. Penning emphasized that all agricultural products are very unelastic in demand, meaning that demand has a lot to say about price. With a carryover of 1.9 billion bushels from 1985 to 1986 in the United States, the supply was surplus before the current crop was harvested. The United States produces about 2.2 billion bushels of the 18.4 billion bushels produced in the world.

At the beginning of the year Minnesotans found out that Minnesota's total state and local per capita tax burden remained at fifth highest in the nation in 1984. For the third consecutive year the state's percentage rise in tax collections outstripped the national average, according to the Minnesota Taxpayers Association (MTA).

On January 17 approximately 400 people attended an open house of the Area Ag Information center at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute and following a 39-cent meal a tractorcade with more than 30 tractors left for St. Paul where a farm rally was held.

In August, area farmers demonstrated their generosity even in the face of severe economic hardship. Within hours of hearing that their assistance was needed to help farmers in the South survive the heat and drought, area farmers donated 104 large round bales of hay. The hay filled six railroad box cars and joined a train of 100 cars. The transportation costs were completely donated by the Soo Line railroad.

The chamber of commerce in Thief River Falls organized the hay lift. A second hay lift called "Farmers Helping Farmers," was conducted in August. This time local efforts amounted to 54 tons of hay which went to a specific community approximately the same size and type as Thief River Falls. Waynesboro, GA gratefully accepted the hay from Pennington county farmers.

Sources indicate that approximately 2,974 people or 23.6 per cent of Marshall county residents fell below the poverty level in 1984 while about 18.9 per cent of Pennington county residents fell below the poverty level at that time. The information was compiled by the U.S. census bureau.

(6) Evan Armstrong was suspended from duty at the Falls Day Activity center in Thief River Falls as the board of directors and state officials looked into allegations of abuse of clients filed by employees of the center. The investigation also included an audit. The investigations did not result in any charges being filed, however one employee was fired and Armstrong eventually resigned and was replaced by Charlie Oakes, formerly of the Occupational Development Center also located in Thief River Falls. The audit by Moser & Christianson Ltd. accounting firm showed no apparent problem other than attention to detailed bookkeeping practices.

(7) Preparations were underway during July for the 85th anniversary of the county fair scheduled for July 16-20 in Thief River Falls. Featured grandstand attractions were Sylvia and John Conlee. The Times featured pictures of the many award winners at the fair.

(8) Sheriff Chuck Richards summed up 1986 as one of the worst years on record for fatalities from vehicle accidents. In Pennington county during the past year, three deaths were recorded as compared to none the previous year. In the city of Thief River Falls one death was recorded due to a vehicle accident.

(9) Restrictions were placed on normal school activities because of a measles outbreak in Thief River Falls, several area communities in Northwest Minnesota and in North Dakota and Canda. Students were disappointed to learn that Spring prom was postponed at the last minute. Eventually, the restrictions were lifted after many area residents in the affected age groups received vaccinations, and no reports of second generation infections had been received by state epidemiologists who recommended the restrictions.

(10) Jaylene Arlys Aune, 37, entered a plea of guilty to two counts of theft by swindle as a result of money stolen over a period of time from the Pennington county welfare department. Audit procedures established that $37,650 had been stolen, primarily as a result of issuance of checks to a deceased client for whom Aune had been appointed guardian. At a December 15 sentencing in Pennington county district court, she was sentenced to serve 13 months in the state correctional center for women at Shakopee and make restitution of the $37,650. The theft was brought to light when another employee of the department found discarded welfare department records in garbage sacks outside the Aune residence in Basswood mobile home park.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Green Funeral chapel with Rev. Melvyn Budke officiating. Services will also be held Friday at 11 a.m. in the Lummis-Hamilton Funeral home in Camp Point, IL, with Rev. Clyde Snyder officiating. Burial will be in the Graymont cemetery in Coatsburg, IL.

Visitation will be Monday in Thief River Falls from 1 to 9 p.m. and on Tuesday until the time of the services. There will be visitation Friday for two hours prior to the services at the Lummis-Hamilton Funeral home. A complete obituary will be in Wednesday's edition of the Times.

Sidney Wilson, 80

Goodridge — Sidney Wilson, 80, retired Goodridge farmer, died December 31 in a Phoenix, AZ, hospital from cancer. He and his wife, Beatrice, had been spending the winter in Apache Junction.

A memorial service will be held at Telemarken Lutheran church in Goodridge at a later time. A complete obituary will follow in a later edition of the Times.

Earl Kirschman, 88

Red Lake Falls — Funeral services were held Saturday at 2 p.m. in the First Presbyterian church, Red Lake Falls, for Earl W. Kirschman, 88, of Red Lake Falls, who died Monday at Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Robert O. Schurr officiated at the service, with special music by JoAnn Zutz and Kathy Vatthauer, and Christie Flatland serving as organist.

Pallbearers were grandsons of the deceased, Todd Blow, Rgoer and Vern Schmitz, Lynn, Dan and Glen Kirschman and Duran Richard Kirschman. Interment will be in Oak Grove cemetery in the spring with the Petterson Funeral home of Red Lake Falls in charge of arrangements.

Earl W. Kirschman was born Nov. 7, 1898, at Ridgeway, IA, the son of John and Emma Butz Kirschman. He grew up there and moved to Red Lake Falls in 1920. He married Hattie May Harper Sept. 20, 1924, in Red Lake Falls.

They farmed until 1967, when they moved into Red Lake Falls. Hattie Kirschman died Mar. 7, 1980. He became a resident of Valley Home in Thief River Falls in July of 1984, and entered the CNC unit at Northwest Medical center Nov. 25, 1986. He had been a member of the First Presbyterian church of Red Lake Falls.

Earl Kirschman is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Harry (Darlene) Dobrovolny, Santa Rosa, CA, Mrs. Francis (Evelyn) Schmitz, rural Red Lake Falls, Mrs. Lyle (Vivian) Tollefson, Concord, CA, and Mrs. Leonard (Karen) Blow, Crookston; one daughter-in-law, Mrs. Duran (Beverly) Kirschman, Burnsville; 20 grandchildren, and 18 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, his wife, infant son, Clinton; son, Duran, in April of 1981; and four brothers.

Hilda Swanson

Kennedy — Allen (Hilda) Swanson, Kennedy, died at the Hallock hospital Sunday afternoon. She is the mother of Mrs. Dwight (Linda) Tangquist of this city. Funeral services are pending at the Kennedy Covenant church and a complete obituary will follow in a later edition of the Times.

Alvin Larson, 62

Oklee — Alvin Larson, 62, of rural Oklee, died early Thursday morning at his farm home following a long illness. Funeral services for Alvin Larson will be held today at 2 p.m. at Salem Lutheran church, rural Oklee, with Rev. Daniel Forsberg officiating. There will be visitation at the church for one hour prior to the service.

Music will be provided by Grace Hammer, soloist, with Alice Skreland as organist. Honorary pallbearers will be LeRoy Rahier, Larry Hanson, Eddie Eskeli, Alton Torske, Art Hanson and Elmer Larson. Active bearers will be nephews, Michael and Robin Sletto, Joel Kvasager, Rodney Larson and Ronald and Gene Hegge. Interment will be in Salem Lutheran church cemetery in the spring with the Petterson Funeral home of Oklee in charge of arrangements.

Alvin Larson was born July 3, 1924, in Garnes township, Red Lake county, the son of Bennet, Sr. and Helga (Larson) Larson. He grew up there and married June Langved Nov. 4, 1951, in the Hitterdahl Lutheran church at Maple Bay. They have lived on the farm in Equality township since then.

He raised beef cattle and a dairy herd and was active in implement and auto sales. In earlier years he operated the Larson Farm Supply in Oklee with his brother, Goodwin. He had served on the Oklee Coop Oil company board for over 20 years and had been president for several years, was a past member of the Salem Lutheran church council and a member of the NFO and Farmers Union.

Alvin Larson is survived by his wife, June; one son, Daniel and wife, Brenda, rural Plummer; two daughters, Heidi Larson, rural Oklee, and Wendy Larson, Fargo, ND; two grandchildren, Corey and Shawn; five brothers, Engvold, rural Oklee, Martin and wife, Edna, Garfield, Ernest and wife, Arista, Chinook, MT, Bennet Jr. and wife, Virginia, rural Oklee, and Donald, Oklee; four sisters, Gunda and husband, Clifford Hegge, rural Oklee, Mrs. Martin (Leona) Sletto, Oklee, Mrs. Henry (Ruth) Neff and Mrs. Elna Halle, both of Gutherie; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his father in 1940 and mother in 1971, and one brother, Goodwin, in 1950.

Wendell E. Aase, 58

Allendale, NJ — Wendell E. Aase, 58, of Allendale, NJ, died Tuesday in Ridgewood, NJ. Funeral services were held Saturday at 10 p.m. at Calvary Lutheran church in Allendale, with interment at Christ the King cemetery in Franklin Lakes, NJ.

Wendell E. Aase was born Nov. 9, 1928, in Thief River Falls, the son of Amond and Dagny Levorson Aase.

He is survived by his wife, Marion (Hipp) Aase; two daughters, Audrey of Allendale, NJ, and Melissa Hyde, Arlington, VA; one brother, Ronald, Roseville; and one sister, Audrey Hajostek, Moorhead.

Local Crossroads Program Featured In MN Publication

(Editor's Note: The following article appeared in the current issue of "Job Training News", a publication of the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training, and is reprinted here with permission of Cynthia Jackson, public information and education officer with the department.)

Picture the problems of women who are raising children alone and add the extra challenge of recovering from chemical dependency. To many of us, these problems might seem almost insurmountable.

Into this scenario steps the Crossroads Displaced Homemaker program in Thief River Falls. This agency has set up a special program to help single parents recovering from chemical dependency to become economically self-sufficient.

The Northwest Minnesota Single Parent Program, which started July 1 and will last two years, will assist 40 economically disadvantaged women who are single parents and who have received in- or outpatient treatment for chemical dependency. The program offers them job training and job search assistance.

Referrals to the program come from the Fergus Falls and Glenmore chemical dependency treatment centers and agencies such as county social service offices, Minnesota Job Service offices and local educational institutions. Many of the women are receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Cherilyn Sorum, program director, often does research on her clients. She sits down with each participant's chemical dependency counselor before conducting an in-depth meeting with the client. The background information Sorum receives aids her in helping the clients.

Participants receive career assessment, classroom or on-the-job training as needed and job-search training. Clients also participate in "time out for me" workshops on a continuing basis during the time they work with Sorum.

Sorum said that a side effect of being chemically dependent is the participant's need for lots of emotional support, individual attention and direction. She works with the clients on self-esteem issues in both one-on-one sessions and in groups.

The program started July 1 and at present nine women are enrolled. Six are in classroom training: four at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute (AVTI) and one each at Northland community college, Thief River Falls, and East Grand Forks AVTI. They are studying to become legal and general secretaries, recreational therapists, automobile mechanics, accountants or cosmetologists.

The courses are from nine months to two years in length and program participants will be aided in finding employment after their training.

"Most of the women are highly motivated to succeed in this program," Sorum said. "I keep in close touch, checking on their aftercare by asking them about their attendance at Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) meetings and if they are staying in contact with their AA sponsor." The AA sponsor is someone who takes a personal interest in a recovering chemically-dependent person and is available to that person for support 24 hours a day.

The program is funded by a $60,000 grant to the Northwest Minnesota Private Industry council from the Job Training Partnership Act 8 per cent education coordination funds administered jointly by the state Job Training office and the state board of vocational-technical education. The program's first year ends June 30, 1987, and is renewable for the same amount for a second year.

For more information call Sorum at 681-8158.

Kathleen Rux To Chair Heart Fund Drive Here In '87

Kathleen Rux has been appointed to chair the 1987 Heart fund drive in Thief River Falls. A phone center night has been scheduled for January 20 at Norwest Bank. Calls will be made from 5:30 to 9 p.m. to Thief River Falls residents in an effort to recruit volunteers to assist with the drive.

Heart disease is responsible for 50 per cent of all deaths in Minnesota. With committed voluntary leadership, the Minnesota affiliate raised more than $2.2 million last year, about $3,200 of which was raised in Pennington county. Funds raised enable the Heart association to continue its research, community programs and professional and public education efforts in the battle against heart disease, with a real focus on prevention.

If interested in working at the phone night or being a volunteer for the residential campaign, call 681-8122.

Board Of Health To Meet Jan. 12

ATTENTION
A Special
WATERSHED MEETING
Will be held at the Senior Center in Goodridge on January 7 at 10:00 A.M. All farmers are encouraged to attend.
This involves the following townships: Reiner, East Marshall, Star, Moylan, Highlanding and Goodridge.

VOLUNTEERS from the Seventh Day Adventist church and the community extended the hand of fellowship and Christmas cheer through the preparation and distribution of Christmas food baskets and friendship plates. The group distributed 54 food boxes and friendship plates this year.

Adventist Center Extends Helping Hand At Christmas

With the help of many volunteers from the church and the community, the Adventist community services center extended the hand of fellowship and Christmas cheer through the preparation and distribution of Christmas food baskets and friendship plates.

According to the center's director, Mrs. Mae Howes, the actual preparation of the food boxes began before Halloween when the students from the Seventh-day Adventist elementary school conducted their annual door-to-door canned food drive.

"We appreciate the response of our neighbors in donating these stable food items," says Mrs. Howes. "I would like to assure them that their generosity helped make someone's Christmas brighter."

In addition to preserved food items, the boxes were packed with homemade bread, rolls and other baked goods prepared by ladies of the church. Fresh fruits and vegetables were also purchased for the boxes.

This year 54 food boxes and friendship plates were distributed to homes in the Thief River Falls area. For those who actually had the privilege of delivering the boxes to the doors of recipients, it was a heart-warming experience to extend to them not only the staff of life but also the hand of friendship.

Business Tax Strategies Topic Of SBA Workshop

"Tax Strategies for Small Businesses and the Aftermath of the 1986 Tax Reform Act" will be the topic of a workshop to be held Tuesday, January 13, from 6:30 to 10 p.m. at the Thief River Falls AVTI, Room 109. This workshop is for all business owners concerned about the new tax laws and will cover tax strategies for 1987.

Cost of the workshop is $15 per person. Pre-registration by January 9 is recommended due to limited space. Sponsors of the workshop are the AVTI small business development centers in Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks.

Instructor will be Leonard Sliwoski, CPA, CMA, associate professor of accounting at Moorhead state university and director of the Moorhead small business development center.

Topics to be covered will include: An examination of the legal entity question, new depreciation rules, travel and entertainment deductions, remaining business credits, new inventory accounting rules and accrual accounting rules, retirement plans and tax planning in 1987.

To register for the workshop send the $15 registration fee to the Small Business Development Center, AVTI, Highway One East, Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701, or call 681-5424, extension 29 or 34, or call toll free at 1-800-222-2884.

Evening Class Schedule Set At Plummer School

Adult evening classes in the Plummer public schools will begin in January with four courses scheduled and a fifth, microwave cooking, to be presented in the spring. Starting date and instructor for that class have not been determined at this time.

Beginning Wednesday, January 14, will be a sweatshirt applique class which meets from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Marian Vatthauer will instruct this one-session course which costs $10 plus materials.

Knitting will be taught by Jean Hogan in a six-session course to begin Monday, January 19, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Cost will be $10 plus materials.

Norwegian will be taught by Charles Peterson beginning Wednesday, January 21, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Fee for the six-session course will be $10.

LaVonne Forsberg will instruct a craft class on Tuesday, March 17, from 7 to 10 p.m. This is a one-session course which costs $10 plus materials.

Grandparenting Workshops Set In Marshall Co.

Two workshops on making grandparenting a positive experience for all three generations will be conducted Tuesday, January 13, in Marshall county. Sessions are set for 9:30 a.m. at the Middle River community center and 1:30 p.m. at the Grygla civic center.

"Depending on geographical distance and relationships between grandparent and child, a grandparent can have substantial influence," states Nancy J. Nelson, Marshall county extension agent in home economics.

The workshops are sponsored by the extension office and all interested persons are encouraged to attend.

Plan Workshop On Advertising At AVTI Jan. 20

A workshop on advertising for businesses will be held on Tuesday, January 20. "Advertising Planning and Research" is the title of the workshop to run from 6:30 to 10 p.m. in room 126 at the Thief River Falls AVTI. Cost is $15 per person.

The workshop is designed to provide fundamental information concerning basic marketing strategy and advertising plan development for the small business person. It is specifically designed for the advertising media available in the Thief River Falls area. Topics to be covered will include: "Budgeting for Advertising", "Geographical Boundaries", "Media Search", "Developing a Marketing Plan", "Marketing Research for Small Businesses", "Demographic Targets", and "Choosing Local Media for Cost Efficiency".

Instructors for the class will be Bill Hall, assistant professor in mass communications at Moorhead state university with extensive consulting experience in the advertising and marketing field, and Robert Gramer, president and founder of Multiple Media Consultants, Inc., an advertising consulting firm which handles media analysis and placement for over 50 local and regional advertisers.

Pre-registration by January 16 is recommended. Reserve a place by sending a check for $15 made payable to the AVTI to the Small Business Development Center, AVTI, Hwy. One East, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. For further information call the SBDC office at (218) 681-5424, ext. 34 or 29 or call toll-free 1-800-222-2884.

Sponsors of the workshop are radio station KKAQ and the Small Business Development center.

Arts And Crafts Festival Slated At Winter Shows

A two-day arts and crafts festival will be held on Saturday, February 14, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., and on Sunday, February 15, from 12 noon to 6 p.m., at the national guard armory located just north of the winter shows building in Crookston.

Anyone who wishes to exhibit and to sell his or her handicrafts and artworks is welcome to register, with registration fee set this year at $25. Fee is payable with registration.

An 8 x 10-foot booth, furnished with one 2 x 6-foot table, an electrical outlet (if specified) and one or two chairs, and two free passes for each day will be provided. A requirement for exhibitors is a tax identification number. For arts and crafts days, the winter shows does not allow any craft exhibitors to prepare any edible food for resale from their booths.

Deadline for registrations is January 9. Registrations are accepted by earliest postmark date. Write Red River Valley winter shows, P.O. Box 402, Crookston, MN 56716 or call 218-281-2900.

Thought Provoking Comment On Subjects Of Public Interest

What Does It Prove?

Following editorial comments were written by Martin Lefkowitz, director of special projects for the National Chamber foundation, an affiliate of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce:

Men earn more than women. The evidence is incontrovertible. In 1985, the average pay for women who worked full time was $277 per week, about 68 per cent of the average for men. Women managers, professionals and administrative workers did a tad worse in that same year, taking home 65 per cent.

The pay differential has been at about the same level for decades. The Equal Pay Act of 1963 and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, both of which outlawed sex-based discrimination in jobs and pay, appear to have had virtually no effect on the differential.

But while the pay of men and women is significantly different in many cases, there is very little evidence that this is due to widespread discrimination on the part of American business.

To charge that the situation is the outcome of some vast plot — as do many activist feminists — is to ignore the facts and rely on emotionalism and unsubstantiated conjecture. There are a number of quite reasonable and natural causes for the differences in pay for men and women.

For instance, fewer than 12 per cent of the men in the labor force work part-time while about 30 per cent of the women are part-timers. This difference alone is a major contributor to the pay differential.

Even among full-time workers, defined as 35 hours per week or more by the Labor Department, women tend to work fewer hours than men. When women work full-time, they are more than three times as likely to work fewer than 40 hours per week. And men are two and one-half times as likely to work more than 40 hours per week.

Another factor is that the average man will spend about 42 per cent more of his lifetime in the labor force than the average woman. Chances are still about 50/50 that a woman will drop out of the labor force for a period of years when she has small children. The mothers of 55 per cent of all youngsters below the age of six as well as 40 per cent of those with children between the ages of six and 17 are not in the labor force.

These periods of absnece result in a depreciation of job skills and often result in a woman having to start at an entry level position upon returning to work.

Another factor that contributes to pay differentials is tenure in a specific job with a specific employer. Because of the importance of seniority in determining wages, two people doing the same job for the same employer will generally get different pay if they have been employed for different periods, eeven if they show the same degree of job proficiency.

For example, the government pays new workers only 75 per cent of what senior employees get for the same job. The average job tenure of men is more than 50 per cent greater than it is for women. In the mid-career ages of 45 to 54, when pay tends to be highest, the average tenure for men is 13.4 years, nearly twice the 6.9 years average for women.

Also, women have inordinate representation in jobs and professions that tend to have more flexible work schedules. Women seem more willing to forgo greater pay for more flexibility. For example, women comprise more than 80 per cent of all elementary school teachers, an occupation with a work year of about 180 days compared to about 240 days for most occupations. Many other occupations that have a preponderance of women, such as nursing and food service, while they do not have a shorter work week or year, do have much more flexibility in terms of scheduling than most occupations.

Women tend to be less geographically mobile than men, limiting their ability to search out the best opportunity and the highest pay. For example, during the last recession, many unemployed auto workers migrated to Texas and Louisiana for high-paying jobs in the oil fields rather than accept lower-paying jobs in Michigan. In contrast, women tend to stay with their families (and sacrifice their own career opportunities) and move only in response to better job opportunities for their husbands.

A study shows that single men and single women earn virtually identical wages. The reason is that they have similar employment characteristics, which is not true of married men and women.

Women spend less time than their male counterparts on productivity-enhancing education and training, and this is one factor in explaining the pay differential. While there are about as many women attending colleges today as there are men, the historical difference in college attendance is significant. Over the age of 25, men are 50 per cent more likely to have attended four or more years of college than their female counterparts.

What the statistical evidence indicates is that through choice and chance many women have been concentrated in occupations and jobs that have lower wages.

An article in the Aug. 18 Fortune magazine told how women executives, many of them in the upper levels of corporate management, were leaving for less demanding — and usually lower paying — careers or departing the work force entirely. Many seemed to have decided that the hassles of competition are not worth the success they bring.

When taken on a job-to-job basis within firms, the figures show there is virtually no pay differential between men and women. For instance, according to the Department of Labor, female accountants in the lowest level earn just one per cent less than their male counterparts while in the top accounting category they earn 10 per cent less. Among lawyers, women at the lowest level earn 3 per cent more while at the top end of the profession they earn 6 per cent less.

The major reason for the differential between the pay of men and women appears to be the difference in work levels rather than pay differences within narrowly defined pay categories.

The data indicate that men and women are receiving equal pay for equal work, but that fewer women than men are at the higher levels for many occupations. This difference, at least in part, is directly attributable to women being later entrants than men into certain professions, such as accounting and law. In 1981, for example, 46 per cent of the entry-level accounting positions were held by women, compared to 14 per cent 10 years earlier.

All of the evidence shows that we don't need any major overhaul of our nation's system of paying its workers. Most important, we don't need a system of "comparable worth" wage-setting by the government.

Borrowed Nonsense

Teacher: "If you took 10 dollars out of one pants pocket and eight dollars out of the other pants pocket, what would you have?"

Billy: "I'd have somebody else's pants on."

Clerk: "Boss, I'm not feeling very well. I think I'll have to go home."

Boss: "That's strange. McWilliams said he wasn't feeling well and decided to go home yesterday."

Clerk: "When will he be back to work?"

Boss: "I suppose whenever he can find another job."

The farm wife appeared so unhappy and despondent that her husband brought her to a psychiatrist. The doctor diagnosed her problem as being starved for affection. Instead of lecturing the husband, the psychiatrist gave the wife a hug and kiss, and she responded with a smile. "See," the doctor explained, "that's what she really needs!" "Thanks, doc," the farmer replied. "I'll try to send her in once or twice a week."

Office Worker: "What are you covering with that bandage on your forehead?"

Second Worker: "An age spot."

Office Worker: "A bandage for an age spot?"

Second Worker: "You bet. I mentioned my wife's age at a party last night and she nailed me with a tumbler."

Sharing Concern At Christmas
by Lon Gobell

Dear Friends and Helpers:

Our annual Christmas eve dinner was served again this year with great success. There were a total of 36 dinners delivered to people who could not go out for dinner and were at home alone. There were approximately 170 dinners served at Lon's.

Entertainment was provided by the beautiful voice of one of our local residents, and a visit by Santa Claus, who distributed bags of Christmas goodies and gifts to each guest. Everyone expressed their thankfulness for the beautiful evening which was made possible only by your contributions and support.

This evening could not be possible without the help of the many contributions of food and gifts of money, as well as the many hours of time that are given by so many different people in so many ways, such as drivers, hostesses, servers and kitchen help.

Thank you again from all of the guests who enjoyed a Christmas Eve of fellowship and a nice dinner. Without your help this could not be possible. Special thanks from the Thief River Falls Christmas Eve dinner committee.

YOUR TIMES is available to any Times Reader who has personal thoughts or comments to share with other Times readers. Its intent is to go beyond our "Public Opinion" column to provide for more creativity and variety. It will be published only when readers send material to be used — which we hope will be often. ## Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

I am writing this letter to all who might be concerned. I'm not only doing this for our family, but for all other needy families who may have found out about the "Angel Tree" just a little too late, or not at all. When we found out we could and should have been put on the tree, I called Lori's Hallmark and received this answer: "We have all the names we can for this year and we can only get them from the welfare office."

So I decided to talk to a few families I knew on welfare, and they replied with "we received a paper to fill out for the Angel Tree and the others hadn't received anything at all." So this makes a person wonder how welfare decides who is needy and who isn't, or if they just pick names out at random, or could they have favoritism, or does the case worker decide or if it even reaches the board.

As a married couple with a couple of children, we have been on welfare before. My husband recently was laid off. We found out that we wouldn't be receiving any income until 1987. With this in mind we of course tried to pay as many bills ahead as possible. So from what you are reading you can see we were also very needy, especially with no income coming in.

I'm asking all parents of children to sit down and think of how happy their children are at Christmas time when they wake up to find things under the tree with their names on it. So if you can imagine how our children must have felt, pretty left out, hurt, sad and kind of depressed, all because they had nothing under the tree.

Just as a reminder, children do talk to each other about what they received for Christmas and who it all came from; also what Santa Claus brought them. So please put yourselves in their places when this subject comes up. What will they do? What will their answers be? How will this affect them? Just imagine how all of us parents felt and are feeling when we couldn't provide a decent Christmas for our children.

Then we come to find out that a few working parents were able to be put on the "Angel Tree," some who should have been able to provide their own Christmas gifts. This could have meant this took away from the needy families. We think it might be a good idea to keep a closer eye on things next year so the needy don't get hurt again.

What we are trying to find out in time is: Where to apply and what the latest date is to do so? Who is eligible and who isn't?

Suppose you are wondering why we hadn't tried the welfare. We did try a couple years with these answers: "Not a necessity and because of retrospective budgeting, which means what you would have made for income in October you are supposed to try and live off of in December too." So now I'm sure you will understand why we hadn't tried the welfare this year again, just to be let down.

It makes a person wonder if all who are working with the welfare have very many feelings, love for the children, families and their problems. If this could be a problem, something should be done to change the system and the workers.

I want to thank everyone who may have read our letter and who really care about children and their problems and feelings. We'd sure like to hear some responses and answers to our questions from anyone who may be concerned about it. Please write back to the paper.

I'm not only concerned about the "Angel Tree," I'm concerned about what they call "Emergency Assistance." We applied for a few different reasons in the last four years, and received pretty much the same answers. We applied to get help for a plane ticket or just gas to get to my grandparent's funeral, and they said no because it wasn't immediate family. Who is supposed to be immediate family to them? Weren't their grandparents close to them that they have to take it out on the rest of us?

With the income a person receives from welfare it is only enough to pay your important bills and to get things needed for the house and their needs. So with this in mind there is no way a person in case of an emergency would have the money on hand for a plane ticket. Since it is unknown when death will happen, remember not everyone has a savings account or checking.

Then we applied for a stove and refrigerator at the same time for they both were going. We only asked for a used set to get us by until we could afford a different set. They told us to make a choice between the two and the amount couldn't go over $150, so of course we chose the refrigerator like most people would have done, I'm sure. What good is a stove with spoiled food?

We recently applied for a dryer during the time we had no income coming in. We couldn't afford to go uptown to dry our clothes with no income. They refused us because it wasn't a necessity and said we could hang our clothes all over the house to dry. With a big family and lots of clothes the house would sure look like a mess.

They also asked us to go to a bank and borrow the money. We felt that was a little silly to tell us to do that expecially when most people know that no bank would borrow money or any company would let a person charge with no income coming in the household. This makes a person wonder what they consider an emergency.

Remember that there are some people in the community who will and do call in on the people they don't think are doing things the way they should or just because they aren't living up to their standards. Thank you again for reading this letter. With all of this it makes people feel that they aren't supposed to ask or go to the welfare for help with their problems or emergencies. Could it be that it matters who you are, or what your name is?

We are a family that is hurting and confused.

Star City Status

Red Lake Falls — The city of Red Lake Falls has hired a Star City consultant as their first step towards earning Star City designation. Lori Blake, former employee of the Minnesota department of energy and economic development is currently revamping the Red Lake Falls community fact book in the first of 11 steps which must be taken to earn the designation.

Lefse Or Flat Brød, Take Your Pick

Oklee — Paul Hofstad of rural Oklee has become a cook at the age of 85. He makes a versatile type of lefse that can be either eaten soft, like lefse usually is, or hard, like a type of flat bread. He began taking over the household chores after the death of his wife in 1965, and decided to try the family favorite, obtaining his mother's original recipe from his sister. The recipe is different in that it contains no potatoes. Paul is now well known in the community as a good lefse-flat bread baker, which he makes while decked out in his white apron and cap. Here is Mrs. Hofstad's recipe for Lefse-Flat Bread: 8 cups flour, 1 cup shortening, 4 cups hot water or 2 cups water and 2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons salt, 1 cup sugar (optional). Bake on a lefse grill. In its hardened state, the product is flat bread. To soften for lefse lovers, dip into lukewarm water and then place between two towels for 15 to 20 minutes. As flat bread the product will keep for many months. Paul also rolls the dough in graham flour for an extra taste treat. This recipe makes about 42 lefse rounds.

Christmas Sharing

Warren — The Ronald Swanson family and Rev. Rod Stemme gave a Christmas present to those alone at Christmas by serving a Christmas dinner at the Warren Senior Citizen center this year. Nineteen people were served at the center and dinner was brought to seven others who were unable to attend. The Swanson family consists of Ron and Joanne and their children, Heather, Jennifer and Michael.

LAST DAY AT WORK for Lucille Haugen of Strandquist at the Pennington county ASCS office was Friday. She has been employed by the government agency at Warren and Thief River Falls for the past 24 years, most of them in the Thief River Falls office. Her title is program assistant and for a number of years she has been in charge of grain loans and served as administrative officer.

New Postmaster

Red Lake Falls — Clarence Gagner of Brooks was recently appointed postmaster of the Red Lake Falls post office, replacing retired postmaster Dale Baril. He and his wife, Dianne, have three children. Clarence will be officially sworn in as postmaster during a ceremony January 7 at the Red Lake Falls post office. The community has been invited to attend the ceremony and partake of the refreshments being served after the event.

Pick-up/Semi Collision

Greenbush — No serious injuries were reported in an accident involving a 1984 Mazda pickup and a semi-truck December 23. Darlene Joy Wulf and daughter, April Lee, 12, were treated and released at the Greenbush Community hospital. The accident occurred at 10:30 a.m. when the Mazda pickup driven by Kenneth Wulf of Peyton, CO, failed to yield at a stop sign at the intersection of highways 32 and 11, and pulled into the path of the on-coming semi-truck driven by Charles Winge of Minneapolis. Police Chief Mike Siems said that Winge attempted to avoid hitting the Wulf vehicle but was unable to do so.

Guard That Grin

Warroad — The Warroad high school hockey team is being fitted with individual mouth guards, courtesy of Dr. Mike Thiele from Lake Family Dental in Warroad. Dr. Thiele was concerned with the many injuries he has seen in hockey players because of inadequate protection of teeth, gums and jaw bone, and he volunteered his services in making individually fitted mouth guards for the entire Warroad team. The guards are thinner, lighter and more comfortable than ones purchased ready-made, and it is hoped that these assets will encourage players to wear them more readily. The new guards should be ready for the January 9 Warrior game with Bemidji.

Definitely Not A Toy

Wadena — A tear gas grenade exploded in the toy department of the Wadena Pamida store the Monday before Christmas. The grenade had an altered label reading "Big Bang Cap Grenade," and Virgil Miller of rural Sebeka pulled the pin thinking it was a toy. His coat was burned when the grenade ignited. Pamida officials quickly cleared the store for the remainder of the day. Police Chief Joyce Kopp said his department is following several leads and he felt the tear gas was an isolated incident and not part of any organized effort.

Ah Ha, Another Fish Tale

Bemidji — Ivan Long of Bemidji speared an 18 pound, 2 ounce Northern while fishing on Timber Lake. The 38-inch fish was speared in eight feet of water.

Just In Time

Lake Bronson — Bruce Blomquist is the happy owner of a new barn, thanks to friends and neighbors from all around the Lake Bronson area. His old barn burned December 13, and December 22 his new barn was a reality, thanks to the efforts of his former boss, Del Preuss, who organized the barn-raising endeavor. The Blomquists recently purchased an additional 135 head of sheep that will begin lambing in January, so the new barn will be buzzing with activity in the near future.

Quick Thinking

Baudette — When Tim Nordlof's glove got tangled in a running ice auger while he was ice fishing on Lake of the Woods December 27, he not only lost the glove but his thumb as well. Quick thinking friends, Brad Smith, Dean Krause and Bob Roberts, grabbed the thumb, packed it in snow, and rushed their buddy and the thumb to a Baudette hospital with some help from another fisherman, Frank Sindelir. Three and a half hours after the accident, Tim and his thumb were on their way to North Memorial hospital in Minneapolis by helicopter to undergo an extended session of microsurgery in an attempt to reattach the thumb. At press time Wednesday, the Baudette Region still had not heard whether surgery was successful or not. Tim, Brad, Dean and Bob are sophomores at Lake of the Woods high school.

Happy Homeowners

Roseau — Members of the Roseau Electric Cooperative received a $180,000 reduction on their December billing this year if all previous electric bills were paid in full by December 29. This amounted to a 45 per cent reduction in December bills for customers. Manager of the Roseau Electric Cooperative, Meredith Haslerud, said the reduction was possible because of the good financial condition of the cooperative.

Rams Edge Prowlers 4-3 In Overtime

Underdog Thief River Falls pushed Roseau into overtime Saturday before surrendering a 4-3 Section 8 high school hockey decision to the Rams in front of a large Sports Arena crowd.

Thief River Falls never held a lead, but the Prowlers overcame 1-0, 2-1 and 3-1 deficits in a gutsy never-say-die effort. It was the second one-goal loss to a Section 8 foe in five days for the frustrated Prowlers, who dropped a 2-1 contest at Fergus Falls earlier in the week.

"We've been talking about improving each game, and as coaches, we're convinced we made a big step tonight," said Thief River Falls coach Wendell Grand. "The kids played well."

Game-winner, which wiped out a two-goal Thief River Falls rally late in the third period, was scored by junior wing Matt Byfuglien, who picked off an errant Thief River Falls pass in the slot and fired a quick shot past unprotected goalie Shayne Anderson at 4:34 of an eight-minute sudden death overtime.

It was a heart-breaking end to a tremendous Thief River Falls effort against the heavily-favored Rams, who knocked off previously unbeaten Grand Forks Red River the night before, 4-2. The Prowlers were mostly a two-line hockey team through much of the game, with penalties, injuries and lack of depth putting the lines of Bob Geatz-Chris Solheim-Blair Lund and Jim Breiland-Scott Novak-Rick Looker, along with defensemen Bill Dicken, Dave Johnson, Bob Coltom and John Dondelinger on the ice extensively. A Troy Hanestad-Jeff Grand-Marty Levin unit saw the ice only occasionally.

"Our depth obviously hurt us," acknowledged Grand, "along with a couple of stupid penalties by senior lettermen. We were able to dodge the bullet on those penalties, but that's not the point."

Roseau opened the scoring in shorthanded fashion just 1:57 into the game when Tim Lefor put the puck in the net on a tip-in.

Thief River Falls tied it at 5:26 when defenseman Bill Dicken's slap shot from the point got through a crowd in front of Roseau goalie Dean Foster.

The Prowlers had the better of the scoring opportunities in the second period when Thief River Falls outshot Roseau 15-7, but the Rams got the only goal of the period when Jon Helgeson scored on a rebound at 12:58 when he came in as the uncovered trailer on the play.

ROSEAU GOALIE Dean Foster made a point-blank save on Thief River Falls wing Scott Novak in the first period of Saturday's Section 8 high school hockey game at the Sports Arena. The Rams edged the Prowlers 4-3 in overtime.

It became 3-1 at 8:03 of the third period when Helgeson picked up his second rebound goal of the game off a flurry in front of Anderson just as a Thief River Falls penalty expired.

But Thief River Falls battled back, making it 3-2 at 11:51 when Lund put Geatz' centering pass over Foster's shoulder.

Thief River Falls tied it 3-3 when Lund scored again on a power play at 12:42. Novak initiated the play when he swung behind the net with the puck, and caromed a shot off the far post that Lund popped in on the rebound.

Both sides had chances to score in the final minute of regulation time, but Anderson held his ground on a scramble in front of the Thief River Falls net with 24 seconds to play and Geatz was tripped by Tim Magnusson with just 11 seconds to go when he was about to get behind the Roseau defense after catching a pop-up zone-clearing pass at center ice.

Both sides started overtime a man short, with just a five-second power play going to Roseau when the penalties expired. Anderson stopped Lefor with his pads at the 1:52 mark and made a big save on a rebound shot by Helgeson at 2:58, while the Prowlers' best chance came when Levin's high, hard shot from the slot sailed wide of the mark at 3:15.

Byfuglie's game-winner came a little over a minute later.

Despite the loss, which dropped the Prowlers to 2-5 for the year, Grand was more than satisfied with the performance. "It was the best three periods we've played this year, without a doubt," he said.

Scoring

First period — Roseau, Tim Lefor (Craig Hedlund), 1:57; TRF, Bill Dicken (Jim Breiland-Scott Novak), 5:26.
Second period — Roseau, Jon Helgeson (Pete Helgeson-Lyle Erickson), 12:58.
Third period — Roseau, Jon Helgeson (Erickson-Pete Helgeson), 8:03; TRF, Blair Lund (Bob Geatz), 11:51; TRF, Lund (Novak), 12:42.
Overtime — Roseau, Matt Byfuglie (un), 4:34.
Goalie saves — TRF, Shayne Anderson 11-6-12-4, 33; Roseau, Dean Foster 7-15-9-3; 34.

Maroon-Gold Sites Picked

Warroad and Grand Rapids have been selected as game sites for the fourth annual Maroon and Gold high school all star hockey series March 28-29, 1987. Co-sponsored by the Minnesota Amateur Hockey Association (MAHA) and the Minnesota High School Hockey Coaches Association, the series features Minnesota's top 40 high school seniors competing in a two-game series.

Game 1 is scheduled Saturday, March 28, at 2:05 p.m. in Warroad. Game 2 of the series is scheduled for Sunday, March 29, at 2 p.m. in Grand Rapids.

Participants are nominated by the High School Hockey Coaches Association and must be high school seniors. The series is sanctioned by the Minnesota State High School League.

Each team roster is composed of 20 players. The Gold (north) team includes players from MSHL sections 2, 5, 7 and 8. Maroon (south) team includes players from MSHL sections 1, 3, 4 and 6. Coaches selected as Coach of the Year in each of the eight high school sections will coach the respective teams.

Primary purpose of the series, say officials, is to showcase the players to collegiate scouts and potential educational opportunities. Another purpose of the Maroon and Gold series is to select the 1987 Team Minnesota roster which will compete as defending champion in the AHAUS National Junior Olympic hockey tournament at Lansing, Michigan April 9-12, 1987. Last year Herb Brooks coached Team Minnesota to the championship of this event.

Separate weekend training camps are scheduled for Maroon and Gold teams March 21 and 22 at central locations. Both teams will gather in Grand Rapids on March 26 for further training prior to the two-game series.

At the conclusion of the Maroon and Gold series Team Minnesota will be selected. Team Minnesota will train in the Twin Cities April 2 - 5, playing two games against United States Junior hockey league competition before departing for the national tournament in Lansing, Michigan.

Miscellaneous

— Joe Mrkonich, Thief River Falls head high school football coach from 1953-62, will end a 36-year coaching career this spring when he retires from his girls basketball coaching duties at Duluth East. He has guided the Greyhounds to a 150-33 record the past nine years after compiling a 110-36 mark with the East boys from 1963-70.

— Detroit Lakes will bring a 6-0 record to Thief River Falls Tuesday for a key North Sub-Region 8AA boys high school basketball game. The Lakers won their own Holiday Invitational tournament Saturday with a 62-57 title game victory over Bismarck Century. Detroit Lake beat Lake Park in the first round of the four-team meet Friday. Thief River Falls will bring a 6-1 record into Tuesday's ball game, including a five-game winning streak after 69-45 loss to Moorhead back on December 12. It'll be a big game for both sides, trying to establish themselves as serious North Sub-Region 8AA contenders. A good-size crowd is expected to be on hand for what should be a very interesting meeting.

— An attention-grabbing Section 8 high school hockey game Tuesday will have Crookston at Bemidji. The Pirates are the lone unbeaten team in Section 8 ranks at 8-0, but they haven't played the type of competition that preseason favorites Warroad, Roseau and Bemidji have met to date. While Crookston was pulling out a come-from-behind 4-3 victory over Lake of the Woods on the weekend, Bemidji was losing to state power Hill-Murray 5-2 to drop to 4-3 for the year. The Lumberjacks have another tough assignment Friday when they host Warroad.

TRF Beats Bemidji At Free Throw Line

Thief River Falls players weren't about to look a gift horse in the mouth Saturday night as the Prowlers capitalized on Bemidji's penchant for fouls in beating the host Lumberjacks 68-51 in a North Star Sub-Region 8AA boys high school basketball game in which the winners were a busy 30-for-44 at the free throw line.

Bemidji fouls and Thief River Falls free throws reached epidemic proportions in the fourth quarter when the Prowlers sank 25 of 33 game-winning free throw attempts.

It was a close game until then. Thief River Falls led at the quarter breaks 16-9, 27-21 and 39-31, but Bemidji was within three points of the Prowlers with six minutes left to play before the roof caved in on the foul-plagued Lumberjacks.

"Bemidji just started fouling every trip down court," explained Thief River Falls coach Tom Hunt. "It was just one of those things. They kept on fouling, and we kept on hitting free throws. The game was actually much closer than what the final score would indicate."

Thief River Falls' 68 per cent free throw shooting for the game and 77 per cent effort at the line in the fourth quarter helped overcome a not-so-great 37 per cent shooting night from the field (19-for-51). "I thought it was a good performance on our part, but we did miss a number of high percentage shots," mentioned Hunt.

Chris Nelson led the prowlers with a strong 17-point, 15-rebound performance. Chris Bjorgaard scored 16 points and Jarrod Kalsnes added 13. Those three were a combined 22-for-26 at the line in the fourth quarter when Kalsnes was 7-for-7, Bjorgaard 9-for-11 and Nelson 6-for-8. Chris Jensen led Bemidji with 16 points.

"I thought overall, we played a good ball game," said Hunt. "We cut our turnovers ways down."

Thief River Falls lost the ball just five times, with Bemidji turning it over 18 times. The Lumberjacks were 22-for-53 from the field (42 per cent) and 7-for-12 at the line (58 per cent). The Prowlers had a 37-33 rebound edge.

It was the sixth win in seven starts for the Prowlers, who have another North Sub-Region 8AA test Tuesday when they host Detroit Lakes. Bemidji fell to 2-4. Thief River Falls, after an early-season loss to Moorhead, is 1-1 in North Sub-Region 8AA play. The Lumberjacks are 0-2, having lost to Fergus Falls earlier.

1986 Area Deer Season Summary Listed

by Gordon Forester, Area Wildlife Manager,
Minnesota DNR

Total deer registered in my area this year declined 23 per cent to 2,690.

Declines were noted in all killblocks in Zone 2 and all but 401 and 403 in Zone 4.

Decline in the forest area was 52 per cent, which was to be expected with permits cut from 5,500 to 500 in permit area 211. Transition zone declined 18 per cent to 1,358 and the agricultural area was down 23 per cent during the regular season.

* 40% of harvest on first weekend of regular season
 42% of harvest on first weekend of regular season

Final tally on the extended season was 138, so overall the decline in the ag zone was seven per cent from last year.

Because of the adverse weather opening day, rain changing to snow with falling temperatures and increasing wind velocity, which turned the storm into a blizzard, hunting pressure was down. Car counts completed on opening day on Elm Lake and Eckvoll showed a decrease of 26 per cent from the 167 vehicles counted in 1985. It was hazardous to be out the first day if you were unfamiliar with the area, a number of hunters were lost two of which were not found until Sunday morning and one, suffering from frostbite, had to be hospitalized.

Given the decrease in antlerless permits for areas 206, 208, 209 and 211 along with the bad weather we took about what should be expected in Zone 2. The age and sex breakdown for Zone 4 showed little change from 1985 but in Zone 2 the per cent of adult bucks declined six per cent and there was a corresponding increase in fawn harvest. The chronology of the harvest by date also shows the effect of the weather on the kill. The largest percentage of the harvest, 23 per cent, occurred the first Sunday followed by Monday and then the last day of the season. The normal 60-40 breakdown of harvest in the split season in Zone 4 was just reversed this year. Bonus tags seemed lower this year. I had only 118 bonus deer registered during the regular season.

Archery Season

A total of 70 deer were taken with a bow this year, that's slightly more than was harvested last year in the Thief River Falls area. The largest harvest was in permit area 404 where 17 were shot, about half the deer were taken in Zone 4. Fifty per cent of the harvest was adult bucks.

General Comments

I saw a number of fawns that were extremely small. I found one shot in the head and left and had a call on another that was field dressed and left. I have had reports on both sides of issue of the condition of the deer. The Agassiz staff as well as the Thief Lake staff felt the deer were in very good condition, with a lot of body fat. However, the deer that I saw on Elm Lake were very lean, the doe I shot had less than half an inch of fat on her back and the fawn I salvaged had none. I also had other reports of very small thin fawns.

One aspect of increasing permits in 203 and decreasing them in surrounding areas was apparently that large parties (20 to 30) would have half of their members apply in 203 and the other half in 208 and they would party hunt both areas and could get away with putting a tag for 203 on the deer shot in 208. This also happened between 208 and 211. Maybe this isn't illegal or a problem but it still seems unfair to me.

NCC Women Split Two Weekend Ball Games

Northland Community College women's basketball team met one of the best and one of the poorest teams in the Minnesota College Conference Central Division on a weekend trip to the Twin Cities area, and returned to Thief River Falls with a split and a 4-3 season record.

Coach Tom Neibauer's Pioneers hammered a weak Anoka-Ramsey team 78-42 Friday night, but lost to a strong Inver Hills outfit 73-59 Saturday afternoon.

Northland will return to action Friday and Saturday at the North Dakota Science Invitational in Wahpeton.

Anoka-Ramsey . . . . . . . . . . . . . 42

Janelle Lorsung poured in 37 points to lead Northland past Anoka-Ramsey 78-42 Friday in Coon Rapids.

Jody Pahlen contributed 16 points to the winner's total as they ran up a 48-23 halftime cushion and out-scored the Rams 30-19 after intermission.

Northland was 33-for-73 from the field (45 per cent) and 12-for-19 at the free throw line (63 per cent).

Northland . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 59

Northland stopped Inver Hills' inside game, but the Giants used the fast break to produce a 73-59 victory Saturday at Inver Grove Heights.

Inver Hills led 39-27 at halftime and kept Northland at bay in the second half with a 34-32 scoring edge.

"They're really good," pointed out Northland coach Tom Neibauer. "Our defense up front was good — Angie (Enerson) and Janelle (Lorsung) really shut them down inside, but our transition defense wasn't very good."

Lorsung scored 19 points, Jody Pahlen 16 and Patti Odberg 14 for the Pioneers, while Jill Horner was impressive with 28 points for the winners.

Northland was 26-for-55 from the field (47 per cent) and 7-for-11 at the free throw line (64 per cent). Inver Hills was 15-for-18 at the line (83 per cent).

History Of Forestry In NW Minnesota
(Part of a Series)

by Vincent Buck, Warroad

Kenneth Korpi was appointed to fill the vacancy at Norris in November, 1955. The same year Bruce Heiele, who had filled the position of forestry repairman since 1951, was transferred to Blackduck and Leonard Larson was appointed to fill this vacancy.

Tom Adams was appointed to the position of timber appraiser at Littlefork in 1956. Bob Lundeen succeeded him as Ranger I at Clear River the same year.

Management forester Willard West was promoted to a Forester II position with the headquarters at Grand Rapids in 1956 and Clifford Carlson was appointed to fill the vacant position at Warroad.

Up until the early 1950s, activities in the area consisted largely of fire protection, timber sales, maintenance of buildings, roads and other improvements.

With the ever increasing emphasis on forest management and development, the tree planting program gradually expanded. In 1953, a total of 250,000 trees were planted. By 1957, the number had increased to approximately one million trees and has remained near that level.

Growing emphasis on forest development and management was not limited to state lands. Under the private forest management service, private land owners were encouraged and assisted in carrying out forestry practices on their lands. Over 1.5 million trees were planted by private individuals under the ACP and Soil Bank programs. The Warroad School Forest was established in 1956, and the Goodridge School Forest was set up in 1965.

The year 1958 saw several changes in area personnel assignments. Oliver Anderson, who had served a short time as district ranger at Deer River, returned to Warroad as forestry repairman, replacing Leonard Larson who had been appointed to the position of automechanic at the Grand Rapids depot. Theodore Johnson, who had been employed as forest guard at Norris, was promoted to the position of Ranger I at Clear River.

Due to ill health, Ranger Kenneth Korpi was transferred to Park Rapids as forestry repairman and Bob Lundeen was promoted to the district ranger's position at Norris.

Gordon Saul was appointed as ranger in the Grygla district and Oscar Hendershot, who had served 20 years as forest guard in the River district, was transferred to Thistledew in Area 11 to work on the YCC program.

An intensive survey and inventory of forest resources on all state owned lands in the area was started in 1958. Every description of state land was mapped from aerial photos and field checked. Timber volumes, recommended cutting practices, and other land use recommendations were recorded on land use cards and are on file in all district offices. This project was headed up by Forester Cliff Carlson and was completed in 1961.

A change in area boundaries was made in 1957. Area 6 acquired all of Pennington County from Area 8 and Townships 155 and 156, Range 34 from Area 9. This acquired area was added to the Grygla district. In 1962, further changes in boundaries were made within the area. The isolated Norris station was abandoned and headquarters moved to Clear River. The old Norris district was divided between the other districts in the area. Bob Lundeen, who had transferred to Deer River in 1960, was replaced by George Engebretson, whose headquarters were now moved from Norris to Clear River.

Any history of Area 6 must, of necessity, be closely tied in with the life and career of Dick Willems. His 41 years of service, with the exception of a few months at Brainerd, were spent in the Warroad area. For almost 37 years he was district ranger, area supervisor and area forester. At one time he held the positions of district ranger and game warden supervisor. Although many changes have taken place during the past few years, his influence is still undoubtedly reflected in some area policies and procedures.

Throughout his long career Dick was a vigorous, active person. However, in the late 1950s he started having some problems with his health. In the spring of 1961, upon his doctor's recommendation, Dick and his wife, Edith, flew to Europe on a vacation trip to visit their son Norman who was stationed there with the U.S. Army. While there, he had a sudden relapse. Dick Willems passed away in Paris, France, on May 22, 1961.

Summer of 1961 was probably the most potentially dangerous fire season since the early 1930s. The fall of 1960 was very dry and little snow fell during the winter so the spring fire season started with drought conditions prevailing. From April through August rainfall was scant and spotty.

Heavy smoke at times reduced visability to the point where towers were almost useless. The biggest problem areas were the shores of Lake of the Woods and the big bog country along the Canadian boundary. Grass fires entering from Canada on the north and from local farm fires on the south, started numerous fires in the deep peat and many of these peat fires burned all summer.

Three lightning fires occurred: two in the Beltrami Island State Forest and one on the Northwest Angle. Quick detection and action kept two of these to spot size. However, on June 12, a lightning strike started a fire on what is known as the Hog's Back in Sec. 23-159-35.

In September 1961 Wayne Hanson was appointed to fill the vacant area forester's position at Warroad and Cliff Carlson was promoted to area forester at Baudette in Area 7. Appraiser Brandol Hopia left the area in 1962 to fill the district forester's vacancy at Eveleth in Area 12.

Pepsi-Northland Basketball Skills Contest Is Set

Young basketball players are reminded that the Pepsi-Northland Hotshot skills competition, a year-round recreation program, is coming to Thief River Falls. The competition, which is being made possible through the sponsorship of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Thief River Falls in conjunction with Northland Community College, will be held at the Northland gymnasium Saturday, January 24.

Open to boys and girls ages 9-14, the Pepsi/NCC Hotshot competition tests youngsters' speed, dribbling, shooting and rebounding abilities. There are six categories for competition: boys ages 9-10, 11-12, 13-14; and girls ages 9-10, 11-12, 13-14.

Two finalists in each of the six categories of the morning round will receive awards and playoff for the age categories. The girls will playoff at halftime of the women's basketball game between NCC and Mesabi starting at 12-noon. The boys playoff will be at halftime of the men's basketball game between NCC and Mesabi starting at 2 p.m.

Forms to register for the Pepsi/NCC Hotshot program will be available at 9 a.m., Saturday, January 24, at Northland Community College. For more information contact Rick Nelson at 681-2181.

— News From Minnesota DNR —

Escaping Icy Danger

In much of Minnesota, December's unseasonably warm weather has kept ice from freezing to depths that will safely support cars and trucks.

Already this winter, three people have died after their vehicles broke through weak ice and sank, said Tim Smalley, boat and water safety specialist for the Department of Natural Resources.

Other deaths have been averted by quick action by the occupants, Smalley said. He offers this advice for people who drive on ice:

+Drive with your windows open, doors unlocked and seatbelts unfastened.

+If the car breaks through the ice, get out as quickly as possible, sliding out through the windows if the doors won't open. If necessary, kick out the side windows or windshield.

+Don't wait until the car submerges:

"Most cars will hang up in the ice or float for several seconds," Smalley said. "People who hesitate at this moment may lose their best chance of escape."

Often, when a vehicle sinks through the ice, large chunks of ice flood through the windows. The weight of the engine causes most cars and trucks to nose-dive to the bottom. In water deeper than about 15 feet, the vehicle may turn end for end, landing upside down and trapping the occupants in mud.

+Finally, because cold water increases a person's metabolism and need for oxygen, most people struggling and fighting panic simply cannot hold their breath for more than 30 seconds, Smalley said.

"There simply is no time to 'ride a car to the bottom,'" Smalley said.

If a car hangs up in the ice, don't go back for possessions, he said. "People have died when they've gone back and the additional movement caused the vehicle to fully break through the ice and sink."

Bird Feeding

An avid birdwatcher may insist that birds will starve if a bird feeder is neglected midway through the winter. This belief is "not quite true anymore," according to Carrol Henderson, supervisor of the Department of Natural Resources nongame wildlife program.

Because increasing numbers of Minnesotans are feeding birds — nearly 60 per cent in one recent study — food supplies are not as critical as they once were. "The birds are mobile enough," said Henderson, "that if feeders are empty in one location they will go find other food sources." Even one-time feedings will benefit the birds that they attract.

Some amateur bird watchers may have been reluctant to begin feeding birds over the winter because they were not sure they would be able to keep the feeder full until spring. Birds were thought to remain in the area and eventually starve if the winter feedings that they were accustomed to were discontinued.

Henderson encouraged sporadic bird feeders to join other Minnesotans attracting overwintering cardinals, chickadees, goldfinches, blue jays and other colorful birds to their backyards. He suggested hanging a feeder from a tree near a window on the sheltered side of the house, placing feed in a tray directly outside a window, or scattering seed on the ground. Birds may flush when they first see movement inside the house, but will eventually become accustomed to the new food source.

Most popular bird feed is black oil sunflower seeds. It is a low-cost feed, available at most garden centers, that attracts virtually all birds. Niger thistle is another excellent food that is used primarily to attract goldfinches. Suet is a high-energy food sought by woodpeckers, nuthatches and chickadees.

Any of these foods will attract winter birds, but, like many nonhibernating wildlife, birds also need water. Henderson recommended putting an electrical heating element, such as those used for outdoor dog water dishes, into a backyard birdbath. Besides drinking the water, birds will display interesting behavior as they clean their feathers.

Nongame Seminar

Minnesota's nongame wildlife programs are the subject of a day-long seminar Feb. 7 at the Bell Museum of Natural History, Minneapolis. Entitled, "First in the Nation: A Review of Minnesota's Nontraditional Wildlife Programs for Education, Research and Management," the seminar features presentations on such topics as wolves, burrowing owls and winter ecology.

Interested persons should send a $3 registration fee by Jan. 15 to "First in the Nation" Planning Committee, Bell Museum of Natural History, 10 Church Street SE, Minneapolis, MN 55455. The first 100 persons to register will receive a full-color 14-by-17-inch Minnesota loon poster.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS and elected officials who were elected to office in November were in the board room on the second floor of the Pennington county courthouse where they signed certificates of election and officially began the new year Tuesday morning. Pictured from left are: (back row) Sheriff Bob Wold; Eugene Prestegaard, county recorder; Vicki Bjorgaard, county treasurer; Commissioner Oliver "Skip" Swanson, vice chairman; Albert Koop; Dave Olin, county attorney; and new commissioner, Bill Penning; (front row) Commissioner Don Grabanski; Roger Hoffman, board chairman; and Ken Olson, county auditor.

Co. Officers Begin 1987

Public officials who were elected in November officially began their duties in Pennington county this week. In Pennington county that not only meant signing certificates of election, but being given an oath of office.

Last summer two long term public officials, Sheriff Chuck Richards and Ellsworth Jorgenson, with an accumulated service record of 58 years announced their retirement and decisions to not run for re-election. On Monday, Judge Warren A. Saetre administered the oath of office to Bob Wold, new Pennington county sheriff. Saetre noted the many years of quality service provided by Sheriff Richards and wished him the best.

Upon assuming her duties as the new treasurer, Vickie Bjorgaard said she was a little nervous about her new job, but thought she would get used to it fairly quickly. Ellsworth Jorgenson has been the Pennington county treasurer for 28 years.

Otto Stenberg, county commissioner for the fourth district for 16 years, decided not to run for re-election. Bill Penning took his place on the commission Tuesday morning at its first meeting. During the board meeting it was also announced that Roger Hoffman will be the new board chairman, and Oliver "Skip" Swanson will be the vice chairman.

Eugene Prestegaard, county recorder; Kenneth Olson, county auditor; Dave Olin, county attorney; and second district Commissioner Don Grabanski, were also returned to office by the voting public in November and were present to sign their certificates of election at the board meeting.

Dr. Richard Heinrichs, new county coroner was not present at the board meeting.

1987 Levies Set By Penn. County Commissioners

During official proceedings of the Pennington county board of commissioners recently, the board adopted the proposed budget and levy for Pennington county. The largest change this year over the previous year was noted in the assessed valuation of property in Pennington county which dropped nearly $6 million.

Budget requests were made by the following funds and levies set by the board: the revenues fund levy was set at $787,307; road and bridge fund levy set at $548,000; welfare fund levy set at $1,010,000; law enforcement bond levy set at $68,897; and Oakland park home bond set at $38,796.

The total levy was set at $2,450,000. By comparison, the 1986 levy against the citizens of Pennington county was $2,192,109.

The largest increase in 1987 was seen in the welfare fund levy which was set at over $1 million. In 1986, the levy for the welfare fund was set at $810,000.

The Pennington county auditor noted that the assessed valuation for Pennington county saw a significant decrease in the last year. In 1986 the assessed valuation was $69,616,443. This year the assessed valuation was $63,979,319. The auditor said the reduction was due to a reduction in the value of farmland. A reduction in the assessed valuation of residential property in Thief River Falls was also seen, but the cause probably due to a state order decreasing the valuation by eight per cent. This decrease, however, will not be carried over into the assessed valuation of business property.

Special levies set by other taxing entities were also certified. The Northwestern Regional commission set a levy of $10,635; Red Lake Watershed for this area at $24,781.25; and Middle River-Snake River Watershed for this area served by the organization set at one mill. (One mill is one-tenth of one per cent of the assessed valuation.)

The special levies in 1987 saw a modest increase over the previous year. In 1986 Northwestern Regional commission set a levy of $10,012; Red Lake Watershed set a $24,302 levy; and the Middle River-Snake River Watershed set a levy of one mill.

Thomas Kenville

Kenville Joins Burdick Staff In Washington

Thomas Kenville of Thief River Falls, a Lieutenant Colonel in the North Dakota air national guard in Fargo, has been appointed to the staff of Sen. Quentin Burdick of North Dakota in Washington, DC, to specialize in military affairs.

To serve in the new position, he will leave his position as special projects officer at the air guard on a temporary basis. Sen. Burdick said Kenville will be assigned to work with the U.S. Defense department and its plans to modify F-4D fighter planes.

"His portfolio will be the F-4 project and the program being developed to upgrade it," Burdick said. "We hope that some of this work can be done in North Dakota."

According to the Fargo Forum, Kenville has been serving as a consultant to a special "Committee of 17" in Fargo that is working on industrial development at Hector International airport. He has also been a consultant to Thief River Falls Jobs Incorporated on the OTH-B radar receiver siting process and other aviation related development projects.

Kenville has been a member of the North Dakota air national guard since 1969 and formerly had served as an air operations officer for the 119th Combat Support squadron. He is a 1963 graduate of the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks with a degree in business administration and formerly owned Thomas Motors in Thief River Falls.

Commissioned in 1963 in the U.S. air force reserve, he entered active duty later that year. He served as a flight training instructor at Laughlin air force base in Texas in 1965. Kenville has a son and daughter attending the University of North Dakota. Both are graduates of Lincoln high school.

Following Purchase of Certified Parts Corporation . . .

Arctco Will Consolidate Parts Operation Here

In a move to strengthen its dealer network and consolidate its control of all phases of operation, Arctco, Inc. of Thief River Falls has completed arrangements for purchase of the manufacturing rights (trademarks, patents and tooling), stock and inventory of Certified Parts Corporation of Janesville, WI.

Chris Twomey, president and chief executive officer of Arctco, Inc., said that the agreement was completed December 30 with the total acquisition expected to total between $8 million and $9 million. While terms of the agreement have been determined, inventory of parts at Janesville following the current snowmobiling season will determine the final price of the acquisition.

To avoid disruption of the dealer system during a prime maintenance period, Certified Parts Corporation will continue to supply parts through March 31, at which time Arctco will take over the total parts operation.

Twomey said that the movement of the parts business to Thief River Falls will have a two-fold purpose for the company. First, it will strengthen the dealer network as dealers will be assured parts will be available from the manufacturer. Second, it will improve control by the company as only authorized Arctic Cat dealers will be able to purchase Arctic Cat parts.

"We feel we have a major interest in supplying parts only to authorized dealerships," Twomey said. "We provide training for our dealers in the proper use of parts in repairs. Improper use by repairmen who are unfamiliar with the engineering on our machines could result in repeated problems which might turn snowmobilers to another make of machine."

It is expected that movement of the parts inventory from Janesville to Thief River Falls will utilize about one-third to one-half of the north portion of the Arctco manufacturing plant, Twomey said. Tooling which would permit Arctco to manufacture parts for older model machines will also be brought back to Thief River Falls. Local inventory will increase from some 3,000 parts numbers to more than 14,000 parts numbers.

Company management expects that the expanded parts operation can be handled initially by present personnel, although it is possible that 20 to 30 additional people may be required during the peak parts supply season.

Certified Parts Corporation, headed by James Graft as president, had purchased the manufacturing rights for Arctic Cat snowmobiles from the former Arctic Enterprises corporation. Arctco manufactured Arctic Cat snowmobiles under a licensing agreement with the Wisconsin firm. An agreement was also reached with Certified Parts Corporation last year which permitted Arctco to supply parts for the snowmobiles it had manufactured since beginning operation in 1984.

As a result of the December 30 purchase, Arctco will own the manufacturing rights as well as the inventory of parts for snowmobiles

New Vice-Provost Now At Northland

Dr. James Haviland

Northland community college's new vice-provost, Dr. James Haviland, has arrived here from Presque Isle, ME, to begin his duties supervising the instructional program at Northland. He will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Dr. Madalyn Novellino.

Dr. Haviland's most recent position was chief executive officer of the Aroostook Medical Center foundation at Presque Isle. In May of 1985 he assumed the directorship of "Professional Practice Services, Inc., one of five corporate entities within the foundation and became the CEO in May of this year.

A native of Michigan, he received a four-year athletic scholarship from the University of Miami in Florida upon graduating from high school. After his freshman year he enlisted in the U.S. Marine corps and gained the rank of sergeant while serving in Cuba and Vietnam. He returned to the University of Miami after his discharge and was a football teammate of Chuck Foreman who later played

Society and Clubs

Debra Nygard And Ryan Ulstad Wed Recently In Fargo, ND

Debra Kay Nygard and Ryan Daniel Ulstad were united in marriage August 30 at Salem Evangelical Free church in Fargo, ND.

The bride is the daughter of Alvin and Ruby Nygard of Thief River Falls and the groom the son of Roland and Willane Ulstad of Madison, MN.

Rev. Greg Scharf officiated at the double ring ceremony, with Tammy Hanson, friend of the bride, serving as pianist. Vocalists were Bob and Becky Shuka, Teresa Nygard and Jeff Vogel. Musical selections chosen included the Shukas singing "The Gift of Love," "Ode to Joy" with trumpet accompaniment by Jeff Vogel, "Author of Love" by the Shukas, "Here We Are Now" sung by Teresa Nygard, and "Great Is the Lord" as a congregational hymn.

Maid of honor was Teresa Nygard, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Karla and April Nygard, also sisters of the bride, and Becky Shuka, friend of the bride. The bride's personal attendant was Lorelei Polley, sister of the groom.

Serving as best man was Vince Ulstad, brother of the groom. Other attendants were Jeff Topp, friend of the groom; Ken Polley, brother-in-law of the groom; and Peter Nygard, brother of the bride. Ushers were Lee Frazee, Jay Hochhalter, Stacey Gustafson and Harland Hestad, all friends of the groom.

Attending the ceremony were grandmothers, Sally Nygard of Park River, ND, and Minerva Ulstad of Madison. Grandmother Anna Cole of Williston, ND, was unable to attend.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Host couples were Pastor and Mrs. David Allen and David and Bonnie Nelson. Minerva Ulstad and Ann Dahl cut and served the wedding cake, with Norma Otterson and Isabel Erlandson pouring.

Presiding at the guest book was Sherry Arneson. Flower hostesses were Karen Berg and Carol Seavert, with Sue Lussenden and Lois Aufmrud serving punch. Ann Bacheller and Kim Braaten were gift carriers, Kay Peterson and Jayne Conday assisted with decorations, and Shirley BeWer was the photographer's helper.

Waitresses at the reception were Leslie Gustafson, Loyce Burnham and Gail Glawe, with women of the church serving as kitchen helpers.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, the couple is at home in rural Appleton where the groom is engaged in farming.

Compassionate Friends To Meet In Fosston

Fosston chapter of the Compassionate Friends International will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Embassy community center at Third and N. Eaton in Fosston. Topics will be "Planning For the Group in 1987" and time for sharing how the holidays went for members.

for the Minnesota Vikings.

Graduating on the dean's list from Miami with a bachelor's degree in English, he accepted a two-year teaching appointment with the Australian government and taught high school in Coff's Harbour, New South Wales. In 1973 he returned to the United States and became a probation officer in Kalamazoo, MI. He obtained his master's degree and taught at Glen Oaks community college and later on the faculty of Northern Michigan University.

His graduate work at the University of Nevada was interrupted by his return to NMU to establish a satellite campus in Traverse City, MI. In April of 1982 he received his doctor of education degree from WMU with a graduate curriculum in educational leadership.

In January of 1983 he was appointed director of special and external programs at the University of Maine at Presque Isle, responsible for planning, staffing and directing delivery of off-campus credit and non-credit courses; coordination of graduate studies programs, summer school and campus conferences, institutes and workshops.

Dr. Haviland's wife, Alicia, received her bachelors degree from the University of Miami and has graduate degrees in nursing and chemistry from New York university where she was a faculty member. She worked in Europe, UCLA medical center in California and was supervisor of critical care at Mercy hospital in Miami when they were married in 1980. They have five children — Wade, Adam, Chelsea, Brittany and Reid — ranging in age from five years to three months. Alicia and the children will join him here this spring.

Arctco Purchases Certified Parts Corporation

manufactured by Arctic Enterprises prior to 1984. This will give dealers access to parts for all models of Arctic Cat snowmobiles through the local manufacturer.

Twomey said that Arctco produced in excess of 13,000 snowmobiles in this year's 11 models with the Cougar the best selling model in the line. The Cougar is most popular with the sport and trail rider who is the primary snowmobile customer. Industry snowmobile sales increased to 104,000 on 1986 models from about 92,000 on 1985 models. Sales figures for the 1987 model year are not complete.

Arctco has been very pleased with the current year's acceptance and sales, Twomey said. As of November 31, 70 per cent of the Arctic Cat snowmobiles produced for this model year had been sold at retail. Past statistics show that from 50 to 60 per cent of snowmobile sales come after December 1. Twomey said he expected that more than 80 per cent of this year's machines had been sold at retail by the end of December and that the company was assisting dealers in transfer of machines from no-snow areas to dealerships where snow conditions were better and demand greater.

He added that no official projections had been made for 1988 model manufacturing other than a substantial increase in production is expected. He said the company has continued its policy of manufacturing only to order which has been a key factor in its ability to grow profitably and regain a greater market share.

"Our engineering has again proved to be sound as our 1987 models are performing well in the field and we have experienced no significant problems," Twomey said. "We have made some design modifications in our standard suspension models which have improved those machines and all of our A-frame suspension models have had excellent reception. In total we are very pleased with the way things are going and we are happy to have reached agreement with Certified Parts Corporation which will bring the parts business back into our operation."

Deaths And Funerals

Elmer Gutterud

Thief River Falls — Elmer Gutterud died Tuesday at his home in Thief River Falls. Funeral arrangements are pending with the Green Funeral home. A complete obituary will be published in Monday's edition of the Times.

Elma Vollbracht, 91

Thief River Falls — Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Green Funeral chapel for Mrs. Walter (Elma) Vollbracht, 91, who died Saturday at Northwest Medical center.

There will be services Friday at 11 a.m. at the Lummis-Hamilton Funeral home in Camp Point, IL, with Rev. Clyde Snyder officiating. There will be visitation there for two hours prior to the service. Organist for the service at Camp Point will be Cheryl Hamilton, with vocal duets by Lee and Phyllis Farlow.

Rev. Melvyn Budke officiated at the service in Thief River Falls, with Mrs. Elaine Idso serving as organist and vocalist. Musical selections were "In the Garden," "Old Rugged Cross" and "Abide With Me."

Pallbearers were Ben Clevenger, Loell Tenhouse, Richard H. Vollbracht, Merle Longlett, R. Vollbracht and Ronald Vollbracht. The Green Funeral home and Lummis-Hamilton Funeral home are in charge of arrangements. Interment will be in the Graymont cemetery in Coatsburg, IL.

Elma Vollbracht was born Aug. 22, 1895, in Camp Point township, Adams county, IL, to Wesley and Aquilla Ann Cruin Davis. She attended schools in Coatsburg and Camp Point, IL, and graduated from Maplewood high school in 1917. She received her teacher's certificate prior to her high school graduation, and taught in a rural school for two years.

Feb. 16, 1918, she was united in marriage to Walter Vollbracht in Palmyra, MO. The couple lived in Camp Point, IL, for two years before moving to Kenosha, WI, where he worked for the Kenosha Motor Coach company and she was a housewife and mother. He retired in 1963.

The couple moved to Thief River Falls after his retirement, where they have since resided. For the past five years she had been a resident of area nursing homes. She was an avid gardener and had been president of the Employers Mutual Benefit association of the Wisconsin Gas Company auxiliary.

Elma Vollbracht is survived by her husband, Walter; one daughter, Mrs. Howard (Zoe) Hoel, Thief River Falls; grandchildren, Jeffrey Hoel of Los Altos, CA, Emily Hoel Moore of Grinnell, IA, and Timothy Hoel of Eagen; four great-grandchildren, Amy and Phillip Moore and Jessica and Elizabeth Blumen-Hoel; and one sister, H. Inez Davis of Quincy, IL.

She was preceded in death by her parents; one brother, James; and two sisters, Esther and Lillian.

Edwin Gaarde, 86

Middle River — Funeral services for Edwin Gaarde, 86, were held December 31 at 2 p.m. at the Evangelical Free church in Newfolden. Edwin Gaarde died the morning of December 29 at the United hospital in Grand Forks, ND.

Rev. Earl Eveland officiated at the service, with Mrs. Carroll Lindstrom serving as organist and Mrs. Merle Bjornrud and Floyd Hanson singing "What A Day That Will Be," "In The Sweet By and By" and "Face To Face."

Friends attending the service were considered honorary casketbearers, with Maghus Moen, Elworth Maki, Wesley Waltonen, Glendon McKeever, Robert Toren and Gerald Gillund serving as active bearers. Interment was in the Spruce Valley cemetery near Middle River, with the Collins Funeral home of Middle River in charge of arrangements.

Edwin Johannes Gaarde was born Aug. 25, 1900, in Spruce Valley township of Marshall county, near Middle River, the son of Reier and Hansina Gaarde. He attended school and grew to manhood there, and lived and farmed his entire life in the Spruce Valley community.

He is survived by two brothers, Russell and Hilmer, and one sister, Mabel Gaarde, all of Middle River; and two nieces and one nephew. Preceding him in death were his parents, four brothers and two sisters.

Kyja Rud, 19 Months

Strandquist — Funeral services for Kyja Rose Rud, 19-month-old daughter of Weslie and Eunice Rud of rural Strandquist, were held at 10 a.m. December 31 at the Bethesda Lutheran church in Strandquist. Kyja Rud died unexpectedly at her home December 27.

Rev. Henry Moyer officiated at the service, with Mrs. Donald Lefrooth singing, "The Lord's Prayer." The congregation joined in singing "Children of the Heavenly Father." Mrs. Terry Johnson served as organist.

Pallbearers were Lenny Lofstrom, David Eggerud, Susan Eggerud and Diane Gonshorowski. Interment was in the Bethesda Lutheran cemetery near Strandquist, with the Collins Funeral home of Karlstad in charge of arrangements.

Kyja Rose Rud was born May 9, 1985, in Thief River Falls. She is survived by her parents; four brothers, Richard, Scott, Christ and Chad, and two sisters, Lisa and Kayla, all at home; her paternal grandparents, Calmer and Gladys Rud of Strandquist; maternal grandparents, Ed and Myrtle Vandestreek, Bagley; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

Wallace Fournier, 80

Red Lake Falls — Wallace Fournier, 80, of Red Lake Falls, died Tuesday at Hillcrest Nursing home. Arrangements are pending with the Petterson Funeral home of Red Lake Falls. A complete obituary will follow in a later edition of the Times.

SERVICE AWARDS for 25 years of employment with the U.S. Postal service were presented Tuesday afternoon at the Plummer post office to two retired postal workers. Nadine Johnson, postmaster at Plummer for seven years who retired Oct. 3, 1986, and Russell (Stub) Pahlen, rural carrier who retired Nov. 29, 1986, were presented with the awards by Dick McCloskey (center), postmaster at the Thief River Falls sectional center. Most of Mrs. Johnson's postal service was at Plummer, although she also worked at the Thief River Falls post office and served as officer in charge at Goodridge in 1964. All of Pahlen's service as a carrier was out of the Plummer post office.

Sarah Wikstrom, 91

Karlstad — Sarah Wikstrom, 91, former Strandquist resident, died Monday evening at the Karlstad Memorial nursing center. Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at Bethesda Lutheran church in Strandquist, with burial at the Wikstrom family cemetery near Strandquist.

Visitation will be at the Collins Funeral chapel in Karlstad after 4 p.m. Thursday and at the church for one hour prior to the service on Friday. A complete obituary will follow in a later edition of the Times.

Clark Bolin, 73

Karlstad — Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the First Lutheran church in Karlstad for Clark Bolin, 73, who died the evening of December 31 at the United hospital in Grand Forks, ND.

Rev. John Anderson and Rev. John A. Riveness officiated at the service, with military honors accorded by the Karlstad American Legion post. Music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Ingolf Ingebrigtsen and Mrs. Michael Folland, with Kirstin Olson at the organ.

Honorary pallbearers were Kenneth Germundson, Oscar Yngve, Dean Dahlin, George Wikstrom, Jr., Dave Seng, Palmer Oistad, Bert Trane, Loyal Oistad and Ernest Oistad. Active bearers were Greg Dahlin, Nathan Britten, Kenneth Sylskar, Tim Olson, Danny Nordine and Loren Germundson. The Collins Funeral home of Karlstad was in charge of arrangements.

Clark Walter Bolin, the son of Louis and Hjilma Bolin, was born Aug. 3, 1913, at Duluth. At the age of 11, he moved to Chisholm, where he attended school and grew to manhood. He was employed in Chicago, IL, before enlisting in the U.S. Army Air Force. He served in the South Pacific during World War II, and returned to Chicago following his discharge in August of 1945.

June 27, 1946, he married Irene Olson at Karlstad. The couple operated a cafe in Karlstad for several years, then moved to Chicago. In 1957, they returned to Karlstad and operated Clark's Cafe and a drive-in, and later a cafe and bowling alley in Lake Bronson.

He served as Karlstad city clerk for 10 years, was a member of the First Lutheran church in Karlstad, the Karlstad Eagles and American Legion post, and was an active member of the Karlstad Golf club. He was also active in the Democratic Farmer Labor party.

Clark Bolin is survived by his wife, Irene; one son, Craig, and one daughter, Jacqueline Vann, both of St. Paul; one granddaughter, Mahogany; a niece, Mrs. Al (Gail) Rasmussen, International Falls, who was raised by the Bolins; one uncle, Carl Swenson, California; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one sister.

Fred Virkus, 86

Long Prairie — Fred A. Virkus, former Thief River Falls resident, died Saturday at Long Prairie Memorial nursing home at the age of 86.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at First Baptist church in Long Prairie with Rev. Paul J. Twist officiating. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery in Long Prairie with the Stephan-Stein Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Harley VanRuler, Harris Hanson, Herb Kuehne, Harley Hanson, Lloyd Anderson and Bert Poppen.

Fred A. Virkus was born Apr. 2, 1900, in Long Prairie to John and Laura Duel Virkus. He lived in Long Prairie for many years, where he worked for the Long Prairie Dray Line. His first marriage was to Linda Dehn and his second to Josephine Glarum.

He moved to Minneapolis in 1942, where he worked as a driver for Bambi Bakery company. In the late 40's, he began working as a punch press operator for Honeywell company; and continued in that occupation until his retirement in 1966. He then moved to Thief River Falls, where he lived until moving to Long Prairie in 1982. He was a member of Telemarken Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Fred Virkus is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Clarence (Violet) Johnson, Cushing, Mrs. Richard (Phyllis) Roger, Albuquerque, NM, and Vera Swedal, Long Prairie; three sons, Victor, Crystal; Phillip, Golden Valley; and Fred Jr., Elk River; 19 grandchildren; 23 great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Tillie Lundberg, Estherville, IA, and Mrs. Robert (Florence) Austin, Mound.

He was preceded in death by both wives, his parents, two brothers, Art and Clarence; and one sister, Louise.

Several students from this area are among more than 1,000 North Dakota state university students who earned places on the fall quarter dean's list. The students maintained grade point averages of 3.50 or higher on a 4.0 scale while carrying a minimum of 12 credits.

Among those listed are the following: Harold Mickelson, Goodridge, Agriculture; Lisa Branden, Greenbush, university studies; Tammy Johanneck, Red Lake Falls, home economics; Craig Skiple, Red Lake Falls, university studies; Heidi Goos, Roseau, science and mathematics; Terry Lee, Roseau, engineering and architecture; Dave Dalager, Thief River Falls, engineering and architecture; and Patricia Nelson, Thief River Falls, education.

Grandson Of TRF Resident Nearly Struck By Arrow

Norman Morevitska of Thief River Falls recently received word that his grandson had a narrow and unique brush with injury while driving a truck in the Everett, WA, area.

While driving on Interstate 5, Joe Fortier had the windshield of his truck struck by a hunting arrow which pierced the bottom right hand corner of the windshield. "It was like a rock hitting and glass flew up in my face," he said.

The arrow penetrated about halfway into the cab of the truck. Had it struck a few inches further back, it would have entered the passenger window and likely struck the driver. Fortier, the son of Agnes Fortier formerly of Red Lake Falls, said he did not see anyone near the freeway before the arrow hit.

Bemidji Observes 50-Year History Of Paul Bunyan

A ceremony honoring the anniversary of the appearance of Paul Bunyan's statue on the shore of Lake Bemidji will be held at 5 p.m. January 8 at the waterfront area in Bemidji where Paul and his blue ox Babe have stood for 50 years.

The original statue of Paul was permanently placed at the waterfront during Bemidji winter carnival festivities in the first week of January, 1937. The 1987 celebration will begin with a brief historical background of the statue and the legend.

Following the ceremony, a dinner featuring a hearty Babe Stew, biscuits and birthday cake will be served at the Bemidji Elks club. Featured guests at the dinner will be Michael DeWitt, artist who produced the painting "Bemidji — Headwater of Legends;" Gary Paulson, formerly of Thief River Falls, author and dog sled racer; and Tim Campbell of the Bemidji area chamber of commerce. Art Lee, serving as a modern Johnny Inkslinger, and Paul Bunyan will also be part of the program.

Dinner tickets, priced at $3.50, are available at the chamber of commerce building. Early reservation for the evening program is encouraged since only 200 dinner tickets are available for distribution.

January 8 is the start of a year-long celebration in Bemidji honoring the legend of Paul Bunyan and the area's logging heritage. While 1987 has been designated as the "year of the legend," attention will focus on a special legendary days festival August 6-9 when all-school reunions will be held and a variety of Bunyanesque programs are planned.

Gaalswyk Named Division Manager For Bridgeman's

Charlie Stein and Dennis Gaalswyk have been named division managers for Bridgeman Creameries, headquartered in Grand Forks.

Stein, new division sales manager, was previously managing sales for Bridgeman's plant in Minot, ND. Gaalswyk, new division production manager, previously held production responsibilities for Bridgeman's in Thief River Falls.

As division managers, the two will supervise sales and production for all Bridgeman plants, located in Grand Forks, Moorhead, Bismarck, Williston, Minot, Dvils Lake, Thief River Falls and Bemidji.

JUNE AUSTAD and Agnes Larson volunteered their time to hand out milk and coffee for the Lutheran Social services nutrition program at the Heritage community center. The many volunteers who volunteer their time help make the program a success. The program began serving meals at the Heritage community center on Monday. On the first day at its new home it served nearly 140 people. It is the largest group the program has served since it began 14 years ago. For more information about the nutrition program call the center at 681-2793 or Sue Erickson at 681-2194.

CLIFFORD BOLSTAD was the first person in line to receive meals from the Lutheran Social Services nutrition program at the newly-built Heritage community center. Clifford delivered plates of baked chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, bread and butter, glorified rice, and milk and coffee to friends who needed help. There were an estimated 140 people at the center Monday. Judy TeBeest, assistant director said it was probably the largest crowd it has ever served in the 14 years it has been operating.

Starwatch Lists Sky Activities During January

Morning and evening skies are graced with two of the four brightest planets this month, Venus and Saturn adorn the eastern pre-dawn twilight, while Jupiter and Mars continue to rule the night, according to the University of Minnesota starwatch.

This month Venus will be more brilliant than at any other time during 1987. Perhaps the best time to see it is the morning of the 15th, when Venus reaches its greatest apparent distance from the sun and appears half full through a telescope.

For the next few days Venus, Saturn and the red star Antares form a triangle in the sky with Venus at the top. The triangle flattens later in the month as Venus moves down to the left of Saturn. The two planets are closest on the 24th, when Saturn is just two degrees below Venus. The waning moon will join this grouping on the 25th and 26th.

Evening stargazers should have an easy time finding the blazing beacon Jupiter in the south just after sunset. Nearby is fainter Mars, which last month swept by Jupiter from the west. Mars continues itas eastward motion away from Jupiter throughout January, nearly tripling the distance between them by the end of the month.

Just after passing through the nest of meteors, Earth reaches another significant point in its orbit. At 5 p.m. CST on the 4th, Earth was at perihelion — its closest approach to the sun. This is the latest date of perhelion for decades to come. At that moment Earth will be 91.4 million miles from the sun's center.

The moon will be full on the 14th and new on the 29th, with the new moon the nearest of 1987.

Minnesota Starwatch is a monthly guide to the night sky in the Upper Midwest. Information is provided by members of the astronomy department of the University of Minnesota. To hear a taped version of Starwatch, call (612) 624-2001.

Moe Introduces Development Act For Rural Areas

Senator Roger Moe of Erskine has authored and introduced, as Senate File No 1, the "Rural Development Act of 1987." "This legislation is designed to help alleviate the economic distress suffered by much of Greater Minnesota," Sen. Moe said.

"The fact that this is our first bill of the 1987 legislative session is symbolic of the priority we're placing on addressing the rural economy."

In highlighting the provisions of the bill, Moe explained that "its basic intent is to diversify the rural economy by developing and promoting industries other than agriculture, mining and forestry. We can no longer rely on those sectors alone to hold up our rural economy. And our approach will be community-based. What works in Crookston may not work in Pipestone, and local community leaders are in the best positions to know what their economic development needs are."

Major components of the bill are research, training and financing. It establishes the Greater Minnesota Corporation, which will support research as well as development of new products for commercial application in rural Minnesota. In addition to providing for financial assistance to businesses, the bill provides for long-term financing of public facilities within a community framework. "Adequate public facilities are vital to keeping and attracting private industry," Moe commented.

Additionally, the bill creates the rural development board "so that rural Minnesota will have its place in the executive branch," Moe continued. "The board's main functions will be to develop a public investment strategy for rural Minnesota and to pool public and private resources in order to offer free training to new or expanding businesses."

Moe also said that, while Minnesota private foundations "have always been quite generous, that generosity unfortunately has been biased — that is, $9 out of every $10 have historically gone into the metro areas. However, the $15 million grant to rural economic development made by the McKnight foundation in 1986 was a major breakthrough. McKnight will also allocate another $50 million to Greater Minnesota over the next five years."

To maximize such private investments, the rural development act creates six regional development areas, each with its own revolving fund. Through these funds, the state will provide challenge grants for matching with private donations.

"One of the most important aspects of this bill," Moe concluded, "is that it is designed to utilize the resources already available to us. And by far our most valuable resource in Greater Minnesota is a ready pool of skilled and hardworking people who are waiting to contribute."

In the coming months, Sen. Moe said he will be touring the state to meet with various local community leaders to talk about the rural development act and to enlist their active support.

January Weekend For Women In Grand Forks, ND

Health Spectrum Incorporated of Crookston will sponsor a "Time Out For Women" weekend, planned by women for women, January 23 and 24 at the Ramada Inn in Grand Forks, ND. The weekend is intended to provide time for relaxation as well as time to learn more about concerns that face women in the 80's. Participants will socialize, have fun, and become aware of their unique role as women.

The program will begin with a social hour at 5:30 p.m. Friday, and includes an evening speaker on the topic of "Self Esteem: A Woman's Choice." Saturday subjects will include stress, nutrition, fitness and money management. The weekend will conclude at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Participants are encouraged to stay at the Ramada Inn for maximum enjoyment of the weekend. Plan to bring a friend and share a room. A block of rooms has been reserved at a special rate for the weekend. Single rooms are available for $39 and double for $46. Participants desiring overnight accommodations should contact the motel directly at 701-[illegible]-1951. The rooms will be held until January [illegible]. Participants may also commute to the weekend if desired.

For more information contact Health Spectrum at 218-281-[illegible]. To register send name, address and check for $30 to Health Spectrum Inc., P.O. Box 363, Crookston, MN 56716. Registration fee includes welcome social, breakfast, lunch and breaks. Registration deadline is January 19.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor and To Whom It May Concern:

The elk herd at Grygla and the DNR are again making the headlines in our local paper. In my way of thinking, if the elk are going to cause that much hard feelings and all the thousands of dollars DNR has spent it is high time to get rid of them. There must be a more suitable place.

These elk were shipped in here in the 30s — that is over 50 years ago — and as far as I know there has never been an elk hunt and the State of Minnesota has not received one penny of revenue. One thing is for sure; the elk are not becoming extinct. There are lots of them in western states.

I remember in 1977 when we had so much early snow, we were unable to combine 250 acres of sunflowers. In January the deer invaded my sunflowers, hundreds of them. So I was told to contact some man at Gatzke. He referred me to Thief River Falls. He gave me an address in St. Paul to contact by mail. They sent me to Bemidji. I drove down there and they told me the only one that could help me would be Farmes at Thief River Falls. So by going round and round it was spring.

I called Farmes and he told me I could get $200. I told him to forget it, that would not be even $1 an acre. He also told me he could not figure out why I was harping to get a little compensation from the DNR because there would be nothing left of the sunflowers.

But in the spring I bought a rice combine. The snow was pretty much gone, the ground was frozen and we had no problem. The trouble was that the deer got there first.

As anyone knows corn and sunflowers can stand over winter and you should not lose over 10 or 15 per cent of the crop. The way it turned out I never got one dime from DNR. I had 250 acres and a $12.50 per hundredweight contract with St. Hilaire Co-op Elevator. I figure I lost at least $25,000 but I am sure it saved the lives of hundreds of deer. I feel it's too much money for one man to donate to wildlife.

So the trouble with doing business with the DNR is the one hand doesn't know what the other hand is doing. It is almost like our U.S. government is run; nobody knows who is in charge so there is nobody left to manage the store.

Thank you,
-s- Melvin Joppru

Prowlers Beat Bemidji 45-40 For 9-0 Record . . .

TRF Girls Still Unbeaten

Thief River Falls girls tightened their grip on the No. 1 spot in the North Sub-Region 8AA high school basketball ranks Monday by holding off long-time nemesis Bemidji 45-40.

The win put the Prowlers at 9-0 for the year, which includes North Sub-Region 8AA victories over Moorhead, Detroit Lakes and Bemidji. Only a return trip to Bemidji February 3 and a regular season-ending game at home against Fergus Falls February 20 stand between the Prowlers and a No. 1 post-season tournament seed, meaning a home court edge through the North Sub-Region 8AA playoffs.

Thief River Falls' victory also helped erase some disappointing memories for head coach Tom Schafer. It was the Prowlers' first win over the Lumberjacks since 1980, pointed out Schafer, who also noted that the Prowlers have gone 41-12 over the past three years, and six of those 12 losses came at the hands of Bemidji.

It wasn't an easy win, but it could have been. Thief River Falls led the entire game, much of the time by 10 or 12 points. But the Prowlers were never really able to put the game away, and the Lumberjacks made a couple of runs at them in the second half that made things interesting.

Senior guard Brenda Russell scored on a drive 42 seconds into the game, giving the Prowlers a 2-0 lead they never surrendered, and starting her off to a game-high 19-point performance.

Thief River Falls had a 10-6 lead at the end of the first quarter when Cindy Kruta scored from underneath with 1:17 left after taking a bounce-pass feed from Kelly Cornell.

A string of nine straight Thief River Falls points in the second quarter turned a 13-10 lead into a 22-10 gap. Bemidji shot horribly during that stretch (3-for-12 from the field and 0-for-6 at the free throw line in the second quarter). The half ended at 22-12 when the Lumberjacks' Dianne Lindstrom threw up a prayer shot that dropped through the hoop with six seconds left.

Bemidji's shooting woes continued in the second half, but the Lumberjacks killed the Prowlers on the boards, putting in enough second and third shots to make it close. They shaved that 10-point halftime deficit in half, 24-19, in the first 70 seconds of the third quarter, but when the period ended, the Prowlers still had that 10-point edge, 37-27.

A field goal from the corner by Cornell and a free throw by Laura Beito had the Prowlers sitting on a 41-30 cushion with 4:59 remaining in the game.

But a rash of Thief River Falls turnovers against Bemidji's pressing defense swung the momentum to the Lumberjacks, who converted three of those turnovers directly into points and scored on five offensive rebound baskets to climb within 43-40, with 1:30 still on the clock.

That was as close as the Lumberjacks got, however, as Russell sank both ends of a bonus free throw situation with 25 seconds left to close out the scoring. Bemidji rushed a shot on the ensuing possession, Thief River Falls rebounded, and the clock ran out on the Lumberjacks.

"They really did a number on us rebounding," acknowledged Schafer, whose team was beat only 36-34 in total rebounds, but surrendered 21 offensive boards to the Lumberjacks. The Prowlers had just six offensive rebounds. It was a 16-3 Bemidji lead in that department in the second half. "We would be in position at times," explained Schafer, "but the ball would bounce way out on us."

Despite committing eight of their 17 turnovers in the second half, the Prowlers managed to maintain their composure down the stretch, said Schafer. "I have to give them credit for hanging in there at the end. We didn't execute very well, but we haven't faced that much aggressive pressure defense all year."

Beito joined Russell in double figures with 13 points. Junior forward Traci Ann Fauscher led Bemidji with 14 points.

Thief River Falls was 16-for-41 from the field (39 per cent) and 13-for-25 at the free throw line (52 per cent). Bemidji wound up 18-for-68 from the field (26 per cent) and 4-for-18 at the line (22 per cent). The Lumberjacks had eight turnovers.

The Prowlers visit Crookston Thursday and drive to Hallock Saturday.

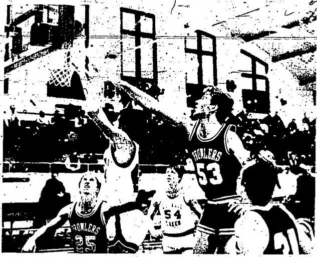
Scoring

| | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | T |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Bemidji | 6 | 6 | 15 | 13 | 40 |
| Thief River Falls | 10 | 12 | 15 | 8 | 45 |

Bemidji — Becky Wilson 8, Christa Motter 2, Diane Lindstrom 6, Paula Bortler 6, Ann Jensen 2, Lisa Kleinschmidt 2, Traci Ann Fauscher 14.

TRF — Cindy Kruta 5, Laura Beito 13, Brenda Russell 19, Kelly Cornell 2, Lisa Lillevold 6.

A STEAL AND a fast break lay-up by Thief River Falls guard Brenda Russell resulted in a pair of easy points in the second quarter of Monday's high school basketball game against Bemidji. Russell scored a game-high 19 points in leading the Prowlers past the Lumberjacks 45-40.



DETROIT LAKES forward Brad Weekley slipped inside for this shot against Thief River Falls in Tuesday's North Sub-Region 8AA high school basketball game in the Lincoln gym. Thief River Falls center Brian Stark (53) tried to block the shot, while teammates Chris Nelson (25), Tom Knoff (31) and Griff Newland looked on, along with Detroit Lakes' Paul Nickolauson (54). The Lakers beat the Prowlers 67-62 in a closely-contested affair.

Hot-Shooting Lakers Collect 67-62 8AA Win Over Prowlers

Guard James Landsem (21) and center Paul Nickolauson (20) combined for 41 points and spearheaded a sharp-shooting Detroit Lakes attack that beat Thief River Falls 67-62 in a closely-contested North Sub-Region 8AA boys high school basketball game Tuesday at the Lincoln gym.

Landsem is a 6-2 senior who hit from the outside and also drove to the hoop, while Nickolauson is a 6-8 junior who hurt the Prowlers inside, but also showed a nice shooting touch away from the basket. And they both shot free throws with unerring accuracy.

"The big kid inside, and Landsem. They made the shots when it counted. They were the difference," said Thief River Falls coach Tom Hunt.

The Lakers as a team, Landsem and Nickolauson in particular, were deadly from the field and at the free throw line. Detroit Lakes was 24-for-45 from the field (53 per cent) and 19-for-24 at the line (79 per cent) in stretching a season-opening winning streak to six games. The Lakers were also consistent, going 11-for-21 from the field in the first half and 13-for-24 in the second half. They connected on 16 straight free throws before Landsem missed the second try on a bonus situation with 14 seconds left. It was a secure 67-60 at the time, and the only other points put on the board came from a Chris Bjorgaard drive with eight seconds left to make it a five-point final.

Thief River Falls shot only 39 per cent from the field, putting up more shots, but making just 27 of 70 attempts. The Prowlers weren't as productive at the free throw line, either, in an 8-for-13 night (62 per cent) as they fell to 6-2 for the year.

"They executed a little better offensively than we did at times," acknowledged Hunt. "The kids played hard, and at times we played well. But I didn't think we played smart at times."

Detroit Lakes led most of the way, but never by a comfortable margin. The Lakers had a 12-11 edge when the first quarter ended and a pair of free throws by Nickolauson with 4:52 left in the second quarter gave his team a 16-14 lead they never relinquished. Nickolauson got the ball underneath the basket and scored on a short turnaround jumper with 2:51 left in the half for the Lakers' biggest lead before intermission — 25-18. His short jumper with 22 seconds to play gave him 10 first half points and sent the Lakers into the lockerroom with a 29-24 lead.

That five-point margin stood up in the second half as both teams scored 14 third quarter points and both sides scored 24 fourth quarter points.

Detroit Lakes owned a pair of nine-point third quarter leads, but Thief River Falls twice cut the gap to three points before settling for the 43-38 difference at the quarter stop, with Nickolauson again supplying the final points on a pair of free throws with 23 seconds to play.

Two more nine-point Detroit Lakes leads in the fourth quarter shrank to another three-point gap at 49-46 following a short Bjorgaard jumper with 5:26 remaining.

A three-point play by Thief River Falls center Brian Stark, a 6-4 senior who turned in a strong 20-point performance, pulled the Prowlers within 52-51 and forced a Detroit Lakes time-out with 4:26 to play.

The Lakers then preceded to win the game with an 8-1 scoring streak that was completed by a basket underneath by Nickolauson with 2:25 on the clock for a 60-52 spread.

Bjorgaard made it close with a short jumper, a steal and a lay-up for a 60-56 game with 1:59 remaining, but Landsem answered with a steal and lay-up of his own, plus two free throws, to make it 64-56 with :59 seconds to go.

Chris Nelson dropped in a long jumper from the side and Stark followed a Detroit Lakes turnover with two free throws to keep it interesting at 64-60 with 23 seconds still showing, but Brian Averbeck made both ends of a bonus free throw opportunity with 19 seconds remaining, and a Thief River Falls turnover was converted into Landsem's single free throw with 14 seconds left to secure the win.

Bjorgaard and Nelson joined Stark in double figures for the Prowlers with 16 and 15 points, respectively. The Thief River Falls attack was hurt, though, when forward Jarrod Kalsnes picked up three first quarter fouls, sat out the entire second quarter and wound up scoring just two points.

"I have to give the kids credit," said Hunt. "They hung in there down the stretch. They came back."

The Prowlers had a 28-26 rebound edge and the Lakers had more turnovers in the fast-paced game, 24-17.

Thief River Falls will be at Crookston for a Friday night ball game.

Detroit Lakes Is Beaten By TRF JV

A 16-point lead in the first half nearly disappeared in the second half, but Thief River Falls held off a Detroit Lakes rally to lay claim to a 50-41 boys junior varsity high school basketball win Tuesday.

Thief River Falls had a 10-2 first quarter lead, carried a 22-14 lead into halftime and maintained a 39-28 third quarter spread.

Ryan Walseth scored 19 points, while Dean DuChamp and Todd Brandon both had 10 for the winners, who improved their record to 5-0.

Pioneers Resume Basketball Schedule

Mike Lundgren
Sports Editor

Northland Community College men's basketball team has 7:30 p.m. nonconference games Saturday at NDSU-Bottineau and Monday at home against the Grand Forks Air Force base before the Pioneers start their 1986-87 Minnesota Community College Conference schedule.

The Pioneers are 4-4 to date, sitting idle since a December 18-19 Itasca Invitational appearance.

Northland's MCCC schedule will start with a January 16-17 series on the road when the Pioneers visit Rainy River Friday night and drive to Hibbing Saturday afternoon.

The Northland women's team, 4-3, will also begin its MCCC schedule with that January 16-17 trip to Rainy River and Hibbing. The Pioneers will first have nonconference outings Thursday at the Concordia junior varsity, Friday and Saturday at the Wahpeton-Science Invitational and Wednesday, January 14, at home against Wahpeton.

LHS Hockey

Struggling Lincoln High School hockey team faces two games this week that the Prowlers have to win if they want to move up in the Section 8 standings.

Thief River Falls is 2-5, including a 1-4 mark against Section 8 foes. It's recognized the Prowlers will have trouble beating Section 8 leaders like Warroad, Bemidji and Roseau this winter, so wins against teams like Hallock and Moorhead this week are a must if they want to improve their position in the Section 8 standings and earn enough support to gain a more favorable post-season playoff position — stops based upon a vote by the coaches.

A strong effort in a 4-3 overtime loss to Roseau Saturday proved Thief River Falls is certainly still competitive within the Section 8 ranks, but now the Prowlers have to start putting numbers in the win column.

After driving to Hallock Thursday and to Moorhead Saturday, the Prowlers face early-season Section 8 leader Crookston in another road game. They'll be home Saturday, January 17, to face Fargo South, then tackle preseason Section 8 favorites Warrond and Bemidji in back-to-back assignments.

Lack of scoring punch and shortage of depth have plagued the Prowlers this winter. Defensively they've played well, especially goalie Shayne Anderson and defenseman Bill Dicken. Offensively, though, only Dicken is in double figures in the points column with one goal and nine assists for 10 points. Up front, Blair Lund leads the team with eight goals to go along with one assist for nine points, while Bob Geatz is 6-2-8 and Scott Novak is 2-5-7. Anderson carries a 3.0 goals-against average and a 90 per cent save figure.

Area Sports Briefs

Twins Visit TRF

Minnesota Twins 1987 "Talking Baseball Tour" will make a stop in Thief River Falls Wednesday, January 14.

Catcher Mark Salas and pitcher George Frazier, along with Glenn Gostick from the team's front office and new Twins broadcaster John Gordon will be at the Best Western Inn at 6:30 that night.

A "baseball meal" that will include hot dogs, chips and pop will be served, followed by a film presentation and other activities. Cost of the event is $2.

The Twins' winter speaking tour stop in Thief River Falls will be sponsored by KTRF Radio. Fans of all ages are invited.

Touchdown Club Meeting

Thief River Falls Touchdown Club will meet Monday, January 12, at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln High School Cafeteria.

All parents of Thief River Falls football players and other interested individuals are urged to attend the meeting. Club officials said the meeting will center around very important fund-raising activities and will elect officers for the 1987 season.

Sports Boosters Meet

Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club weekly 12-noon luncheon meeting schedule, interrupted by the Christmas and New Year holidays, will resume Thursday in the basement of the Rex Cafe.

Lincoln High School head hockey coach Wendell Grand will be the guest speaker.

Hockey Fan Bus

A fan bus will be available for the Thief River Falls Section 8 high school hockey games at Hallock Thursday and at Moorhead Saturday.

Sponsored by the Blue Line Club, the busses will leave from the Sports Arena at 3:45 p.m. Thursday and at 2:45 p.m. Saturday.

Cost is $2. Tickets are available at TG Sporting Goods.

Deer Hunters Meeting

Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association will have a January meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the lower level of Lon's Restaurant.

Social hour starts at 7 p.m.

Gordon Forester of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources will present the final deer harvest figures for 1986 and will discuss the winter survival prospects for 1987.

A committee will also be chosen for the new year, and plans for the second annual banquet will be discussed.

Deer hunters of all ages, both men and women, are invited. You do not have to be a member of the association to attend the meeting.

BANKING THE BALL off the glass backboard, Detroit Lakes guard James Landsem (22) took on three Thief River Falls defenders on this second half drive during Tuesday's high school basketball game. Landsem, who had a game-high 21 points, got by the Prowlers' Chris Nelson (left), Brian Stark (right) and Todd Solsten on the play. Detroit Lakes' Paul Nickolauson, who added 20 points to the Lakers' total, and Thief River Falls' Jarrod Kalsnes watched the action. Detroit Lakes won the game 67-62 to remain unbeaten at 6-0 for the year.

Swim Team Winner Over Detroit Lakes

Winning eight of the 11 events, the Thief River Falls boys opened their 1986-87 dual meet high school swimming schedule Tuesday with a 51-32 win at Detroit Lakes.

It was the third outing overall this winter for the Prowlers, who opened the season with a pair of multiple-team events — their own Prowler Relays December 20 and the Brainerd Invitational December 30.

"For coming off the vacation break, the boys turned in a satisfactory effort," said Thief River Falls coach Jay Forney. "I think they're ready to get down to the hard work that they will need to do to attain the season goals they have set for themselves."

Rick Rosetta was an individual double-event winner for the Prowlers with a 25.05 in the 50 freestyle and a 1:00.71 in the 100 butterfly. Other individual Thief River Falls winners were Shon Thompson, diving; Todd Carlson, 500 freestyle; Joe Drevlow, 100 backstroke; and Brian Schindler, 100 breaststroke.

Thief River Falls also won both relay races, with Drevlow, Rosetta, Schindler and Brian Joppru making up the first place 200 medley unit and Carlson, Joppru, Paul Giauque and Aaron Tofte winning the meet-ending 400 freestyle relay.

Drevlow and Greg Dosser were cited by Forney for turning in good efforts.

There were 17 seasonal-best performances and eight career-best efforts turned in by the Prowlers, who had four individuals meet post-season sectional qualifying standards during the meet — Giauque in the 200 I.M. and 100 freestyle, Thompson in diving, Tofte in the 100 backstroke and Schindler in the 100 breaststroke.

Thief River Falls will have dual meet assignments Friday at Park Rapids at 6 p.m. and Monday vs. Fosston at 5 p.m. in the Franklin Middle School pool.

Thief River Falls Elks Pee-Wee B team has had a tough time scoring goals this winter, a trend that continued over the weekend in losses to Fargo North, Roseau and Baudette that dropped the team's record to 1-11-1.

Even though the Thief River Falls squad matched its season-high scoring figure Friday, Fargo North triumphed 9-3 at the Sports Arena. Jereme Fimrite, Guy Gustafson and Jeremy Olson scored the goals for the Thief River Falls team that was outshot 32-15.

Roseau beat Thief River Falls 4-1 Saturday at the Sports Arena, finishing with a 22-14 shots-on-goal edge. Chris Eide collected the lone Thief River Falls goal.

Baudette handed Thief River Falls its third shutout loss of the season Sunday, 2-0 at the Sports Arena. The winners had a 19-10 shots-on-goal advantage. Trevor Haugen is the lone Thief River Falls Pee-Wee B goalie.

Bantan B

Legion Bantan B team was involved in three close weekend games that included a 4-2 win over Red Lake Falls, a 7-5 loss to Bemidji and a 3-2 overtime defeat at the hands of Baudette.

Troy Coltom scored twice, while Tim Stengrim and Duane Molstad had single goals in the Friday night victory over Red Lake Falls at the Sports Arena. Darin Teie had two assists. Thief River Falls goalie Jay Lusignan stopped 17 shots. The Red Lake Falls netminder made 26 saves.

Bemidji jumped out to a 5-1 first period lead, then held on for a Saturday afternoon matinee victory over Thief River Falls. Coltom had a hat trick, while Brian Gillespie and Paul Johnson scored single goals for the Legion squad. Teie and Mark Daniels both picked up two assists. Bryan Cloutier was in goal for the visitors, who out-shot Bemidji 29-19.

Baudette snapped a 2-2 tie at 1:01 of a scheduled eight-minute sudden death overtime period Sunday afternoon at the Sports Arena to win a defensive match-up that was scoreless through two periods. Baudette grabbed a 2-0 lead at the start of the third period, but Thief River Falls tied it on goals by Jerod Kolden and Coltom. Lusignan made 18 saves. The Baudette netminder had 15 stops.

Thief River Falls fell to 10-7 overall and 3-2 in District 16 play.

Bantam A

VFW Bantam A team lost to Duluth RJ Sports and Richfield before beating Rice Street-St. Paul at the Fergus Falls Invitational over the weekend.

Duluth RJ Sports, after watching a 6-4 lead disappear in the final minute of regulation time, beat Thief River Falls 7-6 on a goal with just 16 seconds left in an opening round quarterfinal game. John Seaverson and Paul Borchert both scored twice, while Corey Poole had a goal and three assists, and Wade Jorde added a single goal for the losers, who out-shot the Duluth team 39-32. Ryan Haugen was in the Thief River Falls nets.

Richfield handled Thief River Falls 6-2 in the consolation semifinals. Goals came from Seaverson and Steve Sabo, while goalie Todd Stewart made 37 saves. The Richfield goalie needed just 14 saves for the win.

Seaverson, Jorde, Paul Kezar and Chad Kleinwachter all scored two goals and Poole had one in a 9-1 romp over Rice Street-St. Paul in the Sunday morning seventh place game. Borchert and Sabo both collected three assists while Haugen and Stewart combined for 14 saves. The St. Paul goalie had 36 stops.

A 4-0 win over Fargo North Friday afternoon started the Thief River Falls weekend. Stewart, Haugen and Jay Lusignan each played a period in goal in combining for the 22-save shutout. The Fargo North goalie made 33 saves. Single goals came from Roger Anderson, Poole, Borchert and Seaverson.

The results left Thief River Falls at 8-9 for the year.

Pee-Wee A

A 4-3 Friday victory over Fargo North and a 5-5 Sunday overtime tie with Moorhead left the Thief River Falls Eagles Pee-Wee A team with an 8-5-1 season record.

Marc Haugen, Corey Offerdahl and Matt Steinert all scored a goal and had an assist, while Aaron Broten got the game-winner with 3:38 remaining in the triumph over Fargo North. Barry Dowers stopped 28 shots in the Thief River Falls nets. Fargo North netminder had 21 saves.

Moorhead came back from a 5-1 third period deficit to gain the Sunday tie at the Old Arena. Jason Svir scored twice for Thief River Falls, with Marc Seaverson, Nathan Knutson and Haugen scored single goals. Ross Boldt was in the nets, making 28 saves.

Pioneers 1-2 In Chicago; Face Hibbing This Weekend

Northland Community College hockey team returns to Minnesota Community College Conference play this weekend when the Pioneers travel to Hibbing for a two-game series against the perennial MCCC title-contending Cardinals. Games will be played Friday at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 1 p.m.

Coach Scott Bergland's Pioneers are 7-2 for the year following a three-game series in the Chicago area where Northland sandwiched a 10-5 win over the Franklin Park Junior A Cougars between 4-3 and 8-5 losses to a strong College of DuPage team, an annual NJCAA national tournament participant.

Bergland said the trip was an enjoyable and worthwhile venture for the Pioneers, who were making the journey for the first time. "DuPage was by far the best team we've played this year," pointed out Bergland, whose team carried a 6-0 record to Illinois.

Northland is 5-0 in the MCCC.

Northland . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 3

A pair of goals by Northland sophomore Chad Bottem supplied the Pioneers with a 2-0 first period lead in a Saturday night match-up against College of DuPage, but the host team rallied for a 4-3 victory.

DuPage tied it 2-2 at the start of the second period, but Northland's Joe Blankenfeld scored on a power play as the Pioneers regained a 3-2 lead before the period ended.

A pair of unanswered third period goals, however, gave DuPage the win.

Scoring

Franklin Park . . . . . . . . . . . . 5

Joe Blankenfeld, a freshman from Thief River Falls, collected a three-goal hat trick as Northland doubled the Franklin Park Cougars 10-5 Sunday afternoon.

Northland had a 2-1 first period lead and a 7-5 second period edge before clinching it with three third period goals.

Single goal scorers for the Pioneers were Steve Ristau, Russ Cagnoni, Chad Swendseid, Chad Bottem, Troy Miller, Mike Delorme and Lee Hamre.

Scoring

DuPage . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 8
Northland . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 5

College of DuPage completed a two-game sweep over Northland with an 8-5 Monday afternoon decision.

Northland had a 2-1 lead to start the game, but DuPage tied it 2-2 before the first period ended and went ahead 6-4 in the second period.

Steve Mahoney of Northland scored at 10:13 of the third period to make it 6-5, but a pair of late goals by DuPage padded the margin.

Chad Bottem scored twice for the Pioneers, while Mahoney, Jim Speidel and Chad Swenseid had single goals.

Scoring

Middle River Girls Lose To Roseau

Middle River girls resumed their 1986-87 high school basketball schedule Monday, but the results were less-than-satisfying for the Skippers, who dropped a 52-46 North Border Conference game at Roseau.

It was the first outing since December 18 for the Skippers, who fell to 5-3 for the year.

"We wasted two weeks of practice, the way it looks," said disappointed Middle River coach Steve Larson. "We should have nailed them in the first half. We just fell apart in the second half."

Middle River had an 18-12 first quarter lead and held on to a 26-22 halftime edge. The Skippers were still clinging to a 34-33 lead as the third quarter ended, but the Rams out-scored the visitors 19-12 over the final eight minutes.

Kerry Nelson of Middle River and Sara Huglen of Roseau shared game-high scoring honors with 18 points. The Rams' Liesa Brateng scored 16, while the Skippers' Stacie Sparby had 13 and Rayette Benke 11.

Middle River shot only 26 per cent from the field (12-for-47). Roseau shot 33 per cent (18-for-54). Both sides were busy at the free throw line, where the Skippers were 22-for-38 (58 per cent) and the Rams were 16-for-29 (55 per cent).

The Skippers visit Strandquist Thursday and will host Warroad Monday.

Greenbush . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 47
Grygla . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 41

Grygla is still looking for its first win following a 47-41 Monday night loss at home against Greenbush. The Eagles, playing for the first time since December 15, fell to 0-5.

Still, it was an improvement, pointed out Grygla coach Mike Gast. The Eagles lost to the Tigers 45-22 earlier this season.

"I'm pleased," said Gast. "The girls did all right, but we had the same old problem - throwing the ball away too much."

The two teams were tied 13-13 at the end of the first quarter and remained deadlocked at 24-24 at halftime. Grygla went ahead 33-31 at the end of the third quarter and led by four early in the fourth quarter before losing ground.

Kim Langaas of Greenbush led all scorers with 15 points. Teammate Heidi Schires had 10. Grygla was led by strong performances from sophomore Alison Stanley, who had 14 points and 9 rebounds, and senior Nikki Linn, who had 11 points and 11 rebounds.

Shooting figures were similar. Grygla was 15-for-40 from the field (38 per cent) and 11-for-21 at the free throw line (52 per cent). Greenbush was 19-for-52 from the field (37 per cent) and 9-for-18 at the line (50 per cent). The Eagles had a 29-26 rebound edge.

Grygla will visit Badger Thursday and drive to Roseau Monday.

Freyholtz Keys Plummer Win

Shane Freyholtz was "awesome," according to Plummer coach Jim Baron, who watched his 6-4 junior score 30 points on a 15-for-18 shooting night from the field in leading the Cardinals to a 72-44 boys high school basketball win over visiting East Grand Forks Sacred Heart Tuesday.

Freyholtz scored the Cardinals' first 14 points of the game as they started with an 18-7 first quarter lead, carried a 29-21 edge into halftime and pulled away to a 54-31 third quarter cushion.

"I thought we did quite well," said Baron, whose team was playing for the first time since December 19. The Cardinals are 5-1 for the year.

Wade Grinde had an 18-point, 12-rebound game for the winners, and John Fisher contributed 10 points. Chip Shea led Sacred Heart with 13 points, and Bob Quandt had 11.

Plummer shot 62 per cent from the field (34-for-55), but just 33 per cent at the free throw line (4-for-12). Sacred Heart shot 35 per cent from the field (18-for-51) and 73 per cent at the line (8-for-11). The Cardinals had a 37-29 rebound edge.

Gonvick-Trail will visit Plummer Friday, and Baron expects the Cardinals to face one of their toughest challenges of the 1986-87 season.

Grygla got by host Middle River 58-52 in a close North Border Conference match-up Tuesday night.

Reed Engelstad, a 5-10 senior, had a 20-point, 11-rebound night that ranked with one of his finest performances ever, according to Grygla coach Vern Johnson to pace the Eagles, while Jason Engelstad added 13 points and Thor Smerek had 10. Brad Kilen led Middle River with 16 points, with Tom Gullikson netting 14 and Brent Peterson 10.

Grygla had a 12-8 first quarter lead, nursed a 25-23 lead into intermission and held on to a 37-35 third quarter edge. The Eagles broke open the close contest in the fourth quarter, building up a 10-point lead with 1½ minutes left before the Skippers narrowed it a bit at the end.

"We were pretty pleased with our performance," noted Johnson. "We got some shots that dropped through for us down the stretch to win it."

Grygla charts showed the Eagles 22-for-48 from the field (46 per cent) and 14-for-27 at the free throw line (52 per cent), and showed the Skippers 22-for-61 from the field (36 per cent) and 8-for-12 at the line (67 per cent). Grygla figures also had the Eagles with a 38-24 rebound advantage and a 15-13 high figure in the turnover department.

The win evened the Grygla record at 3-3. The Eagles host Badger Friday. The loss dropped the Middle River record to 3-5. The Skippers entertain North Border Conference power Warroad Friday.

DNR Planning

Department of Natural Resources' Strategic Plan for Minnesota's fish, wildlife and native plants is available for public review in most public libraries and DNR area and regional offices. A comment sheet is included in the planning document. Requests for copies of the plan or comments should be sent to the Division of Fish and Wildlife, MDNR, 500 Lafayette Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55146. The deadline for comments is March 1.

Strategic Plan describes the Division's mission, management philosophy and direction for the next 20 years. It is part of an overall comprehensive planning process that began in 1985. This process also includes a Long Range Plan and Operational Plan. This new planning effort is being funded by the Legislative Commission on Minnesota Resources.

Long range planning covers a six-year period and focuses on a species or ecological community. The Division's Long-Range Plans will be available for public review in July.

Operational Plan implements strategic and long-range planning by developing actual work plans and projects to achieve long-term objectives.

Groups Join Forces

At its annual convention December 12, the Minnesota Sportfishing Congress voted to become an affiliate of the Minnesota Conservation Federation. The MSC is the state's largest fisheries conservation group, made up of individuals and over 120 local, state and regional associations, for a total membership of approximately 18,000. The MCF is the state's oldest sportsman conservation organization, claiming 65 affiliated clubs and organizations and a membership of 10,000.

Stressing that affiliation is a partnership between the two groups, MCF President John Oelkers said the Federation is looking forward to working with the MSC. "Their expertise in fisheries conservation issues has been demonstrated time and again in their relatively short existence," he said. "We look forward to working with them on matters of state and national concern."

Minnesota Conservation Federation was formed in 1936 by a group of Twin Cities sportsmen interested in conversation as a voice for citizens concerned with natural resource issues across the state. Today, it remains one of the most highly respected conservation organizations in the state, maintaining an ambitious public education program and working for sound legislation in the capitol. The MCF is the official state affiliate of the National Wildlife Federation.

Minnesota Sportfishing Congress was formed in 1981 as an umbrella group for the scores of local and statewide fishing clubs and individuals concerned about the future of their sport. The Congress became active in legislative affairs in 1983, and since that time has lobbied for progressive conservation legislation in fisheries. Just six years after its conception, the MSC is recognized as the voice of the state's fishermen.

THINGS TO REMEMBER!!!

REMEMBER . . . You haven't seen them all until you have seen the choice exclusive listings . . . properties listed and shown only by All Seasons Realty!!!

REMEMBER . . . We work full time for you . . . we need farms . . . hobby farms . . . building sites . . . and homes in all price ranges!

REMEMBER . . . Points are down . . . interest is down and it is a good time to buy and sell . . .

REMEMBER . . . Signs don't sell real estate. Qualified realtors do!!! We use signs if you want them!!! We have found the longer a sign is on a property, the harder it is to sell and the lower an offer comes in . . . It's qualified realtors that get the job done right!!!

REMEMBER . . . We work full time for you!!! It's the extensive advertising and working full time that makes the difference . . . we put out northern Minnesota's only REAL ESTATE NEWSLETTER . . . we advertise in many newspapers . . . KTRF, KKAQ, KSNR and you'll be seeing us on Channel 6, CNN . . .

REMEMBER . . . "NLS" . . . New location specialists. The sign of helping you relocate any place in the nation . . . we can help you make your move easier . . . call for your "private" appointment!!!

REMEMBER . . . We are looking forward to helping you in 1987 . . . we are your home town . . . full service real estate office.

REMEMBER . . . Our realtors have their "GRI" designation. This means they have successfully met the qualifications of the "realtors institute", a nationally recognized designation.

REMEMBER . . . We make happy buyers and happy sellers!!!

Accident Reports In TRF Police News

Accidents and thefts were among the several incident reports made to the law enforcement center in Thief River falls during the past week.

Accidents. On December 30 at 2:59 p.m. a car driven by Henry C. Olson, route 3, was going north on highway 59 and was attempting to make a right turn while at the same time a car driven by Wilhelm Froese, Steinbach, Manitoba, was also going north and attempting to pass Olson on the right when the two vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $400 to Olson and $500 to Froese.

On December 30 at 7:51 p.m. a station wagon driven by Wayne Smith, Thief River Falls, was going west on Second street, while a car driven by Jay Chris Nelson, route 6, was going south on LaBree. The two vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $300 to Smith and $1,500 to Nelson.

On January 2 at 11:40 a.m. a car driven by Susan Mattson, route one, Newfolden, was pulling out from the curb in the 300 block of North Knight and a pickup driven by Mark C. Mattson, Thief River Falls, was going north on Knight as he left a parking lot. The two vehicles collided. Damage to the Susan Mattson car was estimated at $400 and none to the Mattson pickup.

On January 2 at 3:25 p.m. a pickup owned by Francis Anderson and driven by Nathan Anderson, Thief River Falls, was going north on State, while a car driven by Wayne Thomas, Grygla, was going west on Eighth. They collided at an intersection. Damages were estimated $1,200 to Anderson's vehicle and $800 to the Thomas vehicle. A passenger, Marvin Mugaas, Grygla, who was riding in the Thomas vehicle sustained a cut on his left hand and Thomas complained of a headache.

On January 5 at 9:35 p.m. a pickup owned by Thomas Schafer, Thief River Falls, was parked on West First street near Duluth and a car driven by Wes Smith and owned by Barbara Efteland, Thief River Falls, was going east on First and swerved to miss a car at the intersection and struck the side of the Schafer pickup. Damages were estimated at $700 to the Schafer vehicle and $200 to the car driven by Smith.

Vandalism. On December 30 Bonnie Kaml, Thief River Falls, reported someone broke off her rear-view mirror on her vehicle and was thrown. It was found later. Damage was estimated at $25.

On January 3 Jeff Scott Olson, Thief River Falls, reported someone threw a metal and plastic dart through the topper window of his pickup while it was parked at the rear of his residence. The window shattered. Damage was estimated at $25.

On January 5 Gary Jordet, Thief River Falls, reported the window on his pickup camper busted out. This happened on January 2, and could possibly have been done with a pellet gun. Damage was estimated at $75.

Thefts. On January 1 Westside Motors reported a theft from one of the 1987 pickups on the lot. A window was broken to gain entry and a seat unbolted and taken out. The driver's door of the pickup was damaged in the process. The seat was described as gold (buff) colored bench seat with velvet-type fabric, and valued at $550. Damage to the pickup was estimated at $200.

On January 2 Ron Birchem, Valley City, ND, reported that sometime when his vehicle was either parked in the 100 block of North Markley or the Best Western parking lot, a Walkman-type tape player and a shoe box containing 20 to 25 tapes were taken from it. Also an attempt had been made to pry off the face plate of the stereo in an apparent attempt to remove it. The loss was estimated at $230.

On January 2 Opal Dargus, Thief River Falls, reported a small boat trailer taken from her back yard. The trailer was black and has 12 inch wheels. It was valued at $350. The license plate number is N23044 and is a 1978 Arctic trailer.

On January 3 John Duchene, Ada, reported items taken from his pickup while parked in the 100 block of North Horace. The back window to the topper was broken. He is missing an orange parka and blue and black plaid shirt, valued at $190. The owner of the items is Francis Chishold of Gary, MN.

On January 5 Charlotte Lemky, Thief River Falls, reported an extension cord taken from her yard. The cord was 75 feet long, and black. It was valued at $12.

Hit-and-run. On December 30 at 3:33 p.m. Rodney Bjerklie, rural route, Trail, reported his car was hit by an unknown vehicle while parked in the hospital parking lot. The car was struck on the right rear door. Damage was estimated at $150.

On December 31 Neil Knutson, route one, Viking, reported his pickup was hit by an unknown vehicle while parked in the K-mart parking lot. Damage to the left front was estimated at $100.

Farm Act Offered By Stangeland In 100th Congress

In his first proposed legislation to the 100th Congress, Congressman Arlan Stangeland has introduced the "Farm Improvements Acts of 1987." This legislation, keyed to assisting the family farmer, has three main concepts: marketing loan, targeting benefits and allowing farmers the option of receiving up to 92 per cent of their deficiency payment by putting farm program acreage into conservation use.

The marketing loan plan would allow farmers to repay their government loans at either the original loan rate or the average daily market price, whichever is lower. The bill establishes a target price for wheat of $4.40 per bushel on the first 15,000 bushels of production. Beyond that level, the per bushel target price would fall to $4.

For corn, the target price would be $3.05 per bushel for the first 30,000 bushels and $2.75 per bushel for production over that level. This provision will continue until 1990. The Secretary of Agriculture is given the authority to offer farmers the option of receiving up to 92 per cent of their deficiency payment if permitted planted acreage is put to conservation use and not into production. As the law now reads, producers must actually plant wheat or feed grains for harvest on at least 50 per cent of the permitted program acreage.

The marketing loan will enable the U.S. farmer to compete in the world marketplace by making commodities price-competitive while continuing to protect farm income with a fair target price. The added option of providing support payments of land that is put into conservation use will reduce production. This will address the problem of the enormous grain surplus that now exists and will contribute to the goal of balancing supply with demand.

Stone's Purchases Devils Lake Firm

Stone's Mobile Radio of Thief River Falls has added Dakota Radio of Devils Lake, ND, to its growing operation. The purchase will be effective February 1.

Stone's presently has a number of operations in Thief River Falls, Grand Forks and Jamestown. Dakota Radio handles installation and maintenance of communications equipment and covers an area west to the Rugby, ND area.

Changes In PIC Certificates Are Under Criticism

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng, Congressman Arlan Stangeland expressed concern about the recent changes in determining the value of generic payment in commodity (PIC) certificates.

Congressman Stangeland told Secretary Lyng that, "These changes were hastily developed by the department of agriculture without prior notice to Congress."

Congressman Stangeland explained that until recently, the daily price posted in Minnesota county ASCS offices was determined by the Minneapolis base price. With the new changes, certificates are now valued at the price established by either the Minneapolis or the Portland, OR, base price, whichever is higher.

"Changing the policy of determining the value of the PIC certificates does not make sense. It hurts the farmers," Congressman Stangeland said, "who are honestly trying to work with this very complex program of generic certificates. These farmers have gone into the program, acquired certificates and have made important financial decisions based on the way the program has been run in the past. Now changes have been introduced disrupting these plans and exposing the farmers to more uncertainty and the probability of receiving less value for their certificates.

"Once a viable and workable program is established it should be carried through without changes in midstream," he added. "The present changes do not help the farmer and only add confusion and disruption to an already complex program."

Evangelical Free Church Sponsors Color Film Series

"Life-style evangelism," a four-part color film series featuring Dr. Joe Aldrich, will be shown at the Evangelical Free Church, 246 North Kendall, Thief River Falls, on Sunday evenings, January 11th through February 1st at 7 p.m.

"When love is seen, the message is heard. Our non-Christian friends must hear the music of our caring before we begin to preach the message," Dr. Joe Aldrich said.

The films include interviews both with church leaders Howard Hendricks and Chuck Swindoll, and with lay men and women who tell how life-style evangelism works for them.

These four 30-minute films clearly communicate the liberating truths which Dr. Joe Aldrich first shared as a popular speaker and author. On the screen, these concepts come alive and prepare you and your fellow Christians to reach unbelievers in a fresh and effective way.

The Joe Aldrich "Life-Style Evangelism," film series is produced by Multnomah productions. "When People See The Light," will be on Sunday, January 11 at 7 p.m., "Breaking Through the Cultural Barrier," will be on January 18 at 7 p.m., "Taking the Pulse of a Growing Church," will be on January 25 at 7 p.m., and "Becoming a Redemptive Neighbor," will be on February 1 at 7 p.m.

Innovative Ideas Add Different Twists To An Old Occupation

by David Hill
Times Reporter

Area farmers are harvesting profits from a crop of innovative ideas. These new twists to farming are helping farmers who have been struggling to make a living, to survive.

Broccoli, garbanzo beans and harvesting crawfish may be the new wave of the future for farmers. Well, it might not be entirely the wave of the future but the ripple of crop diversification is becoming more and more popular.

"We won't see any quick turn around in the farm economy, so looking for alternatives is important to continued survival," said Howard Person, Pennington county agricultural extension agent.

Dr. Ronald Lund of the agriculture department at North Dakota state university in Fargo, ND, thinks its high time farmers started looking at crop diversification.

"There is a lot more available that just is not being used," Lund said in a telephone interview. "There are 21 different crops that can be grown in North Dakota that are economically important," Lund added.

"Farmers have to turn away from food-oriented crops and concentrate more on industrial crops (crops, which can be used by industries)," Lund said.

Lund believes that farmers are reluctant to change because they are under a great deal of stress — "and when under stress they tend to go back to the familiar, which is wheat," Lund said.

"The key is diversification with winter habit so that the work load is spread out and costs are contained," Lund said. NDSU is currently researching cost containment in farming. A winter crop, Lund said, could contain costs because it spreads out labor and is actually a good weed fighter. NDSU also has the Northern Crops Institute on campus wich demonstrates uses rather than talks about it, Lund said.

Lund said that if there are farmers interested in crop diversification and need information, they can contact the agriculture department at NDSU any time. He added that a workshop on crop diversification will be held January 6 at the Carrington Irrigation station, Carrington, ND.

At a time when many people are looking for answers to the big picture of farming, Person pointed out that besides the many different crops, many are finding answers at home by doing something different that they enjoy doing and produces salable items.

Person recently returned from ADAPT 100, and agriculture conference in Des Moines, IA, which explored ways farmers are putting new economic life into their operations and new enterprises into the economy.

The conference was well attended. About 6,000 people attending the conference demonstrated interest in finding ways of improving their economic life. At a time when grain operators are looking for alternatives, the conference provided a host of ideas to be cultivated.

Person said he came away from the conference with a number of ideas. Of course, one feasible idea for this region would be livestock. Person said the livestock profit picture seems to be coming around except for dairy. At one time, he noted, farmers in this area relied more on livestock than they do now to help make ends meet. He foresees more farmers returning to livestock.

Another alternative, related to farming, would include producing fruits and vegetables. Without farming a co-op the best chance to succeed with vegetables, Person said, would be a pick-your-own operation. However surveys of this area indicate that it could only support one or two such operations because of the high labor demands. For a profitable pick-your-own operation in strawberries, for example, a population of 10,000 would be necessary.

Another viable option to vegetable production besides pick-your-own would be marketing co-ops. "The market is definitely there," Person said. Most of the vegetables sold in Minnesota come from California and other distant locations. Vegetables produced in Minnesota would have the advantage of lower transportation costs as well as a fresher product. However, getting started in such an operation could be an ex-

DARLA TWOMEY, Northland Community Hospice director, displays the large number of names added to a scroll at Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls. For every name on the scroll a light on a Christmas tree was lit in their memory. Approximately 100 names appear on the list. A celebration was held December 22 to light the Christmas tree. Rev. Don Peres led the memorial service, Mayor Bob Carlson spoke a few words in memory of his brother, and Dr. Pete Johnson and Vivian Contos led the large group assembled at the celebration in singing Christmas carols.

Crops Institute At NDSU Has Active Program During '86

It has been only three years since the officials dedication of the Northern Crops institute (NCI) on the North Dakota state university campus in Fargo, N.D. Yet, in that time the international meeting and learning center has become a showcase to the world for northern grown crops through educational and technical service programs.

This year 99 representatives from 38 countries have attended seven short courses at the institute.

Courses are designed for millers, maltsters, brewers, cereal chemists, technicians, bakers, production managers, administrators and sales, marketing and procurement representatives. All represent "established and potential customers of U.S. commodities," explains NCI assistant director, John Crabtree.

According to Dr. Brendan Donnelly, director of the NCI, "The institute presented a series of wheat related two-week short courses in 1986 that included Grain Grading; Flour Mill Management; Marketing; Grain and Flour Processed Products; Pasta: Raw Materials and Processing Technology; and Grain Procurement Management for Importers. All of these programs were designed to assist overseas current and potential customers with a better understanding of grain grading and inspection, utilization, processing, and marketing of U.S. wheat with special emphasis on HRS and durum where appropriate.

"In addition, the NCI assisted the U.S. Feed Grains council, and North Dakota Barley council when three participants from Nigeria attended the barley malt and beer quality evaluation short course in late July."

A one-week durum wheat and pasta conference for participants from the domestic pasta industry was held in August in cooperation with the National Pasta association and U.S. Durum Growers association.

Sponsorship of participants is offered by commodity marketing organizations, although self-supported individuals attend occasionally.

Those cooperators include: U.S. Wheat associates, U.S. Feed Grains council, North Dakota mill and elevator, Duluth Superior port authority, the Minneapolis grain exchange, and North Dakota state university.

NCI is supported by the state legislatures of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota in conjunction with support from the wheat commissions in these three states and Montana. The North Dakota Barley council, North and South Dakota Soybean councils and Northarvest Edible Bean Growers association also provide ongoing support to the institute.

Sponsors like U.S. Wheat Associates make "Critical" contacts with potential course participants, explains South Dakota Wheat commission administrator Ben Handcock. "U.S. Wheat associates hand picks influential foreign customers who can have an impact in their own country."

Benefits of the course are maximized for participants when U.S. Wheat associates personnel "follow up on course participants when they return home" and assist them in putting the knowledge they gained into action.

During the two-week courses, experts from across the country in industry, higher education and government present lectures on commodity utilization. Scheduled laboratory demonstrations and meetings with producers and country elevator managers give the attendees a clear illustration of commodity marketing

Farm Photography Contest Open At RRV Winter Shows

Valley farm photography contest's theme for the 1987 contest is "Pictorial Glimpse of the Valley". It is held in conjunction with the Red River Valley winter shows February 13-19. The display will be on exhibit February 13-18.

The adult division has three lots: lot 1: nature (color); Lot 2, pictorial (color); and Lot 3, pictorial (black and white). The youth division has two lots: Lot 1, black and white photo; and Lot 2, color photo.

There is a new "Open Class" for photos to be entered in the 1988 photography contest. These photos are to be taken of activities at and during the 1987 Red River Valley winter shows and must be mounted on a mat board 8x10 minimum size and 16x20 maximum size. The photo size should be 5x7 minimum size to 16x20 maximum size. Each exhibitor may enter two photos. Entry must have the following information on the back of the photo: Lot number, title, exhibitor's name and address.

Entry deadline for photos is Feb. 6, 1987. To enter, contact the Red River Valley Winter Shows, P.O. Box 402, Crookston, MN 56716 or call (218) 281-2900 for a copy of the rules and regulations.

Critiquing of exhibits with the judge will be from 1 to 2 p.m. on Saturday, February 14, by the photo exhibit in the armory. Photos will be placed with ribbons for first, second and third and honorable mention in each lot. Premiums will be paid on three places in each lot.

WEATHER

With new snow possible on the ground, the extended forecast for Thief River Falls and region includes temperatures ranging from the low 20s for highs and single digit lows. No significant precipitation is expected.

Blood Drive To Be Held Jan. 21-22 NW Medical Center

United Blood Services is holding a blood drive January 21 and 22. The blood drive, sponsored by the Northwest Medical center auxiliary, will be held from 12 noon to 5 p.m. each day at the hospital chapel.

Appointments should be made with Marcia Padilla or May Isaacson, co-chairman of the auxiliary, at 681-6102 or 681-1229. United Blook Services and the auxiliary ask that you give the gift of life.

BECKY VOELK, Thief River Falls, a nursing student at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute, received a scholarship from the Elk's club. Tim Loeffler, exalted ruler, presented the scholarship to Voelk.

"Drunk Drivers Destroy Dreams"

"Drunk Drivers Destroy Dreams" is the theme of a nationwide poster and essay contest organized by Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD).

Objective of this project is to enhance awareness among secondary and primary students — the current and future drivers of America — of the dangers of drinking and driving.

The contest is open to students in grades one through 12. In Minnesota, it will be administered by the Hennepin county MADD office under the auspices of chapter president Sharon Gehrman and the staff at the sponsoring National Car Rental system's headquarters. Judges will include a panel of professionals from the fields of graphic design, law enforcement, academia and communications.

State winning posters and essays will be sent to MADD's national headquarters in Hurst, Texas, to be evaluated in the national judging, which will select 18 winners; six each in first, second and third place categories. National winners will receive savings bonds valued at $1,000, $500 and $250 respectively at an awards ceremony in Washington, D.C., in April 1987.

The poster competition is open to all students. Essay competition is for students in grades seven through 12. Poster winners will be selected from among competitors in four grade divisions (grades 1-3, 4-6, 7-9 and 10-12). In the essay contest, two Minnesota winners representing each of two grade divisions (grades 7-9 and 10-12) will be selected for the national competition.

For further information, call the Hennepin County MADD office at (612) 938-0700. Entries must be postmarked no later than February 15, 1987, and sent to; MADD Office, 8700 West 36th Street, St. Louis Park, MN 55426.

According to statistics compiled by MADD, teenage drivers account for at least 15 per cent of all drunk drivers involved in crashes, although teens make up only eight per cent of the driving population. Approximately 6,700 teenagers, or 19 each day, between the ages of 15 and 19 are killed in accidents involving drunk drivers. MADD is a non-profit organization founded in Fair Oaks, CA, in 1980 to mobilize victims of drunk drivers to promote the conviction that impaired driving is unacceptable and criminal.

AMA Minnesota Affiliate Receives Memorial Gifts

During the month of December, gifts were received by the American Heart Association, Minnesota affiliate remembering Mable Ihle, Leo Roberto, Gust Iverson, Bud Manning, Peggy Torfin, and Ed Hendrickson, according to A. Daniel Drevlow, "A Time To Remember" memorial chairman for Pennington county.

A memorial gift to the American Heart association is a meaningful way to express sympathy while also helping to continue the fight against America's number one killer — heart disease.

Gifts made to the "A Time To Remember" memorial program are used to fund heart research, professional and public education and community programs in Minnesota.

For additional information, please contact A. Daniel Drevlow, "A Time To Remember" memorial chairman in Pennington county at 681-6579.

Winter Shows To Open 77th Run On February 13

Red River Valley winter shows will open its 77th annual show on Friday, February 13, and conclude seven days later, Thursday, February 19. Wayne Wagner, Crookston, president of the winter shows, invites the public to attend.

"It is a show for all ages and individual interests, including educational seminars; livestock, poultry, crops show; 4-H arts-in; lip-sync contest, youth judging contests and shows; entertainment; women's programs; recognition banquets, nationally known speakers; a children's barnyard, and a commercial show with over 300 exhibitors," Wagner said.

The show is held in buildings built by the people of the valley and located on highways 2 and 75 north in Crookston.

The board of managers is composed of 26 members representing valley-wide organizations. Other officers in addition to President Wagner are John Thomforde, Crookston, first vice president; Glen Finkenbinder, Crookston, second vice president; and George P. Nornes, Climax, secretary-treasurer.

The shows are managed by Phil Miller of Crookston, assisted by Denice St. Michel, Anne Burke and Robert Cournia. In addition over 300 volunteers assist with the work and planning for the many events.

Second Six Months Of 1986 News Reviewed

This is the second article on 1986 headlines in review and covers the second six months of the year. This section includes such headline grabbers as the Falls Day Activity abuse allegations, demolition at Lincoln high school, election news, the Peterson-Stangeland recount and many others.

July

In July two veteran Pennington county elected officials with a combined service of 58 years announced that they would not be on the ballot for 1986 elections. Sheriff Charles Richards with 30 years in office and Treasurer Ellsworth Jorgenson with 28 years of service both announced they would not seek reelection. Two Marshall county officers with a combined service of 40 years also announced intentions to retire from their offices at the end of their terms. Auditor Charles Cheney with 24 years of service and county recorder Sandford Tverstol with 16 years in that office announced that they would not seek reelection. These announcements set in motion a scramble for voter confidence and caused the need for a primary later in September.

Ballots were sent out to gauge response to mandatory limits for production. The question on the ballot, taken from the language of the 1985 farm bill, stated: "Do you favor imposition of mandatory limits on the production of wheat that will result in prices not lower than 125 per cent of the cost of production (excluding land and residual returns to management)?"

Preparations were underway for the 85th anniversary of the county fair July 16-20 in Thief River Falls. Featured grandstand attractions were Sylvia and Johnny Conlee.

For the first time in nearly 13 years the Thief River Falls fire department added a truck to its equipment list. However the truck, to be used as a water tanker, was a used vehicle and was actually purchased by the Rural Fire association, which works with the Thief River Falls fire department.

The class of 1936 held a 50-year reunion at the Elks club in Thief River Falls. Nearly 60 members of the Lincoln high school class of 1936 showed up for the celebration. And at the end of July it was announced that the Thief River Falls Times would change ownership on August 1.

August

In August, area farmers demonstrated their generosity even in the face of severe economic hardships. Within hours of hearing that their assistance was needed to help farmers in the South survive the heat and drought, area farmers donated 104 bales of round hay, which joined a nation-wide effort. The transportation costs were donated by the Soo Line railroad. The chamber of commerce in Thief River Falls organized the hay lift. A second haylift, called "Farmers Helping Farmers," was conducted in August also. This time local efforts amounted to 54 tons of hay which went to a specific community approximately the same size and type of community as Thief River Falls. Waynesboro, GA, gratefully accepted the hay from Pennington county farmers.

In Pennington county, dollar value of food stamps issued increased from $113,264 in 1979 to a high of $467,073 in 1984. Last year the amount dropped only slightly to $419,511 and this year the total through July was $288,893 — about on par or a little ahead of last year's pace. The percentage of residents in the county with incomes below the poverty level increased from 11.2 per cent in 1979 to 18.9 per cent in 1984.

During this time demolition of the old section of Lincoln high school was underway. A bond issue the previous November failed to gain the support to build a new school, but funds were approved to take down the old section and make some necessary changes to the school, replacing the heating and electrical system. Northland community college changed the name of its athletic teams from the Northmen and Northwomen to the Pioneers.

More information and stories were filed by Times reporters on the OTH-B radar site proposal. Informational meetings were also scheduled during the month. And candidates vying for voter support on the September 9 primary were featured in an article in the Times. Ten candidates were vying for two positions in Marshall county and another 12 were vying for two positions in Pennington county. In Marshall county six candidates were running for county recorder and four for auditor-treasurer. In Pennington county nine candidates ran for county treasurer and three for county attorney.

September

As September began and children found their way back to area schools, the Area Ag Information center at the Thief River Falls AVTI reopened with funding received from several sources. The center had been closed since August 19 due to a lack of funding.

The Heritage Community center was nearing completion of at least the walls and ceiling and held an open house. Many things were left to be done but progress was being made on the project that took more than four years to get underway.

Opening day enrollment figures in Thief River Falls showed 26 fewer students in attendance than a year ago. It was the ninth successive year in which enrollment has declined. The drop of 26 was the largest number since a loss of 99 students from the 1982 and 1983 year. The Lincoln high school Prowler football team won a game against the Detroit Lakes team snapping a 13-game losing streak dating back to the 1984 season. The old smokestack at the Lincoln high school complex was brought down with the expert handling of an extended boom crane by Bill Kennedy of Kennedy Excavating company of Benson.

For the 1986 primary in Pennington county more voters turned out this year than any primary for quite awhile. After all the precincts and wards were counted, 3,185 voters exercised their right to vote. Dave Olin and John Novacek were chosen

God's Etching

Man's ventures in art merely imitate the magnificence of God's designs. No museum can offer a winter landscape to rival God's own etching.

The works of the Divine Artist not only bring us beauty, peace and inspiration. They teach us fundamental lessons for every-day living. The love so evident in nature's beauty is a love we can all share. The orderliness of creation inspires unity, trust, brotherhood.

For all our spiritual searching you and I cannot match the touch of the Almighty. But following lines He has drawn for us—perhaps one day our human scene will look more like something God etched.

A Message From Northwestern Bell

During the 1985-86 session of the Minnesota legislature, the law was changed which had provided partial funding for the State's 911 emergency reporting system. The new law, which goes into effect on January 1st, establishes a charge of $.14 per month for each access line, trunk or trunk equivalency. These costs previously had been paid from the State's general revenue fund.

Under the new law the amount of the charge can be changed by the Department of Administration and could range from $.08 to $.30 per month depending on the cost. If a change in the charge were to occur, Northwestern Bell would notify it's customers. Northwestern Bell merely serves as a collecting agent for the State and does not receive any reimbursement for billing and collecting the charge.

TIM GOULD
Area Manager

Currently about 80% of the State's population or approximately 3.3 million people have access to 911. Northwestern Bell plans to have the 911 project completed in the areas it serves by the end of 1987 as central office conversions are made to accommodate the 911 system.

If you have any questions, please call your business office. The number is listed on your bill or in the Customer Guide section of your directory.

Kittson County 4-H Member Wins Trip To Nat. Congress

Michael Dziengel

Through his records in the small engine project, Michael Dziengel, a member of Donaldson Doers' 4-H Club in Kittson county, has been named Minnesota 4-H Petroleum power achievement winner.

As a state winner Michael received a trip to the National 4-H congress in Chicago, December 6-11. Sixty-four 4-H'ers from Minnesota participated in the event with about 1,700 4-H'ers from the United States.

While in Chicago he attended workshops and tours. Some of the keynote speakers during the week were astronaut James Lovell, commander of Apollo 13, Senator Robert Dole from Kansas, and Mrs. Lorna Onizuka presented a flag which had been taken into space by her husband, astronaut Ellison Onizuka. He was killed during lift-off of his second flight.

Some of the places Michael toured while in Chicago were the Amoco building, Sears Tower, John Hancock center, and the Museum of Science and Industry.

Michael, son of Roger and Judy Dziengel of Kennedy, is 17 years old and an eight-year 4-H member. Each of the seven years he has been enrolled in the small engines project, he has demonstrated at the county level. Topics have included the four-cycle engine, carburation, products from crude oil, and the operation, care, and maintenance of a two-cycle engine. Mike also competed in the state small engine contest at the Minnesota State fair. This contest consists of a written exam on service and repairs, parts and tool identification, and troubleshooting. Winning first place in the state contest entitled Michael to attend the national contest held in Omaha, NE, where he placed third.

As a junior leader, Michael conducted a small engine contest at the Kittson county fair in 1985, and in Roseau county in 1986. He located engines, prepared tests, presented the contest and judged. He also helped judge the small engine contest at the Minnesota State fair for the last two years.

Second Six Mo. Of 1986 News Summarized

by voters to run in the general election for county attorney and Vicki Bjorgaard and Leo Nelson were chosen to run for county treasurer.

In September the nameplate for the Times was changed from the Thief River Falls Times to The Times. The change allows for color to be run in the name and gives the newspaper a modern look to it. The change in the nameplate signified not only one change but many that were taking place. Several new columns began and the newspaper became even more regional in its coverage of the news.

Opposition to the proposed OTH-B radar site near Thief River Falls was nearly non-existant in September. An article in the Times featured Don Dyrdal, one area farmer, against the site. Opposition to the site continued to grow until the final meetings held in November.

October

Encouraged by the success of the 1985 campaign, the Thief River Falls United Way board kicked off its 1986 fund drive for $75,000 with a dinner. Last year the organization set a $67,000 goal and collected more than $70,000.

The 20th anniversary celebration for the Thief River Falls public library building was conducted in October. Several special activities were planned throughout the week.

Sources indicate that approximately 2,974 people or 23.6 per cent of Marshall county residents fell below the poverty level in 1984 while about 18.9 per cent of Pennington county residents fell below the poverty level at that time. The information was compiled by the U.S. census bureau.

"In summary, there's a helluva lot of corn and a helluva lot of wheat," stated Bill Penning, area extension agent in farm management from Thief River Falls, in addressing a sparse crowd at a market outlook meeting. Penning emphasized that all agricultural products are very unelastic in demand, meaning that supply has a lot to say about price. With a carryover of 1.9 billion bushels from 1985 to 1986 in the United States the supply was surplus before the current crop was harvested.

OTH-B opponents asked Pennington county commissioners and Thief River Falls city council to withdraw their support for the proposed radar site. Neither group withdrew their support.

Election efforts by the many candidates running for office were underway. Special sections in the Times featured the many candidates running for different offices.

Utilization of a helicopter and a unit-dispensing gelled gasoline, permitted the Minnesota department of natural resources to conduct controlled burns on approximately 15,000 acres of wildlife habitat in northwestern Minnesota. Graphic pictures of the burning were displayed in the Times.

Evan Armstrong was suspended from duty at the Falls Day Activity center in Thief River Falls as the board of directors and state officials looked into allegations of abuse of clients filed by employees of the center. The investigation also included an audit. The investigations did not conclude in any charges being filed, however one employee was fired and Armstrong eventually resigned and was replaced as director by Charlie Oakes, formerly of the Occupational Development Center also located in Thief River Falls.

Informational meetings on OTH-B caused tempers to flare but opponents and proponents stuck to their positions on the subject. More meetings throughout the affected area were held and another large informational meeting planned in November.

November

Northland's offense put the Pioneers in position to win its first ever Northwest division football title a week earlier with a big-play effort that beat the University of Minnesota at Crookston 23-20. But it was Northland's defense that won the crown Thursday by smothering numerous Brainerd scoring opportunities in securing a 10-7 community college victory at Thief River Falls' Prowler field.

Expected close races in the general election materialized in a number of cases in Pennington and Marshall counties and in the Seventh Congressional District. Voters turned out in good number in Pennington and Marshall while Red Lake county — with only one write-in candidate disturbing a slate of unopposed incumbents —, was a sea of tranquility amidst area election turmoil. In the end the Seventh Congressional district race between incumbent Arlan Stangeland and challenger Collin Peterson was as close as 121 votes. A recount was conducted but Stangeland gained ground and Peterson moved for dismissal of the election contest.

One of the first major snowstorms to hit the area fell on the same weekend as opening deer season in northwestern Minnesota. Two shooting mishaps which involved injuries and three reports of lost hunters in this area were noted during opening weekend.

Jaylene Arlys Aune entered a plea of guilty in Pennington county district court to two counts of felony theft by swindle. An estimated $37,650 was taken from the Pennington county social services department where Aune worked. Charges arose out of Aune's theft of money from the social welfare fund of the county social services department, primarily by issuance of checks to a deceased client for whom she had previously been a guardian.

December

Recount team in the disputed election contest between Congressman Arlan Stangeland and challenger state Sen. Collin Peterson made plans to be in Thief River Falls to conduct a recount on ballots cast in all precincts and wards.

Proposed additions to the aviation program at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical institute's facilities at the regional airport were diagramed in an addition of the Times.

Ballot count for the Peterson-Stangeland Seventh district congressional contest recount resumed Wednesday morning in Pennington county after two days of counting. According to the county auditor's office very few ballots had been challenged, indicating a very accurate count on election evening November 4.

Gaylene Arlys Aune was sentenced to 13 months in the state correctional facility for women at Shakopee and ordered to make restitution of $37,650 stolen from the Pennington county social services department by Judge Warren A. Satre in Pennington county district court.

American farmers in 1985 received only 25 cents out of each food dollar spent by the nation's consumers, according to the Minnesota agricultural statistics service.

Thief River Falls city council selected Robert Reeve to represent fifth ward residents at a city council meeting. Other residents actively seeking the appointment were Dave Beste, Don Goodrich, and Wayne C Smith.

An audit of the Falls Day activity center records was completed by the Moser & Christianson Ltd. accounting firm, and showed no apparent problem other than attention to detailed bookkeeping practices.

The Thief River Falls city council adopted its 1987 budget. Budget expenditures in 1987 are expected to exceed $9.4 million.

on the local level.

"Many of the participants from overseas benefit greatly from attending our programs as they provide an opportunity to see new grain milling and processing technology, and hear of new applications for grain and flour," says Jim Jacobs, technical director at the NCI.

When appropriate, informative tours of port facilities in Duluth, Portland, OR, or Houston, TX, are provided by sponsors.

For instance, participants see "directly, with the assistance of the federal grain inspection service, how grain is handled at our port facilities and gain in depth knowledge of wheat grading and wheat quality" during both the grain inspection and grain procurement management for importers courses, according to Crabtree.

Finally, the pricing and trading aspect of commodities can be seen firsthand by groups visiting the Minneapolis grain exchange in downtown Minneapolis.

"The Minneapolis grain exchange is a centralized market place for grains grown in the Upper Midwest. The NCI is a promotion group for grains grown in the region. It is therefore very appropriate for NCI course participants from foreign countries to visit the exchange," says Pat Henderson, vice president for public relations.

"Through their visits to the NCI to the production areas, to transportation facilities, and the exchange the foreign visitors, who are often current or potential customers for U.S. grains, observe the entire marketing chain and learn how they can avail themselves of products which we offer in this region."

Innovative Ideas Add New Twists To Farming

pensive proposition, therefore crops would be a good bet.

Person believes the best bets for success in vegetable production in Minnesota, primarily this area would be cauliflower, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, onions, peppers and a little sweet corn.

Smaller operations which would probably succeed would include transplanting trees. One experience related at the conference was that of a farmer who harvested his own woods. Raising fur animals was another success story. One farmer found success in raising rabbits. Others found success in providing venison, mushrooms and hunting dogs.

If someone wouldn't mind a little hard work, Person said, growing raspberries would be a good opportunity for raising extra cash. One individual could probably do well with an acre or two, but it would be hard work. It could be quick and cheap. The raspberries could be sold to grocers or operated as a pick your own operation.

Person said he really believes there are "some opportunities out there" for those who want to improve their cash flow. Some of the other ideas talked about at the conference included hydroponics, alligator farming, selling specialized computers and software, catfish farming, craw fish farming, raising ginseng, raising amaranth, raising Angora goats, breeding llamas and yes garbanzo beans.

But if none of those crops seem viable alternatives, then how about wild rice, raising deer for venison, breeding horses, trapping, raising hunting dogs and leasing hunting rights, breeding stock dogs, selling Christmas trees, selling firewood, fishing bait, and raising game fish. Those were a few of the ideas discussed, but the most important idea was suggesting that farmers look to what they like to do and deciding what skill or thing they have that is marketable.

Pipeline right-of-ways are popular areas for motorcycles, snowmobiles, three-wheelers and other off-road vehicles. They are also popular for skiing, horseback riding and other off-the-road activities.

You should know that the cleared lane over a pipeline belongs to the owner of the land.

The landowner has granted an easement permitting the line to be built and maintained, but the strip remains private property. Persons wishing to use pipeline right-of-ways must first obtain the landowner's permission.

Call it courtesy, but it's also the law.

Thought Provoking Comment On Subjects Of Public Interest

Postal Prayer

When Msgr. Raymond L. Boland gave the invocation at a national postal forum, he borrowed from terminology of the postal department as follows:

"May everything we do be first class. Imprint your own loving zip code upon our hearts so that we may never go astray. Provide in your gracious providence special handling for those of us who are fragile and keep us in one piece.

"We have been signed, sealed, stamped and delivered in your image and likeness and we beg you to keep us in your care as we go about our appointed rounds. And when our days draw to a close and we are marked return to sender, be there to greet us at heaven's door so that nobody may ever say unknown at this address."

Another Viewpoint

Monday's editorials included comment from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce regarding comparable worth legislation and one viewpoint on the reasons given for its value. Another viewpoint is presented today, excerpted from the fall issue of Northwest Report, a newsletter of the Northwest Area foundation. The comments were written by Sara M. Evans, associate professor in the history department of the University of Minnesota and Barbara J. Nelson, associate professor in the university's Humphres institute of public affairs.

Comparable worth — or pay equity — is the concept of providing equal pay for different jobs determined to be of equal value, generally by comparing measures of skill, effort, responsibility and working conditions. Under the Minnesota state employee pay equity act, for instance, Clerk Typist 2 and Delivery Van Driver are both accorded 117 points. Evans and Nelson write as follows:

"Why do mostly male jobs like delivery van driver consistently get better pay than mostly female jobs like clerk typist? Among full-time workers, who do white women make 64 cents, black women make 58 cents, Hispanic women make 54 cents, black men make 74 cents and Hispanic men make 71 cents compared to every dollar made by white men?

"There are no easy answers. The National Academy of Sciences, commissioned to address this question, reported in 1981 that although education, number of years worked, interruptions in work life and extra hours worked per week explain part of the wage difference, they do not explain it all. The National Academy found that 'in many instances jobs held mainly by women and minorities pay less at least in part because they are held mainly by women and minorities'.

"In other words, the usual people to hold a job affect the rate of pay for that job. More recent work by the Census Bureau suggests that about half, or 18 cents, of the difference between the 65 cents earned by women to a man's dollar is explained by education, length of time worked, interruptions, extra hours worked and similar factors. The Census Bureau suggests that the other 17 cents in wage difference is caused by historically based, structural wage discrimination.

"The problem of low wages for women and minorities is indeed broad and systemic. Opponents of public policies addressing wage rates cite the market system as the best mechanism for adjusting wages . . . When women entered the teaching profession and factory work in the nineteenth century, wages dropped. Employers argued that men had to support families and that women's income was secondary. The primacy of women's responsibilities for home and family meant that few considered them seriously as wage earners.

"Not only did women and minorities receive lower pay, however. In addition they generally found jobs in separate sectors of the economy, jobs specifically for women or minorities. This was true in the 1820s when young white women entered newly opened textile mills, in the 1880s when white women dominated teaching in public schools, in the 1920s when they flocked into the new pink-collar ghetto of clerical work, and it is still true today.

". . . Equal pay for the same or equal work seems a matter of simple equity today even if it did not only a generation ago. But equal pay for the same work does not address the problem of historically low wages for white women and minorities if they do not hold the same positions as white men. Comparable worth applies the job evaluation techniques developed for manufacturing and commerce to the question of how valuable a particular job is to the firm or governmental jurisdiction in which it is located."

The writers also provided an explanation of three "popular misperceptions of comparable worth" which are stated as follows:

Misperception 1: Comparable worth means that all jobs will be paid the same.

Fact 1: Comparable worth means that jobs of the same overall skill, effort, responsibility, and working conditions will be paid equivalently. Jobs requiring more skill, effort, and responsibility and jobs with more onerous working conditions will pay more. Doctors will make more money than delivery van drivers or clerk typists.

Misperception 2: All clerk typists (or drivers or doctors) in every company or governmental jurisdiction will be paid exactly the same, i.e., there will be a uniform, national wage for specific jobs.

Fact 2: Like the 1963 Equal Pay Act and Title VII of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, comparable worth laws are implemented jurisdiction by jurisdiction. (They do not cover the private sector. But if they did, they would be applied firm by firm.) This means that if two Minnesota cities both evaluated the female-dominated position of child care worker as having the same total score for skill, effort, responsibility, and working conditions as the higher-paying, male-dominated animal technician position, each city would make its comparable worth adjustments according to its own internal wage scales. Before and after comparable worth, Minnesota local jurisdictions vary in how much they pay particular job classifications.

Misperception 3: With comparable worth every clerk typist (or driver or doctor) working for the same employer will make exactly the same amount.

Fact 3: The people who hold particular jobs, say clerk typist, will continue to make different wages within the range allotted for that job. The Equal Pay Act and Title VII allow nondiscriminatory differences in pay, that is, differences due to seniority, merit, quantity or quality of work done, and factors other than sex. With comparable worth, these differences remain.

Borrowed Nonsense

Husband, suitcase in hand, was preparing to leave his wife for the second time. "It's just not working out," he said. "In the six weeks we have been back together we still haven't been able to agree on anything."

"You've been back seven weeks," she corrected him.

Neighbor: "I notice you have been particularly supportive of your wife in her efforts to play the clarinet. Why did you encourage her to give up the piano?"

Other Neighbor: "She can't sing when she's playing the clarinet."

Retiree: "Just sitting around the house isn't for me. Every day I get out and do five miles."

Worker: "Do you jog or just walk?"

Retiree: "I'm not a poverty case. I drive it."

The astronomy professor was introducing the class to its first study of the stars. "Some of these stars are billions of light years away," he emphasized. "Who can tell me what a light year is?"

One student raised her hand. "One with fewer calories," she said.

Father: "You really shouldn't play that video game so much, son; it could become habit-forming."

Son: "I don't think so, Dad. I play it quite a few times every day and I've never had a problem."

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

The Mankato Free Press had an item on President Ken Keller of the University of Minnesota hiring an Edina firm to design a logo for the university at over $100,000.

It seems to me that if the university had an art department that was at all competent it could have designed it. If the university art department is not competent, the $100,000 or so could be used in Keller's project Focus to bring it up to standard.

Keller mentions this will save the university money. We should then have logos designed at that price for all the school districts in the state. Think how much money we will save.

Sincerely,
David M. Brown

Tidbits From The Times

Thief River Falls

Excerpts from the January 7, 1937 Times, compiled by Sharon LaCoursiere.

The Thursday, January 7, 1937, Times ran "The Business and Financial Outlook for 1937" by Roger W. Babson of Babson Park, Massachusetts, "widely known economist and forecaster." He said:

"I predict that 1937 will be our first year of real prosperity since 1929. It will be a year of genuine business expansion, considerable real estate activity, constant labor troubles, shortages of skilled workers, rising prices and living costs, and brisk retail trade. Nearly every line will enjoy good gains in both volume and profits with the heavy industries showing the greatest percentage improvement."

As far as foreign relations, Mr. Babson had this to say: "No one can deny that the overseas situation is critical. Europe and Asia today closely resemble the armed camps of 1912-14. A general war involving Fascism vs. Communism is inevitable; but a general European War will not come in 1937. There will continue to be revolutions within nations; but no formal conflict between nations.

"European securities will remain unattractive although world trade will continue to increase slowly. The gain, since 1933, now totals 30 per cent. South America, France, Holland, Switzerland, Belgium, Scandinavia, Canada and other British Commonwealths will be our best markets. Japan and England will not be as good as in recent years. Spain, Germany and Italy will be our poorest.

In conclusion, Mr. Babson sums up the coming year in this way: "As 1937 opens, most of the snarls brought on by the depression have been un*tangled. Improvement is widespread* through all branches of industry. Employment is gradually approaching normal once again. The outlook for the coming twelve months is bright. I predict that as we look back at this New Year season we will remember it as a momentous milestone in our business history.

"Whether we realize it or not today, we are now placing a headstone over the 1929-1936 depression corpse and bundling up the 1937 (?) prosperity baby in swaddling clothes. How long this period of prosperity will last or how far it will go, no one can now say. That depends upon how well we have learned that lasting prosperity only comes through the practice of industry, honesty, thrift, faith and other basic virtues.

Farmers Advised To Watch Cash Flow As Management Tool

When things get tight in business, everybody starts talking about cash flow. But what is cash flow, and how can farmers use cash flow projection as a management tool?

"Cash flow itself is simple," says Jeff Farmer, manager of sales finance operations for a major farm equipment company. "It's the in-flow and out-flow of cash through a business over time. This is an unexciting definition, but dig into the details and it gets more interesting.

"Most of us concentrate on cash flow when it's tight or negative. If we have money in the bank, we commit it by spending or investing it. If we don't have any money in the bank, we go to the banker and try to borrow some. Unfortunately, this is too often the first time many of us actually try to project how much cash we are going to need.

"If we had looked ahead earlier, we might have reduced or eliminated the expense of borrowing altogether.

"This is one of the main purposes of cash flow projection: reducing the cost of borrowed money while still being able to supply all the variable inputs and capital expenditures needed for efficient operation of your farming business.

"The ability to project cash flow becomes most important during times of change. The variability in crop yields and prices makes agricultural cash flows particularly difficult to predict at such a time, but that is also when it's extremely important to give careful thought to all cash inflows and out-flows.

"The ability to accurately project cash flow starts with a good financial record-keeping system, a system that lets you readily match expenses to income even if you haven't previously done a formal cash flow projection.

"If you want to try your hand at doing such a projection, look at the past, then project the future. Start by going back over your farming expenses and income for the past three or four years. Don't forget family living expenses or money earned off the farm — it all counts.

"To help organize your thinking, get some blank worksheets from your banker. If possible, pick up some actual cash flow sheets from other farms in the area. Studying these examples will help you begin to organize your own cash flow sheets.

"Go through the numbers month by month. Watch how they balance out. See which months might be problem months. Ask yourself how you might alter the situation to spread income to match expenses. Work with your cash flow projection. Make assumptions that show worst-case scenarios. Make models that show realistic maximum projections. Don't be afraid to make negative or positive assumptions. This is the place to make them, not after the crop is planted or the livestock are sold.

"If you have only worked with cash flow projections while you were sitting in the banker's office, with him writing and you sweating, you will be amazed at how much insight you can actually gain by going through the process of setting up a month-by-month cash flow for a full year, then altering the assumptions to see where they will lead.

"Also, there are many excellent spreadsheet programs for personal computers that enable you to build cash flow projections that ask all sorts or 'what if' questions by simply changing any variable you think pertinent. Your local extension agent might well be able to supply you with spreadsheet templates for the particular program you are using." (Templates are blank electronic shreadsheet models with the formulas, expenses and income categories already built into them.)

"It should be emphasized, though, that a computer is certainly not necessary when you begin this type of work. A pencil and paper model may be all many people will ever need.

"I realize that cash flow projection may sound difficult and time consuming to the person who would rather be out working in the fields, but I think it is accurate cash flow projection and financial record-keeping that can help keep many farmers in business," Farmer said.

National Pork Board Elects Its First President

The board elected Virgil Rosendale, an Augusta, IL, pork producer, to serve as its chariman. Rosendale operates a medium size farrow-to-finish and seedstock operation. He had been actively involved in local, state and national levels of the pork producers association. He is a former president of the National pork producers council and a former chairman of the board of the National livestock and meat board.

Hilman Schroeder of Sauk City, WI, was selected by the board as its vice chairman. He operates a medium size seedstock operation. Schroeder has also been involved in numerous activities of the pork producers association on the local, state and national level. He is widely known for his unique understanding of gentics within the seedstock segment of the industry.

The board made a number of key decisions at its first session:

+ It agreed to enter into a one-year contract with the national pork producers council (MPPC) to handle the collection and refund aspects of the new checkoff that went into effect November 1. The board, during the contract period, will evaluate costs and determine future direction.

+ Producers have indicated they want to see administration costs and staff kept to a minimum. Heeding that, the board will employ a two-person staff. Mike Simpson was employed as full-time executive director. He had served previously as director of strategic planning for the NPPC. The board will contract through NPPC the services of an administrative secretary, and space in the existing NPPC office in suburban Des Moines.

+ NPPC, under the law that established the national legislative checkoff, is guaranteed 35 per cent of total checkoff funding until a referendum is held in late 1988 or early 1989. The national pork board approved the NPPC budget covering that guarantee for 1987. The national livestock and meat board will receive 20 per cent of the net amount of the NPPC budget figure under an existing arrangement between the two organizations under which the meat board handles research and educational projects for the pork industry.

+ The pork board recognized 45 state organizations that currently qualify for state funding under the new checkoff. Using an established formula, all states that meet the criteria contained in the law will receive at least 16-½ per cent of the funds collected in their state. Twenty-six of the 45 qualified states have already submitted formal budgets for 1987. The board set a deadline of January 1, 1987 for the remaining states to submit their budgets for approval. Once state organizations have met all the lawful criteria, including submission of a formal budget, they will be funded on as 60-day retroactive basis.

+ The board committed $4.5 million in discretionary funds to the national pork producers council for development of a new national advertising comapaign scheduled to begin early in 1987. In addition, the board strongly encouraged all state producer organizations to commit additional funds to the national advertising program. The board agreed to match additional state contributions on a dollar-for-dollar basis up to an additional one million dollars. If that commitment is fully met by the states, it will mean a total of $6.5 million would be available for the new national campaign for the pork industry in 1987.

Rosendale, at a news conference following the initial pork board meeting, said that the board will exercise the greatest possible restraints concerning adminsitrative costs, not only where the board itself is concerned, but on all present and future contractors of services. "We will attempt to utilize the facilities and staff of existing industry organizations as long as it is cost effective and in accordance with the pork act, the law under which the National pork board operates," Rosendale said. He made it clear that the board reserves the right to determine when and where any voids may exist in either programs or reserves the right to determine when and where any voids may exist in either programs or services that could be beneficial to pork producers. If it finds such voids, it will feel free to encourage the start-up of such programs by existing or new contractors.

Rosendale said the board "fully supports the producer policy development group concept already well established within the framework of the national pork producers council as a means of involving producers in defining issues and establishing priorities for the allocation and budgeting of checkoff funds."

The National pork board chairman suggested that any organization or individual who had business with the board should contact the executive director, Mike Simpson, at the National pork board, P.O. Box 9114, Des Moines, IA 50306.

The board expects to hold its next meeting in St. Louis sometime in December. That meeting is expected to deal primarily with structuring the new Board, including the assignment of standing committees.

Small Gas Trucks Must Comply With U.S. Regulations

Owners of small gasoline cargo tank trucks manufactured between 1950 and 1975 are reminded that those vehicles must either comply with federal hazardous material regulations or the owners must file an application for a variance from the tank construction specifications by December 31 of this year, or risk criminal penalties.

According to Betsy Parker of the Minnesota department of transportation, there are upwards of 1,500 of the older, smaller gasoline trucks in the state, "owned primarily by fuel distributors and construction companies."

Purpose of the new state variance rules, Parker says, "is to allow certain non-complying cargo tanks to be used, but to establish an inspection procedure to make sure those trucks are structurally safe." The federal hazardous material regulations prescribe the construction of the tank and the safety devices on it.

Owners of older tank trucks that have a capacity of 3,000 gallons or less and that are used in intrastate commerce must either have the vehicles retrofitted to comply with the federal tank construction specifications, or they must inspect the vehicle and obtain a variance from the Minnesota department of transportation. A copy of the rules and the application form for the variance can be obtained from MnDOT's Motor Carrier Safety & Compliance Office, Administrative Truck Center, 151 Livestock Exchange Building, 100 Stockyard Road, South St. Paul, Minnesota 55075, phone (612) 296-7109.

Farm Population Decline Seen As Warning Signal

"According to the U.S. department of agriculture and the commerce department, we have seen record declines in farm population during the farm depression of the 1980s," states Mary C. Turck of the Land Stewardship project. A study released in August of this year showed a decline from 6.05 million people on farms in 1980 to 5.35 million in 1985. "Farm population" is defined as people living in rural areas on farms with gross sales of at least $1,000 — not necessarily people who make their living by farming.

This is the smallest percentage of U.S. population on farms in history — from 30.2 per cent in 1920 to 2.2 per cent today. The same study showed that jobs held by farm residents were about equally divided between agricultural and non-agricultural work, Turck said.

The age of the farm population is also rising, with the median age now 36.5 years, compared to 31.4 years for the rest of the population. About 41 per cent of the farm population is in the 40 to 74 age bracket.

Loss of people on farms and in small towns means loss of rural schools, businesses and churches. It also means concentration of former farm families in cities, which already have over-burdened social service systems and are not ready to care for or find jobs for immigrants from rural areas.

The "wisdom" of the agribusiness mentality says we need fewer farms and fewer farmers. Technology can "free" people from the drudgery of field work. As we become more "efficient" we can farm more marginal acres and force more production from the soil, with less human involvement with the land. "I think that is not wisdom but the most disastrous folly," Turck emphasizes.

"The people we 'free' from hard work on the land are frequently freed to low-paying, dead end jobs, if not to unemployment. The land we force into production is severely, sometimes irreversibly damaged. Similar damage is done to the people forced off the land and the communities they leave behind.

"We remember, this time of year, three wise men who were guided to Bethlehem by a star. It is time to look again at our guiding stars. Rather than being guided by the stars of technology, efficiency and maximizing short-term profit, let us look instead for the stars of caring for people, building communities, and living in harmony with the land which is the Creator's gift to us," she concludes.

(The non-profit Land Stewardship project's aim is to apply religious, ethical and environmental principles of caring for the land and the people on it. The project is built around the concept that farmers and landowners have a moral obligation to the land, and that society as a whole shares that obligation.)

Poverty in families headed by women is a source of increasing public concern. In 1984, the number of these families with incomes below poverty level exceeded the number of married-couple families in povert, according to a fact sheet on working women published by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Court Of Appeals Orders DNR To Permit Harbor

Minnesota Court of Appeals has ordered the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to allow a harbor for a resort on Lake Mille Lacs to protect boaters from lake storms.

The case is the first major judicial setback for DNR decision-making in nearly 10 years, according to William Peterson, attorney for the applicant, Barbara Orr of Malmo.

Mrs. Orr owns Orr's Resort on the eastern shore of Lake Mille Lacs. Boaters at the resort had been injured and had their watercraft smashed against the shores in at least a dozen storms over the last several years, the attorney said. Mrs. Orr sought a permit from DNR and the U.S. Army corps of engineers to build a horseshoe-shaped rock breakwater to provide boater protection. The Army corps approved the permit but DNR denied approval.

Court of Appeals Judge Doris Ohlsen Huspeni in writing for a unanimous three-judge panel ruled that Mrs. Orr had proven that her harbor proposal was in the public interest and that DNR had wrong*fully refused* to grant it. Earlier this year, an administrative law judge had concluded that the Orr harbor should be approved but DNR rejected his recommendation, arguing that the harbor might harm the walleye production in Lake Mille Lacs.

"There was no basis for the DNR objection," said Peterson, a former DNR attorney. "We showed that Lake Mile Lacs is producing maximum walleye populations and the harbor would not damage walleye productivity. After all, Mrs. Orr's business depends on keeping Lake Mille Lacs 'the walleye capital' of Minnesota."

The Court of Appeals also criticized DNR for establishing a "moratorium policy" that prohibited all new harbor development on Lake Mille Lacs. "An agency (such as DNR) cannot institute an absolute moratorium by consistently denying a permitted activity under its rule without first engaging in rule-making procedures," Judge Huspeni held.

DNR's last major reversal before the appellate courts was in 1977 when the Minnesota Supreme Court ordered the department to grant the necessary permits to allow Reserve Mining company to build its "Milepost 7" site near Lake Superior.

Engineers Give Suggestions To Reduce Drinking

Since more than half of all fatal auto accidents involve alcohol, the American Society of Safety Engineers (ASSE) offers the following suggestions for an enjoyable, sensible holiday party:

— Have an ample supply of food available for party goers. Food aids in the absorption of alcohol and helps people space the number of drinks they consume. It usually takes the body one hour to rid itself of one ounce of alcohol.

— Provide a professional bartender or responsible person to serve measured drinks. Untrained bartenders and people who mix their own drinks tend to overpour the alcohol.

— Have plenty of non-alcoholic beverages on hand for those who choose to be non-drinkers and provide activities, such as dancing and games, throughout the party. When people are busy with activities, they usually drink much less.

— Stop serving alcohol an hour before the party ends. Offer people coffee or any other non-alcoholic beverage before they leave. Drinking coffee does not make people sober, but it does keep them from drinking alcohol.

— Keep intoxicated people from driving. Call a taxi, arrange a safe ride home for them or keep them from leaving. In some areas, taxi companies or police departments will provide free rides during the holidays for those who are intoxicated.

By drinking in moderation and helping other people be responsible, ASSE believes you can keep the holidays healthy as well as happy.

FmHA Delinquency Falls But Problems Continue

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Delinquency among borrowers from the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) through offices in Thief River Falls and Grygla has declined in the past year or so, and that's a positive note, according to Randal Hemmerlin, supervisor of the two offices which serve borrowers in Pennington, east Marshall and northwest Beltrami counties.

But it doesn't help the fact that many farmers are in deep financial difficulty with little choice but to sell out and a number of them will be doing so. Some already have and, indeed, the percentage of delinquency has been reduced to some extent by those actions and by borrowers simply moving away and abandoning their debt-ridden operations.

"As of December 17, when our last computer print-out was prepared, delinquency stood at 45 per cent for Pennington county and 39 per cent for the Grygla office area," Hemmerlin said. "In fiscal 1984 and 1985 the figure was at 66 per cent for both offices."

Hemmerlin said that FmHA has about 500 borrowers in the Pennington, east Marshall and northwest Beltrami county area. Combined delinquency figures would indicate that about 210 borrowers were delinquent in one or more loans. A borrower is delinquent if he has not made payments to be current in meeting his obligations to the agency.

A borrower is classified as delinquent if he is not current on every loan through the agency. If a borrower has a number of loans and is current on all but one, he is still classified as delinquent. While this situation would indicate that the percentage of delinquency may not be as serious as it seems, many of the delinquent borrowers have substantial unpaid debt.

In Pennington county alone, outstanding unpaid interest and principal through the Farmers Home administration was $45,831,203. Of that total amount of loan volume, $11,866,228 was considered delinquent....approximately 25 per cent of the total.

Because loans are due to be paid by January 1 and payments are typically made during the month of January, the delinquency rates may be reduced still further than the December 17 figures, Hemmerlin said.

Operating loans have been an area of greatest financial difficulty for borrowers, the county supervisor noted. Adverse weather over several years and decline in commodity prices were major reasons for that problem. This year and last year there has been reduced demand for operating loans through the FmHA, primarily due to advance deficiency payments through the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office and a reduction in number of acres planted due to government set-aside programs.

In 1986 operating loans through the two offices amounted to approximately $4.9 million.

Hemmerlin said that the reduction in percentage of delinquency also can be due to cancellations and better payment record of borrowers, bankruptcies, persons quitting farming and paying loans in full, or voluntary conveyance which returns land to the government. He said that the Thief River Falls and Grygla offices have about 4,200 acres of land on inventory but cannot re-sell any of it because of a moratorium in effect in Minnesota.

Although some accounts have been accelerated, Farmers Home administration has initiated no foreclosures nor taken action to conduct forced sales in this area since he became supervisor in November of 1984, Hemmerlin said. It has participated as second or third position creditor in actions which have been initiated by other lenders and has counseled borrowers toward consideration of voluntary termination of their farming operations.

Faced with delinquencies of two annual payment periods or longer duration, the agency is required to initiate adverse action procedures. One of the first steps is to send a notice of adverse action to the delinquent borrower. The three-sheet notification includes a statement of the delinquency; a list of options available to the borrower, possible actions, which may be taken by FmHA, a list of farmer program borrower responsibilities, explanation of servicing options and a form to be completed and returned to the

Hallstrom Again Elected Chairman Of School Board

Hank Hallstrom was reelected chairman of the School District 564 board of education Friday morning at the reorganizational meeting of the board at the school district service center in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Paul Bortnem was reelected vice chairman while Maryel Anderson was elected clerk to succeed Greg Pribula and Archie Cameron was elected treasurer to succeed Harry Sjulson. Sjulson had been appointed to the office following the death of elected treasurer Myrle Carlson.

Board salaries were set the same as in 1986 and include: Chairman, $3,500; vice chairman, $3,300; clerk, $3,300; treasurer, $3,100; and director, $2,900. The Times was again designated the official newspaper for publication of the district's minutes and legal notices.

Because the district occasionally has problems which require legal counsel, a resolution was adopted to authorize the superintendent or school board designee to contact legal counsel as needs require.

Regular board meeting schedule for 1987 was adopted with all meetings to start at 7:30 p.m. Dates approved for meetings include January 12 and 26, February 9 and 23, March 9 and 23, April 13 and 27, May 18, June 8, July 13, August 17, September 14 and 28, October 12 and 26, November 9 and 23 and December 14.

Committee assignments for the coming year were also made with new members Ron Martin and Dennis Kiesow incorporated into the committee system. Martin was named the board's representative to the city planning commission, succeeding Greg Pribula, and to serve with Paul Bortnem on the PER committee. Kiesow will serve with Archie Cameron on the Basic Skills advisory committee and with Maryel Anderson on the community education committee.

Other appointments involve the same committees as during 1986 and include: Center School governing board, Hank Hallstrom; Chamber of Commerce representative, Supt. Leo Ruberto; Minnesota state high school league representative, Paul Bortnem and assistant superintendent Frank Hanerlinck; city, county and school board committee, Harry Sjulson;

Also Program Growth K-12 (continuing education), Maryel Anderson; Program Growth AVTI (continuing education), Paul Bortnem; block grant advisory committee, Archie Cameron; AVTI general advisory committee, Harry Sjulson; computer utilization committee, Archie Cameron; effective schools committee, Maryel Anderson (Archie Cameron, alternate).

Next meeting of the board will be tonight (Monday) at 7:30 p.m. in the school district service center board room. A special meeting was also set for January 18 in the Twin Cities with the board of education of Bemidji public schools to discuss consolidation of the two districts' area vocational technical institutes.

Rupprecht Farms Named For Conservation Award

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

An Adgar township partnership which is the third tier in a four-generation farm operation has been selected by the Marshall+Beltrami soil and water conservation district as the district's conservation farmers of the year. Donald and Roger Rupprecht and their families were selected by a SWCD committee and received special recognition at the state convention of the Minnesota Association of Soil and Water Conservation districts.

Donald and Roger's grandfather, Adolph Rupprecht, homesteaded the farm shortly after the turn of the centruy. Their father, Otto Rupprecht, took over the operation later and the brothers assumed operation in 1972. Donald's sons Dale and Daryl are now involved in the farm business as well, Dale having a growing dairy herd and Daryl a small herd of registered Herefords while attending the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

Operating under the name Rupprecht Farms, Donald and Roger own 900 acres and rent an additional 840 acres. Their operation is primarily small grain, although row crops of sunflowers and corn are usually involved each year, the latter for either livestock feed or as a grain crop. The partners have about 40 head of beef cows, mostly Herefords, and feed out their calves to market weight at about 1,200 pounds.

Donald and his wife, the former Margaret Peterson, were married in 1960 and live in a modern home on the site of the first house on the Rupprecht farmstead. Otto's widow lives in a house in the same farmyard. Roger and his wife, the former Beverly Tveito of Sheyenne, ND, were married in 1966 when she was Pennington county home agent. They and their three daughters live about three-fourths of a mile north of the original homestead site.

All of Donald and Margaret's children are graduates of Lincoln high school — Melodee in 1979, Dale in 1983 and Daryl in 1986. All are also 10-year members of the Silverton 4-H club where Melodee had clothing for a main project, Dale specialized in dairy and Daryl had a beef emphasis.

Roger and Beverly's daughters include 19-year-old Kristi, 16-year-old Karla and 11-year-old Kim. Kristi attends Northland community college in Thief River Falls and will be married in June to Kurt Sigerud of Goodridge. She is a 10-year member of the Silverton 4-H club, has won several trips to the state fair with county fair grand championships and also won a grand championship at the state fair.

Karla has been in 4-H for seven years and has won a state fair grand championship while Kim is in her third year of 4-H club work. Foods, clothing, child care and junior leadership have been major projects.

Roger is a trustee of Silver Creek Lutheran church — a post he has most recently held for the past five

Welfare Board To Consider DAC And ODC Proposals Fri.

Proposals for service from the Falls Day Activity center and the Occupational Development center in Thief River Falls will be considered by the Pennington county welfare board at its meeting Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the courthouse. Discussion of the DAC and ODC proposals will begin at 3:45 p.m.

The board requested proposals for service following charges of alleged abuse of clients at the DAC by former director Evan Armstrong. The director resigned his position after suspension when the state department of human services threatened to cancel the DAC's license to operate.

A letter of support for the DAC to continue as service provider has been received by county board members and other officials from Jerry Mueller, executive director of the Minnesota Development Acheivement Center association. Mueller provided a copy of the letter to the Times. Its text is as follows:

Dear Commissioner:

This letter is being written as an expression of our support for the Falls Developmental Achievement center and the continuation of its contract for services with Pennington county.

The Minnesota Developmental Achievement Center association (MnDACA) is a statewide association which promotes public policy to strengthen member's ability to provide quality services for citizens

NCC Plans Fifth H.S. Jazz Festival On January 22

Northland community college music department of Thief River Falls announces it is presently taking registrations from area high school jazz-singing groups for the fifth annual NCC jazz festival. This year's festival will be held Thursday, January 22 from 8:30 a.m.–3:30 p.m. with rehearsals and a public concert at 8 p.m. in the college's fine arts theater.

The day is designed as a workshop for singers in a jazz style with an opportunity for Rio Nido to work with the singers in a mass choir setting and also with each choral group. Highlighting the day's activities will be a short concert featuring the massed choir NCC jazz choir and Rio Nido.

Rio Nido is a jazz singing group of national renown. They have recorded three albums and have toured across the Midwest. They have also appeared frequently on Garrison Keillor's Praire Home Companion show. Lead vocalist Prudence Johnson has appeared on both local and national television shows and is noted as a vocal stylist of high repute.

For more information, contact festival coordinator Les Torgerson at Northland Community College, Highway 1 East, Thief River Falls, MN. (218) 681-2181.

This activity is made possible in part by a grant provided by the Northwest Regional Development Commission through funding from the Minnesota State Arts Board and the Minnesota State Legislature.

CONSERVATION-FARMER award winners, Donald (left) and Roger Rupprecht of rural Thief River Falls, are pictured in their farm shop. The 30x44 shop was built in 1972 and is large enough to admit most of the farm's machinery for service and repair. It is equipped with a chain hoist and welders as well as other shop equipment. The Rupprecht brothers, third of four generations on the farm homesteaded by their grandfather about 80 years ago, have been named conservation farmers by the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district.

Karin Kuzel And James Garthus Married August 30 At Bethany

The marriage of Karin Jean Kuzel of Thief River Falls and James Allen Garthus of Holt took place August 30 at Bethany Lutheran church, rural Thief River Falls. Rev. Dave Peterson officiated at the service.

Parents of the couple are Richard and Marilyn Kuzel of this city and Janet and Kenneth Garthus of Holt.

Grace Hammer served as organist for the ceremony, accompanying soloists Angie Vigen and Allen Moberg. Special songs were "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do" and "Follow Me," with "Wedding Song" sung as the couple performed the candle lighting ceremony.

The bride wore a white taffeta gown trimmed in Venise and Wedgewood lace with fitted bodice trimmed in Venise lace and ruching with silk flowers and spaghetti straps. The full skirt was trimmed with double ruffles of Wedgewood lace and satin ribbon featuring tucked pick ups caught with silk flowers, leading to a semi-cathedral train. Susan Mauch and Jill Johnson were the bride's personal attendants.

To compliment her gown, the bride wore a picture hat of taffeta trimmed with Venise lace, pearls and silk flowers, with a pouf accenting the lace-edged fingertip veil. She wore her grandmother's golden cross trimmed with a diamond and seed pearls for her wedding. Her cascading bouquet was composed of blue and white roses, carnations and forget-me-nots.

Maid of honor was Barb Garthus, with Ann Wright, Jane Erickson and Koni Koropatnicki serving as bridesmaids. They wore royal blue textured taffeta gowns with sweetheart necklines, melon sleeves with ruffled shoulders and full, floor-length skirts. They carried bouquets similar to that of the bride, with flowing satin ribbon streamers. In their hair they wore bridal wreaths.

Flower girl was Brenda Lunke. She wore a short white gown with puffed sleeves and lace and ruffle-trimmed overdress. She wore a bridal wreath in her hair matching those of the other bridal attendants, and carried a white basket filled with wedding flowers.

Cory Skadsem served as ring bearer. He was attired in a white tuxedo matching that of the groom, and carried a white satin ring pillow.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with matching accessories and blue rose boutonniere.

Best man was Miles Garthus. Groomsmen were Mark Anderson, Jamie Sagstuen and Eric Kjensrud. They wore tuxedos with royal blue jackets, ties and cummerbunds, white pants and pale blue shirts, with blue rose boutonnieres.

Ushers were Wayne and Dean Garthus, both brothers of the groom.

Honored guests were great-great aunt of the groom, Olga Johnson; Tracy Kuzel and Myrtle Ewert, grandmothers of the bride, and George Hestekind and Ben and Helen Garthus, grandparents of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the couple in the church hall. Mr. and Mrs. John Otto were host and hostess. The wedding cake was baked and decorated by the godmother of the groom, Janet Reierson. Carol Garthus and Gereta Kath cut and served the cake, and Lydia Tuura and Beverly Swanson poured.

In charge of the guest book were Leah Kuzel, sister of the bride, and Lesley Helgeland. Shawn Hume and Pam Stale served punch, and Kerry Molberg was in charge of the gifts. Waitresses were Darlene Koropatnicki, Cindy Kukowski, Denise Olson and Kerstin Reierson. Flowers for the wedding were designed by Phyllis Paulson and Linda Helgeland.

Following a wedding trip to Germany, the bride and groom are at home in Warroad where both are employed at Marvin Windows.

Wedding Reception Jan. 17 At Ekelund Church

Mr. and Mrs. Marcelo Vizcaino, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Halvorson and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cervin announce the wedding of Monica and James, held in Ecuador November 22. They invite all relatives and friends to a reception at Ekelund dining hall January 17 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Cook's Choice

Breakfast Bars

- 6 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
- ¼ cup chopped dried apricots
- ½ cup chopped dates
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- one-third cup chopped walnuts
- ½ cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1 egg
- ¾ cup unbleached white flour
- ¾ cup whole wheat flour
- 1 cup uncooked oatmeal (rolled oats)
- 2 tablespoons sesame seeds
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Oil a 9-inch baking pan.

In saucepan combine orange juice concentrate, apricots, dates and salt. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, for five minutes or until the mixture thickens. Remove from heat, stir in walnuts and set aside.

In large mixing bowl, cream together butter and brown sugar. Beat in egg.

In another bow, stir together flour, oatmeal, sesame seeds, baking powder, baking soda and orange rind.

Add dry ingredients to the creamed mixture, half at a time, blending well after each addition. Dough will be dry and crumbly.

Press half the dough in the bottom of the prepared pan. Spread the fruit mixture over the dough, then sprinkle the remaining dough mixture on top. Bake 35 minutes.

Conference Slated Here February 7 On Young Children

Mid-Winter conference of Northwest chapter of the Minnesota Association for the Education of Young Children has been scheduled for February 7 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Pre-registration for non-members of NW MnAEYC is $5. Registration at the door will be $7.50. A noon lunch will be provided for an additional $2.50 for those wishing to eat at the conference site. This is payable at the door.

Four sessions of workshops will be presented with three workshops offered every session. Workshop topics and presenters include "Creative Puppetry" with Mike Gallo; "Pre-School and Primary School Art" by Lavonne Forsberg; "Oppositional Children" by Dee Jay Donlin; "Toddler Parent's Special Concerns" by Renee Bruce; "Adaptive Equipment for Special Needs Children" by Art Heinze; "Music" by Mike Tangen; "Eating the Basics" by Deb Matero Zak; "Puppets as Teachers" by Kaye Marvin; "Creative Storytimes" by Jean Heinrichs; "Creative Movement" by JoAnn Zutz; "Toys From Trash" by LeAnn Steiger; and "CPR" by Lifestar systems.

Organizers of the conference note that state MnAEYC president Renee Bruce is attending this conference and will serve as a presenter at one of the sessions.

The conference will feature several displays including the American Dairy association of Minnesota, Bethany Bookstore, Discovery Toys, Eating the Basics, Great American Book Fair, Inter-Agency committee, Joy Toys, Lakeshore Curriculum Materials, Marketvista and WIC. Several displays will also have items for sale as a service to conference participants.

Brochures and registration forms for the conference are available from county social service offices and from any Northwest Regional library in Thief River Falls, Greenbush, Hallock, Red Lake Falls, Roseau, Warren and Warroad and on the NWRL bookmobile. Co-sponsors for the event are the NW MnAEYC and the Northwest regional library system.

FmHA Delinquency Down But Problems Continue In Area

FmHA supervisor in 30 days.

Last year the offices in Thief River Falls and Grygla each sent about 90 of the adverse action notices to delinquent borrowers in the first series of adverse actions authorized under new procedures going into effect Jan. 1, 1986. They covered delinquencies going back as far as 1980 and thus involved a backlog of accounts. It is expected that such notices to be sent in 1987 will be substantially reduced in number.

Servicing options listed in the adverse action notices include deferral, consolidation, rescheduling, reamortization, participating in the limited resource program, subordination of the FmHA lien to the lien of another creditor or restructuring the business and debt by selling a portion of the assets.

"Last year in the Grygla office about a third of the borrowers who received notice of intent to take adverse action were able to have their loans rescheduled or reamortized," Hemmerlin said. "There are some attractive options available to borrowers if they will investigate the possibilities."

If a borrower is two payments delinquent and is unable to use any of the servicing options, the FmHA will likely ask the borrower to voluntarily liquidate the operation. Even within that procedure there are opportunities for the borrower to sell land for market value instead of the obligation against it and be released of obligation for deficiency between the two amounts.

In some cases, land released to the FmHA through voluntary conveyance must be held and offered to the original borrower on a lease-back program which can provide for future acquisition.

"I have no doubt that a number of voluntary actions will be taking place in the coming year," Hemmerlin said. "A number of them have taken place already and continue to go on as people reluctantly realize that it is the wisest course for them to take."

He added that there is a somewhat surprisingly strong amount of interest in purchasing farmland and that in some sales brought about by other lenders the property sold has brought reasonably high prices. In general, however, land prices in such sales have been depressed.

If there is a bright spot in the situation, Hemmerlin said it is that adjustments are taking place in both chattels and real estate which make for more realistic values and prices.

He says that the agency appears to be gradually working toward a system of guaranteed operating loans through commercial lenders, and that system will be the movement of the future. "It appears to be an excellent, excellent program for all parties," he said. "It includes a three-year availability to receive operating loans which is a great management feature."

Hemmerlin said he expects the agency will always have a limited amount of funds for beginning farmers who have not established credit and for limited others who may not qualify for commercial loans.

There is one other spot of optimism in an area of the economy which is in dire straits. "If we have 45 per cent delinquency," Hemmerlin said, "then we must have 55 per cent of our borrowers who are current. As a lender of last resort, that isn't all bad. We know that many borrowers have to sacrifice to meet their loan obligations, but they make that effort. You sure have to give them credit for trying."

Welfare Board To Consider DAC And ODC Proposal

with developmental disabilities in Minnesota. Falls DAC is a member of our association and we have been closely following the recent developments involving the program.

DACs in Minnesota are currently experiencing a major transition in services that includes two basic elements. The first of these is a strong emphasis on productivity, independence and integration for persons with developmental disabilities. Second is a statewide mandate for increased accountability and quality services. The new administration and board of directors of Falls DAC have clearly endorsed these concepts and have taken appropriate administrative action toward their implementation.

The decision to contract with any particular vendor of services should also be viewed from a historical perspective. Historically, DACS were developed because other providers refused to serve clients with severe and profound disabilities. Often programs were started and operated by parents who could not obtain services from existing, more traditional providers. As a result of this "grass roots" effort, Minnesota now has 107 DAC that have a stable funding stream and program guidelines. For the past 17 years the Falls DAC has provided this vital community service and is arguably deserving of the opportunity to continue to provide these services.

Additionally I would like to address the concept of merging DACs with rehabilitation programs. Contrary to the opinions of some, there in fact is no national or state trend or corresponding literature that would validate this concept. There is, however, significant pressure on both providers. In the case of rehabilition facilities, funding or other income is contingent on the abilities of programs to produce goods and products and to find competitive employment. In the case of DACS, funding is being provided for the integration of persons with severe and profound medical and behavioral disabilities out of institutions and into the community through supported work, work, or other activities.

While there is overlap in the two systems, there are still significant differences in funding sources, priorities, philosophy, lines of accountability, and most importantly, the needs of clients that are being served. Federal and state policy makers have worked on this issue but in the absence of a clear directive almost all counties in Minnesota have chosen to contract with DAC's and rehabilitation facilities through separate administrations.

I might add that one of the obvious advantages of a dual system is a built in sense of competition among programs that leads to a higher level of quality services for all clients.

The past several months have been a time of stress and turmoil for the clients, parents, staff, administration, county board and, in fact, the entire community. The necessary changes in administration and direction of the Falls DAC have taken place. In the final analysis, the system works. Any additional major change in the administration of the program should come out of a position of strength that is developed through thoughtful planning. To do otherwise would only cause additional and unnecessary pressures and hardships on all people involved.

Accordingly, it is my opinion that your continued contracting with the Falls DAC would be in the best interest of the clients and in the best possible public interest and we strongly urge you to do so.

Thank you for your time and consideration, and please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
Jerry Mueller

Achievement Center

Information Meet On Farm Programs Scheduled Friday

Chairman Kermit Finstad of the Pennington county ASC committee has announced an information meeting to discuss the 1987 farm program. It will be held in the basement meeting room in the Thief River Falls city auditorium Friday at 1 p.m.

"There have been a number of important changes in the farm bill since last year," Finstad stated. "These include the provisions of sod-buster swamp-buster law, the conservation reserve program, as well as some changes in the wheat and feed grain program itself."

Howard Person of the extension service will be at the meeting to discuss planting alternatives; Al Gustafson of the soil conservation service will explain sod-buster swamp-buster; and Phil Bergland of the ASCS office will provide information on the 1987 wheat and feed grain program.

Anyone who has an interest in agriculture and the provisions of the program are welcome to attend this meeting Friday.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Amy; his father, Dec. 3, 1985; and brothers, Leonard in 1965 and Richard in 1983.

Wallace Fournier, 80

Red Lake Falls — Mass of Christian burial was held Saturday at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Red Lake Falls for Wallace Fournier, 80, who died Tuesday at Hillcrest nursing home in Red Lake Falls.

Rev. Thom Baxter served as celebrant at the mass, with pallbearers, Bud Salem, Darrel Swenson, Renee Reopelle, Melvin Mercil, Duane Delage, Don Ste. Marie; Louie Parenteau and Rolland Gagner. Interment will be at St. Anthony's cemetery in Terrebonne with the Petterson Funeral home of Red Lake Falls in charge of arrangements.

Wallace Joseph Fournier was born Apr. 16, 1906, in Red Lake county, the son of Joseph and Angela Jolly Fournier. He grew up near Terrebonne and attended Bugolow school. Apr. 26, 1926, he was united in marriage to Mary Mercil in Brooks.

The family made their home in Crookston where he worked at the Panatorium Dry Cleaners. He purchased a dry cleaning business in Ada in 1943, and continued to operate it until 1964, when the family returned to Crookston. He spent the next nine years working for a beet farmer there. He became a resident of Hillcrest nursing home in July of 1984. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Walter Fournier is survived by his wife, Mary; two sisters, Eve Rose Laundry, Red Lake Falls, and Mae Zerr of Yakima, WA; one half-sister, Carmen LaPlante, Crookston; and one step-sister, Margaret Carter of Red Lake Falls.

He was preceded in death by his parents; one son, Duane in 1976; and one sister, Alma Reopelle.

Sarah Wikstrom, 91

Karlstad — Sarah K. Wikstrom, 91, died last Monday at the Karlstad Memorial nursing center. Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Friday at the Bethesda Lutheran church in Strandquist with Rev. Henry Moyer and Rev. John A. Riveness officiating. Interment was in the Wikstrom cemetery near Strandquist, with the Collins Funeral home of Karlstad in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Terry Johnson served as organist, with Mrs. Ed Enoksen singing "In the Garden" and "Amazing Grace." The congregation joined in singing "Abide With Me."

Pallbearers were Art and Roy Erickson, Ernest Oistad, Dallas and Dennis Wikstrom and Jon Gordhammer, with the many friends attending the service considered honorary bearers.

Sarah K. Wikstrom was born July 19, 1895, the daughter of John and Sigurd Bergstrom, at Vesterbotten, Sweden. She came to the United States with her parents at the age of eight, and they settled in the Strandquist community, where she attended school and grew to womanhood. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith.

Mar. 16, 1915, she was united in marriage to William C. Wikstrom at Warren. The couple farmed in Lincoln township of Marshall county, near Strandquist, until 1925, then moved into Strandquist where they engaged in dairy farming for many years. William Wikstrom died in June of 1975, and she continued to make her home in Strandquist for five years. She moved to the Oakwood apartments in Karlstad then, and has resided at the Karlstad Memorial nursing center for the past three and one-half years. She was a charter member of the Strandquist American Legion auxiliary and was active in the Strandquist senior citizens organization.

Sarah Wikstrom is survived by one son, Wilbert, Phoenix, AZ; two daughters, Mrs. Virgil (Delphine) Braff, Strandquist, and Mrs. Robert (Ruby) Gibson, Emmetsburg, IA; six grandchildren; 12 great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband, parents, one grandson, three brothers and three sisters.

JERRY FESSLER, owner of Pizza Hut in Thief River Falls, presented a check for $800, which came from the proceeds of coupon book sales prior to Christmas, to Arlene Swenson, director of the Area Food Shelf. Fessler said he was pleased with the experiment and hoped it would become an annual event at Pizza Hut. Swenson said she has observed an increase in the number of people receiving assistance, but little or no increase in donations.

LASERS

Laser. The term brings to mind powerful and mysterious beams of radiation capable of exploding a tank. But what basically is a laser? A laser produces a very compact beam of light of certain wavelength. This column of light has a high amount of energy, and if focused on an object, may burn or "vaporize" that object.

In eye surgery, lasers are most often used to treat diabetes, glaucoma and certain retinal diseases. In use for about the last fifteen years, the laser has saved many diabetics from blindness by preventing hemorrhage and retinal detachment. Advanced cases of glaucoma sometimes require surgical treatment, and in many cases the lasers can replace or delay surgery. Some cases of retinal detachment can be prevented by laser application, and a few cases of macular degeneration can be successfully treated with laser.

A common misunderstanding is that cataracts can be removed with a laser. There is a laser to remove a SECONDARY cataract, which is part of the cataract which "grows back" after cataract surgery, but there is no laser anywhere which can do a cataract operation.

Continuing advances in eye surgery are helping more and more people to recover from diseases which were blinding only a few years ago.

He's 30 & Finally Showing It!

Love, B.C. and the Big Guy

Dear Readers,

Often we are asked, "Who do we see about the preparation of the grave?" "Do you arrange for the clergyman?" "Can you notify the musicians?" All these details are a part of our service. The family is relieved of as much concern as possible in making funeral arrangements. We know this means much to those whom we serve.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

TIMES Around The Region

Any Pinocchio?

Greenbush — Adrian Pulczinski, publisher of the Greenbush Tribune, has been chosen Greenbush public library's Artist of the Month. Pulczinski creates wooden toys in his spare time. His toys will be on display at the library during the month of January.

Go Fishing In Bagley

Bagley — The Bagley Lions club will hold its annual fishing contest February 15 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. on Lake Lomond. Proceeds will be for community projects.

Supersled

Crookston — Harold Eia of Crookston has built three snowsleds by himself. His first creation didn't run fast enough, so he added an airplane motor when he designed the second and enjoyed it for seven years. He is still enjoying whizzing around on number three, even at the age of 72. He also restored a 1953 Chevrolet that he and his wife use to spin around the countryside.

New Chairman, Same Old Chair

Warren — The new chairman of the Marshall County board of commissioners broke with tradition and refused to be seated "front and center" at the reorganizational meeting January 6. Calvin Melgard, Warren, chose to remain in his old chair at the board table, the one that he has occupied for the past five years. The board has decided to purchase a sign that says "Chairman" to place in front of him at the table, so that he may be easily identified by visitors at the meetings.

100 Merry Years Young

Warren — Mary Fillipi of Grand Forks, ND, former Warren resident, celebrated her 100th birthday on Christmas Day. Along with many cards and gifts, she received greetings from President and Mrs. Reagan.

Holiday Caper (er)s

Karlstad — Among the 72 people attending the Karlstad Lions' senior citizen Christmas season party December 30 were 93-year-old Oscar Yngve and 101-year-old Mabel Flugstad. And a good time was had by all.

Celebrity Auction

Erskine — The Pioneer Memorial care center in Erskine will have a celebrity auction February 7. Proceeds will be used to purchase a handicapped van lift.

Music-Making Lawyer

Bemidji — A Bemidji attorney recently released an album of songs he performed and composed entitled "Setting It Straight." Carl Baer has been practicing law in Bemidji since his graduation from the University of Minnesota law school in 1975, and has been a "closet singer for many years," according to co-producer Gary Burger. Some of the songs included in the album are "Minto Hotel," "Love For the Land," "Between the Laughter and the Tears," "Setting It Straight," "Carrying On," "An Artist Remembered," "I Am the Rain," "Sunshine and Waves," "Don't Apologize," "Just Lies," "Magellan Straits" and "Elegant Bouffant Blond Babe."

Sipe Produce Slips

Detroit Lakes — Radio station KDLM in Detroit Lakes sponsored its fourth annual responsible drinking demonstration recently, under the guidance of state trooper David Bulik, district safety education officer. Announcers Dave Aune and Andy Lia consumed controlled amounts of alcoholic beverages during a period of four hours and were given tongue twisters and promotional material to read throughout the testing period. According to Bulik, the effects of the alcohol are not as easily apparent in radio announcers because they are so used to talking over the air that it becomes automatic, but many of the blunders were easy for regular listeners to spot, since they are familiar with the announcers' voices. The purpose of the demonstration was to promote controlled and responsible drinking during the traditional party period, said Bulik. Announcer Andy Lia was affiliated with radio station KTRF in Thief River Falls several years ago.

Sock Full Of Goodies

Fosston — This is the twelfth consecutive year that the Fosston hospital has presented a stocking filled with gifts donated by the hospital auxiliary to the infant born on or closest to Christmas Day. This year's recipient was Philip James Lee, son of James and Susan Lee of rural McIntosh. He was born December 24 at 5:22 a.m.

If At First . . . Try Again

Winger — A post-Christmas thief had some trouble making his getaway December 26 in Winger. After netting a small amount of cash and some groceries from Helling Hartz store and approximately $400 from Espeseth Hardware, the burglar needed a vehicle to flee the area. He first tried to hot wire a 1978 Fiesta belonging to Ann Voelker. The car wouldn't start, even though the thief damaged ignition wires on the steering column in his attempts to start it. He then tried to escape in a 1976 Chevrolet pickup owned by Espeseth Hardware, but that vehicle had no battery, so it wouldn't start either. The enterprising thief then removed the battery from the Fiesta, placed it into the pickup, and finally managed to elude the Polk County Sheriff's Department. The pickup has not been recovered and no arrests have been made in the incident.

Rollover

Red Lake Falls — A one-vehicle rollover four miles west of Red Lake Falls resulted in no injuries and no damages to a 1979 Dodge driven by Michelle Hauger of Roseau, reported the Red Lake County Sheriff's department. The sheriff's department also reported that road signs in the county are being stolen and issued a reminder that possession of a road sign is a violation of state law.

More Stolen Signs

Hallock — The Kittson County Trailblazers, Inc. has reported the theft of nearly all of their new trail signs. The signs marked the several miles of groomed trails, as well as warning riders of hazards and dangerous conditions. Officer of the club, Rick sugden, said "The loss of those trail signs, especially for those unfamiliar with the territory, could cause some serious accidents." The signs are also property of the state of Minnesota, and the penalty for theft is $500.

Two-Vehicle Accident

Hallock — Mike Sugden of Hallock received cuts and bruises as a result of a two vehicle accident on county highway 1 near Hallock in near blizzard conditions December 31. Sudgen was the driver of a late model compact car which struck the rear of a pickup driven by Myles Sedenquist of Hallock. The compact car landed upside down in a ditch and the pickup was pushed into the opposite ditch by the impact. The driver and two juvenile passengers in the pickup were uninjured.

Rollover

Hallcok — A one vehicle rollover resulted in minor injuries to a Halma woman December 30. Ella Hurt was driving a 1974 Fiat north on highway 76 one mile south of Hallock when she lost control of the vehicle. The car rolled over and ended up in the east ditch. She was treated and released at the Kittson Memorial hospital. There was approximately $1,000 damage to the car.

One Of A Kind

Warroad — Linda Bernhardson, formerly of Thief River Falls, is a teacher of grades Kindergarten through eight in the only remaining one-room schoolhouse in Minnesota. The school is located at the Northwest Angle, 60 miles by road or water from Warroad. In the spring Bernhardson will resign her teaching post to become the June bride of Paul Wahl, who is managing editor of a California newspaper.

SEWING PROJECTS hold the interest of Mrs. Roger (Beverly) Rupprecht of rural Thief River Falls. A former Pennington county home agent, she has been involved with Project Heritage Designs and is currently coordinator for the newly-organized Big Brother and Big Sister program. Her other hobbies include machine embroidering and gardening. Rupprecht Farms won conservation farmer of the year award from the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district.

The INSIDE SCOOP

From Lincoln High
by GAYLE BORCHERT

by Gayle Borchert

Students at Lincoln were pleasantly surprised last Monday when they returned to school. Several of the halls, entryways and classrooms in Lincolon had been given a new coat of paint. The halls are painted in white, blue and orange with gold letters spelling LHS. The new coat of paint was needed as many halls were damaged during the demolition of old Lincoln.

The Christmas semi-formal which was held Friday night, December 19, was a success. The student senate-pride committee sponsored the dance which featured a live band — "Contents Under Pressure" — which is made up of high school students from Lincoln. Comments from students were that the band was good and will probably be back to play future dances at Lincoln.

The orchestra class at Lincoln has recently watched the opera "Carmen". It is sung in French with English subtitles. The opera iteself, however, takes place in Spain. The class will now be required to write a two-page paper about the plot and musical usage in "Carmen". They are also currently working on music for the upcoming spring concert.

This spring's musical will be directed by Mrs. Connie Stock. Mrs. Stock's husband, Bill Stock, is a counselor at Lincoln and she is the former Connie Hillyer, a graduate of Lincoln. The musical that is currently being considered is "The King and I". The orchestra will soon begin working on the music.

The Knowledge Bowl team is starting its season again. The Knowledge Bowl at Lincoln is in its second season. Last year Thief River Falls was selected to host the state tournament, but was unable to because of the measles outbreak.

Knowledge Bowl is like a quiz show. It consists of three teams which use a touch pad to determine who answers questions first. A computer is used to register team answers and scoring. A meet consists of three rounds, with each round containing 60 questions. A moderator reads the questions, and a spokesperson for each team answers the questions.

The Sno-fest celebration will be held the week of January 26-31. The week will be highlighted by competition among grades and will conclude with a dance on Saturday night.

The girls basketball team at Lincoln is undefeated. They have beaten Bemidji and all of the other teams in their sub-region except Fergus Falls, who they have not faced yet this season.

Schedule of Events

Jan. 12 — Boys swimming vs. Fosston (home).

Jan. 13 — Boys hockey at Crookston; 9th grade girls basketball at Crookston; boys basketball vs. Marshall County Central (home); 9th grade boys basketball at Grand Forks.

PRAIRIE RAMBLING

by Gretchen Beito

A Salute to Senior Citizens

A dream comes true this week. It is moving-in time at Heritage center. Many Thief River Falls citizens have been a part of the planning and creation of this new building. The culmination of the dream is due only to the perseverance of the committee and contributions of thousands of volunteer hours as well as of dollars.

In salute to the spirit and resourcefulness of Thief River Falls senior citizens, I would like to reprint part of a letter from a friend who lived here for well over 60 years. He is several decades older than Heritage Center workers.

Bob Lund had a long and productive life here through his career and work in church and community. He and his wife Luella raised a family of three children. The Lunds built the charming half-timbered house with the high gable on the south bank of the Red Lake river near Kneale avenue. After Luella died, he continued living and working here until his late 80s when he moved to Michigan to make his home with his daughter Lois.

Although Bob is now quite frail, he composed a two-page Christmas letter. I give it to you because Bob's letter, like the achievement of the Heritage Center committee, is a comment on the goodness of life. It has something to say to each of us:

"Once again we commemorate Christ's entry into our lives. This will be the 92nd time I have celebrated the receipt of this great gift of the Christ Child. Each Christmas I feel a fresh and joyful awakening — even after nine decades. I hope it may be the same for each of you.

"This year has been a difficult one for me, health-wise. When you are aged, what was once simple becomes complex. After surgery I had a good recovery and spent the summer working diligently at all my woodworking projects.

"This October, however, I came down with a bad cold which has been difficult to shake. I am not feeling 'up-to-snuff' because of it. I feel very much like the person in the old poem...'My get up and go has got up and went...'

"All of the grandchildren are doing well both in their work and in their personal lives. It brings me great pleasure to hear of their achievements and know that life is rewarding to them. I now have a third great grandchild.

"Lois is busy. She has become quite proficient on her personal computer. All three children have become pretty competent on these new fangled machines. They all tell me that these computers are just the typewriters of today. I must admit I still prefer the good old typewriter of yesteryear.

"The other day I got to remembering some of the little sayings that Luella used to tape up on the back of one of the cupboard doors in our kitchen in Thief River Falls. Some were amusing, like: 'God created us with two ends: one to think with and one to sit on. Our success depends upon which one we use the most. Heads you win. Tails you lose.'

"Some were inspiring, like: 'Reach up as far as you can and God will reach down all the rest of the way.'

"The one I always like the most of all is this one:

'Whisper a prayer in the morning,
Whisper a prayer at noon,
Whisper a prayer in the evening,
To keep your heart in tune.'

Luella lived with that little song in her heart and mind. It is in my heart and mind as well.

"As I sit here diligently resting, I think of each of you remembering both the good times and the difficult. I think of those who have gone on before me, and I remember those who continue to fill my days with their kind thoughts, phone calls, prayers. In 90-plus years you receive a great quantity of blessings.

"Greetings to you all — (signed) Bob Lund"

Thought Provoking Comment On Subjects Of Public Interest

Conversation Killer

Whatever else may be said for area weather during the past six weeks or so, it has been a real conversation killer. Can anyone remember a more boring winter than the one we are experiencing in northwest Minnesota?

Every day it's the same old thing — lows in the 8 to 15 degree range and highs from 20 to 30. Once in awhile the mercury may take a crazy plunge to five degrees or shoot up to 33, but all in all it has been a ho-hummer since about the middle of November.

It isn't supposed to be this way. How are we to retain our identity as northern Minnesotans if we can't huddle over our coffee cups to thaw numbed fingers and complain to all around us about balky cars, skyrocketing fuel bills and how long the winter already is by mid-January? What is there to talk about without comparison of current cold with the cold of years ago? "I remember back in '39" . . . or '46 or '51 or whatever is always worth a little bit of conversation.

The northern Minnesotan's vocabulary suffers in weather like this. It isn't really worthy of superlatives like "terrific" or "wonderful" or "fantastic" or "tremendous". For years we have practiced such terms as "unbearable", "ridiculous", "terrible" and "miserable" when talking about our winters. This year the term "pretty nice" about sums it up completely.

For generations the miseries of winter weather have been a dependable conversation starter here in the north country and most of us are totally lost without it. Where can you take a conversation from a greeting of "Nice, huh?" and a reply of "Yeah."? Answer: Nowhere.

Rumors are out that some people, desperate for something to talk about, are even discussing their families or — believe it or not — community problems! This is difficult to comprehend, but it is indicative of the drastic affect that "nice" weather can have psychologically on an entire population.

We really need a three-day blizzard or a couple of weeks of 30-below zero weather to get things at least a little bit back to normal. We are a very resilient people and some miserable weather will probably allow us to snap out of this depressing state and help with full recovery. As it is now, however, the difficulties of coping are almost unbearable.

New Name, Old Goals

We take note here of an announcement that the former Minnesota Association of Commerce and Industry has changed it name to the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce and Industry. There is something less than world shaking importance to this announcement.

It will probably be most significant that the abbreviation of MACI (generally referred to in conversation as Mackie) will now be MCCI (which defies phonetic pronunciation but will probably be corrupted to Mickey, as in Mouse). Some would say that the Mickey Mouse connotation is entirely appropriate. We wouldn't be that harsh.

Over the years we have found MACI to promote business ideals which we believe to be good not only for business but for Minnesota in general. It is to the organization's credit that although the name is changed, the goals remain the same.

"There are no surprises," president Winston Borden said in outlining the organization's priorities for the 1987 legislative session. That's not entirely true. He said that he is optimistic about working with the DFL-controlled legislature. That's a surprise. MACI's . . . er, MCCI's main opposition over the years has been the state's union structure which has been aligned with the DFL. Expressing optimism may be politically astute but it has a hollow ring.

Here is the list of priorities which Borden said the MCCI has established:

"We want to restrain the rate of growth in state spending to less than the rate of inflation.

"Legislators must vote to conform to the federal tax law and return the $719 million windfall to the income tax payers of this state.

"Sales tax exemptions on new plant and equipment should be expanded to stimulate investment and expansion and generate more jobs, particularly in rural Minnesota.

"We want to see the current commercial and property tax system simplified and the effective tax rate on income producing property reduced.

"Minnesota's unemployment compensation system must be reformed to deal with the highly paid seasonal workers who take advantage of the system and insure that benefits to workers who are unexpectedly out of work, looking for a job and ready to accept employment keep flowing without additional borrowing by the state from the federal government.

"And we want to see the worker's compensation system carefully analyzed and changes made to insure that we're competitive with other states.

"Civil justice reforms should be passed to bring more predictability, efficiency and equity to dispute resolutions and to promote stability in our liability and insurance systems."

It would be quite difficult for most Minnesotans to find a great deal of fault in those goals, although there must be some who have, otherwise the goals would have been accomplished. And if they weren't accomplished with sympathetic legislators in office, don't look for any great success in 1987 — optimism or not.

Moralistic Santa?

Robert M. Shaw, former manager of the Minnesota Newspaper association, occasionally writes a "Think-Piece" in the MNA bulletin. Several years ago he was asked to play Santa Claus at the Edina community center. He maintains they didn't ask him back because he was too moralistic.

"I soon learned to love the little ones ages up to six or seven, but not to care quite so much for the older kids," he wrote. "The little ones were half scared, their eyes full of wonder. When I said, "Give Santa a big hug" they DID so without hesitation.

"But the older ones knew I was a fake. Some of them gave me smarty back-talk. One stuck her tongue out and kept it stuck out. Another, when I asked him to say 'please,' flatly refused. I started sending precocious little bastards like these to the end of the line. Of course, their parents had to go to the end of the line, too. Can you see what's coming?

"And the long gift lists: those started to bother me, too. Some of the older kids showed up with 15, 20 items they half-demanded for Christmas. I started to remind them that there were some boys and girls in the world who wouldn't get anything for Christmas. I started to ask what they were going to give their parents, or their brothers or sisters; to ask what they had done to deserve all these gifts.

"I saw the first flowering of greed, and I raised my voice to be sure mommies and daddies heard what I was saying to their children.

"Well, they didn't ask me back this year. I know why: I got too moralistic.

"Who needs a moralistic Santa Claus? Some of those rising young executive daddies in the line didn't cotton to the idea of a volunteer Santa giving them a lesson in common courtesy. Or worse, requiring that the whole rude family, parents and all, go to the end of that long line and think twice about saying 'please' to Santa the next time around.

"But my conscience is clear. I saw signs of good, old, primeval greed, and I put the idea into several thousand little heads that it might be fun to give as well as get; to keep your room picked up; to earn a gift. That'll teach them not to recruit a Calvinist to play Santa."

Giving Taxpayers A Gift

Following editorial is from the Red Wing Republican Eagle:

Gov. Rudy Perpich has decided to back a tax proposal that even his political foes agree should make for a happier New Year.

He wants the $719 billion windfall that the state would receive, if state taxes are rewritten to conform to the new federal law, to be used to lower income tax rates. This closes the door on using for property tax relief, which could have resulted in an income tax increase.

Independent-Republicans claim the DFL governor is following their lead, which leaves practically everybody pleased. Rep. William Schreiber, IR-Brooklyn Park, who will be House minority leader next year, said the Legislature should be able to pass along the windfall to taxpayers and still balance the budget.

Whether this is possible in light of the projected $813 million shortfall for the 1987-89 biennium is debatable. But income tax reductions should be the main element in the tax-reform windfall.

Perpich, meanwhile, apparently is intent on proving wrong the critics who said he would raise taxes if re-elected. He has pledged to get the state out of the top 10 in national tax ratings by July 1. His proposal includes a reduced number of tax brackets, simplification of the complex property tax system and a shorter, "short" state income tax form.

If he and the DFL-controlled Legislature can break procedence and keep from making the mess worse, 1987 could be a happier year for taxpayers.

"Let's Change the Gun Case Law"

by Milo Larson, Brooks

After more than 40 years of hunting, I am still looking for a valid reason for our gun case law. One explanation is that it prevents poaching, but if a person goes out to poach deer or upland game, having his gun in a case is the last thing he will consider.

Another explanation I have heard is that it promotes gun safety, but it is as easy to put a loaded gun in a case as an unloaded gun, and as easy for a gun to be accidentally discharged while it is inside a case as outside a case.

I have hunted in both Dakotas, Nebraska, Montana, Wyoming, Ontario and Manitoba, and none of these states and provinces have gun case laws. North Dakota, Montana and Wyoming even allow shells in the magazine because of their predator problems. It would be interesting to compare their gun safety records with Minnesota's.

This past season, some 400,000 people went deer hunting in Minnesota, and I am sure if all of these people were polled, the vast majority of them would be in favor of abolishing the gun case law. I have heard many complaining about the game wardens who enforce the law, but the wardens are no more than doing their duty.

Let's stop blaming the wardens and try to correct the situation by changing the law. Efforts were made in the past session of the legislature to change the law, and efforts will be made again in the next session. Sportsmen of Minnesota, let's get together to show our legislators that they have our support. Contact your State Representative and Senator and let them know how you feel about this matter. Maybe we can do something to bring about a much needed change.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

This letter is directed to the family who is hurt and confused, and others that feel the same regarding the "Angel Tree" and other welfare issues.

First of all, I guess if I were you (a family needing help with Christmas presents for my children), I would have contacted the welfare office to explain my situation and see that I might be added to their list (however, Christmas is not a "new" holiday so I do plan for it each year!).

I think the "Angel Tree" project is a very good idea and the purpose of it is to make a more joyous Christmas for children whose parent(s) are unable to provide for their needs. I'm sure this project is not one of the welfare workers' duties, but it is their "volunteered" time spent on this project (knowing they have bundles of work waiting for them at their desks).

And you say you think they are feelingless—for children, their families and problems? I don't think so! However, it wouldn't surprise me if they decided to drop this project, as I guess it is just too hard to please everyone. The purpose of the "Angel Tree" project was to attempt to provide Christmas gifts for children who do not otherwise receive a gift. This is a nice idea. However, maybe it's time we started looking at the true meaning of Christmas.

I personally have found much more joy in giving during the holiday season than receiving. The giving I am speaking of does not always include a "concrete gift" that may be wrapped and opened, but such as spending more quality time with my family, offering services free of charge to someone special (babysitting, runing errands, etc.).

If the "Angel Tree" is really creating such hurt feelings (of parents and children alike), maybe gifts of nonmonetary value should be given. If such were the case, would the forgottens (as there are bound to be unless the entire population receives) be concerned if they were left off the list for a nonmonetary gift? I think not — as the letter written by the "hurt and confused" family is a clear indicator that the true meaning of Christmas to them is gifts received.

Why do people "expect" so many things handed to them?! You say your husband was laid off. You knew he was going to be laid off. Why don't you plan for those lay-offs? I see so many people employed for six months out of the year, living high off the hog, and then when lay-off time comes . . . oops . . . no money!! You have no one to put down but yourselves for your children not having a good Christmas. Who is responsible for your children? You are!

Please be reminded that there are children all over, this world who received many gifts this year and still had a miserable Christmas, only because the one gift they wanted and needed was unavailable — their parents' love and attention. If your children received those two gifts this year, I feel assured that they have suffered no permanent damage and are probably better off than many others.

And by the way, you mention your husband being employed and laid off; What about you? Have you ever tried to get a job to help meet your family needs? Maybe it's time you faced reality — to have the luxuries you speak of (plane tickets; savings accounts, new appliances) both spouses are many times forced to work outside the home. If you feel the effort needed to hold down a job plus raise your family is too much, then you pay the price — live with less. Why should I as a taxpayer support you and provide you with luxuries that I can't afford to provide my family with, even though I hold down a job and fulfill my family responsibilities?

What's emergency assistance? I looked up "emergency" in the dictionary. It reads, "an unforeseen combination of the circumstances or resulting state that calls for immediate action". Destitute — "such extreme want as threatens life unless relieved". A plane ticket? Surely you must jest!

Any you say that your stove and refrigerator are "going"? Well listen, honey, I've got a lot of things "going", but I plan for those needs in advance. And you can't tell you can't buy a used stove and fridge for $150, because I have! Of course, it didn't have one of those self-cleaning devices or an automatic icemaker, but I got by. And the dryer — remember, you said emergency assistance — I don't think it's an emergency if your house is a mess for a day due to laundry drying.

Assistance from the welfare office is just that — assistance; not income. Assistance to get by, not an added bonus to improve your lifestyle. I'm glad the welfare office is not handing out money to all those that ask, as these are my, and many other people's, hard working dollars. If some control was not exercised when determining eligibility for programs, soon there would be no monies left for those who truly have an emergency need.

In summing up, I think in today's economy it is real hard to make it, but a person just has to set priorities in order to survive. I don't think it's fair to blame anyone other than yourself if you can't make it. The easy way out is to blame welfare workers and the poor economy. The more difficult, yet much more satisfying and productive, way is to get out there and give it all you've got. Try to change your situation, don't expect others to change your life for you. It will never happen. Get those job resumes and applications out in the mail! Settle for a $4.50 per hour job rather than waiting for the $10 per hour one.

With the help of an attitude change and less self pitty, I know you can do it!!!

A Proud Taxpayer

Rupprecht Farm Is Conservation Award Winner

years — and has also previously served for nine years on the board of Farmers Co-op Grain and Seed association in Thief River Falls. He has been a supervisor on the Adgar town board and the family has membership in the Silverleaf Farmers Union local. Roger enjoys hunting, fishing and reading.

Beverly was recently named coordinator of the Big Brother and Big Sister program being organized through the community education department of the Thief River Falls public schools. She has been an organizer with Project Heritage Designs.

She has also been a 4-H project leader, and adult leder, and is a member of the East Stinar Homemakers club and the Home Economists in Homemaking organization. She has been an advisor for the Lutheran Daughters of America at Silver Creek church, Sunday school teacher, vacation Bible school superintendent and junior choir director. Kristi has been a Sunday school and vacation Bible school teacher, Karla a VBS teacher and Kim a junior choir and Sunday school member.

Donald Rupprecht has been a supervisor on the Adgar town board for the past 10 years and previously served four years as clerk. He is also a member of the vocational agriculture advisory board of the Northwest vocational center in Thief River Falls.

Margaret operates Margaret's Cake Nook where she does custom baking and decorating of special occasion cakes. Licensed as a retail bakery in 1980, she also can do other baking and occasionally will make cookies or rolls to order but cakes take precedence. She has made a number of ornate wedding cakes and for her largest order had to provide cake for an estimated 650 people for a special reception. She has been stewarship secretary and vice president of the Silver Creek ALCW.

In his first year at the University of Minnesota-Crookston, Daryl plans to complete two years there and then transfer to North Dakota state university for a degree in animal science. He has now built his 4-H beef project animal into a herd of eight registered Herefords which will calf this spring. He also has a one-fourth share in the purebred Hereford herd bull on the farm.

Dale, who is married to the former Ramona Knutson of Viking, has developed his 4-H dairy project into a herd of 24 registered Ayshires and operates under the name of Daleshire Ayrshires. They live about five miles northwest of the home farm but maintain the dairy herd there.

All of the farm activity centers at the home farm yard where the buildings, machinery and equipment are located. A 30x44 shop was built there in 1972 which has a large overhead door, chain hoist and welding equipment to permit most of the necessary machine repair. A 40x72 pole shed was built for machinery storage in 1978 and two pole sheds — 30x54 and 15x32 were built for cattle shellers. Dale also has a 30x52 building for young stock and the farm's dairy barn houses Dale's dairy operation.

Between 400 and 500 blue spruce trees have been planted at the Donald Rupprecht farm over the years and some tree planting has also been done at the Roger Rupprecht farm. There are two stock ponds on the farm but one is used primarily for wildlife. The brothers have installed about six miles of field drainage ditches on their own property and additional mileage on land they rent. Two drainage control structures to lower water to a drainage course while controlling erosion have been installed on Branch 1 of JD 20 and on Ditch 30.

The Rupprechts do some soil testing but are not heavy on use of commercial fertilizer. They rotate their grain and row crops with alfalfa hay or pasture. About 200 acres of hayland are in their program annually.

The Rupprecht farm in one of the early entries in the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district and has been a part of that association for nearly 30 years. Otto Rupprecht was also a grower of certified seed and a member of the Marshall and Pennington crop improvement associations.

Part of the early Rupprecht home is built into the Donald Rupprecht modern house. It will remain a part of the history and legacy of the farm.

AYRSHIRE CATTLE make up the dairy herd of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rupprecht of rural Thief River Falls. Dale and his brother Daryl are the fourth generation of Rupprechts on the farm homesteaded by their great grandfather, Adolph Rupprecht. Dale and Mona are shown with their son Chase and one of the top cows in their registered herd. Dale purchased the 11-year-old cow which will be featured on the cover of the Ayrshire breed publication and plans to use her to provide embryos for transplant. Rupprecht Farms was winner of the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district conservation farmer of the year award.

CAKE BAKER Margaret Rupprecht has her own shop at the Donald Rupprecht farm home northeast of Thief River Falls in Agdar township of Pennington county. She has held a license as a retail baker since 1980 and does baking of rolls and cookies as well as baking and decorating cakes, although cakes take precedence. Rupprecht Farms won conservation farmer of the year honors from the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district.

Nething moved, Wayne seconded, to approve the December meeting agenda. Carried.

Minutes of the November 17, 1986, regular meeting were accepted as mailed.

Parnow moved, Vigen seconded, to accept the December computer checks No. 6860-6926, handpayable checks No. 6683-6699, and November extra payroll for payment. Carried. (See Reports No. 3.11-3.13 attached to the Official Board Minutes.)

Superintendent Langan reviewed revenue, expenditure budgets, and cash flow report. (See Reports No. 3.21-3.23 attached to the Official Board Minutes.)

Hanson recommended a thank you note be sent to the G.E.A. for the Christmas party, with special thanks to Julie Kiesow, Audrey Rogalla, and John Rehn for their efforts toward a successful event.

Superintendent Langan reviewed scheduling concerns in Algebra I and Algebra II and informed the board that Mr. Henrickson and faculty were working on alternative mathematics courses for students finding difficulty with algebra.

Mr. Henrickson reviewed Mr. Stock's counceling activities and expressed that Mr. Stock was completing counselling sessions with juniors and seniors. Students and parents have responded well to Mr. Stock and find the sessions worthwhile, according to Mr. Henrickson.

A Meet and Confer session with the G.E.A. and board members was scheduled for January 7, 1987, 7:30-9:00 P.M. Purpose of the session is to obtain a greater understanding and involvement in the district's budgeting process.

Trustee reports and comments were given by Hanson, NW ECSU; Vigen, NW Vocational center school; Nething, NW RIC.

Kotrba moved, Wayne seconded, to approve the G.E.A. recommendations acknowledging the following students of the month: Rhoda Hruby (K-6), Cally Wilson (7-9), Betty Jo Kiesow (10-12). Carried.

Kotrba moved, Wayne seconded, to acknowledge Rob Brown, industrial education; Elva Fiedler, Grade 3; Ruth Sackett, Grade 2; Helen Davidson, special education; Duane Howard, Grade 5 and 6 and Title I director; and Linda Peterson, Kindergarten; for their professional competence, and personal caring, in the delivery of educational services to the students of the Goodridge school district. Carried.

Superintendent Langan informed the board that the district's performance based education, Phase I application, in cooperation with Oklee, Plummer, Erskine, McIntosh-Winger, and Fosston, has been approved by the State Board of Education.

Vigen moved, Nething seconded, to direct the administration to evaluate all programs in terms of possible reduction for the 1987-1988 school year. Carried. (See complete formal resolution No. 9.3 attached to Official Board Minutes.)

The Board directed the superintendent to review central office positions in terms of specific tasks and time on task and present a report to the board at the earliest practical time.

Mr. Henrickson reported on the proposed "positive reward" activity as part of the district's assertive discipline program. He also informed the board of the upcoming band trip to the Chester Fritz, and Project 120 and Senate Page program. It was determined that the district would make all efforts to encourage and support student involvement in these programs.

Superintendent Langan reported on MSBA school finance meeting, "Rural America in Transition" meeting at the Humphrey Institute, proposed teacher licensing and testing program and proposed State Dept. of Education staff reduction through pairing program. Appliance replacement report was also presented using data put together by Mrs. Peters, home economics teacher. The board commended Mrs. Peters for her effort and directed the superintendent to develop the most cost effective method for appliance replacement.

The next regular meeting was scheduled for 1:00 to 3:00 P.M., Wednesday, January 14, 1987.

Meeting adjourned at 3:45.

Spuds Collect First-Ever Hockey Win Over Prowlers, 2-1

Moorhead players, coaches and fans celebrated enthusiastically Saturday night following the Spuds' first-ever high school hockey win over Thief River Falls, a 2-1 Section 8 decision in a filled-to-capacity Moorhead Sports Arena.

Thief River Falls owned a 23-0-1 record against Moorhead going into the game, dating back to a post-season meeting in 1970. There were several years of just single meetings until a home-and-home series was established beginning in 1980-81. The Spuds came up with a 6-6 overtime tie in a 1979-80 match-up, but even last year when Moorhead was a Section 8 tournament finalist for the first time and Thief River Falls wasn't even in the eight-team quarterfinal field at the Sports Arena here, the Spuds still couldn't come up with a win over the Prowlers, losing a pair of overtime games — 4-3 and 3-2.

That Thief River Falls hold on Moorhead could have easily continued Saturday, but the snake-bitten Prowlers weren't able to capitalize on a number of excellent scoring opportunities, especially in the first period, and again in the third period. The failure to convert scoring opportunities into goals has plaqued the Prowlers all year, and is one of the reasons why they're looking at a 3-6 record.

"I felt for two periods we were the better hockey team," said Thief River Falls coach Wendell Grand after the Prowlers' third one-goal loss of the year. "Unfortunately, the scoreboard doesn't indicate it."

Thief River Falls controlled play at the start, out-shooting Moorhead 14-7 in the first 15 minutes, but looked at a 1-0 deficit at the first intermission when the Spuds' Scott Petitt put a Chad Sundem feed in front past Thief River Falls goalie Shayne Anderson on a Moorhead power play at 8:25.

Moorhead took the play away from Thief River Falls in the second period and quieted a large group of Prowler fans on hand by grabbing a 2-0 lead on Brad Anderson's goal at 9:29. The Spuds' Bill Nelson won a face-off to the left of the Thief River Falls net, sending the puck to the far point where a clear shot awaited the Moorhead defenseman, who hit the upper corner with a rocket.

Missing those first period scoring opportunities might have produced the second period letdown for the frustrated Prowlers, admitted Grand. "It starts to get to you," he said. "I was worried about that going into the third period too, but I thought we played a pretty good third period of hockey."

Thief River Falls cut the gap to 2-1 at 6:24 when Scott Novak shoved the puck through goalie Scott Shercliffe's skates. The puck just made it across the goalie line, but certainly made it interesting down the stretch.

The Prowlers tried to get the equalizer, but again ran into the tough-luck situation, especially with 2½ minutes to go when forward Chris Solheim, standing at the door step, had a wide open net in front of him on a rebound. But the puck took a bounce over his stick, and the scoring opportunity was lost.

Thief River Falls visits Crookston Tuesday and will host Fargo South Saturday in 7:30 p.m. games.

Scoring

First period — Moorhead, Scott Petitt (Chad Sundem), 8:25.

Second period — Moorhead, Brad Anderson (Bill Nelson), 9:29.

Third period — TRF, Scott Novak (un.), 6:24.

Goalie saves — TRF, Shayne Anderson 6-10-7, 23; Moorhead, Scott Shercliffe 14-3-12, 29.

MOORHEAD FORWARD Dave Prokop was slowed down by Thief River Falls defenseman Jason Lee as he went after a loose puck during Saturday's high school hockey game in Moorhead. Thief River Falls defenseman Bill Dicken and Moorhead forward Chad Lau are also pictured. The Spuds won the Section 8 match-up 2-1.

Pirates Edge Prowlers

Crookston's Cory Sondrol hit a 15-foot shot at the final buzzer Friday to lift the host Pirates past Thief River Falls 52-51 in an exciting boys high school basketball match-up.

Thief River Falls' Chris Nelson connected on a field goal try with just six seconds remaining to put the Prowlers ahead 51-50 in the see-saw contest.

Crookston hurried the ball downcourt, though, and got off a shot. It was off the mark, but the rebound was tipped out to Sondrol, who converted it into the game-winning shot as the horn sounded.

"It was a good high school basketball game," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Tom Hunt. "Both teams played hard. We got off to a slow start, but our kids came back and played a solid second half of basketball."

Crookston jumped out to a 15-8 first quarter lead and carried a 26-21 lead into halftime. Thief River Falls cut the difference to 38-37 at the end of the third quarter.

It was just the third loss for the Prowlers in nine starts, and their first loss to a Class A team.

Nelson had an outstanding 26-point, 10-rebound night for the Prowlers, but he was their only double figure scorer. Thief River Falls lost the services of starting guard Chris Bjorgaard in the second quarter to an ankle injury, a problem that has plagued him since a January 3 game at Bemidji. He left the game without scoring a point, and Hunt says he may be sidelined up to two weeks.

"We won't rush him (Bjorgaard)," said Hunt. "Injuries are part of the game. It's a long season yet, we're going to make sure he's completely healthy before we put him back in the line-up. This will be an opportuniy for some of the other kids to show just what they can do for us."

Steele Senske led Crookston with 17 points. Ladd Knotek had 10.

Both teams shot well. Thief River Falls was 23-for-49 from the field (47 per cent) and Crookston was an even better 22-for-39 (56 per cent). The Prowlers went 5-for-10 at the free throw line, where the Pirates were 8-for-12. Thief River Falls had a 31-26 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 15-12.

TRF Girls Own 11-0 Record

A season-long winning streak reached 11 games Saturday when the Thief River Falls girls defeated Hallock-Kennedy 43-37 in high school basketball.

Thief River Falls posted a 14-10 first quarter lead, fell behind 21-20 at halftime, but regained the lead 33-31 in the third quarter.

"It was a very good ball game between two good teams," pointed out Thief Rver Falls coach Tom Schafer. Hallock-Kennedy has lost just two games this winter — both to the Prowlers, who beat them 48-35 in the finals of the Warren Invitational last month.

Brenda Russell scored 14 points and Kelly Cornell had 13 to lead the Thief River Falls offense, but it was the Prowlers' defense that decided the issue, said Schafer. A special defensive assignment was given to Cindy Kruta, who was given the task of stopping high-scoring Hallock-Kennedy standout Linda Noel. Kruta surrendered just one field goal to Noel, who was able to get off just eight shots and finished with nine points.

"Kruta did an excellent job on Noel," pointed out Schafer.

Kim Johnson led Hallock-Kennedy with 16 points.

Thief River Falls was 19-for-46 from the field (41 per cent) and 5-for-12 at the free throw line (42 per cent). Hallock-Kennedy was 16-for-44 from the field (36 per cent) and 5-for-11 at the line (45 per cent). The Prowlers had a 26-19 rebound edge, and also topped the turnover charts, 16-12.

The Prowlers played without starting forward Lisa Lillevold, a 5-10 senior sidelined because of a back problem. Schafer hopes to have her back in the line-up Thursday when the Prowlers host East Grand Forks. Rhonda Rthschadl, a 5-10 freshman, filled in for Lillevold.

Prowlers Win 3-1 At Hallock

Three rapid-fire goals in a 62-second span of the first period stood up for Thief River Falls Thursday as the visiting Prowlers defeated Hallock 3-1 in Section 8 high school hockey action.

Scott Novak scored two of the goals for the winners, opening the scoring at 8:16 and making it 2-0 at 9:08. Just 10 seconds later Rick Looker made it 3-0.

Hallock, out-shot 37-12 for the night, got the game's only other goal, an unassisted marker by Scott Maksymchuk at 1:40 of the second period.

It was just the second Thief River Falls win in six starts against Section 8 foes.

Scoring

First period — TRF, Scott Novak (un.), 8:16; TRF, Novak (Jim Brelland-Jeff Grand), 9:08; TRF, Rick Looker (un.) 9:18.

Second period — Hallock, Scott Maksymchuk (un.), 1:40.

Third period — none.

Goalie saves — TRF, Shayne Anderson 4-3-4, 11; Hallock, Shawn Stewart 11-14-9, 34.

Twins' Four Includes TRF Stop

Catcher Mark Salas and pitcher George Frazier of the Minnesota Twins will be in Thief River Falls Wednesday as part of the Twins' 1987 winter "Talkin' Baseball" tour of the Upper Midwest.

Northland, Hibbing Split Series

It didn't pay to score first during the Northland-Hibbing Minnesota Community College Conference weekend hockey series in Hibbing. The Pioneers jumped out to a 2-0 lead Friday night, but lost a 5-4 decision. The Cardinals were in the same position Saturday afternoon with a 2-0 headstart, but lost 4-3 in overtime.

The split left Northland at 8-3 for the year, 4-1 in the MCCC. The Pioneers host Rainy River in a conference-counting series this weekend, playing the Voyageurs Friday at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday at 1 p.m. in the Thief River Falls Sports Arena.

Northland coach Scott Bergland was far from satisfied with the split, or the Pioneers' weekend performance in Hibbing.

"Saturday we were out-played," said Bergland. Kurt Chaffee (freshman goalie from Fargo North) played very, very well. He basically won the game for us."

Friday's game was more even, pointed out Bergland, who wasn't very happy with the officiating that night when questionable calls gave Hibbing a goal and took one away from Northland. Bergland and the Pioneers figured the calls should have been just the opposite.

Disappointment in the Pioneers' play will produce a tough week of practice for his team, warned Bergland. "We're in for wholesale changes," he promised. "It's going to be an insane week of practice. Maybe they'll learn if they work hard in practice, they'll work hard in a game."

Hibbing . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 5
Northland . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 4

Darrin Abernathy gave Northland a 1-0 lead just 14 seconds into Friday's series opener, and it was 2-0 when Eric Anderson scored at 6:19.

But Hibbing had a 2-2 tie before the first period ended, went ahead 4-2 in the second period and finished with a 5-4 win.

Northland pulled within 4-3 on a Troy Miller goal at 13:17 of the second period, but the Cardinals' Rich Bryant scored his second goal of the night at 16:59 for a 5-3 cushion.

Al Eirckson made it close at the end with a goal at 18:27 for the Pioneers.

Scoring

First period — NCC, Darrin Abernathy (Jim Speidel-Bill Desrocher), :14; NCC, Eric Anderson (Lee Hamre-Russ Cagnoni), 6:19; HCC, Joe Hodge (un.), 11:07; HCC, Rich Bryant (Brian Rice-Tom Bergland), 12:57.

Second period — HCC, Mike Sanborn (un.), 4:00; HCC, Keith Jarvala (Pete Wohlers), 11:24.

Third period — NCC, Troy Miller (Abernathy-Speidel), 13:17; HCC, Bryant (Tim Derkson-Jarvala), 16:59; NCC, Al Erickson (Steve Wiskow-Joe Blankenfeld), 18:27.

Goalie saves — NCC, Dean Hanson 16-14-8, 38; HCC, Olson 10-14-13, 37.

Hibbing . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 3

Hibbing bottled up the Northland attack most of the weekend with an aggressive forechecking game, but the Cardinals' habit of sending five men into the offensive zone finally wound up costing them when Northland's Troy Miller scored on a breakaway at 2:34 of overtime for the Pioneers' 4-3 Saturday afternoon victory.

It was the second breakaway opportunity in overtime for the winners. Joe Blankenfeld missed a similar shot 40 seconds earlier.

This time it was Hibbing opening up a 2-0 first period lead in the game's first 4½ minutes.

Northland made it 2-1 in the second period on a Tony Hagen goal, then tied it at 4:05 of the third period on a goal by Jim Speidel.

Hibbing's Rich Bryant had his second two-goal game of the weekend to put the Cardinals ahead 3-2 at 16:55, but Blankenfeld forced overtime when he got the equalizer at 18:58.

Scoring

First period — HCC, Tim Derkson (Rich Bryant), 2:02; HCC, Bryant (Pete Wohlers), 4:36.

Second period — NCC, Tony Hagen (Steve Wiskow), 12:32.

Third period — NCC, Jim Speidel (Steve Ristau-Bryan Nelson), 4:05; HCC, Bryant (Derkson), 16:55; NCC, Joe Blankenfeld (Bill Desrocher), 18:58.

Overtime — NCC, Troy Miller (un.), 2:34.

Goalie saves — NCC, Kurt Chaffee 13-14-16-1, 44; HCC, Olson 9-9-12-3, 33.

Pioneers Host Air Base

Northland Community College men's basketball team has a final tune-up game tonight (Monday) against the Grand Forks Air Force Base — 7:30 p.m. in the Northland gym — before the Pioneers begin their 1986-87 Minnesota Community College Conference schedule this weekend at Rainy River and Hibbing.

And judging from the results of a 100-82 Saturday night loss to NDSU-Bottineau, Northland can use the work. It was the Pioneers' first outing since December 19, and it showed, according to Northland coach Chet Engelman. Both sides showed the effects of a long holiday lay-off, and the officiating wasn't too good, either, he said.

"The game left a lot to be desired," Engelman stated. "We have to play a lot better than we did Saturday to get ready to play conference games."

Bottineau trailed 15-14 with 10½ minutes left in the first half, but ran off a string of nine straight points and went on to a 53-34 halftime lead. Northland never seriously threatened that lead after intermission.

Northland, now 4-5 for the year, shot only 38 per cent from the field (33-for-87). The Pioneers were 12-for-22 at the free throw line (55 per cent). Bottineau shot 43 per cent from the field (35-for-81) and was a busy 25-for-38 at the line (66 per cent). Northland had a 61-57 rebound edge.

Thief River Falls Boys Are Providing Entertaining Basketball Action

Mike Lundgren Sports Editor

Thief River Falls head coach Tom Hunt promised before the start of the 1986-87 season that his Prowlers would play some entertaining basketball this winter. The Thief River Falls boys, he said, would be fun to watch.

So far, the Prowlers have lived up to those promises. They've played some good basketball, and have certainly provided the entertainment, especially at home where four of their six games have been decided by five points or less.

The Prowlers are 5-1 at home. They opened with a narrow 66-64 victory over Kennedy, routed Roseau 80-41, then won three games for championship honors in their Christmas Classic, beating Middle River 71-44, Hallock 58-53 and Kennedy 52-48.

Last Tuesday Detroit Lakes snapped Thief River Falls' five-game home court winning streak with a 67-62 victory in a match-up of North Sub-Region 8AA teams.

It was a good high school basketball game between two evenly-matched teams. "Thief River Falls is a very good basketball team and it's not easy to play them on their home floor," Detroit Lakes coach John Erickson told Ralph Anderson of the Detroit Lakes Tribune. "They (Prowlers) aren't going to lose many ball games this season. I felt it was a well-played game by both teams. Thief River Falls is a hard place to win, and this victory came in the most important game of the season for us up to this point."

Detroit Lakes went home with a 6-0 record, getting 21 points from guard James Landsem and 20 points from center Paul Nickolauson, the 6-8 junior who is the biggest player in Detroit Lakes basketball history, pointed out Anderson. He played his best game ever, said Erickson, hauling down 15 rebounds to go along with his 20 points.

Incidently, the junior varsity game that night featured two unbeaten teams, with the Thief River Falls junior varsity winning 50-41 for a 5-0 record, ending Detroit Lakes' five-game win streak.

Thief River Falls will host Marshall County Central Tuesday and East Grand Forks Friday in what could be a couple more close, entertaining games. The Nordics and Green Wave have two of the top Class A basketball programs in the area.

Marshall County Central participated in the Thief River Falls Christmas Classic, but did not meet the Prowlers, losing to Hallock 57-54, beating Middle River 57-44 and losing to Fertile-Beltrami 51-42 in the consolation championship.

Marshall County Central has a string of four straight wins over Thief River Falls. The Nordics beat the Prowlers 42-36 last winter in Newfolden and won a pair of games in Thief River Falls in 1984-85, including a 64-43 victory over the Prowlers in the Holiday Classic and a 59-50 triumph in a regularly-scheduled meeting. Marshall County Central also beat Thief River Falls 42-40 in a 1983-84 regular season match-up after the Prowlers edged the Nordics 47-45 in a Christmas Classic meeting.

TRF Girls Meet EGF

Another interesting basketball game will take place Thursday in the Lincoln High School gym when the unbeaten Thief River Falls girls host East Grand Forks.

The Green Wave had a runner-up finish at the 1986 Minnesota Class A state tournament, and they've given the Prowlers their toughest game to date when Thief River Falls came out a 56-54 overtime winner when they met in the Warren Invitational semifinals back on December 19.

Thief River Falls is a surprising 11-0 for the year. The Prowlers haven't always played perfect basketball, but coach Tom Schafer's team seems to get the job done. The Prowlers haven't dominated people, but they've established themselves as the favorite in North Sub-Region 8AA with their season-opening streak.

+It's early in the 1986-87 Minnesota Community College Conference schedule, but the MCCC hockey race may go down to a regular season-ending weekend series between Northland and Mesabi February 6 and 7 at the Thief River Falls Sports Arena. Mesabi proved itself to be the MCCC leader on the Iron Range by starting the year 5-1, including a 6-2 victory over Hibbing last week. Northland, meanwhile, has racked up enough early-season wins to be considered a legitimate MCCC title contender on this side of the state. Northland has a weekend series against Rainy River Friday and Saturday at the Sports Arena. The Pioneers stopped the Voyaguers 8-3, 5-1 in a December 20-21 nonconference series at International Falls. Going into last weekend's action, Mesabi was 5-1-0 in the MCCC for 10 points, followed by Fergus Falls 4-2-1, 9; University of Minnesota-Crookston 4-1-0, 8; Northland 3-0-0, 6; Itasca 3-1-0, 6; Hibbing 3-2-0, 4; Rainy River 1-3-1, 3; Vermilion 0-5-0, 0; Brainerd 0-6-0, 0.

Plummer Girls Lose First Game

Plummer girls lost their first game of the 1986-87 high school basketball season, along with the Polar Conference lead, Thursday when the Cardinals dropped a 48-40 contest at Oslo.

It was a rematch of two teams who put unbeaten records on the line in the finals of the December 19-20 Plummer Invitational, a game the Cardinals won 59-58 in overtime. Thursday's game was the first outing since that title game victory for the Cardinals, now 7-1.

A slow start beat the Cardinals, who trailed 17-3 at the end of the first quarter and faced a 25-9 halftime deficit. Plummer was just 2-for-21 from the field and 5-for-17 at the free throw line in the first half.

"I've never been so disappointed in a first half in my whole life," reported Plummer coach Rick Koivisto. "Very disappointing."

It was 33-20 through three quarters. Plummer rallied, pulling even at 39-39 with 3:08 remaining, but the Cardinals never got the lead, and lost ground down the stretch.

Sonia Walski and Stacey Michalski had 16 and 14 points, respectively, for the winners. Junior Renae Walter had 13 points for the Cardinals, whose attack was hampered by an ankle injury that hobbled standout Robin Brantl.

Oslo had a shooting edge, going 17-for-54 from the field (31 per cent) and 14-for-28 at the free throw line (50 per cent). Plummer, meanwhile, was 14-for-55 from the field (25 per cent) and 12-for-31 at the line (39 per cent). The Cardinals did have a rebound advantage, 39-31.

Plummer hosts Oklee tonight (Monday).

Grygla . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 42
Badger . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 32

Grygla snapped a season-long five-game losing streak Thursday by winning 42-32 at Badger.

It was a come-from-behind effort for the Eagles, who trailed by as many as 10 points in the first quarter. Badger wound up with a 12-6 lead as the quarter ended and carried a 20-18 lead into intermission. Grygla went ahead 33-30 in the third quarter and out-scored the Rockets 9-2 over the final eight minutes, completing a 20-point swing on the scoreboard — from a 10-point deficit to a 10-point victory for the Eagles.

"We came out real slow," acknowledged Grygla coach Mike Gast. "We played poor the first quarter, but after that we did pretty well. We're just happy to get the win, that's all."

Nikki Lian scored 15 points, mostly from the outside, to lead the Eagles, and also contributed eight rebounds in a strong effort. Wendy Lawrence added 13 points and Alison Stanley helped lead Grygla to a 39-30 edge on the boards with 12 rebounds. Heather Meland scored 14 points to lead Badger.

Grygla shot 30 per cent from both the field and at the free throw line. The Eagles were 18-for-60 from the floor and struggled through a 6-for-20 night at the line. Badger was 13-for-48 from the field (27 per cent) and 6-for-12 at the line.

There are three games on the Grygla schedule this week. The Eagles visit Roseau tonight (Monday), drive to Warroad Thursday and host Lake of the Woods Saturday.

Middle River . . . . . . . . . . . . 51
Strandquist . . . . . . . . . . . . . 23

Middle River started slow, but the Skippers picked up momentum as the game wore on Thursday and beat host Strandquist 51-23.

The Skippers' offense struggled at the start, with Middle River going 4-for-20 from the field in the first half, even though the Skippers still came out of it with an 18-8 halftime lead. They broke it open with a 20-2 third quarter surge that produced a 38-10 scoreboard spread.

"We played much better in the second half," acknowledged Middle River coach Steve Larson. "Our defense played pretty well all night, and the third quarter was real good offensively."

Kerry Nelson led a balanced Middle River attack with 16 points, while Stacie Sparby had 14 and Rayette Benke 11. Larina Berggren led Strandquist with eight points.

In the shooting department Middle River was 19-for-60 from the field per cent) and 13-for-27 at the free throw line (48 per cent), while Strandquist was just 9-for-41 from the field (22 per cent) and 5-for-11 at the line (45 per cent).

Middle River is 6-3 for the year. The Skippers host Warroad Monday and entertain Marshall County Central Thursday.

Jodi Foss scored 22 points Thursday to lead Marshall County Central past Lake of the Woods 58-36 in a North Border Conference match-up at Baudette.

It wasn't a particularly impressive outing for the 5-1 Nordics, admitted Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde, who figured a long holiday lay-off and the long bus trip may have been factors in his team's performance.

"We started really slow," explained Mjelde, "but I think the 2½-hour bus ride had something to do with that. We missed a lot of shots and missed a lot of free throws."

Marshall County Central still had leads at every quarter stop, though, 14-6, 26-17 and 38-25.

Kelli Anderson joined Foss in double figures with 12 points. Cindy Wangerud led Lake of the Woods with 16 points, and Kathy Mans had 13.

Marshall County Central was 28-for-58 from the field (41 per cent) but just 4-for-20 at the free throw line (20 per cent). Lake of the Woods went 16-for-56 from the field (28 per cent) and 4-for-13 at the line (31 per cent). The Nordics had a 28-20 rebound edge and the Bears had more turnovers, 19-14.

The Nordics were scheduled to visit Greenbush tonight (Monday). They drive to Middle River Thursday for a key North Border Conference match-up.

Skippers Lose Fifth Straight

Middle River boys saw their losing streak extended to five games Friday following a 58-35 boys high school basketball loss to Warroad.

Warroad trailed 7-4 early in the game and looked to be in trouble when 6-6 Tim Fast ran into quick foul trouble. But the Warriors' smaller players picked up the slack, produced an 11-7 lead before the first quarter ended, raced to a 30-13 halftime advantage and opened up a 45-22 third quarter spread.

Lance Sage scored a game-high 23 points for the visitors, and Harold Wennherstrand had 10. Tom Gullikson had a 14-point, 13-rebound game for the Skippers, who struggled through a 15-for-69 shooting night (22 per cent). Middle River shot just 14 per cent in the first half.

"We had all kinds of shots, and I didn't think they were bad shots, either," explained Middle River coach Eldon Sparby, "but we just couldn't make any of them. I wasn't very pleased with our showing."

Warroad was 25-for-61 from the field (41 per cent). The Warriors weren't so great at the free throw line, though, where they went 7-for-22 (39 per cent). The Skippers were 5-for-11 at the line (45 per cent). Warroad had a 47-39 rebound advantage and Middle River topped the turnover charts 19-18.

Injuries to Larry Korpi and Brent Peterson didn't help matters any, pointed out Sparby. The Skippers lost Korpi to a leg injury in a Tuesday game against Grygla and saw Peterson leave the Warroad game with an ankle injury.

Middle River, 3-6, will be at Badger Tuesday.

Oslo . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 71
Goodridge . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 42

Goodridge watched its record fall to 1-7 Friday with a 71-42 loss at Oslo.

"They dominated us in every phase of the game," pointed out Goodridge coach John Rahn. "It was a very disappointing way to start the new year."

It was the first game for the Skippers since December 19. They host Oklee Tuesday.

Oslo had quarter leads of 14-9, 33-24 and 48-36, then broke it open with a 23-6 fourth quarter burst.

Chad Korynta led the Bobcats with 15 points. Shawn Groven scored 20 points to lead Goodridge.

Oslo shot 54 per cent from the field (32-for-59, while Goodridge shot only 30 per cent (16-for-54). The Bobcats were just 7-for-20 at the free throw line, however, while the Huskies were 10-for-19.

Plummer . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 34

Plummer's normally strong offense was shut down by Gonvick-Trail's defense Friday night as the host Cardinals lost a 49-34 decision.

"We played an excellent team who played tough defense," pointed out Plummer coach Jim Baron. "Our shot selection was the worst we've had all year, but that was mostly due to their (Gonvick-Trail) defense."

Plummer shot just 21 per cent from the field for the night (12-for-57). Gonvick-Trail wasn't much better, tough, in going 17-for-53 (32 per cent).

The Bulldogs jumped out to a 13-4 first quarter lead, had a 25-11 halftime cushion and maintained a 33-17 third quarter spread.

Kerry Hopperstad led a balanced Gonvick-Trail attack with 13 points. Wade Grinde had a game-high 18 points for the Cardinals.

Plummer was 10-for-15 at the free throw line, where Gonvick-Trail was 15-for-27. The Bulldogs had a 38-28 rebound advantage and the turnovers were even at 14-apiece.

It was just the second loss in seven starts for the Cardinals, who host Red Lake Falls Tuesday.

Marshall County Central went above the .500 mark Friday with a 64-28 win at Badger, putting the Nordics at 4-3 for the year. They visit Thief River Falls Tuesday.

"Defensively we played really well," reported Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We didn't make many mistakes. We played with good intensity."

Marshall County Central had quarter leads of 17-5, 29-15 and 37-19 before really breaking it open with a 27-8 fourth quarter run.

"Offensively we played well, but in the middle two quarters we shot poorly," explained Ueland.

Darin Rokke led the Nordics with 18 points. Danni Halvorson had 13 and Lee Pemberton 12. No Badger player reached double figures.

Marshall County Central was 28-for-68 from the field (41 per cent) and 8-for-12 at the free throw line (67 per cent). Badger was 13-for-36 from the field (36 per cent) and 2-for-8 at the line (25 per cent). The Nordics had a 37-23 rebound edge, which included 23 offensive boards, and Badger had more turnovers, 33-10.

TRF Girls Defeat Crookston 48-44

A sign of a good team: you win even when you don't play well.

That was the case for the Thief River Falls girls Thursday as the Prowlers struggled, but won a 48-44 high school basketball game at Crookston.

"We didn't look sharp," admitted Thief River Falls coach Tom Schafer. "We were sluggish. It wasn't a good ball game for us."

But it was a win — the tenth straight for the unbeaten Prowlers, who doubled Crookston 12-6 in the first quarter, carried a 22-17 lead into halftime, but fell behind 34-32 in the third quarter. The Pirates had a three-point fourth quarter lead, but the Prowlers made some key free throws down the stretch to pull out the win.

"We didn't panic when we fell behind," pointed out Schafer. "We had 9-10 point leads in the first half, but we missed a lot of shots that were in-and-out. We could have very easily put the game away if those would have dropped for us."

Crookston, after going 1-for-16 from the field in the first quarter, made a game of it after the Pirates found their shooting touch in the middle stanzas when they were 13-for-23 during the second and third quarters.

A Thief River Falls defensive switch to a man-to-man took some of the Crookston offense away in the fourth quarter when the Prowlers' 6-for-10 free throw shooting decided the issue. Both sides had five fourth quarter field goals, but Crookston was 0-for-5 at the line.

Guard Kelly Cornell led a balanced Thief River Falls attack with 14 points. Center Laura Beito had a 12-point, 11-rebound night and guard Brenda Russell contributed 11 points. Lisa Rodela, a 5-9 senior, led Crookston with 16 points. Trenny Senske had 10.

Thief River Falls was 20-for-57 from the field for the game (35 per cent) and 8-for-14 at the free throw line (57 per cent). Crookston was 19-for-51 from the field (37 per cent) and 6-for-15 at the line (40 per cent). The Prowlers had a 28-25 rebound edge and the Pirates had more free throws, 18-14.

Crookston won the preliminary games, taking a 34-32 decision in the junior varsity match-up and winning a 55-46 freshman contest. Monica Haapoja scored 16 points and Alice Dunning had 14 for the Thief River Falls freshmen, who lost for the sixth straight time. The Thief River Falls junior varsity fell to 4-3.

NCC Women Lose To Strong Teams

Their nonconference record is taking a beating, but Northland Community College women's basketball coach Tom Neibauer is hoping the Pioneers will benefit from their toughest non-league schedule in history when they begin Minnesota Community College Conference play later this week.

Northland's record dipped to 4-5 over the weekend when the Pioneers were dealt a pair of losses while participating in the Wahpeton Science Invitational. The Pioneers fell to NDSU-Bottineau 77-68 Friday in the opening round semifinals and lost to the Northern State junior varsity 75-62 in Saturday's third place game.

And it won't get any easier this week. Strongest squad in the four-team tournament, said Neibauer, was host Wahpeton — Northland's final nonconference opponent Wednesday night (7 p.m. Northland gym) before the Pioneers open MCCC play with games Friday at Rainy River and Saturday at Hibbing.

"We can see the improvement we've made facing these tough teams," noted Neibauer. "Hopefully it'll pay off when we start playing conference games."

Wahpeton is ranked No. 2 in the latest Region 13 ratings.

Bottineau . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 77
Northland . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 58

NDSU-Bottineau's height kept Northland from getting inside and the Pioneers weren't hitting from the outside, resulting in a 77-58 Friday night tournament loss.

Northland trailed 40-27 at halftime.

Janelle Lorsung led the Pioneers with 21 points, while Angie Enerson had 13. Pam Zacher led NDSU-Bottineau with 24 points.

Northland wound up 25-for-62 for the game from the field (40 per cent) and 8-for-17 at the free throw line (47 per cent). NDSU-Bottineau went 37-for-78 from the field (48 per cent) and 7-for-18 at the line (39 per cent).

Northern State JV . . . . . . . . 75
Northland . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 62

Northland stayed with a tall Northern State junior varsity team most of the way, but lost ground at the end in losing 75-62 Saturday.

Northern State, featuring two 6-2 players and another one standing at the six-foot mark, led only 33-31 at halftime and had just a four-point lead with four minutes left in the game.

But Northland's Becky Knutson, fouled out at that point and the Pioneers turned the ball over on three of their next four possessions to fall farther behind.

Only four Northland players scored, led by Janelle Lorsung with 24 points. Angie Enerson and Jody Pahlen both had 17. Tana Nygaard led a balanced Northern State attack with 19 points.

Northland was 27-for-63 from the field (43 per cent) and 8-for-14 at the free throw line (57 per cent). Northern State was 9-for-18 at the line.

Football Meeting

A winter meeting of the Thief River Falls Touchdown Club will be held tonight (Monday) at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln High School Cafeteria.

Parents of Thief River Falls football players in all grades, and others interested in the Thief River Falls football program, are urged to attend the meeting.

Election of officers will be held, along with discussion of fund-raising activities.

TRF Basketball JV Remains Unbeaten

Trailing by 15 points in the fourth quarter, the Thief River Falls junior varsity boys high school basketball team rallied to beat Crookston 50-49 Friday to stretch its season-long winning streak to six games.

Crookston led at the quarter stops 9-6, 31-27 and 47-32, but Thief River Falls out-scored the host team 18-2 over the final eight minutes.

Dean DuChamp scored 12 points and Ryan Walseth had 11 for the winners.

TRF Freshmen Boys Beat Grafton 68-53

Thief River Falls out-scored Grafton 18-8 in the third quarter to break open a close game en route to a 68-53 boys freshmen high school basketball win over visiting Grafton Thursday.

It was a 13-13 tie at the end of the first quarter and a 29-29 draw at halftime before Thief River Falls went ahead 47-37 in the third quarter.

Jason Kempert scored 19 points and Kurt Kainz had 16 for the winners, who improved their record to 3-4.

Thief River Falls visits Grand Forks South Junior High Tuesday.

Hockey JV Splits Pair Of Decisions

Thief River Falls junior varsity high school hockey team carries a 2-5-1 record following a 6-2 win at Hallock Thursday and a 5-3 loss at Moorhead Saturday.

Rob Colton, Chad Numedahl and Hunter Boldt gave Thief River Falls a 3-1 first period lead against Moorhead, but it was a 3-3 hockey game after two periods and the winners scored two goals in a 1½-minute span midway through the third period for the come-from-behind victory.

No scoring figures were available from the Thief River Falls-Hallock game.

Swimmers Host Fosston, Bemidji

A pair of home meets at the Franklin Middle School pool awaits the Thief River Falls boys high school swimming team this week. The Prowlers, who beat Park Rapids 103-68 in a Friday night dual in the Panthers' pool, are scheduled to host Fosston today (Monday) and will entertain Bemidji Friday.

Both meets start at 5 p.m.

In beating Park Rapids, the Prowlers, who began the year with a pair of multiple-team event outings, climbed to 2-0 in dual meet competition.

"The boys turned in an excellent performance," reported Thief River Falls coach Jay Forney. "At this point of the season, we're very excited about their times. If they continue to improve, I think we'll have a very successful season."

There were 12 career-best and 16 season-best performances turned in by the Prowlers against the Panthers. Section 8 qualifying standards were meet by Joe Drevlow (200 I.M.), Paul Glauque (100 butterfly), Greg Dosser (100 freestyle) and Keith Olson (500 freestyle). Forney said good efforts were also turned in by Todd Carlson, Dave Novak and Aaron Tofte.

LHS Has New Phy-Ed Program

A new physical fitness testing program for Lincoln High School freshmen and sophomores was implemented this fall, and four students — all girls — reached the qualifying point total level to earn status as the first Blue and Gold Club members.

Sophomores Tammy Beito and Launi Young, along with freshmen Cheri Bjorgaard and Jane Johnson were the only phy-ed class students reaching the point level to be named to the club. Testing will be done each fall and spring by Lincoln phy-ed instructors Jeff Mumm, Glen Peters, Helen Anderson and Jodi Bendickson.

Girls are tested in the 600-yard run, 50-yard dash, shuttle run, standing broad jump and sit-ups. Boys do those drills, plus pull-ups.

Points are awarded for place finishes in each event — 100 points for first place, 80 for second, 60 for third, 50 for fourth and 30 for fifth. Girls must accumulate at least 300 points in their six events to earn Blue and Gold Club status, while boys must total at least 400 points in their seven events to receive the honor.

Outdoor News

A Roadside for Wildlife curriculum designed for junior high and high school students in southern and western Minnesota is ready for distribution. The project was prepared by the Minnesota Environmental Science Foundation and funded by sales of the Pheasant Habitat Stamp.

Curriculum activities are intended to increase roadside wildlife awareness, encourage field investigations of roadside ecology and help explore environmental attitudes.

Teachers, school administrators, and FFA and 4-H leaders can obtain a curriculum packet by sending $1 for postage to Pioneerland REEC, DNR Building, 500 Lafayette Rd., St. Paul, MN 55155-4005.

Bluebird Population Up

Reproduction of bluebirds in Minnesota nest boxes set a record in 1986. According to Nongame Wildlife Program officials in the Department of Natural Resources, 418 citizen volunteers hatched and raised 10,480 young bluebirds.

Minnesota bluebird populations had declined dramatically in the last 40 years primarily because of competition from English sparrows and European starlings.

For the past five years, the Nongame Wildlife Program and the Audubon Chapter of Minneapolis have cooperated to restore the colorful eastern bluebird to abundance in Minnesota. Donations to the Nongame Wildlife Checkoff have been used to produce a slide-tape program, poster and workshops on how to help bluebirds.

"The strategy is working," said Carrol Henderson, Nongame Wildlife Program supervisor. "In the last three years, the number of young bluebirds produced has grown from 4,282 in 1984, to 6,803 in 1985, and now 10,430 in 1986."

Reproduction success is a result of the bluebird houses promoted by the Nongame Wildlife Program. Bluebirds normally nest in tree cavities, but most available spots are taken by the more agressive sparrows and starlings. Bluebirds are more successful when they nest in bluebird houses that are maintained by owners who prevent nest box use by sparrows and starlings.

Citizens who wish to join this statewide effort to bring back the bluebird can help in two ways. They can donate to the Nongame Wildlife Checkoff on their state income tax and property tax forms. They can write to the Audubon Chapter of Minneapolis, P.O. Box 566, Minneapolis, MN 55440. Audubon provides information on the 1987 bluebird recovery effort and on what materials are available on bluebirds.

Among the successful conservationists who raised more than a hundred bluebirds in 1986 were William and Marlys Thomas of New Hope, Dean and Elaine Elmer of Evansville, Dave Fiedler of Buffalo, Jerry Bonkowski of Byron, Dennis Barron of Henning, Lewis Struthers of Parkers Prairie, Richard Peterson of Brooklyn Center, Robert A. Smith of Shakopee, and Joseph and Lavern Urbanick of Alexandria.

Moose Workshop

Twenty-third annual North American Moose Conference and Workshop will be held April 6-10 at the Radisson Hotel in Duluth. The conference, which presents developments in moose research and management, is co-sponsored by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, the University of Minnesota, the Superior National Forest and North Central Forest Experiment Station.

Additional details and registration information can be directed to Patrick D. Karns, Minnesota DNR, 500 Lafayette Rd., St. Paul, MN 55155-4025; telephone (612) 296-2835.

Women In Natural Resources

Midwest regional conference on Women in Natural Resources, entitled, "Moving Toward the 90's," will be held April 21-23 at the Holiday Inn East in St. Paul. The seminar will explore topics such as recruiting women into the natural resources field, keeping women natural-resource professionals, developing leadership skills and dealing with sexual harassment. The seminar will also cover issues facing women, such as dual-careers and parenting.

Conference sponsors are the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, University of Minnesota College of Forestry, University of Wisconsin — Stevens Point College of Natural Resources, the U.S. Forest Service North Central Forest Experiment Station, the Minnesota Society of American Foresters and the Michigan Society of American Foresters.

Area Waterfowl Report Given

(Editor's Note: this story, a waterfowl harvest and hunter use report for Elm Lake and Eckvoll Wildlife Management Areas for 1986, was submitted by Gordon Forester, Area Wildlife Manager, Minnesota DNR).

Introduction

This year's report is divided into two sections: the Controlled Hunting Zone (CHZ) and the Uncontrolled Hunting Area (UHA). Because the Lost River Impoundment, which was a separate section of last year's report, was in drawdown this year. The small amount of data from that area was incorporated into the UHA section of this year's report.

The CHZ was established so that it would be as self-regulating as possible with a minimum of agency supervision. To accomplish this, 22 hunting stations were established 150 yards apart along a two mile stretch of boundary common to Elm Lake WMA and Agassiz NWR. A parking lot was constructed on the east end of the CHZ with 22 parking stalls. Both agencies felt that by limiting hunter entry and controlling hunter numbers, hunting pressure, hunter conflict and crippling loss would be reduced and a more quality hunt would result.

Data has been gathered since 1975 when the area was not regulated to the present; excluding 1976 when there was a much curtailed season. This year's report is divided into two sections the Controlled Hunting Zone, described above and the Uncontrolled Hunting Area which includes all of Eckvoll WMA south of judicial ditch 11 and that portion of Elm Lake WMA within approximately one half mile of ditch 200 including the LRP but excluding the CHZ.

Methods

Waterfowl bag checks were carried out at the Eckvoll campground, black bear campground, ditch 11 parking lot and ditch 194 parking lot on the Eckvoll WMA. Checks were also done in the CHZ parking lot, Elm Lake campground, spillway parking area, east gate parking area and control structure parking lot on Elm Lake WMA.

Bagchecks were carried out on seven days during the season. Because of personnel constraints and commitments to other projects not all areas were checked on those days. A total of 417 hunters were contacted.

Vehicle counts were made at all parking areas and along all roads in the WMAs. It was assumed that there were an average of 2.5 hunters per vehicle.

Data collected included county of residence; hours hunted; Canada and Snow geese bagged or shot and not retrieved; number and species of ducks bagged or shot and not retrieved; number of vehicles in parking lots. In addition culmen length, wing length, weight (undressed birds), tail feather length and sex by cloacal examination of Canada geese was collected; this information was used to determine sub-species.

Hunting pressure and harvest data were estrapolated to estimate totals for the first 17 days of the season in the CHZ October 4-October 20, the period of time in which the regulations for the CHZ were in effect. Estimates of season hunting pressure and harvest were made using the data collected on seven days of the season, four weekend days and three weekdays. Pressure was assumed to be similar to other days checked during each weekend or weekday period.

Same rationale was used to estimate hunting pressure and success in the UHA. Because of the drawdown this year the last hunting day was arbitrarily picked as the last day of the controlled hunt, October 20 also by this date all of the peripheral marshes had frozen over. The estimates of waterfowl harvest and hunting pressure for these areas was based on 17 days of hunting.

Results, Discussion

Estimate of 472 hunter days in the CHZ is down 34 per cent from 1985, and 34 per cent below the long term average. The decrease in hunting pressure from 1985 is most likely the result of the decreased number of geese in the vicinity. Fewer geese this year was probly related to the availability of food. Agassiz NWR has reduced their farming operation and as a result the geese depend more on private farm fields in the area. With the good weather this fall and fewer acres planted, harvest progressed very rapidly and only a small amount of stubble was available for waterfowl. Because thousands of acres were enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) and other lands in the vicinity of the management area were left idle because of the poor economy, there were fewer acres planted to winter wheat the major food resource when the stubble fields have been plowed.

Opening day hunter pressure on the CHZ was 13, 60 per cent less than a year ago and 57 per cent less than the long term average. Hunting pressure fluctuated widely with the weekend days high through October 19 and weekdays low. The harvest was down 35 per cent from 1985. The most successful days were October 5 and 12.

Estimate for the number of hunter days in the UHA is 1,061. A total of 298 hunters were contacted. The hunter days for the UHA was again greater than the CHZ, the total harvest was higher but the rate of success was very similar to the CHZ. Because all data was lumped together for the LRP area and the UHA it is impossible to accurately determine the drop in hunting pressure. In 1985 the combined data for LRP and UHA was 1,827 hunter use days compared to 1,061 days this year, a 42 per cent decline. The reported crippling loss was significantly greater in the CHZ, 30 per cent compared to 17 per cent in the UHA.

Hunting Success, Harvest

Goose harvest was down 35 per cent in the CHZ and 37 per cent in the UHA when comparing it with the combined data for the LRP and UHA last year. The estimated harvest for the CHZ was 86 geese for 17 days and in the UHA 139 for 17 days, for a total of 225. Direct comparisons are not possible with previous years because of the differences in bagcheck effort from year to year but in reviewing previous reports it appears that this year's goose harvest was slightly above the long term average.

Duck harvest in the UHA was higher than expected considering the hunting conditions. Hunters took just under a duck per day for the season. Mallards made up the largest share of the bag in the UHA, 45 per cent. This is similar to past years. The Number of Blue-wing teal shot this year was again very low comprising only 3 per cent of the harvest. In 1984 teal made up 46 per cent of the UHA duck harvest and 39 per cent in the Lost River Pool, the 1985 harvest made up only 2 per cent of the total in the UHA. Total duck harvest this year was estimated at 887 slightly higher (9 per cent) than 1985.

Conclusions

Duck season this year was a bust on the Elm Lake area because of the drawdown but over all I considered the duck season fair. Goose hunting was fair given the low number of birds in the area. Elm Lake and Eckvoll wildlife areas provided 1,533 hunter use days for the season, with an estimated harvest of 225 geese and 887 ducks. Mallards were the leading duck in the bag. The Teal harvest was very low again except for a few green-wings shot the opening weekend.

We need to have a better grasp of crippling loss on geese. I don't believe the responses I am getting from hunters in the UHA accurately reflect the actual number of geese crippled based on my own observations.

Recommendations

1. Continue the Controlled Hunt in its present form.
2. If manpower permits expand the bagcheck effort on Eckvoll unit.
3. Refine our methods for determining goose crippling loss.

9th Annual Nature Photo Contest To Take Entries Soon

Northwest regional library and the Agassiz regional environmental Council have announced plans to sponsor the eighth annual Northland nature photography contest.

"We will begin taking entries for the contest on March 2 and will continue to do so until May 16," stated Northwest regional library assistant director Heidi Hoks. "We invite everyone to participate.'

The contest includes a black and white division and a color division. Each division includes three categories: wildlife, scenic and environmental message. The wildlife category includes pictures which depict northern Minnesota wildlife in its natural habitat. The scenic category includes pictures which depict scenes from northern Minnesota.

The environmental category includes pictures showing man's impact on the environment either positive or negative, destructive or enhancing. Pictures in this final category could deal with soil erosion, food raising potential, man's farming practices and contamination of drinking water to name a few possibilities. While portraits will not be accepted, the environmental message category can include pictures of human beings.

Ribbons will be awarded to the top three photographs in each category. First place winners will also receive a book as their prize. One grand prize ribbon and $25 will be awarded to the best photograph of the contest.

Contest rules are as follows:

(1) All entries must be representative of northern Minnesota.

(2) Photographs must be no smaller than 5 x 7, and no larger than 16 x 20.

(3) Photographs previously submitted in this contest will not be accepted. Photos preferably should have been taken in this past year. Limit is three entries per category.

(4) Name of entrant must be printed on the back of the photograph as well as the category (wildlife, scenic, or environmental message) in which the photo is being entered. Also include on the back, information on how the picture was taken (lens and type of film, exposure, and type of camera) if at all possible.

(5) All entries must be received by May 16, 1987. Entries received after this date will be disqualified.

(6) Enrties, except for contest winners, may be picked up at the Northwest regional library after July 1, 1987. Entries not picked up by July 31 will be discarded. Contest winners may be picked up after they are exhibited in all counties that form the Northwest regional library system.

(7) Contest sponsors will not be responsible for the loss or damage of any entries submitted.

Contest rules and registration forms may be picked up at the Northwest regional library headquarters in Thief River Falls or at any of the branch libraries in Red Lake Falls, Greenbush, Roseau, Warroad, Warren, Hallock or the Bookmobile. All entries also may be turned in at any of the Northwest regional library facilities.

All photographs submitted will be displayed at the Northwest regional library headquarters. Winning photographs will also be displayed at all branch libraries.

Mrs. Minnesota Pageant Slated For March 15th

Search is still on to find a "Mrs. Minnesota" to represent all of Minnesota's wives in the Mrs. America pageant in Las Vegas, NV, in July. Jeanne Stoner, state director said that the "Mrs. Minnesota-America pageant" will be in Bloomington March 15.

Minnesota wives are invited to participate by contacting the state director at 6570 Pipewood Curve in Excelsior, Minnesota 55331, or by telephoning (612) 474-1554 for further details and applications.

Reigning "Mrs. Minnesota-America" is Grace Pridal of Taunton, who will crown the new winner.

Mrs. Hermansen Has Art Display At Roseau Library

Annette Hermansen, who lived in Thief River Falls for several years while her husband was an associate pastor at Trinity Lutheran church, will have some of her art work on display at the Roseau public library during January.

As artist of the month for January, Mrs. Hermansen will exhibit several seascapes, still life and landscape painting, photo college and one clay sculpture. Included is a large geographical abstract which the artist says "has symbolic meaning to our family".

A native of South Dakota, Mrs. Hermansen began art training while a freshman in college and graduated with a double major in English and art. She has lived in Roseau for the past 14 years where her husband, Lew, is pastor of Messiah Lutheran church.

Exhibits at the library are open during regular library hours from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each week day except Monday and during special hours on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

REGISTERED HEREFORDS are raised by Daryl Rupprecht from his 4-H club project animals. A student at the University of Minnesota-Crookston, he plans to earn a degree in animal science from North Dakota state university in Fargo. Daryl is a fourth generation Rupprecht to live on the family farm northeast of Thief River Falls. The farm was selected by the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district as conservation farm of the year.

4-H CLUB PROJECTS have earned several state fair trips for Karla (left) and Kristi Rupprecht while 11-year-old Kim is just getting a good start in the 4-H program. The older sisters show quilts which won awards in the child care project, including a state fair grand championship for Karla. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rupprecht of rural Thief River Falls. Rupprecht Farms won the conservation farmer of the year award from the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district.

Anthony Petterson Joins Farm Credit Services In TRF

Anthony Petterson, Binford, ND, has been named assistant special credit officer for the Thief River Falls branch office of Farm Credit Services (FCS) of Grand Forks.

Petterson grew up in Binford, ND, and graduated from Binford high school in 1964. He earned a bachelor of arts degree from NDSU in 1968 and he completed additional credits in agriculture in 1971. He served two years in the U.S. Army as an airborne artillery surveyor and personnel specialist stationed in Fort Bragg, NC.

Following his military service, Petterson ran a grain and livestock operation west of Binford. He also worked as a farm financial analyst for the NDSU extension service. He served on the Griggs county hospital board, the Griggs county water resource management board and was chairman of the Trinity Lutheran church council in Binford. In 1980 he was named winner of the soil conservation award for Griggs county. Petterson has also worked in retail sales.

Petterson and his wife, Carolyn, who is a teacher in Glenfield, ND, have two children: Karl, 14, and Noel, 13.

Oakland Park Board Meeting

Oakland Park board will meet Tuesday at 3 p.m. at Oakland Park nursing home.

Carpenter Says Farmers Union To Push Farm Bill

Changes in the makeup of Congress offer new hope for the depressed rural economy, National Farmers Union president Cy Carpenter told delegates and members attending the Minnesota Farmers Union convention recently. Carpenter said Farmers Union members must work to translate the changes into a continuing momentum for improved farm policies.

"The attitude out in the country is substantially better than it was even a few months ago," Carpenter said. "Following the elections, the mood in rural communities is a thousand per cent better, and hopes are high. But those hopes can be dashed unless we make a concerted effort to take the next step and affect positive change in federal policy. We now have the chance for a solid new beginning."

Carpenter endorsed the concepts included in the new Harkin-Gephart "Save the Family Farm Act" which Congress will consider when it reconvenes in January.

"This bill is a true farmer's choice program," Carpenter added. "Farmers would have an opportunity to vote on whether to accept production controls in return for equitable commodity prices in the marketplace. On the other hand, current farm programs require participation in order to receive government income subsidies."

The family farm spokesman said NFU will be a leader in the movement to change farm legislation, and indicated a strong desire to continue efforts with other groups and to cooperate with Congress and the administration.

"Action must come from the administration, Congress and from the rural community itself," he pointed out. "We've sent a letter to Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng, asking for a chance to sit down with him and discuss the needed changes. Farmers Union members can help by maintaining the momentum in the countryside."

Lorrie Sorter In UND Honor Band

University of North Dakota music department will hold its second annual honor band and choir festival January 23-25, cluminating with a concert on Sunday, January 25, at 2:30 p.m. in the Memorial Union ballroom. Admission to the concert is $3 for adults and $1.50 for students and children.

One Hundred-twenty high school students from North Dakota and Minnesota were chosen through auditions to participate. Among them is Lorrie Sorter of Middle River, honor band member.

Information On Diabetes Control Given January 22

Health car professionals, counselors and families of children with diabetes will have the chance to learn latest methods of diabetes control at a program at the Holiday Inn in Bemidji Thursday, January 22, from 7:45 a.m. to 12 noon.

A team of experts from the International Diabetes center, a world leader in diabetes education and management, will join local health professionals as they continue to improve the high quality diabetes care they offer through the Minnesota diabetes in youth program. Ann Daley, R.N. and nurse educator at Bemidji clinic, provides support for the program in this community.

Health professionals, counselors and families of children with diabetes are urged to update their knowledge of practical management advances in diabetes care at the half-day program.

Current research suggests that those completing a thorough training program teaching the latest diabetes management skills can hope for a healthier life and the prevention of serious complications, such as blindness, amputations, birth defects, impotence and heart disease.

Minnesota is helping to lead the way in the battle against diabetes which is estimated to affect more than 120,000 individuals in the state. The Minnesota diabetes in youth program is a partnership of the International Diabetes center located in Minneapolis, the Minnesota department of health's services for children with handicaps and local health care professionals.

For further information and to register, call (612) 927-3393.

DAVID RODAHL FAMILY is pictured in the farm home located about 10 miles northeast of Thief River Falls in Agdar township of Marshall county. Rodahl was selected as Pennington county King Agassiz and crowned at the 1986 Pennington county fair. He will compete for overall King Agassiz honors February 12 at the Red River Valley winter shows in Crookston. David is married to the former Barb Morinville of Brooks and their children are nine-year-old Mandy and five-year-old Michael.

City Council Endorses Compliance Agreement

Mayor Bob Carlson, Thief River Falls, welcomed newly appointed fifth ward alderman Bob Reeve to his first official city council meeting and the council's first meeting in 1987 Tuesday evening and asked for cooperation from city council members on finding solutions in the coming year to costly projects of water treatment plant and street and utility improvement projects.

The city council endorsed a compliance schedule for development plans and construction of water treatment facilities in an effort to reach a compliance agreement with the Minnesota department of health and satisfy requirements by the state and federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) on turbidity levels Tuesday night.

Larry Cole from the Minnesota department of health, responded "yes." Thief River Falls has the worst turbidity problem in the state among monitored surface water treatment plants (approximately 60 exist in the state). In fact, it is the only city in the state with a turbidity problem in the last year with the exception of Cloquet, which because of a power outage halting use of ground water, did not meet turbidity requirements for a period of three days.

Cole explained to the council that turbidity is a term describing finely suspended particles of matter in the water which may interfere with the disinfection process. For the most part, Cole said, the matter is clay and does not pose any health threat. The matter remains suspended in the water because it does not have enough time in treatment process to either settle or be coagulated with special chemicals, and caused to filter out of the water. Part of the problem could also be chemicals used in the water treatment process that do not have enough time to perform their function and are carried through the filtering process.

Cole described the overall problem with the plant as a plant that is "hydraulically overloaded.'

Not reaching a compliance agreement with the state and EPA, would provide the state with several enforcement options, which includes taking the city to civil court, criminal court or not doing anything at all, in which case the EPA would take action. If the EPA took action (Cole said he was not sure what the options exactly were) options could include substantial fines and other penalties.

Cole and members of the city council made it clear they were only speculating on possible actions to become better informed and not taking any position against coming into compliance. Alderman Kenneth Murphy said city officials and the department of health had worked well together in the sessions it took to write the compliance agreement.

THIEF RIVER FALLS WATER TREATMENT PLANT PROPOSED COMPLIANCE SCHEDULE

During a meeting of the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday night, the council endorsed the following compliance agreement with the Minnesota department of health and Federal Environmental Protection Agency. The agreement directs city efforts in meeting water treatment standards, specifically water turbidity. The agreement was the result of long meetings with representatives of the city and state health department.

(1) The city will authorize its consultant to review and provide an updated preliminary construction cost estimate for the Water Treatment Plant expansion by January 30, 1987.

(2) The city will contract with its consulting engineer to provide for preliminary engineering, water quality, and treatability studies no later than February 17, 1987.

(3) The city will evaluate the availability of funding through state and federal sources no later than July 31, 1987.

(4) The city consultant will complete the preliminary engineering, water quality and treatability studies no later than October 1, 1988.

(5) Regulatory review of the preliminary engineering, water quality, and treatability studies will be completed no later than January 31, 1989.

(6) Land acquisition for the water treatment plant expansion will be completed by the city through peaceful means no later than January 31, 1989.

(7) If the land acquisition cannot be completed through peaceful means by January 31, 1989, the city will initiate condemnation proceedings no later than April 1, 1989.

(8) The city will apply for water supply construction funding through July 31, 1989.

(9) The city will enter into a contract with its consulting engineer for final engineering plans no later than July 31, 1989.

(10) Completion of final engineering plans will be accomplished no later than July 31, 1990.

(11) Regulatory review of the final engineering plans will be completed no later than October 31, 1990.

(12) The water treatment construction project will be advertised no later than November 30, 1990.

(13) Bids for the water treatment construction project will be received no later than February 1, 1991.

(14) The construction contract for the water treatment expansion will be awarded no later than April 1, 1991.

(15) Construction of the water treatment plant expansion will be completed no later than September 30, 1993.

David Rodahl Is King Agassiz For Pennington

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Pennington county King Agassiz, David Rodahl of rural Thief River Falls, will compete February 14 for King Agassiz honors at the Red River Valley winter shows in Crookston. He is one of several eastern Marshall county farmers who have been Pennington county representatives in the competition.

David and his wife, the former Barb Morinville of Brooks, farm about 1,500 acres of land and live on a farmstead 10 miles northeast of Thief River Falls in Agdar township of Marshall county. They purchased the farm from Ed Nichols in 1973 and it had been previously owned by Carl Torgerson.

All but about 40 acres of the 1,500 are open for agriculture. The Rodahls own over 800 acres of that amount and rent the remainder, working with David's brother Darrol to share equipment. A typical year's operation would include 650 acres of barley, 295 acres of wheat, 40 acres of corn and 140 acres of hay for commercial sale with the rest of the acreage in set-side under federal government farm programs.

The son of Julian Rodahl, David graduated from St. Cloud state university with a degree in urban studies and political science in 1973. He married Barb the same year, having met her while attending Northland community college in Thief River Falls, and they decided to get into farming.

The farmstead where they presently live had been a resettlement farm, having a small house, small hip-roof barn and little else for buildings. The house was replaced with a new home in the summer of 1983. In 1977 a quonset type building on the farm was converted into a farm shop with a four-inch concrete floor poured on top of the existing floor which was in deteriorated condition. This 32x44 building is heated and equipped for repair and maintenance of farm machinery.

The barn was lowered and converted into an attractive storage building. In 1978 and 1979 a 68,000 bushel grain storage and handling system was installed which includes a grain dryer and an auger transfer system.

The Rodahls have done a large amount of field drainage ditching as well as tree planting for a shelterbelt around the farm. Many of the trees were planted in 1974 and major additions were made six years ago. Soil testing is done every year for nitrogen content and every other year for other soil nutrients. Fertilization is quite heavy and aimed toward optimum production.

Jobs Annual Meet Next Thursday At Best Western Inn.

Annual meeting of Jobs Incorporated will be conducted Thursday, January 22, at 12 noon at the Best Western inn of Thief River Falls. Luncheon cost is $5 and may be paid in advance or at the door. Those planning to pay at the door should phone 681-7387 for reservations.

Jay Brunner, executive director of the Northwest regional development commission in Thief River Falls, will be guest speaker at the meeting. He will report on recent activities of the commission. Community development director Don Stewart will also review the past year's activities and plans for the coming year.

Individual membership in the organization is $25 annually and a $100 Builder of Thief River Falls investment is also solicited by the organization.

Roger Reuter is president of Jobs Incorporated and will preside at the annual meeting. Nominating committee has placed in nomination Everett Ault, Arve Moser, Don Narverud, Ronald Nelson and Chris Twomey for election to the board of directors for 1987-88 and David A. Johnson for the 1987 term vacated by James Winjum.

Gerald Odegaard

Legion Endorses Odegaard For Dist. Commander

Gerald Odegaard of Thief River Falls has been endorsed by Ecklund-Holmstrom Post 117 of the American Legion as a candidate for Ninth District American Legion commander, according to Floyd Fredrickson, commander.

Odegaard is presently serving as vice commander at large for the district and has previously been sergeant-at-arms and Area I vice commander. He has been adjutant and commander of Post 117 in Thief River Falls and previously was commander of Granite Falls Post 69 where he also held a number of other offices.

Gerald and his wife Avis, an active member of the Thief River Falls American Legion auxiliary unit, have four children. Larry has served as commander of Post 117 and Chuck has served as commander of the local Sons of the American Legion and is presently Ninth District commander of that organization. Daughters Patti and Ann are members of the local auxiliary.

Paper Drive To Be Conducted This Saturday

St. Bernard's school will conduct a paper drive Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. in Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire, according to Donna Olson, drive coordinator.

Persons with accumulated newspapers are asked to have them bundled or placed in cardboard boxes and placed on the curb by 10 a.m. Saturday. Magazines will not be picked up nor will papers placed in plastic bags. Persons requiring special arrangements or needing more information may contact Mrs. Olson at 681-7187.

Charley Pride To Entertain At Fair

Country singer Charley Pride, who was one of the first major entertainers to be booked by the Pennington county fair association and appeared at the county fair in 1983, will make a return engagement to the fair this summer.

Announcement of arrangements for Pride's second appearance here was made Monday evening when the county fair association met for its January meeting. Other grandstand attractions for the fair were also discussed with Charley Pride to present two shows Friday evening, July 17.

Floyd Erickson, secretary of the association, said that tickets for the show will be $11 and will go on advance sale early this summer. The two shows will be at 7 and 9 p.m. in front of the grandstand.

Erickson also noted that local board members Bill Ulrich and Leon Iverson would attend the annual convention of the Minnesota association of county fairs as delegates from the Pennington fair board. The convention will be conducted in St. Paul January 17, 18 and 19.

"I'm very proud of what I've done in the past," Pride explains of his 20 years as a recording artist. "But when some people reach a point in their careers such as I have, they tend to maybe back off or not care as much. My philosophy is either do it right or get out. That's why, as far as I'm concerned, the next 10 years are most critical for me. I really intend to match or hopefully even surpass what I've done already.

"I'm still here, still very much competing, still very much in motion. I'm not just talking about competing with other country artists, but competing in the entire world of entertainment. Even now, I still have the same nervous, excited feeling about my career that I had when I started out. It's the very same feeling I used to get when I was a baseball player and I'd step up to home plate in the ninth inning of a one-to-nothing

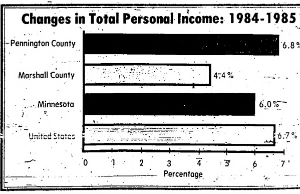
Area Personal Income Matches National Pace



Personal income increases on the average in Pennington county from 1984 to 1985 kept pace with the national average while Marshall county average income lagged behind, according to a compilation of figures prepared for the Times from a number of governmental data sources.

While personal income in the United States increased by 6.7 per cent during that period, Pennington county personal income averaged an increase of 6.8 per cent and Marshall county only 4.4 per cent. Personal income has increased substantially more than the rate of inflation during the period, since consumer prices increased by 3.6 per cent nationally from 1984 to 1985. Estimates by the U.S. department of commerce was that per capita personal income increased from $13,114 to $13,867.

While the department of commerce does not directly provide annual personal income information on a local basis, estimates from other sources indicate that personal income in Pennington county increased by 6.8 per cent from 1984 to 1985 while personal income in Marshall county increased by 4.4 per cent. Personal income in Minnesota increased by six per cent over the period.

There were also changes in income distribution in the United States from 1984 through 1985. The proportion of American households with incomes of less than $10,000 per year increased from 16.9 per cent in 1984 to 19.2 per cent by 1985. The proportion of American households with incomes from $10,000 to $19,999 per year also increased from 21.6 per cent in 1984 to 23.2 per cent by 1985. Nationally, there was a decline in the proportion of households with incomes of from $20,000 to $34,999 annually. This income group fell from 29.4 per cent in 1984 to 27.4 per cent by 1985.

Those American households with incomes of from $35,000 to $49,999 per year declined from 18.7 per cent in 1984 to 16.2 per cent by 1985. However, the proportion of American households with incomes in excess of $50,000 per year increased from 13.4 per cent in 1984 to 14 per cent by 1985.

These same trends were partially apparent in Pennington county. The proportion of local households with incomes of less than $10,000 per year increased from 27.2 per cent in 1984 to 30.8 per cent by 1985. At the same time, the proportion of households in Penington county with incomes between $10,000 and $19,999 per year also increased slightly from 33.9 per cent in 1984 to 34.1 per cent by 1985.

9th Annual Nature Photo Contest To Take Entries Soon

Northwest regional library and the Agassiz regional environmental Council have announced plans to sponsor the eighth annual Northland nature photography contest.

"We will begin taking entries for the contest on March 2 and will continue to do so until May 16," stated Northwest regional library assistant director Heidi Hoks. "We invite everyone to participate."

The contest includes a black and white division and a color division. Each division includes three categories: wildlife, scenic and environmental message. The wildlife category includes pictures which depict northern Minnesota wildlife in its natural habitat. The scenic category includes pictures which depict scenes from northern Minnesota.

The environmental category includes pictures showing man's impact on the environment either positive or negative, destructive or enhancing. Pictures in this final category could deal with soil erosion, food raising potential, man's farming practices and contamination of drinking water to name a few possibilities. While portraits will not be accepted, the environmental message category can include pictures of human beings.

Ribbons will be awarded to the top three photographs in each category. First place winners will also receive a book as their prize. One grand prize ribbon and $25 will be awarded to the best photograph of the contest.

Contest rules are as follows:

(1) All entries must be representative of northern Minnesota.

(2) Photographs must be no smaller than 5 x 7, and no larger than 16 x 20.

(3) Photographs previously submitted in this contest will not be accepted. Photos preferably should have been taken in this past year. Limit is three entries per category.

(4) Name of entrant must be printed on the back of the photograph as well as the category (wildlife, scenic, or environmental message) in which the photo is being entered. Also include on the back, information on how the picture was taken (lens and type of film, exposure, and type of camera) if at all possible.

(5) All entries must be received by May 16, 1987. Entries received after this date will be disqualified.

(6) Entries, except for contest winners, may be picked up at the Northwest regional library after July 1, 1987. Entries not picked up by July 31 will be discarded. Contest winners may be picked up after they are exhibited in all counties that form the Northwest regional library system.

(7) Contest sponsors will not be responsible for the loss or damage of any entries submitted.

Contest rules and registration forms may be picked up at the Northwest regional library headquarters in Thief River Falls or at any of the branch libraries in Red Lake Falls, Greenbush, Roseau, Warroad, Warren, Hallock or the Bookmobile. All entries also may be turned in at any of the Northwest regional library facilities.

All photographs submitted will be displayed at the Northwest regional library headquarters. Winning photographs will also be displayed at all branch libraries.

Mrs. Minnesota Pageant Slated For March 15th

Search is still on to find a "Mrs. Minnesota" to represent all of Minnesota's wives in the Mrs. America pageant in Las Vegas, NV, in July. Jeanne Stoner, state director said that the "Mrs. Minnesota-America pageant" will be in Bloomington March 15.

Minnesota wives are invited to participate by contacting the state director at 6570 Pipewood Curve in Excelsior, Minnesota 55331, or by telephoning (612) 474-1554 for further details and applications.

Reigning "Mrs. Minnesota-America" is Grace Pridal of Taunton, who will crown the new winner.

Mrs. Hermansen Has Art Display At Roseau Library

Annette Hermansen, who lived in Thief River Falls for several years while her husband was an associate pastor at Trinity Lutheran church, will have some of her art work on display at the Roseau public library during January.

As artist of the month for January, Mrs. Hermansen will exhibit several seascapes, still life and landscape painting, photo college and one clay sculpture. Included is a large geographical abstract which the artist says "has symbolic meaning to our family".

A native of South Dakota, Mrs. Hermansen began art training while a freshman in college and graduated with a double major in English and art. She has lived in Roseau for the past 14 years where her husband, Lew, is pastor of Messiah Lutheran church.

Exhibits at the library are open during regular library hours from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each week day except Monday and during special hours on Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

REGISTERED HEREFORDS are raised by Daryl Rupprecht from his 4-H club project animals. A student at the University of Minnesota-Crookston, he plans to earn a degree in animal science from North Dakota state university in Fargo. Daryl is a fourth generation Rupprecht to live on the family farm northeast of Thief River Falls. The farm was selected by the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district as conservation farm of the year.

4-H CLUB PROJECTS have earned several state fair trips for Karla (left) and Kristi Rupprecht while 11-year-old Kim is just getting a good start in the 4-H program. The older sisters show quilts which won awards in the child care project, including a state fair grand championship for Karla. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rupprecht of rural Thief River Falls. Rupprecht Farms won the conservation farmer of the year award from the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district.

Anthony Petterson Joins Farm Credit Services In TRF

Anthony Petterson, Binford, ND, has been named assistant special credit officer for the Thief River Falls branch office of Farm Credit Services (FCS) of Grand Forks.

Petterson grew up in Binford, ND, and graduated from Binford high school in 1964. He earned a bachelor of arts degree from NDSU in 1968 and he completed additional credits in agriculture in 1971. He served two years in the U.S. Army as an airborne artillery surveyor and personnel specialist stationed in Fort Bragg, NC.

Following his military service, Petterson ran a grain and livestock operation west of Binford. He also worked as a farm financial analyst for the NDSU extension service. He served on the Griggs county hospital board, the Griggs county water resource management board and was chairman of the Trinity Lutheran church council in Binford. In 1980 he was named winner of the soil conservation award for Griggs county. Petterson has also worked in retail sales.

Petterson and his wife, Carolyn, who is a teacher in Glenfield, ND, have two children: Karl, 14, and Noel, 13.

Oakland Park Board Meeting

Oakland Park board will meet Tuesday at 3 p.m. at Oakland Park nursing home.

Carpenter Says Farmers Union To Push Farm Bill

Changes in the makeup of Congress offer new hope for the depressed rural economy, National Farmers Union president Cy Carpenter told delegates and members attending the Minnesota Farmers Union convention recently. Carpenter said Farmers Union members must work to translate the changes into a continuing momentum for improved farm policies.

"The attitude out in the country is substantially better than it was even a few months ago," Carpenter said. "Following the elections, the mood in rural communities is a thousand per cent better, and hopes are high. But those hopes can be dashed unless we make a concerted effort to take the next step and affect positive change in federal policy. We now have the chance for a solid new beginning."

Carpenter endorsed the concepts included in the new Harkin-Gephart "Save the Family Farm Act" which Congress will consider when it reconvenes in January.

"This bill is a true farmer's choice program," Carpenter added. "Farmers would have an opportunity to vote on whether to accept production controls in return for equitable commodity prices in the marketplace. On the other hand, current farm programs require participation in order to receive government income subsidies."

The family farm spokesman said NFU will be a leader in the movement to change farm legislation, and indicated a strong desire to continue efforts with other groups and to cooperate with Congress and the administration.

"Action must come from the administration, Congress and from the rural community itself," he pointed out. "We've sent a letter to Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng, asking for a chance to sit down with him and discuss the needed changes. Farmers Union members can help by maintaining the momentum in the countryside."

Information On Diabetes Control Given January 22

Health care professionals, counselors and families of children with diabetes will have the chance to learn latest methods of diabetes control at a program at the Holiday Inn in Bemidji Thursday, January 22, from 7:45 a.m. to 12 noon.

A team of experts from the International Diabetes center, a world leader in diabetes education and management, will join local health professionals as they continue to improve the high quality diabetes care they offer through the Minnesota diabetes in youth program. Ann Daley, R.N. and nurse educator at Bemidji clinic, provides support for the program in this community.

Health professionals, counselors and families of children with diabetes are urged to update their knowledge of practical management advances in diabetes care at the half-day program.

Current research suggests, that those completing a thorough training program teaching the latest diabetes management skills can hope for a healthier life and the prevention of serious complications, such as blindness, amputations, birth defects, impotence and heart disease.

Minnesota is helping to lead the way in the battle against diabetes which is estimated to affect more than 120,000 individuals in the state. The Minnesota diabetes in youth program is a partnership of the International Diabetes center located in Minneapolis, the Minnesota department of health's services for children with handicaps and local health care professionals.

For further information and to register, call (612) 927-3393.

David Rodahl Is King Agassiz For Pennington

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Pennington county King Agassiz, David Rodahl of rural Thief River Falls, will compete February 14 for King Agassiz honors at the Red River Valley winter shows in Crookston. He is one of several eastern Marshall county farmers who have been Pennington county representatives in the competition.

David and his wife, the former Barb Morinville of Brooks, farm about 1,500 acres of land and live on a farmstead 10 miles northeast of Thief River Falls in Agdar township of Marshall county. They purchased the farm from Ed Nichols in 1973 and it had been previously owned by Carl Torgerson.

All but about 40 acres of the 1,500 are open for agriculture. The Rodahls own over 800 acres of that amount and rent the remainder, working with David's brother Darrol to share equipment. A typical year's operation would include 650 acres of barley, 325 acres of wheat, 40 acres of corn and 140 acres of hay for commercial sale with the rest of the acreage in set-side under federal government farm programs.

The son of Julian Rodahl, David graduated from St. Cloud state university with a degree in urban studies and political science in 1973. He married Barb the same year, having met her while attending Northland community college in Thief River Falls, and they decided to get into farming.

The farmstead where they presently live had been a resettlement farm, having a small house, small hip-roof barn and little else for buildings. The house was replaced with a new home in the summer of 1983. In 1977 a quonset type building on the farm was converted into a farm shop with a four-inch concrete floor poured on top of the existing floor which was in deteriorated condition. This 32x44 building is heated and equipped for repair and maintenance of farm machinery.

The barn was lowered and converted into an attractive storage building. In 1978 and 1979 a 68,000 bushel grain storage and handling system was installed which includes a grain dryer and an auger transfer system.

The Rodahls have done a large amount of field drainage ditching as well as tree planting for a shelterbelt around the farm. Many of the trees were planted in 1974 and major additions were made six years ago. Soil testing is done every year for nitrogen content and every other year for other soil nutrients. Fertilization is quite heavy and aimed toward optimum production.

Legion Endorses Odegaard For Dist. Commander

Gerald Odegaard of Thief River Falls has been endorsed by Ekklund Holmstrom Post 117 of the American Legion as a candidate for Ninth District American Legion commander, according to Floyd Fredrickson, commander.

Odegaard is presently serving as vice commander at large for the district and has previously been sergeant-at-arms and Area 1 vice commander. He has been adjutant and commander of Post 117 in Thief River Falls and previously was commander of Granite Falls Post 69 where he also held a number of other offices.

Gerald and his wife Avis, an active member of the Thief River Falls American Legion auxiliary unit, have four children. Larry has served as commander of Post 117 and Chuck has served as commander of the local Sons of the American Legion and is presently Ninth District commander of that organization. Daughters Patti and Ann are members of the local auxiliary.

City Council Endorses Compliance Agreement

Mayor Bob Carlson, Thief River Falls, welcomed newly appointed fifth ward alderman Bob Reeve to his first official city council meeting and the council's first meeting in 1987 Tuesday evening and asked for cooperation from city council members on funding solutions in the coming year to costly projects of water treatment plant and street and utility improvement projects.

The city council endorsed a compliance schedule for development plans and construction of water treatment facilities in an effort to reach a compliance agreement with the Minnesota department of health and satisfy requirements by the state and federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) on turbidity levels Tuesday night.

Larry Cole from the Minnesota department of health, responded "yes. Thief River Falls has the worst turbidity problem in the state among monitored surface water treatment plants (approximately 60 exist in the state). In fact, it is the only city in the state with a turbidity problem in the last year with the exception of Cloquet, which because of a power outage halting use of ground water, did not meet turbidity requirements for a period of three days."

Cole explained to the council that turbidity is a term describing finely suspended particles of matter in the water which may interfere with the disinfection process. For the most part, Cole said, the matter is clay and does not pose any health threat. The matter remains suspended in the water because it does not have enough time in treatment process to either settle or be coagulated with special chemicals, and caused to filter out of the water. Part of the problem could also be chemicals used in the water treatment process that do not have enough time to perform their function and are carried through the filtering process.

Cole described the overall problem with the plant as a plant that is "hydraulically overloaded."

Not reaching a compliance agreement with the state and EPA, would provide the state with several enforcement options, which includes taking the city to civil court, criminal court or not doing anything at all, in which case the EPA would take action. If the EPA took action (Cole said he was not sure what the options exactly were) options could include substantial fines and other penalties.

Cole and members of the city council made it clear they were only speculating on possible actions to become better informed and not taking any position against coming into compliance. Alderman Kenneth Murphy said city officials and the department of health had worked well together in the sessions it took to write the compliance agreement.

THIEF RIVER FALLS WATER TREATMENT PLANT PROPOSED COMPLIANCE SCHEDULE

During a meeting of the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday night, the council endorsed the following compliance agreement with the Minnesota department of health and Federal Environmental Protection Agency. The agreement directs city efforts in meeting water treatment standards, specifically water turbidity. The agreement was the result of long meetings with representatives of the city and state health department.

(1) The city will authorize its consultant to review and provide an updated preliminary construction cost estimate for the Water Treatment Plant expansion by January 30, 1987.

(2) The city will contract with its consulting engineer to provide for preliminary engineering, water quality, and treatability studies no later than February 17, 1987.

(3) The city will evaluate the availability of funding through state and federal sources no later than July 31, 1987.

(4) The city consultant will complete the preliminary engineering, water quality and treatability studies no later than October 1, 1988.

(5) Regulatory review of the preliminary engineering, water quality, and treatability studies will be completed no later than January 31, 1989.

(6) Land acquisition for the water treatment plant expansion will be completed by the city through peaceful means no later than January 31, 1989.

(7) If the land acquisition cannot be completed through peaceful means by January 31, 1989, the city will initiate condemnation proceedings no later than April 1, 1989.

(8) The city will apply for water supply construction funding through July 31, 1989.

(9) The city will enter into a contract with its consulting engineer for final engineering plans no later than July 31, 1989.

(10) Completion of final engineering plans will be accomplished no later than July 31, 1990.

(11) Regulatory review of the final engineering plans will be completed no later than October 31, 1990.

(12) The water treatment construction project will be advertised no later than November 30, 1990.

(13) Bids for the water treatment construction project will be received no later than February 1, 1991.

(14) The construction contract for the water treatment expansion will be awarded no later than April 1, 1991.

(15) Construction of the water treatment plant expansion will be completed no later than September 30, 1993.

Charley Pride To Entertain At Fair

Country singer Charley Pride, who was one of the first major entertainers to be booked by the Pennington county fair association and appeared at the county fair in 1983, will make a return engagement to the fair this summer.

Announcement of arrangements for Pride's second appearance here was made Monday evening when the county fair association met for its January meeting. Other grandstand attractions for the fair were also discussed with Charley Pride to present two shows Friday evening, July 17.

Floyd Erickson, secretary of the association, said that tickets for the show will be $11 and will go on advance sale early this summer. The two shows will be at 7 and 9 p.m. in front of the grandstand.

Erickson also noted that local board members Bill Ulrich and Leon Iverson would attend the annual convention of the Minnesota association of county fairs as delegates from the Pennington fair board. The convention will be conducted in St. Paul January 17, 18 and 19.

"I'm very proud of what I've done in the past," Pride explains of his 20 years as a recording artist. "But when some people reach a point in their careers such as I have, they tend to maybe back off or not care as much. My philosophy is either do it right or get out. That's why, as far as I'm concerned, the next 10 years are most critical for me. I really intend to match or hopefully even surpass what I've done already.

"I'm still here, still very much competing, still very much in motion. I'm not just talking about competing with other country artists, but competing in the entire world of entertainment. Even now, I still have the same nervous, excited feeling about my career that I had when I started out. It's the very same feeling I used to get when I was a baseball player and I'd step up to home plate in the ninth inning of a one to nothing

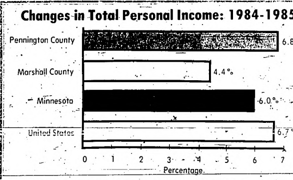
Area Personal Income Matches National Pace



Personal income increases on the average in Pennington county from 1984 to 1985 kept pace with the national average while Marshall county average income lagged behind, according to a compilation of figures prepared for the Times from a number of governmental data sources.

While personal income in the United States increased by 6.7 per cent during that period, Pennington county personal income averaged an increase of 6.8 per cent and Marshall county only 4.4 per cent. Personal income has increased substantially more than the rate of inflation during the period, since consumer prices increased by 3.6 per cent nationally from 1984 to 1985. Estimates by the U.S. department of commerce was that per capita personal income increased from $13,114 to $13,867.

While the department of commerce does not directly provide annual personal income information on a local basis, estimates from other sources indicate that personal income in Pennington county increased by 6.8 per cent from 1984 to 1985 while personal income in Marshall county increased by 4.4 per cent. Personal income in Minnesota increased by six per cent over the period.

There were also changes in income distribution in the United States from 1984 through 1985. The proportion of American households with incomes of less than $10,000 per year increased from 16.9 per cent in 1984 to 19.2 per cent by 1985. The proportion of American households with incomes from $10,000 to $19,999 per year also increased from 21.6 per cent in 1984 to 23.2 per cent by 1985. Nationally there was a decline in the proportion of households with incomes of from $20,000 to $34,999 annually. This income group fell from 29.4 per cent in 1984 to 27.4 per cent by 1985.

Those American households with incomes of from $35,000 to $49,999 per year declined from 18.7 per cent in 1984 to 16.2 per cent by 1985. However, the proportion of American households with incomes in excess of $50,000 per year increased from 13.4 per cent in 1984 to 14 per cent by 1985.

These same trends were partially apparent in Pennington county. The proportion of local households with incomes of less than $10,000 per year increased from 27.2 per cent in 1984 to 30.8 per cent by 1985. At the same time, the proportion of households in Pennington county with incomes between $10,000 and $19,999 per year also increased slightly from 33.9 per cent in 1984 to 34.1 per cent by 1985.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

I'm writing this letter to both "Hurting and Confused", and to a so called "Proud Taxpayer".— both recent public opinion letters writers.

I am also concerned about what might have been a problem in the "Angel Tree" program and "Welfare Issues". I do feel the "Angel Tree" is a great idea, but only for those who really need it and don't abuse it, which I'm sure is what "Hurting and Confused" was trying to put across to everyone, and to also keep a closer eye on things next year so the same thing might not happen.

How could this so called "Proud Taxpayer" say or even read into their article that they had thought it was a bad idea? I felt that "Hurting and Confused" put it across very clearly that they had asked before for this kind of help and were turned down. So I feel that is probably why they hadn't tried this year, to be turned down again.

The so called "Proud Taxpayer" also mentions nonmonetary gifts and then mentions about children all over the world who received many gifts, but still had a miserable Christmas for they hadn't received the one gift they really wanted. At least these children received a gift under their tree; what about her children? If you remember correctly she mentioned there were none under their tree.

In the first place, how do you know that this family and other families haven't been giving nonmonetary gifts all along? Remember there are more families than just theirs that have the same feelings about Christmas. Since you were trying so hard to change a lot of people's minds about Christmas, tell us your true meaning of Christmas. Tell us why they brag Santa Claus up so much?

Remember this family was thinking ahead. They did pay their bills, so they would have a roof over their children's heads, bought food for their family's mouths and personal hygiene items, so others could stand to be around them — knowing that, of course, they hadn't much of anything left to even think of gifts, when they used priorities. I felt this was a very smart thinking family, because most people I'm sure would have felt that their bills and family's needs should have come first.

Then the so called "Proud Taxpayer" had the nerve to talk about a funeral as a jest. For those who don't know what jest means, it is supposed to be a joke or something to make fun of. How could he feel this way? How could he be so cold hearted? Especially when it was a family member. Then he spoke of a plane ticket as a luxury. Remember she wanted it to get to her grandparent's funeral. This is a sad occasion, not a joke or laughing matter.

She also was referring to a savings account in her case as something to turn to in case of an emergency, not as a luxury as the so called "Taxpayer" tried to say. To the so called "Proud Taxpayer" appliances are a luxury, so to him eating uptown must be cheaper than eating at home, or maybe if a person can't afford that, he should just go without. I'd like to know where in her article she even mentioned that she expected everything handed to her and her family? To me they were only expressing their situation and feelings about answers given them, but also to let you concerned persons know what is really going on.

I also know of a family which applied for assistance for a set of stove and refrigerator and they told me they received a brand new set. Remember this family only asked for a used set and was told to choose between the two and the amount couldn't go over $150. Now Mr. Know-it-all, tell us why they couldn't get both?

The so called "Proud Taxpayer" also mentions that some people work only six months out of the year, which means this must be a seasonal job. Tell me how anyone can plan layoffs? Remember not every job will tell you ahead of time you are going to be laid off (especially those using the MEED program); they usually tell you the same day they lay you off. If more companies would take a chance on a person with less experience there probably would be less families on welfare. Some companies also won't hire you if you have too much experience for they can't afford to pay you what you are worth. What is a person supposed to do with this in mind?

Then you probably insulted the woman. How do you know that this woman doesn't have a physical condition that she isn't able to work? Some people do have physical conditions you know. Now how would you feel if this was her case? Remember there are a lot of people in this community who don't have high school or college diplomas, which most companies require these days.

Remember there are some welfare people who have worked in their life; and have paid their taxes like everyone else. Wouldn't this make them a taxpayer too, and wouldn't they be able to draw from welfare from what they are entitled to? So who do you think you are to say who is a taxpayer and who isn't? How do you know how long this family was off welfare before they had to turn back to it?

Then the so called "Proud Taxpayer" is trying to tell us that the welfare is free of errors. You tell me then whatever happed to over $37,000 of the welfare's money? Then how come it was a welfare worker who was involved in stealing this money? Just imagine how this could have fed, clothed and paid a lot of people's bills who received welfare. This could also have helped those who were in need of emergency assistance.

Tell us why so many families have some problems receiving their child support checks when their ex-husbands pay them on time? How do you come off saying this family and other families are on a self-pity trip and need an attitude change? Is this supposed to be directed to all welfare people who may have a similar problem or may come upon one?

This is directed to the so called "Proud Taxpayer". If you can't read an article that is written in black and white correctly and respond to it accordingly, then you must have a reading problem and had better return to school for more schooling in reading. That is why I have explained it a little more clearly, so when you read this letter I have written; I'd advise you to read it a little more carefully before your rebuttal on the letters again. Don't put in something that doesn't belong there.

Now if you can't understand both of our letters, I think you'd better sink the battleship. If you still think that this family and other families on welfare need an attitude change, you're badly mistaken. You are the one who needs it badly. If you still feel so cold hearted about welfare people who do try to make an honest living when they can; then I know for sure your marbles aren't in the right place. Thank you if you read this letter correctly.

Pride made a double hit with the crowd during his first appearance here. The first hit was his program which included virtually all familiar country hits, and the second was his willingness to sit amidst swarms of mosquitoes and sign autographs for fans late into the night after the second show until all requests had been met.

Pride's vocal artistry has resulted in sales of more than 20 million albums and five million singles thus far in the course of his career. Twelve of his LP's have gone gold in the U.S. market and worldwide he has earned 31 gold and four platinum LP's — including one quadruple platinum.

Some of his top songs include "Kiss An Angel Good Morning," "Is Anybody Goin' to San Antone?", "I'm So Afraid of Losing You," "When I Stop Leaving I'll Be Gone," "Mountain of Love" and "You're So Good When You're Bad."

For 16 years Pride has been going to the Texas Rangers spring shape-up baseball camp in Pompano Beach, FL. He offered a major league manager his services as a designated hitter for a million dollars a year but received no response.

TRF City Council Endorses State Agreement

Cole, in response to several questions from council members, said open farm fields do not necessarily mean run-off into the river will cause higher turbidity levels. He said it is likely that during periods of higher turbidity levels in the surface water, such as during Spring, higher turbidity levels in filtered water may be experienced; however, lower levels of turbidity in the surface water does not necessarily mean lower levels of turbidity once the surface water has been filtered.

City Forester John Johnson reported 1986 was a busy year. Dutch Elm disease losses were higher than expected. In 1985, 83 trees tested positive for the disease while in 1986 there were 176.

Johnson said lack of control outside the city limits and the historical nature of the disease were reasons for the increase. Keeping up with the disease helps prevent the disease spreading as quickly among the estimated 5,000 trees in Thief River Falls and using up resources of the city, Johnson said.

Johnson said he would like the city council to consider a new ordinance in April that would prevent storage of elm wood within the city limits during the winter months. Currently, city ordinances allow elm wood to be stored during the winter months. In April of every year any cut elm wood within city limits must be removed or de-barked. The city forester has been enforcing that ordinance.

Other projects last year included replanting along the highway 59 and Third street project. Johnson reported that only 10 of the 112 trees planted, died. Of those that died, none died for lack of water, but probably because they were from poor stock. Although a survivability rate of 80 per cent is generally accepted as good, the state has agreed to pay for part of the cost of replanting trees that did not survive.

Plans for 1987 include the purchase of a brush chipper. Bid openings on February 2 at 10 a.m. were called for by the council.

Fishermen who like to try their luck below the dam in Thief River Falls may see improvements to trails down the steep embankment and places to fish from along the bank. Mike Mongoven, for the park board, said he had talked to Dick Kimball of the Trails and Waterways division of the department of natural resources. Kimball suggested that the city council write a letter to the DNR stating that the city is seeking assistance to improve a quality fishery area located below the Thief River Falls dam. Kimball suggested that the city engineer study this area and make a recommendation to the DNR. The DNR could then have its engineer look at this area and make a recommendation.

The council passed a recommendation to oppose the construction of a radio tower 14 nautical miles south-east of the main runway of the Thief River Falls regional airport. City Attorney Robert Wurst said he had been in touch with the department of transportation and FAA and suggested that the city pass the recommendation. He said the tower probably posed no danger to commercial pilots, but to "private pilots muddling and groping along just below the clouds"....pilots who should not have to put up with the danger.

The first meeting of the year always involves a number of formal resolutions or motions. Tuesday night the council formally elected Milan Borsheim, first ward alderman, acting mayor to preside in the absence of the major; designated the Times as the official newspaper; appointed the chief of police as the process server; appointed J.J. Womack as the city liaison to the chamber of commerce; and selected several official depositories for city funds. The mayor also assigned committee duties to the council members.

Committee appointments for the coming year are: J.J. Womack, Don Liden and Kenneth Murphy to the liquor committee; J.J. Womack, Milan Borsheim, Bob Carlson and Don Barron to the finance, tax license and insurance committee; Milan Borsheim, Don Barron, Don Liden and Robert Reeve to the street, health and sanitation committee; Kenneth Murphy, Dale Wennberg and Don Barron to the utilities and building committee; Bob Carlson, Dale Wennberg and Robert Reeve to the public safety committee; and Don Liden and Milan Borsheim to the labor committee.

In other business the council accepted regular and special bills; incorporated a $50,000 deductible on all claims resulting in a $38,370 premium savings; approved removing bus stalls next to the city auditorium and putting a bus stall and loading-unloading zone in front of the Heritage community center; and approved progression raises for street department employees Blair Gustafson and Les Cota.

Area Personal Income Matches National Pace

Households in Pennington county with incomes of from $20,000 to $34,999 annually declined from 28.4 per cent in 1984 to 24.5 per cent by 1985.

The proportion of local households, with annual incomes in excess of from $35,000 to $49,999 per year also fell from 8.3 per cent in 1984 to 7.8 per cent by 1985. The proportion of households in Pennington county with incomes in excess of $50,000 per year increased from 2.2 per cent in 1984 to 2.8 per cent by 1985.

These trends were also apparent in Marshall county. The proportion of local households with incomes of less than $10,000 per year increased from 27.7 per cent in 1984 to 31.5 per cent by 1985. At the same time, the proportion of households in Marshall county with incomes of between $10,000 and $19,999 per year also increased from 31.9 per cent in 1984 to 32.6 per cent by 1985. Households in Marshall county with incomes of from $20,000 to $34,999 annually declined from 28.8 per cent in 1984 to 24.8 per cent by 1985.

The proporation of households in Marshall county with annual incomes in excess of from $35,000 to $49,999 per year also fell from 8.8 per cent in 1984 to 7.8 per cent by 1985. The proportion of households in Marshall county with incomes in excess of $50,000 per year increased from 2.8 per cent in 1984 to 3.3 per cent by 1985.

It should be kept in mind that these figures regarding household income distribution are not adjusted for inflation. However, even after taking inflation into consideration, it is apparent that there were some changes in the distribution of income in the United States and in Pennington and Marshall counties from 1984 to 1985.

The increasing entry of women into the working force is a very important factor relating to this trend. For example, the number of married couple households with wives in the paid labor force increased from 26,938,000 in 1984 to 27,489,000 in 1985 or by two per cent which is a very substantial one year increase.

Additional, however, the number of single person households or of households headed by unmarried persons also increased from 1984 to 1985. This would cause the proportion of households with relatively lower average incomes to become greater in spite of overall increases in personal incomes.

Detailed information regarding changes in either paid female employment or single person households for 1985 are not currently available on a local basis. However, income trends in Pennington and Marshall counties were not strikingly different from national trends from 1984 to 1985. Under these circumstances, it appears likely that the factors underlying these trends in Pennington and Marshall counties were not significantly different from national factors.

Deaths And Funerals

Evelyn Nelson, 76

Thief River Falls — Funeral services were held today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. at the Seventh-day Adventist church in Thief River Falls for Mrs. Evelyn Nelson, 76, who died Sunday at her home in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Ken Mayberry officiated at the service, with Darcy Nordvick serving as organist, and special music of "One Day at a Time" by Beverly Swenson; "Rock of Ages" by Tim Panek; and "Shepherd's Love" and "Good Night and Good Morning" by Craig Swenson and Wendy Blazejewski.

Pallbearers were Tom Blazejewski, Darren Panek, David Panek, Larry Panek, Mark Panek, Tim Panek, Craig Swenson, Scott Swenson and Todd Swenson. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery, with the Green Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Evelyn Nelson was born Jan. 3, 1911, at Cormorant, the daughter of David and Lucy Sammons Mathewson. As a child she lived in Cormorant and Minot, ND, and then moved to Thief River Falls where she attended school and grew to adulthood.

Sept. 9, 1931, she married Lawrence K. Nelson in Thief River Falls. The couple made their home in rural Goodridge where they farmed. They moved into Thief River Falls in August of 1985. She was a member of the Seventh-day Adventist church and past secretary of the Sabbath school.

Evelyn Nelson is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Clyde (Beverly) Swenson, Newfolden, and Mrs. George (Patricia) Panek, Goodridge; 10 grandchildren; 11 great-grandchildren; and one brother, Don Mathewson, Dayton, OH.

She was preceded in death by her parents, her husband and three brothers, Ward, Ronald and Burns Mathewson.

Esther Johnson, 80

Plummer — Mrs. Arthur (Esther Johnson, 80, died Sunday at her home in Mission, TX. Funeral services for Esther Johnson will be Friday at 2 p.m. at the Evangelical Covenant church in Thief River Falls, with Rev. Donald Peres officiating. Interment will be in the Viking cemetery.

Visitation will be at the Green Funeral home from 1 to 9 Thursday, with a prayer service at 7 p.m. that evening. There will also be visitation at the church for one hour prior to the service. A complete obituary will follow in Monday's edition of the Times.

Melvin Walberg, 75

Grygla — Funeral services for Melvin Walberg, 75, were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. Petri Lutheran church, rural Grygla. Melvin Walberg died January 7 at his Grygla home.

Rev. Roger Fehr officiated at the service, with Mrs. Henry Burrack as organist and Orland Aspen singing "In the Garden" and "How Great Thou Art." Congregational hymns were "What A Friend" and "Jerusalem the Golden."

Pallbearers were Lawrence Neuschwander, Vernon Neuschwander, Elden Neuschwander, Vernon Wikstrom, Lyle Nelson and Walter Nelson. Interment was in St. Petri cemetery, with the Green Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Melvin Walberg was born Nov. 27, 1911, in Grygla, to Lars and Anna Johansen Walberg. He was baptized and confirmed in the Christian faith and attended rural country school in Marshall county and grew to adulthood in Grygla.

He worked for several years on farms in North Dakota before his marriage to Evelyn Lorenson June 16, 1940, in Holt. The couple farmed near Grygla from 1940 to 1947, then moved to Kalispell, MT, for two years.

In 1950, they moved back to Grygla and farmed in Valle township. Evelyn Walberg died June 2, 1982. He moved into Grygla and married Emma Jacobson Sept. 21, 1985, at Clearbrook. They have lived in Grygla since their marriage. He was a member of St. Petri Lutheran church, serving as cemetery sexton for many years, was Valle township assessor for several years, had served on the township board and was a life-long member of the Farmer's Union.

He is survived by his wife, Emma; one son, LeRoy, Colorado Springs, CO; two daughters, Mrs. Orland (Linda) Aspen, Hill City, and Mrs. David (Mary Ann) Sjulestad, Goodridge; six grandchildren; one brother, Walter Walberg, International Falls; three step-sons, Robert Jacobson, Vergas, Franklin Jacobson, Moorhead, and James Jacobson, Thief River Falls; and eight step-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents; his first wife, Evelyn; two sons in infancy; and one sister, Alma.

Marlene Backlund, 55

Minot, ND — Marlene Backlund, daughter of Mrs. James Kelly and the late James Kelly, died Sunday at St. Joseph's hospital in Minot, ND. Funeral services were held at 10:30 today (Wednesday) at St. John the Apostle Catholic church in Minot.

E. Alton Lindstrom, 61

St. Paul — E. Alton Lindstrom, 61, of St. Paul, died January 7 at St. John hospital in St. Paul after a long illness. Memorial services were held at 9 a.m. at the Wulff Family mortuary at St. Paul with Rev. John Heal officiating. The American Legion held a service January 8. Interment was at Fort Snelling national cemetery with military rites.

Alton Lindstrom was born Apr. 25, 1925, at Strandquist, to John and Dora Lindstrom. He was baptized and confirmed in the Christian faith, and attended school and grew to adulthood there.

He entered the U.S. Marine Corp. in 1943, and served in the South Pacific during World War II. After his discharge he settled in St. Paul and was married to Estelle Pederson of Duluth in 1947 in St. Paul.

He was emplyed as a crane operator and was chief engineer of the asphalt plant for the city of St. Paul for the past 23 years. He was a member of the American Legion and Midway Masonic Lodge number 185 A and AM, and served on the board of deacons of the Hazel Park Congregational church in St. Paul.

Alton Lindstrom is survived by his wife, Estelle; one daughter, Mrs. Ronald (Marlene) Kjelsburg; two sons, Kenneth and Wayne; four grandchildren; and mother, Dora Lindstrom. All live in St. Paul. He is also survived by a brother, Glen, Circle Pines; two sisters, Mrs. Tedd (Grace) Lundin, Scandia, and Mrs. Melvin (Irene) Grandstrand, Viking.

He was preceded in death by his father and one brother.

LeRoy Scholin, 70

Scottsdale, AZ — LeRoy I. Scholin, formerly of Thief River Falls, died January 1 at the Desert Sun Quest rehabilitation and care center in Scottsdale, AZ, at the age of 70. Memorial services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Black River Lutheran church with Rev. Luther Anderson officiating. Burial was in Scottsdale.

Ruth Mosbeck served as organist at the memorial service, with Genora Schjeldrup singing "One Day At A Time" and "How Great Thou Art," and a special reading by Duanna Scholin. Lunch was served by the Black River LCW.

LeRoy I. Scholin was born January 6, 1916, at Wylie township, Red Lake county. He attended school and grew to adulthood there. He began farming with his father and was united in marriage Nov. 21, 1937, to Irene Schneider. After their marriage they continued to farm in Wylie township.

In the fall of 1968, he sold the farm and the couple moved to Thief River Falls. He worked as a machinist at Forsberg, Inc. After his retirement they lived in Thief River Falls until a year ago when they moved to Scottsdale, AZ, where they have since resided.

LeRoy Scholin is survived by his wife, Irene; two daughters, Sharon Knuth, Dickinson, TX, and Linda Dyrdal, Westminister, CO; four sons, Orrin, Scottsdale, AZ, Duane, Columbia, MT, Ronald, Mesa, AZ, and Robert, Thief River Falls; eight grandchildren; one sister, Elna Lindbloom, Felton; and two brothers, Einar Scholin, Crookston, and Arlo Scholin, St. Hilaire.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Olive Rubino, 67

St. Charles, MO — Olive Holmen Rubino died unexpectedly January 4 at her home in St. Charles, MO. Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. at St. Andrews Catholic church with Rev. Robert Mazzola officiating. Interment was at St. Mary cemetery in Richmond, IN. The Stegall-Berheide-Orr funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Olive Holmen was born and grew up in Thief River Falls. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith. In 1937, she graduated from Lincoln high school where she had worked as a secretary for Principal W. G. Claffy.

She worked for several years for Mrs. J. M. Bishop at the credit bureau and as head cashier at the Montgomery Ward store. In 1943, she moved to Astoria, OR, where she was employed by the government until the war ended. She then moved to Richmond, IN, where she married John Rubino. They lived in Richmond for several years and then in California and Las Vegas, NV.

John Rubino died in 1978, and she then moved to St. Charles, MO, where she was employed as a secretary for McDonnell Douglas Corp.

She is survived by a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew (Linda Susan) Liosis, and two grandchildren, Christopher and Jennifer, who reside in Wichita, KS; three sisters, Adeline Stehlin, St. Louis, MO, Mrs. Gary (Eileen) Verant, Hibbing, and Mrs. Lawrence (Marion) Wold, Thief River Falls; sisters-in-law, Mrs. Virginia Kemp and Mrs. Carl (Mary) Macurio, both of Florida, Mrs. John (Paula) Boogades, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands; a brother-in-law, Danny Rubino; and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Oliver and Annie Holmen; her husband, John; and his parents.

Marvin L. Gustafson, 70

Seattle, WA — Funeral services were held January 3 at Blitz Funeral home in Seattle, WA, for Marvin Leonard Gustafson, who died December 31 at the Swedish hospital in Seattle. John Darrah officiated at the service, with Wallace Seely serving as organist.

There was private interment at Pacific Lutheran cemetery in Seattle. The family prefers memorials to the Children's Orthopedic hospital or a favorite charity.

Marvin Leonard Gustafson was born June 22, 1916, to Emil and Andrina Gustafson in Viking township. He attended school and grew to manhood there. He moved to Seattle, WA, and then back to Viking. He has lived in Seattle since 1951. He married Martha Bredvick.

He was a member of Areo Mechanics union local number 751, Renton Fraternal Order of Elks and the Seattle Moose Lodge number 211.

Marvin Gustrafson is survived by his wife, Martha; two sisters, Mildred Anderson, East Grand Forks, and Mrs. Kenneth (Lillian) Lund; one brother, LeRoy Gustafson, Viking; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Emil and Andrina; and a brother, Bertil.

Robert A. Wurst Notes Retirement At Council Meet

Robert A. Wurst, city attorney for nearly 37 years, announced plans to retire from the practice of law and city attorney duties effective February 1, 1987 at the city council meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Bob Carlson and members of the city council accepted the resignation with great reluctance.

Wurst began working with the city as legal counsel when he was appointed assistant city attorney in January of 1950. At that time the city attorney was Theodore Quale and the city attorney was paid $120 per month and his assistant $50 per month.

Wurst is a graduate of the University of Minnesota school of law, St. Thomas college and Melrose high school. He grew up in Greenwald. Wurst moved to Thief River Falls and opened his own law practice in 1949. He was a Navy pilot for a time and was an active flying member of the reserve for approximately 15 years. Described as a very low key individual, he has been and continues to be, very active. He has been a member of the hospital board, Norwest Bank board, Minn-Star board, Arctic Enterprises board, Jobs Inc. board, and a member of the Hartz foundation. He was instrumental in bringing Northland community college to Thief River Falls and in getting the sports arena built. He and his wife are members of St. Bernard's parish.

Wurst and his wife Mary Jane have four children: Meg, Mrs. Robert Brodin, who lives in Arden Hills; Jane, who lives in Key West, FL; Thomas, who lives with his wife in Grand Rapids, MI, and is also an attorney; and Paul, who is a tax accountant in Minneapolis.

Mary Jane said they plan to do a little traveling, play golf and do all the things they never had the time to do.

District Court In Pennington County Sentenced Six

District court, with Judge Warren A. Saetre presiding in Pennington county court in Thief River Falls, handed out sentences in six cases during the past week.

In Minnesota vs. Gregory R. Sjulestad of Goodridge, for fleeing a police officer, was sentenced 30 days and fined $100. He was given credit for 16 days already served and the fine suspended if he served remaining 14 days. Prosecuting attorney in the case was Dave Olin and Dennis Murphy, assistant public defender, argued the case for the defense.

In Minnesota vs. Kurt Muzzy, Thief River Falls, for possession of a pistol in a motor vehicle without a permit, possession of a loaded firearm in a motor vehicle, and driving after revocation, the first count was dismissed, but on count two he was fined $100 plus costs or 10 days, and on count three he was fined $500 plus costs or serve 50 days. Prosecuting attorney in the case was Dave Olin and Dennis Murphy, assistant public defender, argued the case for the defense.

In Minnesota vs. Justin Keith Brierly, Thief River Falls, for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, Brierly was sentenced 90 days and $700, with 60 days suspended and all of fine on condition that he makes restitution in accordance with an agreement. Prosecuting attorney in the case was Dave Olin and Dennis Murphy, assistant public defender, argued the case for the defense.

In Minnesota vs. Wayne E. Peterson of Park River, ND, for driving under the influence — a gross misdemeanor — Peterson was fined $700 plus costs or given 90 days in jail. Two-hundred dollars of the fine was suspended. Prosecuting attorney in this case was Paul Ihle, and Neil McEwen represented Peterson.

In Minnesota vs. James Howard Aagenes, Fertile, MN, for fleeing a police officer, Aagenes was fined $150 plus costs, to be paid within 30 days or serve 15 days in jail. Aagenes was represented by Assistant Public Defender Dennis Murphy, and Dave Olin was the prosecuting attorney.

In Minnesota vs. Gordon M. Wold, Goodridge, for driving after revocation, Wold was sentenced to one year in the county jail. Wold was represented by Dennis Murphy, assistant public defender, and Dave Olin was the prosecuting attorney.

KING AGASSIZ for Pennington county, David Rodahl works on a piece of equipment with the drill press that was on the farm when the Rodahls purchased it and has been improved and equipped to handle most repair and maintenance needs for the farm. Rodahl will compete with other county King Agassiz winners to become King Agassiz at the Red River Valley winter shows February 14.

David Rodahl Is King Agassiz For Penn. County

David has been active in a number of community affairs, including Independent-Republican politics where he has been Marshall county vice chairman and chairman, Senate District I chairman and delegate to district and state conventions. He has served on the resolutions committee at the district level and worked on one State Senate and two State House campaigns.

He is chairman of the Thief River Watershed Development association and on the Thief River advisory board to the Red Lake Watershed district. David also assisted in organizing the Eastern Marshall County Township association in an attempt to deal with problems indigenous to the eastern portion of the county, particularly roads. He served as secretary of the association.

For about 10 years he has been clerk of Agdar township and is a member of the Minnesota Township Officers association. He also serves as vice chairman of the congregation at Our Saviour's Lutheran church in Thief River Falls and on the local committee for observance of the synod's 25th anniversary. He has also been a member of the Northwest Stockmen association.

Barb is a member of the women's missionary society at the church and on the cradle roll committee. She is a member of the East Steiner homemakers club and enjoys yard work, flower gardening and reading novels. She is also a volunteer worker one day a week at Our Saviour's Christian academy where their daughter Mandy is a third grader. Their son Michael is five years old. Barb also does some of the farm bookkeeping and handles many of the errand duties which farm wives are called upon to perform.

David said he enjoys looking at the futures market as a means to protect his investment in agriculture.

SWCD At Grygla Has Handbook On Tree Planting

A windbreak is a planned planting to provide protection from severe winds and to control snow deposition and offer wildlife benefits. The windbreak can provide beautification, wind reduction and reduce snow drifting into yards and driveways to improve living conditions for rural people, according to Ralph Rundell of the Marshall-Beltrami soil and water conservation district.

"We have a new tree handbook put out by the Minnesota Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts," Rundell said. "This has pictures of species of trees and a description of them. It is very interesting and informative. If you would like to take a look, stop in.

"If you would like information on improving your present windbreak or developing one where you don't have one stop in or call the soil and water conservation district office," he added.

Hanson Is Guest Conductor For F-M Symphony

International award winner and area native George Robert Hanson will appear as guest conductor of the Fargo-Moorhead symphony orchestra on Saturday, January 31, at 8 p.m. in the Concordia college memorial auditorium. Pianist Thomas Lorango will be the featured guest artist performing Rachmaninoff's "Rhapsody on a Theme by Paganini".

Hanson studied at Concordia college in Moorhead and Indiana university for bachelor and master of music degrees. He has earned fellowships, scholarships and awards including studies with Leonard Bernstein in Los Angeles and at Tanglewood as a conducting fellow. He was also the winner of the fifth international conductor's competition sponsored by Hungarian television in Budapest.

Ticket outlets for the concert are available by calling the symphony office at (218) 233-8397.

Historical Items Are Stolen From Pioneer Village

Theft of historical items including guns and Indian beadwork from the Pennington Pioneer Village museum was reported to local law enforcement authorities late last week, according to Dennis Kiesow, special investigator for the Thief River Falls police department.

Entry was gained through the main entrance to the museum and a padlock which was used to lock the building is missing. Theft took place sometime between December 10 — the last time the building was checked — and the date it was reported. The museum has been closed for some time during the off season.

Law enforcement authorities are asking for any information which anyone may have relating to the theft or stolen items. Among items taken are eight long guns manufactured prior to 1900, three handguns, three swords, five Indian beaded ceremonial robes, Indian artifacts including peace pipes and a collection of Soo Line investigator's equipment including handcuffs and other items.

Anyone who has any information which could lead to apprehension of the thief or thieves is asked to contact the law enforcement center or Ellsworth Jorgenson, treasurer of the Pennington county historical society which operates the pioneer village.

Muzzy Bull Is Nominated For All-American

A bull from the Daleford Holstein farm of Thief River Falls is among six animals shown at the Minnesota state Holstein show here last summer which have been nominated for All-American honors.

According to Holstein World magazine, 84 individual animals in [illegible] groups were selected from among [illegible] animals eligible for nomination. The nominees are owned by 95 exhibitors in 20 states, four Canadian provinces and one foreign country.

Because a number of the animals have joint ownership, a table of nominations by state shows Minnesota to be in seventh place with 5 [illegible] sixteenth animals nominated. Wisconsin is in first place with [illegible] while Ontario is second with 19 and seventeen-twenty-fourths.

The Daleford Holsteins bull, owned by Jerry Muzzy of Thief River Falls, Allan Lepper of Hawley and Albert Van Walleghem of Glenlea, Man., Canada, is named "[illegible] Heather Holme Rebound." It was senior and grand champion bull at the Minnesota Holstein show and Red River Valley winter shows.

"Satellite Domination," a bull entered by Conrad Kvamme of Little Falls which placed second to the Daleford bull at the state show here, was also nominated for All-American honors.

Other entries from the state show which achieved All-American nomination status were Exodus Atlas, a senior yearling bull owned by Elginvue Farms and Exodus Sires I of Arlington; Satellite Cleon, a senior yearling bull owned by Conrad Kvamme of Little Falls; Hanson Prestar Monalisa, a senior yearling heifer owned by John Buckley, Wade Reed an Kenneth Empey Jr. of Lindsay, Reaboro and Belmont, Ont., Canada; and Elgindale Genpedro Masterpiece, a junior bull now owned by Juan Caberera of Queretaro, Mexico, and previously owned by Kenneth Mueller of Arlington and Dennis Schrupp of Mayer.

A panel of three judges will make the All-American selections from photos submitted to them. The three judges have judged most of the major shows in the country in 1986 and each will vote his first, second and third choice in each class. Final totals will determine All-American, Reserve All-American and Honorable Mention in each class. Winners are expected to be notified about February 4.

Local Private Industry Councils (PICs) under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) include representatives from business, educational agencies, organized labor, rehabilitation agencies, community-based organizations, economic development agencies, and the public employment service, according to a U. S. Department of Labor fact sheet.

ExCEL Report Is Accepted Monday By School Board

Acceptance of the ExCEL program report for gifted and talented students in the Thief River Falls public school system took place when the School District 564 board of education met in its first regular meeting of the year Monday evening at the school district service center.

Carol Tranby, coordinator of the program, presented the report on review of the program by the ExCEL task force. Recommendations of the task force included inservice of all staff members on identification and needs of gifted students, special inservice for staff members who work directly with these students, building a core group committed to working with the gifted and talented and expanding the current elementary "pull-out" program.

A resolution was also approved by the board directing the administration — in conjunction with staff — to develop procedures to implement a tobacco-free school district by July 1. The program is intended to eliminate the use of tobacco in any areas of the schools by either students or adults.

Quotation of the Quick Print center was accepted for ECSU and school district printing projects in the amount of $17,120.50. The administration was directed to make recommendations for reducing programs and positions in the K-12 and AVTI programs due to the financial condition of the district.

Bill Stock, chemical awareness coordinator for the district, presented an update on activities in that program which begins in the elementary grades and continues through high school. Instruction is provided through Project Charlie in the elementary grades and health classes, driver's education, special speakers, training programs for staff and other means in the upper grades.

Resignation of Jeanne Harger as music instructor was accepted effective February 16. Leaves of absence without pay were approved for Donna Poole and Donna Kotaska and Mariann Stark was hired as developmental kindergarten aide at Knox. Chris Pricett was approved as skating rink attendant at Northrop.

Bid of Northern Motors was accepted for a 1987 model Chevrolet Celebrity for the mine safety and health program. Dave Crowser was hired as AVTI electronics lab assistant and authorization was given to post for an AVTI airframe and powerplant instructor as soon as possible.

Next regular meeting of the board will be January 26.

Word Processing Course Offered At AVTI Monday

A 21-hour Word Processing I class is scheduled to begin on Monday, at the Thief River Falls AVTI. Class will meet Monday and Wednesdays for seven sessions from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. in room 112. Instructor is Ruth Brown; tuition is $31.50.

The class will introduce students to word processing equipment and its operation through hands-on instruction. Students will develop word processing skills through training on IBM Displaywriter and IBM PC. This course is credited toward the secretarial full-time program.

Pre-register by contacting the Thief River Falls AVTI, Adult Extension, Highway 1 East, Thief River Falls, MN 56701; phone 681-5424 or toll free 1-800-222-2884.

Area Students Earn Degrees

More than 325 students graduated in the fall quarter from the University of Minnesota, Duluth (UMD). Included were Vicki Lynn Huot of Thief River Falls with a bachelor of science degree in biology and Nicholas Waldoch of Red Lake Falls with a master of education degree.

Postal Carrier Exam Workshop Set January 24

Thief River Falls AVTI and North Star seminars will offer a workshop in preparing for a postal clerk carrier exam, Saturday, January 24 at the Thief River Falls AVTI from 1 to 5 p.m.

Participants will learn the required steps to getting a postal job, when and how to apply, the types of questions on the postal exam, rules and regulations for the exams, proven techniques and strategies for improving speed and accuracy, exam traps designed to trick you into a lower score, and how to prepare for the test.

The workshop fee of $45 includes instruction and workbook, a sample exam plus answers, additional practical exams, and study and reference materials. Bring two No. 2 lead pencils to the workshop. Space is limited; pre-registration is required. Contact adult extension, Thief River Falls AVTI, 681-5424 or toll-free in Minnesota 1-800-222-2884.

Peterson Retires After 35 Years With Ag Dept.

D.R. Peterson has retired after 35 years with the Minnesota department of agriculture. Peterson, a resident of Thief River Falls, began work with the State of Minnesota Aug. 6, 1951.

Peterson grew up in Crookston where he attended grade school and high school. After graduation, he was with the United States Maritime service at Terminal Island, CA. Returning to Minnesota after World War II, he obtained employment with the Minnesota Public Service commission and the Minnesota department of agriculture, beginning his career as a grain sampler and weigher. In November of 1966 Peterson, in a cooperative agreement with the United States department of agriculture, and the state of Minnesota was appointed a grain warehouse examiner to perform examinations of grain warehouses in which Commodity Credit Corporation had an interest in products which they owned or were under a loan status. Peterson worked with Federal examiners in North Dakota and Wisconsin, as well as Minnesota, and was elevated to the position of senior warehouse examiner in April of 1986.

Donald and his wife, Phyllis, were married in 1948 and have three children: Larry, who lives with his wife Marilyn and two children in Twin Valley; Brian, who lives with his wife Diane and two children in North Canton, OH; and Janet, who resides in St. Paul.

At the present time, Peterson plans to continue to make his home in Thief River Falls and plans to do some traveling.

Senator Stumpf Chairs Sales Tax Sub-Committee

State Senator LeRoy Stumpf, Plummer, was officially sworn in January 8 to his second term in the Minnesota Senate.

With his swearing in Stumpf also assumes his new duties as chairman of the sales tax division, a major subdivision of the taxes and tax laws committee.

"Certainly with the heavy emphasis on tax reform from Governor Perpich, I look forward to long hours for the tax committee," he said. "I am pleased as well to be a member of the education aids committee, the committee that works with K-12 education funding, and I will also serve on the agriculture committee and environment and natural resources committee."

The 1987 session will not be a "bed of roses" for anyone, according to Senator Stumpf. "The financial troubles of the nation and especially our agricultural economy seem to follow us around. But this means we need to buckle down to the challenge and that is what the Governor indicated in his state-of-the-state address on Wednesday evening," Sen. Stumpf said.

"I'm looking forward to the positive changes in tax reform, educational funding and ways we can keep and increase job opportunities throughout the state."

Persons who have any comments, ideas or suggestions, are invited to contact him by 306 Capitol Building, St. Paul, MN 55155 or calling (612) 296-8660.

MINNESOTA DEER HUNTERS association recently provided funds toward habitat improvement in the Elm Lake area of eastern Marshall county. Regional director Neil Jacobson (right) of the association is pictured presenting the check to Al Gehrls, local chapter president. The Thief River Falls chapter's three-year project included installation of foot bridges in 1986 and will complete dozing of a zig-zag firebreak trail this winter. Final phase planned for 1988 will be creation of parking lots in the area. The chapter is accepting bids for the bulldozer work and persons interested may contact Gordon Forester, area wildlife manager for the Minnesota department of natural resources, at 681-7789.

Reps From Summer Camps To Visit At BSU Campus

Outdoor program center (OPC) of Bemidji state university will be setting up interviews for local people to meet with representatives from area summer camps on February 13 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the Terrace Lounge of Hobson Memorial union on the BSU campus.

The OPC has invited personnel from 80 summer camps in Minnesota and surrounding states to recruit and interview people for employment.

Information about the camps that will be represented, along with the applications for employment, will be available at the OPC in the lower level of Hobson Memorial union.

Summer camp employers looking for workers or individuals interested in this type of employment can obtain more information from the outdoor program center at 755-2999 prior to recruitment day.

MCCL Rally At Capitol Jan. 22 Promotes Life

At noon on Thursday, January 22, pro-life Minnesotans will gather for the 14th time "to commemorate the lives lost because of the 1973 U.S. Supreme Court decision legalizing abortion-on-demand," states MCCL president Leo LaLonde.

Rally participants will begin their march around the St. Paul Capitol at 12 noon and then assemble on the steps for a short program. The event is sponsored by Minnesota Citizens Concerned for Life (MCCL).

"Marchers will be calling public attention both to the magnitude of the carnage and the evergrowing need to restore legal protection for the lives of unborn children and others threatened by the principle established in Roe v. Wade — that human beings have to be wanted or productive to deserve society's protection," LaLonde said.

Before the rally an ecumenical prayer service will be held at 10:30 a.m. at the St. Paul Cathedral, near the Capitol.

LaLonde explained that his organization is gearing up for the legislative session "because, in this society, it is through protective legislation that the babies and other vulnerable human beings will be saved."

Chemical Health Awareness Week Being Planned

At a recent meeting of the Thief River Falls community awareness task force, plans were made for a Chemical Health Awareness Week to be conducted early in May, according to Bill Stock chemical awareness coordinator for School District 564.

A focal point of the week will be a three-day workshop series conducted by Dick Schaefer of Fargo, ND, who uses an adaptation of the "Tough Love" program which he refers to as "Touch Love." The program is to assist people in dealing with drug and alcohol problems.

The workshop series will include sessions May 6, 7 and 8 for business and professional people from 3:30 to 6 p.m. and three evenings of meetings for parents and their children from 7:15 to 10 p.m. Schaefer is also available to speak to other interested agencies on Thursday and Friday during the day.

"Tough Love is a survival tool for parents and caretakers of youth in dealing with out-of-control drug abusing adolescents," Schaefer said in a description of the program. "It is a high form of love for the youngsters who need it. This class will explain the various stages of Tough Love for interrupting the cycle of destructive behaviors with drug abusers. Specific techniques will be taught so participants can apply "Tough Love" to their own families or work situations."

Further information will be presented closer to the series time.

Anyone interested in assisting in promotion, presentation or planning of the Chemical Health Awareness Week is encouraged to contact Stock at Lincoln high school (681-2700, extension 249) or Jane Mackenroth at the community education department (681-2700, extension 214).

Presentations have been made to a number of community organizations and arrangements for other presentations can be made by contacting the people listed above.

Pastor Roger Ose To Visit Area Churches Jan. 18

Dr. Ose will be the guest preacher January 18 1987 at Silver Creek Lutheran church, rural Thief River Falls, at 9:30 a.m. and at Nazareth Lutheran church of Holt at 11 a.m.

A film "The Mark of the Red Hand." The story of a young boy in India who is able to save the life of his friend will be shown at both Sunday schools.

Dr. Roger Ose is a vibrant and effective Bible study teacher, author and evengelist. He shares a wealth of personal insights and experiences as well as "down to earth" applications of basic Bible truths.

A native of Thief River Falls, Pastor Ose attended the Seattle Lutheran Bible Institute. He is a graduate of Augsburg college and seminary, and Biblical seminary in New York. He received his Ph.D. from New York University.

He served pastorates in the Bronx, New York, and Columbia Heights, MN. Then in 1971 he and his family answered a call to serve in Madagascar as missionaries of the American Lutheran church. While in Madagascar, he worked primarily in the area of leadership training with rural congregations.

In 1978 Pastor Ose returned to the United States for treatment of lymphoma cancer. After more than three years of chemotherapy, the Lord has worked a miracle of healing grace and his cancer is now in remission.

He is currently serving as visitation pastor at Augustana Lutheran church, an inner city congregation in the heart of downtown Minneapolis. His ministry includes outreach to the elderly, minorities, and lower income groups. He lives in Richfield, MN, with his wife, Janet, and sons, Daniel, Scott and Steven.

Men Turning 26 In 1987 Reach Draft Deadlines

Selective service system has announced that men who will reach their 26th birthday in 1987 are reaching an important milestone.

Beginning on Jan. 1, 1987, men who were required to register with selective service in 1981 will be turning 26. Selective service does not have the authority to accept registrations after age 26. By failing to register before turning 26, a young man will have permanently forfeited his right to certain benefits including federal student aid, job training and federal employment. In addition to these federal benefits, some states require registration for state student aid, entrance to a state supported college or university, state employment and permission to practice law.

Many of the 25-year-olds who have still not registered may be unaware of the requirement or do not understand the importance of the obligation to register. Some may even have served in the military but failed to register either before entering the armed forces or after leaving active duty. Others may have been institutionalized or incarcerated at the time of their 18th birthday and not realized that they were required to register if released prior to age 26.

For those men born in 1961 who have registered, 1987 also marks the year that ends their eligibility for selection for induction under present law should there be a return to the draft. Over 17 million men, age 18 through 25, have registered with selective service since registration was reinstituted in 1980. These men comprise over 97 per cent of those required to register.

Men age 18 to 25 who have not yet registered still have a chance to avoid risk of prosecution and loss of benefits by registering promptly at any local post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in jail, or both.

Distribution Of Commodities In Marshall County

Surplus commodities will be distributed and income verified in Marshall county on the following dates and times: Holt senior citizen center, Tuesday, January 20, 2:30 to 4 p.m.; Strandquist city office, Wednesday, January 21, 2 to 4 p.m.; Middle River community center, Thursday, January 22, 10 a.m. to 12 noon; Grygla community center, Thursday, January 22, 1 to 4 p.m.

Persons wishing to pick up surplus commodities must have a 1987 commodity card. They are asked to bring proof of income to the distribution sites so that a new card can be issued.

Examples of proof of income are copies of paychecks, W2 wage statements, check stubs, deposit slips, interest statements, letters of determination and current tax forms. Beltrami county residents who live in the Grygla area must have income verified before surplus commodities can be picked up at the Grygla community center.

Sources of income could be, but are not limited to, wages, social security, pensions, annuities, interest and dividends, public assistance payments, unemployment benefits, rental income, child support and alimony. Income also includes net receipts from non farm or farm self employment. If fuel assistance has been applied for after October 1, 1986 and applicants were issued a commodity card at that time, it will not be necessary to have income verified.

For more information, call Karen Skadsem at 222-3[illegible].

'U' M Regents Discuss Future Enrollment

University of Minnesota can reduce its enrollment by about 8,000 students over the next six years without turning away a large number of students, President Kenneth H. Keller told the board of regents Friday, January 9.

Most of the reduction can follow a natural decline in the number of young people graduating from high school, Keller said. The number of high school graduates is expected to decline 25 per cent through 1994, according to state figures.

The state Higher Education Coordinating board has projected that university enrollment will fall by about 7,000 students by 1993.

The difference between demographic projections and university enrollment targets could be made up through several factors, Keller said. First, some students will choose not to come to the university as preparation standards and the level of college work expected of students are more widely communicated.

"This difference could be made up by good advice to students who might otherwise enter the university and never finish," according to Keller, who said 18 per cent of students leave the university before the end of their first year.

Second, as the metropolitan area population shifts toward the northwest suburbs, "we can expect more students may find St. Cloud State University to be more convenient," Keller said.

Third, as the range of postsecondary options increases in the metropolitan area, some Twin Cities residents will decide to attend other institutions.

Keller suggested reducing undergraduate enrollment as part of his "Commitment to Focus" plan to upgrade university programs. He told regents the university should abandon its historical method of looking at enrollment projections and instead set targets. Using projections has caused problems in the past when more or fewer students than expected register for classes, he said.

Targets would be based on demographics, available resources and applicants' preparation.

Several regents said they were worried about access to the university and about funding.

Future students would be better off with an enrollment decrease because the university could do a better job for them, Keller said. "The problem that we have faced is the problem of not having resources. It's not adequate to have access if that access doesn't lead to success."

Keller agreed that "Commitment to Focus" and enrollment reductions hinge on a change in how the Legislature funds the university. The current system of average-cost funding is driven by enrollment. An enrollment increase means more state money; a decrease in students means less money.

Keller has argued that university funding should remain constant while enrollment is allowed to drop, saying the amount of money spent on each student at the university is too low, compared with the other Big Ten schools. Students complain that they don't have enough equipment in classes, that they can't talk to advisers and that they can't get into classes, he told regents.

He hopes the Legislature will change the "enrollment-driven funding" system for the university this session, Keller said. "If we don't have at least that, we don't have enough to go forward (with many 'Commitment to Focus' plans)."

Regents voted to approve a mission statement for General College that lays out its goal of developing students' "previously undeveloped or unrecognized academic promise," enabling them to go on to other university programs and earn four-year degrees. Through increased assessment of students' abilities and interests, General College advisers and faculty hope to better match students with programs, said Evelyn Hanson, acting dean.

Admission procedures will involve more individual review of students, but that will take people and money, she said.

Regents also approved the incorporation of the Big Ten athletic conference. Presidents of Big Ten schools have proposed the action to gain more control over athletic activities.

For example, conference athletic directors recently voted to increase the number of players allowed to travel with football teams. This increases costs and emphasizes athletics over academics by taking more students away from classes, Keller said.

With incorporation, such issues would become before Big Ten presidents, he said.

ARCTCO, INC.
Home of the Cat

SNOWMOBILE RIDERS from Stettler, Alberta, Canada, arrived in Thief River Falls Tuesday after about a 1,400-mile ride. The group included (left to right) Ron Harrison, Alan Zweifel (support vbehicle driver), Don Hennel and his son Todd. The three snowmobilers and their support vehicles carried large Canadian flags for identification. The Hennels and Harrison were part of a larger group of snowmobilers making the trip from Stettler to Roseau and back, raising funds for the Multiple Sclerosis society. Because they are ardent Arctic Cat riders, Harrison and the Hennels chose to ride ahead of the group and make the visit to the Arctic Cat factory in Thief River Falls before rejoining the main group in Roseau Friday. The return trip will average about 200 miles per day with prearranged overnight stops along the way. The group of about 38 snowmobilers expects to arrive in Castor, Alberta, on January 23 at 2:30 p.m. to help open that community's Winterfest celebration.

Prowlers Outlast Nordics 70-63

Thief River Falls got the victory, 70-63, but the fans were the real winners Tuesday as the Prowlers and Marshall County Central boys put on a dandy high school basketball show that provided an awful lot of entertainment value for the price of an admission ticket.

It was more like a one-point ball game than the seven-point final that was inflated by Thief River Falls free throws down the stretch. And it was a very well-played game at that. Both coaches said as much.

"It was an excellent game," confirmed Marshall County Central's Ron Ueland, the losing coach. "You can't get a much better spectator game than that. This was the best we've played all year, no question. If we continue to play like that, we're going to win some ball games."

"It was a good high school basketball game," added Thief River Falls' Tom Hunt, the winning coach. "Overall I thought we played one of our better games — we had to."

Highlighting the show were the individual talents shown by the Nordics' Danni Halvorson and Darin Rokke, and the Prowlers' Chris Nelson. Those three put on a shooting clinic that produced some 65 points — most of it from the outside with a variety of net-swishing jumpers. Nelson, a 6-4 junior forward, had a game-high 25 points. The six-foot Halvorson and the 5-10 Rokke, the Nordics' senior starting guards, netted 22 and 18 points, respectively.

"I said before the game if we were going to win, we had to stop Halvorson and Rokke," explained Hunt. "I guess we didn't do a very good job of that. But we got some free throws and some key offensive rebounds at the end that won it for us."

Ueland was equally impressed with Nelson's performance against his team, and he pointed to those free throws and rebounds down the stretch as game-deciding plays, too. "They got the free throws, and when they did miss, they got the rebounds," he pointed out.

The Prowlers were 13-for-18 at the line in the fourth quarter. The Nordics were 3-for-4 during that same stretch, and Ueland wasn't real happy with the foul situation. "I don't think the refereeing was up to the caliber of the game at all," he said, criticizing the work by officials Jim Sims and Harlan Stahlecker of Crookston.

Thief River Falls never trailed, but Marshall County Central was always nipping at the Prowlers' lead. Thief River Falls started the game with a 6-0 headstart and enjoyed an 11-3 cushion with 2:14 left in the first quarter. But the slow-starting Nordics caught fire behind the shooting of Halvorson and Rokke to tie it at 11-11 before the Prowlers' Tom Knoff scored on a rebound shot with two seconds left to finish off a Thief River Falls final-shot offensive effort.

It stayed close until Nelson turned a 23-21 Thief River Falls edge into a 28-21 advantage with a personal point-producing surge late in the first half. He made one of two free throw attempts with 3:02 to play, hit nothing but net from long range with 1:57 remaining and muscled his way for a short base line jumper despite close coverage from two Marshall County Central defenders with 54 seconds left.

Rokke hit a short jumper moments later to stop Nelson's run, but Thief River Falls center Brian Stark slipped underneath for a basket to close out another final-shot Prowler effort with five seconds showing, making it 30-23 at halftime.

Thief River Falls matched that seven-point spread at 38-31 on a Jarrod Kalsnes jumper with 5:21 remaining in the third quarter, but Marshall County Central quickly turned it into a 38-37 game on a pair of baskets by Rokke and a fast break lay-up by Lee Pemberton following a Thief River Falls turnover. The Nordics tied the Prowlers at 42-42 with 2:24 to play and again at 44-44 on a short base line jumper by Rokke with 1:49 left, but Nelson came up with a free throw and a long base line jumper to gave the Prowlers a 47-44 lead as the quarter ended.

It was still tight when Marshall County Central's Kelly Dahl, a 6-4 sophomore center, made both ends of a bonus free throw opportunity with 1:55 remaining in a 61-59 game.

But Nelson scored on a rebound off a missed Thief River Falls free throw with 1:40 left and made the first shot on a bonus opportunity with 1:18 to play. Stark grabbed the rebound on the missed free throw and was sent to the line on a call that was unpopular with Marshall County Central followers. He made both bonus tries for a 66-59 cushion with 1:15 to go.

Jon Kragness' fast break lay-up after a Thief River Falls turnover made it a still-catchable 66-61 with 43 seconds on the clock, but the Nordics' come-back was stopped cold when a long football-style pass on the ensuing out-of-bounds play found Kalsnes alone behind the Nordics' full-court press defense. He turned it into an easy basket, and two free throws by teammate Griff Newland moments later gave the Prowlers their biggest lead of the night, 70-61.

Fittingly, Rokke hit from the corner with one second left to close out the scoring.

"We started slowly," acknowledged Ueland, "and we just could not get the one roll when we needed it down the stretch."

"We weathered the storm," smiled Hunt, whose team was coming off a last-second 51-50 loss at the hands of Crookston Friday.

Thief River Falls won it without starting guard Chris Bjorgaard, who is sidelined indefinitely with an ankle sprain. Nelson helped pick up the slack, along with Kalsnes, who scored 14 points while moving from forward to guard for Bjorgaard, and Todd Solsten, who had a strong 13-point performance in stepping into's Kalsness' regular forward spot. Stark made it four Thief River Falls double figures with 10 points for the Nordics.

Both sides shot well. Thief River Falls was 26-for-46 from the field (57 per cent), while Marshall County Central was 28-for-57 (49 per cent), but the Nordics were 18-for-32 in the second half (56 per cent). The Prowlers finished 18-for-26 in the second half (56 per cent). The Prowlers finished 18-for-26 at the free throw line, where the Nordics were 7-for-10. Thief River Falls had a 27-18 rebound edge, and also had more

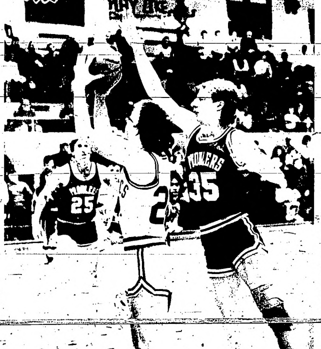
DRIVING ON Marshall County Central defender Tom Bolstad, Thief River Falls forward Chris Nelson tried to make his way to the base line during Tuesday's high school basketball game played in Thief River Falls. Nelson scored a game-high 25 points in leading the Prowlers past the Nordics 70-63 in a well-played down-to-the-wire contest.



MARSHALL COUNTY CENTRAL guard Darin Rokke went to the basket as he slipped inside of Thief River Falls defender Todd Solsten during Tuesday's high school basketball game played in the Lincoln gym. The Prowlers' Chris Nelson (25) watched the action. Rokke scored 18 points for the Nordics, but Nelson had 25 for the Prowlers and Solsten added 13 in the 70-63 Thief River Falls victory.

Plummer Boys Beat RLF 60-53

Red Lake Falls' defense was set up to stop high-scoring Shane Freyholtz, and the Eagles held the 6-4 Plummer junior to 12 points, but they also surrendered 17 points apiece to Wade Grinde and Neil Huotari as the host Cardinals picked up a 60-53 boys high school basketball victory Tuesday.

Grinde's point total wasn't a surprise, but Huotari's production was a season-high for the 5-10 senior, who also contributed eight assists.

"I was pretty happy," said Plummer coach Jim Baron after the win put the Cardinals at 6-2 for the year. "We got out early and held on."

Plummer opened with a 20-12 first quarter lead, an eight-point spread that wound up a seven-point victory. The Cardinals maintained a 36-28 halftime edge and carried a 46-35 lead into the fourth quarter.

Tony Gagnon scored a game-high 23 points to lead the Eagles, who tried to keep pace with an outside shooting attack that was an impressive 14-for-26 in the first half (54 per cent). Red Lake Falls wound up 24-for-49 for the game (49 per cent).

Plummer also had a hot hand from the field in the first half, but unlike Red Lake Falls, the Cardinals did most of their damage inside where they were 18-for-31 (58 per cent). Plummer finished 25-for-53 (47 per cent).

An edge in the free throw department went to the Cardinals, who were 10-for-14 at the line, while the Eagles were 5-for-6. Rebounds were even at 25-apiece and turnovers were even at 19-apiece.

Plummer visits Goodridge Friday.

Middle River . . . . . . . . . . . . . 67
Badger . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 58

A pair of outstanding individual performances by Tom Gullikson and Tom Blazek carried Middle River to a 67-58 North Border Conference win at Badger Tuesday.

Gullikson, a 6-1 senior, scored 27 points and grabbed 16 rebounds, playing the "best game of his life," according to Middle River coach Eldon Sparby. Blazek, a 5-9 junior, scored 21 points and helped out with six rebounds. He played his "best game of the year," said Sparby.

"Those two kids played extremely well," praised Sparby. "Those two basically carried us."

Rest of the Skippers struggled through a not-so-pretty performance that included 27 Middle River turnovers, even though the Skippers had quarter leads of 19-14, 35-27 and 44-36.

Brian Lange led Badger with 23 points and Jason Isane had 20.

Middle River was 25-for-56 from the field (47 per cent) and 17-for-28 at the free throw line (61 per cent). Badger was 22-for-55 from the field (40 per cent) and 14-for-27 at the line (52 per cent). The Rockets had 18 turnovers. Middle River had a 39-27 rebound edge.

Ankle injuries slowed the Skippers' Brent Peterson and Larry Korpi, hurting the Middle River attack, noted Sparby, whose team snapped a five-game losing streak and improved its record to 4-6. They had a tough assignment Friday at Hallock.

Goodridge . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 36

Goodridge continues to struggle, losing a 45-36 Tuesday night game to visiting Oklee that dropped the Huskies to 1-8 for the year.

"We're just not playing very good basketball right now," admitted Goodridge coach John Rahn. "I don't know what the problem is, but everybody's struggling except Roger Coan. He's playing great right now, but he's not getting any support."

Coan, a 5-11 senior, shared game-high scoring honors with teammate Shawn Groven. Chris Solien led Oklee with 10 points.

Goodridge, after starting the year with hot hand from the field, is struggling with its shooting now, going 15-for-49 against Oklee (31 per cent). Oklee was 14-for-43 (33 per cent). The Huskies were 6-for-11 at the free throw line (55 per cent), and the Bobcats were 17-for-27 (63 per cent).

Rahn admits the Huskies will have to play much better Friday, or they'll have a long night when they host a strong Plummer team.

Basketball JV Has 7-0 Season Record

Thief River Falls boys raised their junior varsity high school basketball record to 7-0 Tuesday with a 49-30 win over Marshall County Central.

Ryan Walseth scored 11 points for the winners, who led 13-6 at the end of the first quarter, had a 20-10 halftime cushion and carried a 33-16 lead into the fourth quarter. He was the game's only double figure scorer.

Twins Here Tonight

A touch of baseball in the midst of a busy winter sports schedule will be offered in Thief River Falls tonight (Wednesday) when the Minnesota Twins' Talkin' Baseball Tour makes a stop at he Best Western Inn.

The 6:30 p.m. program will feature catcher Mark Salas and pitcher George Frazier as guest speakers, along with Glenn Gostick from the Twins' front office and new Twins broadcaster John Gordon. There will be a hot dog, chips and pop baseball meal served, and a Twins highlight film will als be shown, along with other activities.

Admission is $2. The public is welcome.

Thief River Falls' stop on the Twins' winter is being sponsored by KTRF Radio. Salas, Frazier, Gostick and Gordon are part of three Twins touring teams that are making the speaking circuit tour this winter that began Monday and ends January 23. They were in Devils Lake and Grand Forks Tuesday.

NCC League Openers

Northland Community College men's basketball team begins its 1986-87 Minnesota Community College Conference schedule this weekend with a two-game trip to face Northeast Division foes Rainy River Friday night and Hibbing Saturday afternoon.

University of Minnesota-Crookston will be making the same trip, playing the teams in reverse order. The other two Northwest Division teams — Brainerd and Fergus Falls — will be facing the other two Northeast teams this weekend — Itasca and Vermilion.

"The best teams in the state, and probably in the region, right now," said Northland coach Chet Engelman, "are Vermilion, Itasca and Hibbing. Rainy River is a capable team; Hibbing is a good team. We'll have our hands full. We'll have to play well to win."

Vermilion beat Itasca 97-88 in a key Northeast Division meeting last night (Tuesday) at Ely.

Northland is 5-5 in nonconference play.

The Northland women will also be opening their league play at Rainy River and Hibbing this weekend in doubleheader assignments with the men. Northland women are 4-5, but they host a strong Wahpeton-Science team tonight (Wednesday) at 7 p.m.

Miscellaneous

+ A top-notch girls high school basketball match-up Thursday will find unbeaten Thief River Falls (11-0) hosting two-time defending Region 8AA champion East Grand Forks in the Lincoln High School gym. The Prowlers edged the Green Wave 56-54 in overtime in the semifinals of the Warren Invitational earlier this season. East Grand Forks' record slipped to 6-4 Tuesday with a 53-44 loss to Bemidji, a team Thief River Falls beat 45-50 last week.

+ A crowd of 2,200 was reported to be on hand Saturday to watch Moorhead record its first-ever high school hockey win over Thief River Falls, 2-1. It was the largest crowd the Spuds have ever drawn to their sparkling Sports Arena facility.

+ Thief River Falls, struggling with a 3-7 record after a 4-2 Tuesday loss at Crookston, will take a break from Section 8 play Saturday when the Prowlers host Fargo South in a 7:30 p.m. high school game at the Sports Arena. It'll be a full day of hockey activity at the arena, starting with TRFAHA Squirt In-House games at 8 and 9:30 a.m.; a Thief River Falls-East Grand Forks Bantam A match-up at 10:45 a.m.; a Northland-Rainy River Minnesota Community College Conference game at 1 p.m.; the Thief River Falls-Fargo South junior varsity game at 5:15 p.m.; and the Prowlers vs. Bruins at 7:30. If you plan to spend the day, you should be comfortable, with the new arena heat recovery system in working order. The Pioneers and Voyageurs also play Friday at 7:30 p.m. Northland, 8-3 overall and 4-1 in the MCCC, swept Rainy River 8-3, 5-1 in a nonconference series at International Falls December 20-21. After meeting Fargo South, Thief River Falls travels to Warroad Tuesday for a Section 8 test against the strong Warriors, who beat rival Roseau 5-2 Tuesday to go 8-1 for the year. First-year Detroit Lakes coach Ross Dahl was very impressed with Warroad after the Warriors' 12-0 win over the Lakers Saturday. "They're awesome," he told Ralph Anderson of the Detroit Lakes Tribune. "They're unbelievable. It's hard to play when you get hammered like that."

+ Detroit Lakes boys saw their season-long seven-game high school basketball winning streak come to an end Tuesday in a 59-57 North Sub-Region 8AA loss to Bemidji.

MCC Has Six-Game Win Streak

Marshall County Central girls stretched their winning streak to six games Monday with a 56-44 high school basketball win at Greenbush.

The 6-1 Nordics' only loss this winter was a season-opening 43-40 setback at the hands of unbeaten Class AA Thief River Falls. Marshall County Central will face area rival Middle River Thursday in a key North Border Conference match-up in the Skippers' gym.

"That'll be an interesting game," predicted Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "The place will be packed, I'm sure. It should be fun."

A balanced attack, one of the surfaced once again in the win over Greenbush as Jodi Foss and Andrea Kragness scored 14 points each, Kelli Anderson had 12, while Natalie Ueland and Kari Boe both contributed 8 points. Ueland also had 17 rebounds in an outstanding performance inside against a big Greenbush team, pointed out Mjelde.

Kim Langaas led Greenbush with 18 points.

"I thought they (Greenbush) played real well," noted Mjelde, whose team might have had a tougher-than-expected time of it, trailing 12-11 at the end of the first quarter before taking a 27-20 halftime lead and opening up a 41-28 third quarter spread. "Overall, I was pleased with our effort," he said.

Marshall County Central shot well from the field on a 25-for-59 showing (42 per cent), but fared poorly at the free throw line with a 6-for-19 effort (32 per cent), which included misses on the front end of six bonus opportunities. Greenbush was 22-for-57 from the field (38 per cent) and 0-for-1 at the line. The Nordics had a 31-26 rebound edge and also topped the turnover figures, 11-9.

The Nordics, after playing Middle River, will host Badger Monday.

Oklee . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 35

Plummer rebounded from its first loss of the 1986-87 season (a 48-40 Thursday defeat at Oslo) to beat Oklee 72-35 Monday night.

Robin Brantl, shaking off the efforts of a severe ankle sprain, scored 25 points to lead the high-scoring Cardinals, while Janelle Konickson had 15 points and Renae Walter added 10. Julie Murack led Oklee with 16 points.

Plummer had quarter leads of 16-8, 36-17 and 56-25 in climbing to 8-1 for the year.

"We played well enough to win, I guess," said Plummer coach Rick Koivisto. "I guess we have to be pleased with the win."

Plummer shot 53 per cent from the field (33-for-62) and 46 per cent at the free throw line (6-for-13) while outrebounding Oklee 34-24. The Bobcats shot 31 per cent from the field (16-for-52) and 50 per cent at the line (3-for-6).

A schedule break will give the Cardinals a week off before they host Thief River Falls Tuesday, January 20.

Middle River . . . . . . . . . . . . . 36
Warroad . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 29

Middle River relied on its defense to beat visiting Warroad 36-29 Monday.

The Skippers had an 8-6 first quarter lead, settled for a 16-16 halftime tie, then regained a 26-20 third quarter edge.

Middle River coach Steve Larson wasn't overly impressed with the Skippers performance: "Defense was fine, but our offense. . ."

Kerry Nelson scored 14 points the Skippers and Rayette Benke had 10. No Warroad scorer reached double figures in the low-scoring affair.

Middle River was 17-for-47 from the field (36 per cent), but only 2-for-16 at the free throw line (13 per cent). Warroad was 12-for-45 from the field (27 per cent) and 5-for-9 at the line (56 per cent).

The Skippers will carry a 7-3 record into Thursday's home court assignment against rival Marshall County Central, and Larson looks for a large fan turn-out for that one.

Roseau . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 61
Grygla . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 43

Grygla coach Mike Gast said his team had to do two things to beat Roseau Monday: prevent the Rams from getting too many easy baskets off the fast break, and hold their own on the boards.

But the Eagles weren't able to accomplish either goal, and as a result lost a 61-43 road decision.

"We gave them too many easy shots," pointed out Gast, and we got beat on the boards (35-21 Roseau rebound advantage)."

Roseau had a 17-9 first quarter lead, moved ahead 31-21 at halftime and enjoyed a 43-30 third quarter cushion.

Sara Huglen led a group of 10 Roseau girls who scored during the game with 13 points. Liesa Brateng had 10. Nikki Lian, a bright spot for the Eagles during a tough 1-6 season, had a game-high 15 points with another strong outing. Wendy Lawrence tacked on 13 points for the Eagles.

In the shooting department, Grygla was 12-for-40 from the field (30 per cent) and 19-for-25 at the free throw line (76 per cent), while Roseau was 24-for-68 from the field (39 per cent) and 13-for-33 at the line (39 per cent).

Pioneers Edge Air Base Team By 86-83 Score

An 86-83 victory over the Grand Forks Air Foce Base Monday squared the Northland Community College men's nonconference basketball record at 5-5 heading into the Pioneers' first Minnesota Community College Conference action of the 1986-87 season this weekend.

Northland will face Rainy River in an 8 p.m. Friday MCCC opener at International Falls and will be in Hibbing Saturday for a 2 p.m. matinee.

A lot of peole shared playing time in Monday's win over the Royals, and most of them contributed, pointed out Northland coach Chet Engelman. "We played fairly well, I think. We had some kids who came through and did a nice job for us," said Engelman.

Northland had a 41-36 halftime lead.

A balanced Northland attack included Rodney Wilson with 14 points, Greg Campbell 13, Ray Davis and Anthony McCullough with 11 each and Randy Hargest with 10. Bob McCann had a game-high 25 points for the visitors.

Northland was 29-for-71 from the field (41 per cent) and 26-for-33 at the free throw line (79 per cent). The Air Base was 34-for-64 from the field (53 per cent) and 13-for-22 at the line (59 per cent). Northland had a slim 42-40 rebound edge and the Air Base topped the turnovers figures, 23-16.

Prowlers Handle Fosston 115-48

Thief River Falls took 10 of 11 first place finishes Monday as the Prowlers overwhelmed Fosston 115-48 in a boys high school swimming meet at the Franklin Middle School pool.

It was the third dual meet victory in as many starts for the Prowlers, who face their toughest dual assignment yet on Friday when they host Bemidji at 5 p.m.

"We knew we would have the depth to win the meet," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Jay Forney after the one sided victory over Fosston, "which might have lessened the level of intensity. But the swimmers got themselves going and turned in a very satisfactory effort."

Eight different Thief River Falls individuals were winners Monday, including Paul Giauque, 200 freestyle; Aaron Tofte, 200 I.M.; Shon Thompson, diving; Rick Rosetta, 100 butterfly; Greg Dosser, 100 freestyle; Keith Olson, 500 freestyle; Joe Drevlow, 100 backstroke; and Brian Schindler, 100 breaststroke.

Both relay events also went to the Prowlers. Drevlow, Giauque, Schindler and Brian Joppru won the 200 medley relay, while Todd Carlson, Dosser, Rosetta and Tofte took the 400 freestyle relay.

Fosston's lone win came from Joe Lindberg in the 50 freestyle, where he touched out Rosetta for first place.

Forney said the Prowlers received good efforts from Dosser in the 50 and 100 freestyle races, Tofte in the 200 I.M. and 400 freestyle relay, Novak in the 500 freestyle, Rosetta in the 50 freestyle and 400 freestyle relay, Carlson in the 100 freestyle and 400 freestyle relay and Thompson, who cracked the 200 point barrier with six dives for the first time.

Giauque was a Section 8 qualifier in the 200 freestyle. The Prowlers turned in 12 personal career-best performances and 10 seasonal-best efforts during the meet in Franklin's heat and high humidity.

Losses Mount For Freshmen Girls

Thief River Falls had a 7-2 first quarter lead, held on to an 11-10 halftime edge, but fell behind 30-14 in the third quarter and lost a 35-26 girls freshman high school basketball game at Warren Friday.

It was the seventh straight loss of the 1986-87 season for the Thief River Falls team.

Loss No. 8 came Tuesday night, 44-41 at Crookston. It was close throughout as Crookston posted quarter leads of 12-8, 21-20 and 35-31.

Alice Dunning scored 18 points and Kari Wald had 10 for Thief River Falls.

A WINNER in the 200-yard individual medley during Monday's Thief River Falls-Fosston dual meet high school boys swimming encounter at the Franklin Middle School pool was the Prowlers' Aaron Tofte, shown here on the backstroke leg of the event, which also includes the butterfly, breast and freestyle strokes. Tofte won it in 2:23.39, with the Prowlers overwhelming the Greyhounds 115-48.

— Youth Hockey —

Thief River Falls VFW Bantam A hockey team reached the .500 level Friday night with a 6-2 victory over Moorhead, but fell below the break-even mark again Sunday following an 8-5 loss to Grand Forks South in Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association action.

Corey Poole collected four assists in the win at Moorhead, and John Seaverson matched that four-point output with two goals and two assists. Aaron Janisch, Jeff Novak, Paul Borchert and Steve Sabo scored one goal each, while Wade Jorde picked up two assists. Ryan Haugen had a strong 28-save performance in the Thief River Falls nets. The Moorhead netminder made 29 saves.

Thief River Falls had a 2-0 lead Sunday in the Sports Arena, but lost a disappointing 8-5 contest to Grand Forks South. Janisch scored twice and had an assist, while Jorde, Poole and Seaverson scored single goals. Goaltending was shared by Jay Lusignan and Chris Lawrence, who combined for 36 saves. Grand Forks South goalie made 34 saves.

Jeff Tunberg-coached Thief River Falls team is 9-10 for the year.

Bantam B

Bryan Cloutier turned in an 18-save shutout performance in the Thief River Falls nets Friday to lead the American Legion Bantam B team to a 3-0 win at Red Lake Falls.

Derek Larson, Ross Dalzell and Shawn Crowser scored the goals as Thief River Falls out-shot Red Lake Falls 29-18.

Darin Teie scored twice Saturday in a 5-2 road win over Frago South. Jerod Kolden, Brian Gillespie and Larson added single goals. Chris Lawrence made 25 saves for the winners. Fargo South goalie made 28 stops.

Mark Enge-coached Thief River Falls team is now 12-7.

Pee-Wee A

Eagles Pee-Wee A team had a loss and a tie on the weekend as the Mark Harder-coached Thief River Falls team fell to 8-6-2 for the year.

Roseau out-shot Thief River Falls 55-12 in winning a 7-2 Friday night game at the Sports Arena. Cory Olderdahl and Nathan Hunt scored the Thief River Falls goals. Barry Powers was kept busy, making 48 saves.

Thief River Falls had a 3-0 lead against Fargo South Saturday, but wound up with a 3-3 tie. Barry Rhineberger, Aaron Broten and Jason Svir scored the Thief River Falls goals. Ross Boldt was in the Thief River Falls nets, making 23 saves.

Pee-Wee B

Red Lake Falls, Fargo South, Moorhead and Hallock defeated the Thief River Falls Elks Pee-Wee B team during a busy weekend that dropped the Art Cloutier-coached team to 1-15-1 for the year.

It started Friday night with an 8-1 loss at Red Lake Falls. Chris Eide scored the lone Thief River Falls goal. Red Lake Falls had a 14-11 edge in shots-on-goal.

Fargo South edged Thief River Falls 3-2 to start a split Saturday doubleheader that also included a 4-2 loss to Moorhead. Jimmy Olson and Kevin Johnson scored against Fargo South, while Ryan Kraemer and Jason Neimi scored against Moorhead. The shots were even in both games, with Fargo South posting just a 12-11 edge in shots-on-goal while Thief River Falls had a 16-15 edge over Moorhead.

Hallock, though, had a big edge in shots Sunday in a 10-0 romp over Thief River Falls, outshooting the visitors 36-9.

DNR NEWS

Wildlife Curriculum

A wildlife-oriented school curriculum called Project WILD was used by a record number 1,424 teachers and naturalists in Minnesota in 1986 — nearly double the 797 participants in 1985.

Since each teacher uses Project WILD with about 30 students, the wildlife lessons probably reached more than 40,000 elementary and secondary students, said Carrol Henderson, Nongame Supervisor for the Department of Natural Resources.

Project WILD is a set of 80 lesson plans about wildlife ecology, nature and conservation. The lessons are not strictly science oriented, said Henderson. "That's the beauty of WILD," he said. "It can be used with all sorts of classes — science, art, language, mathematics, social studies and even physical education."

The plans are available to teachers and naturalists who attend a one-day training workshop on how to use the materials, Henderson said. Project WILD comes in elementary and secondary versions.

"The Minnesota Department of Education now requires all elementary schools to incorporate environmental education into their classes," Henderson said. "Project WILD is the perfect curriculum to help teachers meet that requirement and help wildlife at the same time."

Many of the Project WILD lessons involve outdoor observation and activities, though they don't require traveling.

"We, like many schools, are restricted in field trips," said Steve Dibb, a teacher of seventh-grade life sciences and high school biology in Waseca. "Project WILD lets us change the classroom setting — take the kids outside. They like to see the hands-on thing. I think it's great." He has used the curriculum for two years and now conducts Project WILD workshops for other teachers.

Project WILD is sponsored by the Department of Education and the Department of Natural Resources through the Minnesota Environmental Education Board and the Nongame Wildlife Program. Funds come from donations to the Nongame Wildlife Checkoff on Minnesota tax forms.

For more information on the program, write Project WILD, Department of Natural Resources, 500 Lafayette Rd., St. Paul, MN 55155-4007.

Ski Trails

Despite unseasonably warm weather and lack of snowfall, Department of Natural Resource state park officials reported earlier this week that many cross-country ski trails in northern Minnesota were in good condition with up to a foot of snow.

DNR Trails and Waterways Director Paul Swenson encourages skiers to be prepared for the winter and spring snows by purchasing a cross-country ski license. License-sale revenues ensure that funding continues for grooming public ski trails.

Favorable trail conditions are possible because of maintenance and grooming funded by cross-country ski license purchases totaling $193,000 last winter, said Swenson. Because $121,000 was budgeted for last winter's trails, more than $70,000 was carried over for trail maintenance start-up costs this fall. In total, $154,000 has been budgeted for ski trails this winter.

All money collected from ski licenses is deposited in the dedicated cross-country ski account created by the Legislature in the spring of 1985. This account is the primary source of funding for state ski-trail maintenance and ski-trail grants to local government units, Swenson said.

As they did last winter, licensed peace officers are enforcing the requirement that skiers be licensed. Nearly 185 warnings and citations were issued to non-licensed skiers in the metro area alone last winter.

For information on where to obtain a ski license or to get a free guide to the state's 2,700 miles of cross-country ski trails, Minnesotans can call the DNR Information Center toll free in Minnesota at 800-652-9747.

School Board Proceedings

January 14, 1987

A Regular Board Meeting of Independent School District No. 564 was held at 5:00 p.m. in the Board Room of the School District Service Center.

The following Board members were present: Paul Bortnem, Archie Cameron, Hank Hallstrom, Greg Pribula, and Harry Sjulson. Also present was Dr. Leo Roberto, Superintendent.

Chairman Hank Hallstrom called the meeting to order and Clerk Greg Pribula established that a quorum was present.

A motion was made by G. Pribula and seconded by H. Sjulson to approve the Minutes of the November 24, 1986 Regular Board Meeting. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by A. Cameron and seconded by H. Sjulson to approve the Minutes of the December 1, 1986 Special Board Meeting. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by H. Sjulson and seconded by H. Hallstrom to approve the bills as submitted. Motion carried unanimously.

A report of investments as of December 10, 1986 was distributed.

Budget assumptions for preparing the 1987-88 budget were discussed.

Marcia Sandahl gave a report on some of the activities the Superintendent's Office is doing to increase community awareness of what our schools are doing.

A motion was made by G. Pribula and seconded by P. Bortnem to develop specifications and request bids for the purchase of two 71 passenger school buses and two 10-passenger vans. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by G. Pribula and seconded by H. Sjulson to support the administration's decision to not submit any proposal to the Pennington County Department of Welfare and Human Services for the Thief River Falls Public Schools to provide selected vocational services. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by H. Sjulson and seconded by A. Cameron to approve policy No. GCE Uniform Procedure for Use of Substitute Teacher Service as presented. Motion carried unanimously.

A motion was made by A. Cameron and seconded by H. Sjulson to approve policy No. CCA Administrative Structure as presented. Motion carried unanimously.

In response to an anonymous inquiry, the Board was informed that our cheerleaders do not do pyramid formations in their routines. A letter from Winona State University commending Kevin and Heidi Ryan for their November 18th concert was distributed in addition to a letter of thanks from the American Legion for the cooperation they received during their Veterans Day ceremonies at Lincoln.

The Board was informed that meetings will be scheduled with them individually for a mid-year review and evaluation of the superintendent's goals and objectives for 1986-87. Board members were reminded of the MSBA "Building and High Performance School Board" workshop scheduled for Monday evening, December 15 at Franklin and were also updated on arrangements for the MSBA Convention in January.

Chairman Hallstrom updated the Board on the progress of negotiations for the Northern Woodwork property.

A motion was made by P. Bortnem and seconded by H. Sjulson to accept the resignation of Marlys Furuseth, Accounts Receivable-CRT-Records Reconciliation Clerk, effective January 5, 1987. Motion carried unanimously.

CENEX has the seed for your set-aside acres.

When you set aside land under the new farm bill's Conservation Reserve Program or Acreage Reduction Program, the place to get the seed you want for those acres is your local CENEX co-op.

Most seed companies don't offer pasture mixes, pasture grasses and other forages for your special needs like CENEX. But CENEX gives you the largest choice you can find. CENEX will even make recommendations matched to your land and farming practices.

That's typical of the wide range of programs, products and services you can count on from CENEX. Stop in and see for yourself—and order the pasture mix you need for your set-aside acres.

Vandals Shoot Out Windows With B-B Guns In TRF

Vandals using a B-B gun or pellet gun caused damage to several vehicles and other property during the past week according to incident reports filed with the Thief River Falls police. It is not known how many if any of the events reported are related.

Vandalism. On January 8 at 7:40 p.m. Al Christofferson, Thief River Falls, reported that while he and his wife were watching television he heard a vehicle drive by on Hughes street and then he heard a "clink" on the outside of his living-room window. After the vehicle was last seen traveling west on Hughes street, Christofferson found a small hole in the window. The damage was possibly done by a B-B. Damage was estimated at $35.

On January 8 at 10:30 p.m. a janitor at Lincoln high reported that at about 9:30 p.m. he heard a loud bang in the hallway near the gym but didn't realize at the time what had happened. Later he went to open the doors for the girls basketball team that was returning and found a window in the gym door broken. The windows was tempered glass and will cost about $200 to replace. It appears to have been done by a B-B or pellet gun.

On January 10 Louis Jesperson, Thief River Falls, reported that the back window of his pickup topper was broken, possibly by a B-B. Damage was estimated at $50.

On January 10 Warren Hanestad, Thief River Falls, reported the rear window of his pickup topper had been broken. It was possibly done with a B-B. Damage was estimated at $100.

On January 10 Quentin Jones, Thief River Falls, reported the back window of his car shot out while the vehicle was parked on South Kneale. Damage was estimated at $150.

On January 10 Dale Comstock, Thief River Falls, reported the rear pickup window was shot out. Damage was estimated at $100.

On January 10 Clifford Swanson, Thief River Falls, reported the back window of his pickup topper was broken. Damage was estimated at $75.

On January 11 Kenneth Bergman, Thief River Falls, reported a hole shot in the rear window of his pickup topper. Damage was estimated at $75.

On January 9 Mark Otto, Thief River Falls, reported possible vandalism to his vehicle. Indications are that someone had put sugar in his fuel tank.

On January 12 Norman Anderson, Thief River Falls, reported some small willow trees run over and broken off by snowmobiles. The trees were well above the snow level and plainly visible so they could have been avoided. Damage was estimated at $100. The vandalism occurred off Cameo drive and tracks led to the rear of the Best Western.

Accidents. On January 6 at 5:03 p.m. Nancy Nordling reported that her car was hit while it was parked in the AVTI parking lot by a pickup driven by Jane Durkin, Thief River Falls. Damages were estimated at $250 to Nordling and $25 to Durkin.

On January 6 at 3:16 p.m. a van driven by Merlin Schroeder, St. Hilaire, and a pickup driven by Duane W. Wiskow, Thief River Falls, collided in the R.V. Sports parking lot. Damages were estimated at $300 to Schroeder and $400 to the Wiskow pickup.

On January 11 at 1:06 p.m. a car driven by Dolores Carlson, Thief River Falls, was going west on Ninth street at Knight avenue when she lost control on slippery streets and struck a tree. The damage to the Carlson vehicle was estimated at $2,000. Ms. Carlson hit the windshield with her head.

On January 8 at 5:13 p.m. a pickup driven by Harold Steinhauer, route two, was going west on First street and slowed for traffic at an intersection with highway 59. A car driven by Mary Jo Martell, route one, was also going west. The two vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $25 to the Steinhauer vehicle and $800 to the Martell vehicle.

On January 12 at 7:15 p.m. a car driven by Anissia Brown, Thief River Falls, was backing east in the Pizza Hut parking lot when she struck the Pizza Hut building, causing a window to break. Damage to the window was estimated at $300. No damage to the car was reported.

Hit-and-run reports. On January 7 at 3:46 p.m. Tim Psivey, route four, reported his car hit by an unknown vehicle while it was parked in the Kmart parking lot. Damage to the left side of his vehicle was estimated at $400.

On January 9 Renne Marquis, Goodridge, reported her car hit by an unknown vehicle while parked in the Court House parking lot. Damage to the front left was estimated at $250.

Thefts. On January 6 Jesus Rendon, Thief River Falls, reported his jacket taken on the night of January 3 from an apartment in the city. The jacket was a new jean jacket with a blue-checkered liner and valued at $89.

On January 8 Kristi Jorstad, route four, reported two knobs for a car stereo taken and the panel on her radio damaged in an apparent attempt to steal the radio while her van was parked in front of the AVTI during the day. The theft loss was valued at $10 and damage estimated at $50.

On January 8 Corner Drug reported a young man had come for medication, taken it out of the container, used the medication and left without paying for it. Charges are pending against an 18 year old youth for theft.

On January 12 Mrs. Ken Kohler, Thief River Falls, reported the theft of a pair of Levi 501 jeans from her clothesline. The jeans were valued at $30.

Shoplifting. On January 8 Pamida reported catching an adult female shoplifter, age 56, Thief River Falls. The items taken totalled $5. Charges are pending in court.

On January 10 the off-sale liquor store caught a 25-year-old male shoplifting. The stolen item, a half-gallon of liquor, was recovered. The man was charged with theft.

Assault. On January 6 charges of assault in the fifth degree are pending against Charlene McHam, Thief River Falls, 20, in connection with an incident at 11 p.m. at Nora and Conley avenue in Thief River Falls.

Sparby Appointed To Committees In 1987 Legislature

Expecting that he will have a heavy workload during the 1987-88 legislative session, State Rep. Wally Sparby, Thief River Falls, returned to the Capitol last week for the convening of the session and swearing-in ceremonies at noon on January 6.

Sparby has been appointed to five House committees: the state departments division of the house appropriations committee; agriculture; economic development and housing; commerce; and agriculture finance.

"All of these committees will be dealing with issues of importance to our citizens, businesses and communities in northern Minnesota," Sparby said. "In the two agriculture committees we will be looking for additional ways to assist our farmers and small town businesses at the state level. Given the federal cutbacks in agriculture program funding, it's more imperative than ever that the state do all in its power to assist financially troubled rural areas of the state and the farm families facing tough economic times."

"For many of the same reasons, I am looking forward to having input on the economic development and housing committee, since we need to continue the efforts of the department of energy and economic development (DEED) and other state programs to fund special projects vital to the economic recovery of rural Minnesota."

Sparby explained that the state departments division of the appropriations committee is responsible for distributing funds for all facets of state government, and that the commerce committee deals mainly with consumer legislation and tourism, both vital to the economy of the state of Minnesota.

"The work in these five committees will be interesting and challenging, especially in light of the projected state revenue shortfall for the next biennium, Sparby concluded. "It is too early yet to know exactly what to expect, but I see our toughest job this year as setting fair and appropriate priorities for state spending. Certainly, we will be looking for ways to cut the increases in state spending so that we can prepare a balanced budget."

Small Business Regional Meeting Here On Thursday

Thief River Falls will be the site of one of 20 regional meetings involving discussion of small business issues to be addressed at a statewide small business conference March 11-12 in Minneapolis.

The Thief River Falls meeting is being coordinated by the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce and Small Business Development center. It will be held from 1 to 2 p.m. on Thursday at the Best Western inn. Resolutions for consideration at the state conference will be drafted and eight delegates elected to attend the statewide conference.

According to Bob Bolleson of the Thief River Falls AVTI, "It's important that business people and other interested parties from this area take the time to attend Thursday's meeting to insure that all our views are represented in Minneapolis in March." For the purpose of this meeting, a small business is defined as having less than 250 employees.

The statewide conference is intended to follow up on the work done at the National White House conference on small business held in Washington, D.C. last August and create an agenda for Minnesota small business issues for the next three to five years. Several groups representing small business will be providing organization and staff support for the state conference: the Metropolitan Economic Development association (MEDA), Minnesota Chamber of Commerce and Industry, Minnesota Taxpayers association (MTA), National association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO), National Federation of Independent Businesses (NFIB), and the Small Business Development centers (SBDCs).

In addition to the delegates elected from the regional meetings, delegates appointed by Governor Rudy Perpich, state legislators, community chambers of commerce and trade and professional associations will attend the state conference.

For more information about the regional meeting in Thief River Falls, contact Bob Bolleson at 681-5424. There is no charge to attend.

Northwest Senior Federation Will Meet On Thursday

First Delegate Assembly of the Northwest Senior Federation for the 1986-87 year will be held at the Northwest Medical center chapel in Thief River Falls at 10 a.m. on Thursday. The hospital will provide a lunch at noon for $2.50. Delegates from all clubs are urged to attend.

Organization for the Villar's Mini Grant will be held. A director is needed plus two volunteers from each county. These volunteers will visit clubs and others to promote the new senior club insurance plan by the Minnesota senior federation and also promote the increase of membership for our area.

William Giesen, vice president for marketing for the Otter Tail Power company, will talk about wheeling Bureau of Reclamation power to low income seniors by private companies at a reduction in the regular power rates.

Jane Crocker of Legal Services from East Grand Forks will discuss the long term care ombudsman program.

Officer reports will be given and a detailed budget for this year's activities will be presented.

Those planning to attend are asked to notify the Northwest Senior Federation, Box 778, Thief River Falls, MN. 56701, phone 218-681-4307.

Open Thurs. Night Till 9 P.M.

Rio Nido, jazz performers, will assist in the fifth annual jazz clinic for high school students at Northland community college and perform a concert for the public January 22. Admission to the performance will cost $1.50. Reserved seat tickets are available at Larson music and Northland community college. This activity is made possible in part by a grant provided by the Northwest Regional Development Commission through funding from the Minnesota state arts board and the Minnesota state legislature.

Yohe Will Speak On Environment Issues Jan. 16

"Environmental Quality Issues in Rural Minnesota" is the topic to be addressed by Lance Yohe, president of the International Coalition for Land and Water stewardship in the Red River Basin. Yohe will speak at the University of Minnesota-Crookston (UMC) as part of UMC's seminar series on Friday, January 16, at 3:30 p.m. in the agricultural research center auditorium, preceded by a reception at 3 p.m. The public is invited to both the reception and the speech.

Yohe holds a bachelor of arts degree from Concordia college in Moorhead with a major in biology and a master of divinity degree from Luther Theological seminary. For the past six years, he has been president of The International Coalition for Land and Water Stewardship in the Red River Basin.

The international coalition works amid complexities of dealing with a land and water management infrastructure, politically motivated, and with a citizenry that is facing continual economic pressure. The organization now has impact across political boundaries of a state and international nature.

JoAnne Bauer Walks 500 Miles . . .

Walk For The Health Of It

by David Hill
Times Reporter

Many will agree that regular exercise is important to better health. However, when confronted with the hundreds of ways to go about achieving better health and the costs that accompany those efforts, many opt for a more comfortable activity in front of the television. But there is one simple way to improve health without taking on big challenges or reaching too deep into pocketbooks.

When exercise is mentioned, walking is seldom discussed, but the benefits can be just as rewarding. The more than 100 participants of the "Walk for the Health of It" program at the Thief River Falls sports arena this winter will support that conclusion.

Gail Holland, public relations coordinator at Northwest Medical center and Dr. Jim Langland are pleased to see so many people participate in the program, which costs only $1 for membership. Both said, however, that a person doesn't have to belong to the program to walk around the sports arena for exercise. In fact, they speculate that quite a few more than are signed up, walk for the health of it at the sports arena.

Some may be walking because their physicians prescribed it. Others may walk because they recognize walking can benefit the cardiovascular system, increase endurance and stamina, improve muscle tone, maintain joint flexibility and help control weight.

JoAnne Bauer, one of the most dedicated walkers, recognizes the many benefits to walking. She is one of the most persistent of the walkers and will soon accomplish a significant goal, by walking more than 500 miles. When taking into consideration that it takes eight laps to travel a mile, 500 miles are a lot of laps.

Bauer is one person you wouldn't tell to take a hike because she probably would. This quiet housewife and grandmother to five children walks an average of five miles per day. Jogging is not in her vocabulary of exercises — just walking, thank you.

With a steady, unwavering pace, Bauer has accumulated her 500 miles in the short span between now and last October 6 when the program began. She said she usually walks five miles per day but is sometimes encouraged to walk as many as 15.

Walking is an attractive way to maintain good health, according to Bauer, because it doesn't require any special equipment, clothing or footwear. Bauer said she wears a comfortable pair of old bowling shoes.

Bauer gets a deep feeling of satisfaction from walking because she feels good and clothes fit better. Expecting to complete her 500 miles this week, she believes walking is better than jogging because it is less stressful on the legs.

Bauer agrees there isn't much scenery or nice decor to appreciate when walking in a circle at the sports arena. The fact is, walking in a circle can be downright boring. Bauer and other "walkers" have plenty of company, however, and they can say they "go around" in a pretty good circle of acquaintances.

One walker said walking around the inside of the sports arena gives her an opportunity to catch up on talk. But, as another walker put it, "if you talk too much while you walk you can lose your count — and that's a bummer."

There are other benefits to walking also. Besides being protected from uncertain weather in the sports arena, incentives to keep walking inside the arena include pins for the first 10 miles, t-shirts for the first 100 miles and trophies for the first 500 miles. While Bauer will be proud to accept a trophy for completing 500 miles, she considers good health the greatest reward.

Dr. Jim Langland of Falls clinic said walking can be a benefit to young and old. "But the benefits of exercise are available only to those who exercise regularly and maintain a program throughout their life," he said.

Anyone visiting the sports arena will see many people of different ages walking. "Walk for the Health of It" program is sponsored by Northwest Medical center, Falls Clinic, division of Dakota Clinic Ltd., Northwest Radiology associates and the Ramsay Eye Clinic.

Plumber License Exams Offered

Examinations for state journeyman and master plumber's licenses, and water conditioning installer and contractor licenses, will be conducted during March at four locations: Albert Lea, Detroit Lakes and Duluth area vocational-technical institutes and North Hennepin community college, Brooklyn Park.

Applications may be obtained by phone at (612) 623-5375 or by writing to the Minnesota Department of Health, Plumbing Unit, 717 Delaware Street S.E., Box 9441, Minneapolis 55440. Applications must be returned by Feb. 15, 1987, to be eligible for the March examinations.

Farmers' Dictionary Of Legal Terms Is Offered

(Editor's Note: The following article by Rolly Samp, a Sioux Falls, SD, attorney who is a family farm advocate, was published in the January-February issue of "CA Highlights," published by Communicating for Agriculture in Fergus Falls. It is reprinted here with permission of the publisher.)

Farmers, hard hit by the current agricultural crisis, are finding they need to learn a whole new set of definitions — legal definitions which reflect a surge in rural litigation.

While the particular rules vary from state to state, the terms mean the same. Learning what the various legal terms mean can be very helpful to farmers in working together to keep family farms operating until rural prosperity returns.

What does it all mean?

Summons — official notice that a legal action has been started in Court. Usually delivered personally or to the home by sheriff, constable or process server.

Complaint — the legal basis for a lawsuit which itemizes the facts and reasons for the suit together with making a claim for damages. Must be Answered within a definite period of time. Thirty days in most state cases or 20 days if a Federal Court suit. Plaintiffs file Complaints.

Answer — Response to a lawsuit by the party who is defending against a complaint. Defendants answer Complaints.

Plaintiff — the party in a lawsuit who is bringing suit against someone.

Defendant. — the party in a lawsuit who is being sued.

Federal Court — Cases which involve out-of-state corporations or one party from out-of-state are typically filed in Federal Court. Many other cases can also be filed in Federal Court, such as actions against government agencies, ie: FmHA, SBA, ASCS, etc.

Bankruptcy Court — this is a specialized court operating under jurisdiction of the Federal Court system to handle bankruptcy and reorganization problems. Rulings of this court can be appealed to the regular Federal Court system.

Judgment — the final order of a judge which disposes of a case. Prevailing party can pursue whatever finding has been made by the Judge, ie: Defendant owes Plaintiff $10,000, Defendant owes Plaintiff nothing and Plaintiff is entitled to receive property back. A Judgment is good for 20 years and holder of Judgment is entitled to interest at a statutory rate.

A. Default Judgment — Defendant didn't bother to Answer Complaint so Judge awards Plaintiff what they proved in the Complaint.

B. Summary Judgment — One party was unable to prove its contentions before the Judge so prevailing party is given Judgment after hearing the facts and legal arguments without a Jury trial.

Appeal — losing party to lawsuit unhappy with the outcome files an appeal to higher court to have the case reviewed.

Lien — a legal notice by someone contending a right to be paid for something...mechanic, materialman, seed, harvest, etc.

Mortgage — a pledge of real property to a lender in exchange for a loan. Failure to pay can result in a foreclosure.

Security Agreement — a pledge of personal property to a creditor who becomes a "secured creditor." It is the equivalent of a mortgage on real property, but involves only personal property. Failure to pay can result in a repossession or other legal action.

UCC Form — public notice of a security agreement or secured property is given by the lender and debtor filing a Uniform Commercial Code (UCC form) at the appropriate public office designated to keep these on file such as Register of Deeds and the Secretary of State (offices vary from state to state).

Foreclosure — an action by a person who holds a mortgage to end homeowner's rights in the property mortgaged and to sell the property.

Repossession — taking back something sold because payments have not been made.

Garnishment — after judgment, a procedure to collect money from a third person who owes money to the debtor.

Homestead Exemption — a law allowing a head of a family to keep a home safe from creditors, usually waived in most current mortgages by borrowers.

Chapter 7 — under federal bankruptcy law a complete sale of property, except for items exempted, owned by debtor with a full release

Mid-December Index Of Prices Down 2 Per Cent

Mid-December index of prices received by Minnesota farmers at 115 was down two per cent from November and six per cent below the index a year ago, according to the Minnesota agricultural statistics service. Prices were higher than November for wheat, dry beans, other hay, calves, sheep, lambs and milk; other commodities were lower. Preliminary December prices received by Minnesota farmers for dry edible beans were record high; preliminary calf prices were the highest since July of 1983. On the negative side, the preliminary average flaxseed price was the lowest since November of 1972.

The crops index rose one per cent to 86 during the month. This was 19 per cent below the index a year earlier. The mid-December prices and the changes from last month are: all wheat, $2.56 per bushel, up 15 cents from the revised November estimate; corn, $1.38 per bushel, down one cent; oats, $1.36 per bushel, down seven cents; barley, $1.43 per bushel, down 10 cents; soybeans, $4.54 per bushel, down one cent; flaxseed, $3.02 per bushel, down 43 cents. Potatoes averaged $4.20 per hundredweight for all grades, down 10 cents. All hay was unchanged from November at $54 per ton; alfalfa hay, $55 per ton, was down $1; and other hay at $45 per ton was up $1. All sunflowers at $6.08 per hundredweight were down 57 cents from the revised November price. Dry edible beans were up 70 cents to $33.40 per hundredweight.

The meat animal index at 144 was three per cent below last month but up eight per cent from a year ago. All hogs at $52 per hundredweight were down $1.10 from a month earlier. Beef cattle averaged $49.40 per hundredweight, down $2.30. Calves were up 90 cents to $63.10. Sheep brought $25 per hundredweight, up $1.20. Lambs were up $5.10 to $73.50 per hundredweight.

The dairy index held steady during the month at 146. This was seven per cent above the index last year. The preliminary milk price at $12.90 per hundredweight was up seven cents [illegible]

Poultry and egg index at 113 was down 16 per cent from last month and 24 per cent below a year ago. Turkeys were 37 cents per pound liveweight, down 11 cents from a month earlier. Table market eggs brought 50 cents per dozen for all grades in mid-December, down one cent from mid-November and the same price as a year earlier.

ON THE FIRST DAY of the 1987 legislative session, many legislators' families joined them for the swearing in ceremonies at 12 noon. Pictured in the House Chambers at the desk of Speaker of the House Fred Norton are Rep. Wally Sparby, Thief River Falls, and his wife Ione. Sparby is beginning his third term.

Beef Cow Calf Day Jan. 21 At Red Lake Falls

Local beef producers who would like to learn some practical tips that could help improve profit may attend the extension-sponsored beef cow calf day, 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday, January 21 at the Minnesota Wheat Grower's building in Red Lake Falls.

The topics and speakers are: "Beef Economic Outlook for 1987", Harlan Hughes, NDSU ag extension economist; "A Vaccination Program for the Beef Herd, Worming Agents: Are They Needed?", Dale Haggard, U of M ag extension veterinarian; "Fly and Insect Control," Roger Moon, U of M entomology department;

Also "Fast Gains and Better Returns Through the Use of Proper Rations," Jay Meiske and Ray Arthaud, ag extension beef specialists. David Kabes, Red Lake county extension agent, will demonstrate a computerized ration balancing program.

Gary Purath, Red Lake Falls beef producer, will show videos that tell about the safety of using beef implants from the consumer's viewpoint. He will also show some beef promotion video tapes.

Coffee and registration will be from 9 to 9:30 a.m. The noon meal will be served by the Northwest Cattlewoman's association for $4.75.

Artist Residency Funding Workshop Here January 28

Free workshops, including one in Thief River Falls, for people interested in planning and funding an artist residency will be offered by the Minnesota state arts board during January and February of 1987.

A variety of regional organizations will co-sponsor the workshops in 12 cities around the state. Elementary and secondary school teachers, arts specialists, school administrators, artists and interested citizens are invited to attend the two-hour sessions in their regions.

The meeting in Thief River Falls on January 28 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. will be held at the Northwest regional development commission office and co-sponsored by the commission.

Participants will learn about the programs and services provided by [illegible] councils, as well as receive information about national, state and local sources available to artists and schools and some tips on grant writing.

For more information, contact Elizabeth M. Childs, artists in education program at the Minnesota State Arts Board toll-free at (800) 652-9747.

NCC Jazz Concert Features Rio Nido

Northland community college music department announces the fifth annual jazz festival will be held Thursday, January 22. The festival will include a day's worth of workshops for area high school vocal jazz groups, a mini-concert for the college and a public concert at night. The public concert will feature the professional performing group Rio Nido.

The public concert featuring Rio Nido will be held at 8 p.m. in the Northland community college theatre. Tickets for the concert will go on sale on January 14 at Larson Music company. Tickets will also be available at the door. Tickets will cost $1.50.

This activity was made possible in part by a grant provided by the Northwest Regional Development Commission through funding from the Minnesota state arts board and the Minnesota state legislature.

The music department is pleased to present Rio Nido as this year's featured clinicians. "Rio Nido is a highly respected professional group. They are also excellent musicians. People attending the concert and the workshop will find their musicality to be excellent and well worth the price of admission," said Les Torgerson, Northland community college director and festival coordinator.

Rio Nido has been in the forefront of the resurgence of classical jazz, performing in concert halls, clubs, and caberets throughout the Midwest for over seven years. Their debut album, "I Like to Riff," on Shadow Records made the play list of jazz stations from coast to coast establishing Rio Nido as one of the country's premiere vocal ensembles. Frequent appearances on Garrison Keillor's "A Prairie Home Companion, broadcast nationally over National public radio, and various syndicated television shows; including the Emmy Award winning "Night Time Variety," have gained national exposure for the band.

Appearances at national folk and jazz festivals, engagements in jazz clubs throughout the country, and residencies at various colleges in the Midwest, including concerts and jazz clinics have also served to introduce Rio Nido to a broad spectrum of people and demonstrated the enduring appeal of vocal jazz. Their success has proved that the classic jazz compositions of some of the greatest musicians and composers of all time continue to rise above current trends in popular music and enjoy a large and appreciative audience. Jazz is once again reaching a mass audience that seeks the substance and sophistication lacking in some of the popular music of recent years.

Two-time recipients of the Minnesota Music award for best jazz band, selected by an academy of music industry professionals and fellow musicians, the individual members of Rio Nido have also earned considerable renown as instrumentalists in addition to their vocal skills. The rhythm section, Tim Sparks on guitar, Roger Hernandez on drums, and Dave Maslow on bass join premiere vocalist Prudence Johnson for dazzling renditions of classic and contemporary jazz tunes in four-part harmony. Johnson is well known as an excellent vocal stylist and has been a featured soloist on many national as well as local television programs.

For more information, contact Les Torgerson, director of Music, Northland community college. This concert is part of the 1986-87 artists series sponsored by the Northland community college foundation.

Winter Plans Comeback In NW Minnesota

Turning colder. Winds from the southwest at 5 to 10 miles per hour. A chance of snow is possible each day through Saturday. Lows will be 0 to 15 degrees below zero and highs will be from 0 to 15 degrees above zero.

According to the National weather service, warmer weather experienced recently in this region will end soon. It will be replaced, of course, by an Arctic front. Now maybe we'll have something to complain about.

PASSING JUDGMENT

T. R. Glover reminds us that "Whatever thine hand findest to do, do with all thy might," but then added, "someone will think differently!"

Don't they? There's not much in this life that you can do but that someone will think you should not be doing it. We live in a world where "second-guessing" and "Monday morning quarterbacking" is a way of life, a way that often discourages even the most hearty among us.

Every great achievement in life has opponents lying in its wake: people who thought it shouldn't have worked, even worked against it.

But there's nothing wrong with someone differing with you. Differences of opinion and belief have been the greatest stimuli to progress.

Differences can divide or multiply, add or subtract. It all depends on your own beliefs and your attitude about what you believe and your attitude toward those who don't believe like you.

Paul encourages us both in our tendency to criticism of others and when we are criticized by them: "Who are you to pass judgement on the servant of another? It is before his own master that he stands or falls. And he will be upheld, for the Master is able to make him stand." (Romans 14:4)

Dictionary Of Legal Terms For Farmers Offered

from owing debts.

Chapter 11 — under federal bankruptcy law a budget approved by the Court for five years to pay off secured debts and some unsecured debts. A full release is given after five years.

Chapter 12 — the new farmers reorganization law passed by Congress in 1986 which allows farmers deeply in debt to reorganize their finances and continue farming. In general, debts are written down to the appraised value of the assets and repayment is based on reasonable interest rates and prevailing commercial terms. All unsecured and secured debts can be discharged after successful completion of the reorganization plan which usually lasts five years.

Chapter 13 — a small Chapter 11 — it is used for individuals who are wage earners or small businesses not incorporated. Full release after three years.

Deficiency Judgment — after a foreclosure or repossession and property is sold if there remains a balance owned to creditor, the Court can give a judgment against a debtor for the remaining balance.

Discovery — a formal exchange of information between parties in a lawsuit.

Interrogatories — written questions from one party to another party to find facts in a lawsuit.

Deposition — a formal oral questioning of a party or witness to a lawsuit under oath which is recorded for possible use at trial.

Production of Documents — request for documents, letters, pictures, files, etc., which must be delivered to the requesting party in a lawsuit.

LEAFING THROUGH YOUR LIBRARY

by Deanna Swanson
Branch Librarian

The excitement of Christmas is behind us and 1987 has arrived. We must remember some of the enjoyable things that took place at our library recently. Mrs. Claus and her friends came and put on a puppet show. It was well attended by preschool children, first and second graders along with parents and teachers who numbered about 250 people.

Jan Peterson, artist of the month, honored us with Christmas music on December 18. The setting was by the Christmas tree with people listening while they sipped coffee or apple cider and a few ate their sack lunch. She was accompanied by Ida Nordvall. The group of 60 people got into the Christmas spirit by listening to a half-hour of beautiful Christmas music sung by Jan.

The childrens' corner has several new books and I would like to mention a couple that caught my eye. A very cleverly-written story "Daisy", by Brian Wildsmith, features something new with split images. Daisy is a cow which becomes a movie star. In the story, "Arthur's Tooth" by Marc Brown, his friends suggest different ways for Arthur to lose his tooth. He finally loses it in an unusual way.

Many of you are now working on your taxes. We will be receiving tax forms 1200, 518 and 519 in mid-January. We already have taxpayer information publications: "Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad," and "Farmer's Tax Guide." We also have received videotapes, "How to Prepare IRS Form W-4" and "Tax Forms 86: The Year 'Round Tax Guide." These two videotapes can be checked out.

Jean Heinrichs, children's librarian, will be starting P.A.T. (parents and toddlers) sessions on January 13 at 10 a.m. The ages for toddlers is 15 to 36 months. They should be accompanied by a parent or a child care provider. The program is for one-half hour and will include books, fingerplays, child talks, puppets, music and much more. For more information call the Thief River Falls library at 681-4325.

Thought Provoking Comment On Subjects Of Public Interest

Justice System Lenient?

—Rep. Steve Wenzel of Little Falls has announced he will introduce legislation in the 1987 session to increase prison sentences in Minnesota for all degrees of homicide, manslaughter, violent criminal sexual conduct and rape, violent assault and injury and death of children.

He doesn't waste any words in the way he describes the reason for his intentions. "Minnesota's criminal justice system and the laws on sentencing for our most heinous crimes are clearly among the most lenient, the most liberal and the most irresponsible in the nation," he says. "There is simply no state in the nation that imprisons its most dangerous criminals and felons for such short lengths of time."

His proposal would increase the maximum allowable sentences and substantially increase the mandatory minimum sentences which would preclude judges and the Minnesota sentencing guidelines commission from imposing lighter or shorter sentences or probation.

His legislation would make the following changes:

Impose a mandatory minimum sentence of life imprisonment without parole for first degree murder;

Increase the mandatory minimum for second degree murder (intentional murder; felony murder) from seven and one-half years to 30 years and expand the crime to cover any unpremeditated killing of a child under the age of seven;

Increase the mandatory minimum for third degree murder from three years and six months to 12 years imprisonment;

Increase the penalties for criminal sexual conduct in the first, second, third and fourth degrees and impose mandatory minimum terms of imprisonment when any of these crimes is committed with force, coercion, use of a dangerous weapon, personal injury or fear of great bodily harm;

Increase the maximum penalty for first degree rape from 20 to 30 years and the maximum fine from $35,000 to $45,000. The mandatory minimum sentence for first degree violent rape is currently three years under the sentencing guidelines and is raised to 18 years under Wenzel's bill.

Wenzel says that Minnesota's laws in the area of injury or death to children "remain the shame of the state and a disgrace on our efforts to protect our most precious resource — our children." He proposes to stiffen the penalties for persons who commit the crimes of assault, malicious punishment of a child or unreasonable restraint of a child where the act results in injury to a child under 12 years old.

Given the severity of the penalty increases in the areas noted, it is interesting to note that Wenzel's bill only provides for a six-month minimum prison sentence for conviction on a charge of criminal vehicular homicide or death resulting from drunk driving. He notes that current sentencing guidelines provide for probation for this offense, but it would seem the six-month sentence is not nearly as extreme as the Representative's other proposals.

We believe drunk driving is an area which must be dealt with in a much more severe manner than in the past. It is a crime which is entirely within the ability of the offender to control, and deaths and injury from drunk driving are all the more tragic for the fact they should not happen at all.

Rep. Wenzel justifies his proposal on the increase in violent crimes in Minnesota. He said there was a 16.7 per cent increase in the murder rate here and that serious crime in Hennepin county alone rose 20 per cent in 1985 and almost another 20 per cent in 1986.

The legislature's reaction to the proposal will be interesting. It is likely no changes will be made to the extent suggested. It would take more prison space and budget than the state could likely provide to accomplish those ends. A review is probably in order, but don't look for any major change out of this legislative session.

Drug Abuse Exaggerated?

The following editorial comments are from America's Future, Inc., and were published recently in the Red Lake Falls Gazette:

Critics are complaining these days that the nation's drug-abuse problems are being exaggerated and that there is a danger of overreaction. They see drug testing as an unconstitutional invasion of privacy and the intensified war on narcotics as largely a waste of time and money. They also contend that Congress was only pandering to public hysteria when it passed a comprehensive $1.7 billion antidrug bill last fall, launching what President Reagan hailed as a new "get tough" crusade aimed at "nothing less than a drug-free generation."

While it can be argued that merely throwing money at the problem is not the answer and that some antidrug efforts are not working very well, it is whistling past the graveyard to suggest that we don't have a full-blown drug crisis. The latest government-sponsored survey of high school-age drug abuse, for example, shows that "crack," the plentiful and potentially-lethal form of smokable cocaine, is fast replacing marijuana as the "in thing" for many teenagers from coast to coast.

A recent Associated Press survey said that while abuse or marijuana, LSD, heroin and many other drugs has declined since the 1970s, "crack" is showing up in schools across the country. Children also are experimenting with drugs at an earlier age," said the AP. "And everywhere, alcohol, frequently overlooked in the antidrug furor, remains the most abused drug of all."

Some of the survey's findings are horrendous. In North Carolina, for example, state officials are worrying not only about crack but about the declining age of first-drug use — down to age 12 from 16 a few years ago. In Charlotte-Mecklenburg County, the state's largest school system, students as young as six have been caught with drugs.

At Liverpool High School in a middle-class suburb of Syracuse, New York, an eighth grader now under treatment for drug abuse was found to have been "binging" on drugs since he was eight. Said the school's counselor, Janet Donoghue, "Many have their first experience at 10 or 12 and by 13 they have advanced to regular use. Some of these kids can go from the experimentation to addiction in a year's time."

In Philadelphia, Hugh Colihan, chief of the district attorney's juvenile division, said: "We've had kids come into court and say that they go to school to sell drugs." One junior high student boasted to Colihan's assistant, "I make more money on the street than you do as an assistant district attorney all year."

In Los Angeles, youthful undercover officers posing as students have made drug "buys" from pushers in school. At the end of the semester, the sellers have taken to juvenile court. "We have not solved the problem," said Lt. Ron Hall, head of the police department's juvenile narcotics section, "but we've at least put a lid on it. Otherwise, it would be totally out of control."

While schools have been the focus of the antidrug battle, many educators are now saying that changes must also take place in the home if the fight is to be won. Said Billy Walker, assistant principal of Indianapolis North Central High, "It's difficult to educate the children when they see the parents using . . ."

Borrowed Nonsense

A high school social studies class was asked by its teacher to name the person who said, "Give me liberty or give me death." After a long pause, a Japanese exchange student rose and said, "Patrick Henry, 1776." "Correct," the teacher said, then asked the rest of the class, "Aren't you all ashamed of yourselves? You are native-born Americans and it took someone from another land to tell you about your own country." As the teacher turned to the blackboard, a voice cried out, "To hell with the Japanese!" "Who said that?" the teacher exclaimed. "Harry Truman, 1945," the voice replied.

Mother: "I've addressed these postcards for you to send home from camp. Just write 'I'm fine' and drop one in the mailbox each day."

Son: "How about you writing 'I'm fine' on them, and if I'm not, I'll just cross it out?"

An Update On Elk Proposals

by Roland Klamar, Chairman
Farmers For Elk Relocation
Rural Route 2
Gatzke, MN 56724

Dear Gov. Perpich:

The purpose of this letter is to bring you up to date on meetings and correspondence between the Department of Natural Resources and our group.

After the injunction halting the removal of the elk was issued on December 12, 1986, the DNR requested a meeting with the farmers for input on solutions to the elk problems and the management plans. On December 29, 1986 our group met and drew up a list of requirements that DNR would have to meet if the elk were to remain in our area. These requests were hand delivered to the Thief Lake headquarters that same day.

These requirements were as follows:

(1) 100 per cent compensation without the farmer carrying Federal Crop Insurance;

(a) Federal Crop Adjustor to be used;

(b) Payment will come from the MN Department of Agriculture with unlimited funds.

(1) Prices will be based on target prices for farm program crops.

(2) Prices will be based on market or contract prices for farm non-program crops.

Explanation: This will only partially cover the cost of the damaged crops caused by the elk. Elevator market prices do not include government farm program payments that are included in the target prices. Note that we didn't ask for adjustments or compensation for our proven yields. Proven yield are used by ASCS to calculate farm program payments. Also, proven yields are used for payments from Federal Crop Insurance. Some crops raised in our area are not included in the farm program, so therefore we asked the prices for these crops be based on market or contract prices.

(2) No elk management area be established if the elk stay here.

Explanation: Our community feels that there is enough wildlife management land and state tax-forfeit land in our area. When land goes from privately owned to state owned, there is a loss of tax money to the township, school district and county governments.

(3) No farmer shall be forced to open his land to hunting in order to receive compensation.

Explanation: We are already forced to carry liability insurance and our insurance agents have told us that if we allow elk hunters on our land our policies will be cancelled and we will be forced to take out high risk liability insurance. This is our home and place of business.

(4) We wanted a reply within seven days.

On January 7, 1987, we received a reply from the DNR. None of our requirements were included in the Outline for Elk Legislation 1987. The provisions in this outline are the same that we rejected in the DNR-sponsored elk hunting bill during the 1986 Legislative session. The compensation section in the outline is the same that we rejected this past summer in numerous negotiation sessions with Merlyn Wesloh, DNR regional director from Bemidji.

No provision for compensation for elk damages in past years, which we were promised by you, Gov. Perpich, in numerous meetings, were included in this Outline for Elk Legislation 1987.

We feel that the DNR was not sincere in its request for our input into the elk problems. We see no reason to meet and negotiate with this department any further.

As the farmers will not be amply compensated even partially for the damages from the elk, we recommend that this herd of elk be released to the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service and relocated by them in the Voyageur National Park, where they will be adequately cared for at no cost to the state of Minnesota and no further loss of crop damages to the farmers.

Sincerely,
Roland Klamar

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Provided by the Social Security District Office in Grand Forks, ND

Q. Can a person receive both social security and supplemental security income (SSI) at the same time? Hillsboro, ND

A. Yes, as long as the separate eligibility rules for both programs are met.

Q. My husband and I farmed for over 40 years and we receive social security checks each month. His check pays $550 while mine amounts to $210. A year ago this past November, my husband suffered a stroke. We have to look ahead and figure what may happen to all our assets in case of a long stay in a nursing home. We plan to manage O.K. but in case we run out of money and have to ask for medical help, I know that all of my husband's check would go to the home. It would help if our checks could be adjusted more equally. Can this be done?

A. No. Social security benefits are figured individually and we cannot just switch the amounts around even if both parties are willing. If your husband eventually needs nursing home care you might be able to receive some additional income from the supplemental security income program. This would depend on your total assets at the time.

Consider visiting with your county social services now to get information about medical assistance. Perhaps you can get medical help now in addition to information for future planning.

Q. I know that I can just walk into the Grand Forks social security office for service. Can I also make a specific appointment? Mayville, ND

A. Yes, you can make an appointment although one is not required. Most social security offices do make appointments. We suggest that you telephone the office before coming in since virtually all social security business can be completed by telephone. Phoning first also lets us tell you what evidence is needed. In Grand Forks call 772-5517; in Grafton 352-0656.

Tidbits From THE Thief River Falls TIMES

Excerpts from the Thursday, January 14, 1937, Times, rewritten by Sharon LaCoursiere.

The post-holiday lull was apparent in the Times this week. Headlines reading "Finances Are School Board Session Topic," "Plummer Plant Makes 370,710 Pounds of Butter in 1936," "Council Meets In Regular Session Tuesday Evening" and "Hockey Team Plays Hallock Here Sunday" did not exactly scream out to be read further.

In perusing the finer print, I noted that Mr. and Mrs. P.B. Malberg, pioneer residents of Excel township, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with their eight children and several grandchildren. They were married January 6, 1887, in Goodhue county, and lived in their Marshall county farm home since moving there two months after the marriage.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harbott had a baby girl on the thirteenth of January, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Halvorson had a baby boy on the twelfth; the December 19 wedding of Miss Edith L. Vraa and Lloyd B. Taylor, both of Goodridge, was announced; Mrs. E.O. Peterson entertained her bridge club; and the general meeting of the women's club was postponed.

Birthdays were noted affairs with Mrs. Evelyn Augur, local Kindergarten teacher, treating the Knox faculty to an informal coffee party in celebration of her birthday; Mrs. S. Michalsky entertaining eight little girls at a 10th birthday party for her daughter, Grace Anne; Henry Grindeland celebrating his 58th birthday with a party at his home; Mrs. F.C. Meyer hosting a three-course buffet dinner for Miss Muearl Sommer's birthday; and the Thief River Falls birthday club meeting twice during the week to play bridge and celebrate two members' birthday.

I think the drug store advertisements gave an insight into the time of the year with sales on cold ointment, cough remedy, Keller analgesic balm, Lax, bromo quinine and cod liver oil (Ah yes, remember?). Other necessary items to make the cold and flu sufferer more comfortable (perhaps) were—aspirin, Fletcher castoria, cleansing tissue, Milk of Magnesia, hand lotion, mineral oil, vaporizing balm, Thoxine for colds and Tonomel stomach alternative (alternative to what, we may ask), as well as a fully guaranteed alarm clock (guaranteed as to what we are not told), a modern electric bread toaster (98 cents — also fully guaranteed to do something), and assorted design playing cards for 37 cents (for the recovering patient, no doubt).

THE VOICE of BUSINESS

by Richard L. Lesher, President
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

The new immigration reform law promises to make more mischief for business than the Occupational Safety and Health Act ever did.

To be sure, our immigration laws were in dire need of reform, and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce supported a bill adopted by the Senate this year. Unfortunately, the measure that emerged from a Senate-House conference committee is poorly conceived and will surely cause more problems than it solves.

Contrary to what you may have heard, under the new law every employer must verify the status of every new employee by demanding certain documents regarding the worker's legal status. The paperwork and recordkeeping burden will be costly, especially for small employers, but failure to comply will be even more costly. The Immigration and Naturalization service is authorized to fine employers up to $1,000 for each paperwork violation — regardless of whether the employer has hired any illegal aliens.

It is difficult to imagine how this law could have any detectable impact on illegal immigration. Any job applicant who can produce a Social Security card or birth certificate, along with a driver's license bearing a photo, can meet the law's requirements. It is no great secret that such things are easy to come by, even for illegal residents. In any event, we can assume a flood of phony documentation will render this program virtually meaningless.

And there is an aspect of this law even more troubling than the paperwork hassle. It creates a new category of civil rights and sets up a new office within the Justice Department to enforce it. Existing civil rights legislation already outlaws discrimination based on national origin, but it exempts small employers with fewer than 15 employees. Under this new law, those who employ between four and 14 employees will be subject — for the first time — to charges of discrimination on the basis of national origin only.

In other words, any employer who fears a job applicant may be an illegal alien and who declines to hire on that basis, or who dismisses an employee suspected of illegal status, runs the risk of being sued for discrimination. The bottom line will be an explosion of new litigation. Employers will be damned if they hire and damned if they fire.

Employers have until June 1, 1987, to become familiar with the law's paperwork and hiring sanctions (though the civil rights provision is already in effect). After that, there will ensue a flood of fines and lawsuits as business struggles to cope with this new federal program and its ambiguous requirements. I predict a storm of protest commensurate with that which greeted the first arrival of OSHA inspectors in the early 1970s.

Code of federal regulations is filled with bizarre rules and regulations, but none I think compare in sheer absurdity to the labor department's ban on industrial homework.

For obscure reasons, in the early 1940s the labor department issued rules prohibiting home manufacture of women's apparel, knitted outwear, gloves and mittens, buttons and buckles, embroidery, jewelry and handkerchiefs. The ban on making knitted outwear was lifted a few years ago, after a protracted battle involving several legal challenges, but the other prohibitions remain.

The Reagan administration is now trying to eliminate the remaining prohibitions against homework, but is meeting stiff resistance from organized labor. The unions insist their opposition is based on concern that homeworkers will be paid subminimum wages, denied overtime and exposed to unsafe working conditions.

In truth, workers receive the same legal protections at home that they get anywhere else. They also enjoy numerous other benefits such as eliminated commuting costs and time, reduced clothing expenses, reduced meal expenses, reduced child care costs and flexibility of working hours.

As for being exposed to unsafe working conditions, that is pure nonsense. The industries at issue are not noted for hazards. Indeed, more than 30 per cent of all worker fatalities in this country are incurred on the road, a hazard homeworkers avoid altogether.

Homework also benefits our economy, for homeworkers are generally more productive than those who report to fixed work sites, and business is more efficient when it does not have to provide work space and all the amenities that go with it.

The prohibition of homework is bad for women, especially young mothers who need to stay home with their children, handicapped persons who are unable to commute to work, and others who need to stay at home to care for the aged or handicapped.

All things considered, the government should not be banning homework, it should be encouraging it. It is good for people and good for the economy. In the highly competitive world marketplace of today, we need every edge we can find.

The objections raised by labor unions make no sense. In reality, they have only one gripe — that homeworkers are difficult to enlist in union ranks. The unions are concerned also that in this age of computers and hightechnology, more and more people will be choosing to work at home. This movement promises to further erode the dwindling strength of organized labor.

Those are legitimate concerns, but the unions refuse to acknowledge them, insisting again and again they are concerned about labor standards and safety. Since that is their official position and it has been effectively repudiated, there is no reason the labor department should not proceed apace to ban the ban on homework.

Farm Bureau Priority To Be Net Farm Income

Improving net farm income will continue to be the number one priority of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation throughout the coming year, according to Farm Bureau president Merlyn Lokensgard.

Lokensgard made the announcement following the organization's annual meeting in Bloomington, during which voting delegates adopted more than 100 policies on issues of importance to farm families. These policies will guide the organization throughout the year in its efforts before lawmakers.

"Everything we do in 1987 will focus toward the goal of improving net farm income," Lokensgard stated. "Price is important, cost is important, but the bottom line has to be net income. Farm Bureau will continue to play a leading role in working for good, sound policies that will help us achieve this goal."

Among the important issues that the voting delegates addressed during the meeting were the following:

— Property taxes. "Some of farmers' largest expense items are property taxes and the support of schools," Lokensgard said. "We believe in quality educational systems, but we feel homeowners should pay the same whether they reside in town or in the country." Farm Bureau plans to strive for legislation to tax the home and not ag land for the support of education.

— Farm credit. "Family farmers must have an adequate supply of credit dollars to carry out their operations," Lokensgard said. "We believe there are several provisions in the 1986 Minnesota Farm Bill that need to be studied and analyzed to determine if they are hindering credit availability." He added that Farm Bureau supports efforts by the House leadership to address this problem through the creation of an agricultural finance subcommittee within the House agriculture committee.

— Funding for the University of Minnesota and extension service. Farm Bureau supports the research carried out by the university and experiment stations, and will strive for funding which will assure continuation of this service. "The extension service continues to provide the family farmer with the latest techniques and advice, which have benefitted us in many ways and helped improve our net farm income," Lokensgard said.

— Mediation. Farm Bureau will support adequate funding for the mediation program in 1987 and 1988. "We believe our extension service has provided timely, valuable assistance and counseling to farm families through Project Support," Lokensgard said. "The 1986 legislature called upon extension to manage the mediation program, but underfunded the program. We support proper funding to make up the difference between the program's actual costs and the $360,000 funded for the program in 1986."

Farm Bureau also supports legislation to continue the FINPAC computer program which provides farm financial analysis by vo-ag instructors, farm management instructors and county agents.

— Farm program. Radical supply management and production control measures such as the Harkin-Gephardt proposal do not have the support of Farm Bureau, Lokensgard stated.

"The 1985 farm bill that is in place is not perfect, but it is moving family farmers in the right direction," Lokensgard said. "We are sending a message to competing nations that the U.S. will no longer be the storehouse of the world's surplus...we will compete in the world marketplace."

Farm Bureau delegates reaffirmed support for the 1985 farm bill and its market-oriented approach. "We particularly like the fact that it will help us expand our exports and reduce our carryover stock, while still protecting farm income," he said.

— Groundwater quality. "Farm Bureau supports research and study into the cause and effect of pollutants that are reducing the quality of our groundwater," he said. "We believe it is time we act to prevent further contamination of our water supplies...efforts must be made on the local, state and national levels to determine the reasons for a decline in the water quality we need for our farming operations and farm families."

Other priority issues for Farm Bureau include support for tort reform, right to work laws, health insurance deductions for self-employed persons, and the right of farmers to continue their farming operations without undue restrictions by private concerns or governmental agencies.

Minnesota Farm Bureau federation reported an increase in membership during 1986. Total membership stands at nearly 32,000 families. Farm Bureau remains the largest general farm organization in the state.

Reiter's Syndrome Puzzling Disease For Researchers

Reiter's syndrome is an arthritis disorder that seems to be caused by infection. At the same time it seems to strike mostly young men with a particular genetic marker on the chromosomes, according to the Arthritis foundation. Thus it is of special interest to arthritis researchers.

Most cases of Reither's syndrome, an Arthritis foundation spokesman reports, seem to follow a bout with dysentery or diarrhea. In addition to inflammation of various joints, the patient is likely to have urinary tract or bowel inflammation and sometimes inflammation of the inner eyelids or eyeballs. A scaly, reddish skin rash may appear as well.

Treatment is generally of the specific symptoms: arthritis drugs for the joint inflammation, antibiotics for the infections and drops for the eye problems. Care should be taken to avoid infecting others.

The Arthritis foundation has a special message on Reiter's Syndrome that may be heard by calling their toll-free number, 1-800-552-1278. A free booklet on the disease is available to callers.

Cassette Program Alerts Farmers To Eye Injuries

Eye injuries, not locusts, plaque American farmers and their families. According to a recent study, one out of every 20 farm-related accidents results in an eye injury. The National Society to Prevent Blindness (NSPB) says farmers take chances with their vision by failing to protect their eyes from work hazards.

Together with the department of agricultural engineering at Purdue university, West Lafayette, IN, the NSPB has produced an educational slide-cassette program designed to alert farmers, agricultural students, rural health professionals and others to the everyday, but sometimes overlooked, threats to eyesight while working on a farm. It is now available in one-half inch VHS tape as well.

Entitled, "Eye Safety on the Farm," the 12-minute program depicts the potential for eye injuries from such common tasks as nailing, wood splitting, crop harvesting, applying fertilizers and pesticides, jump-starting dead vehicle batteries and using high pressure steam cleaners. In addition to raising safety consciousness, the presentation also offers a review of the various types of eye protection suitable to work on the farm.

"Eye Safety on the Farm" comes in a self-contained kit with 80 slides, an audio-cassette tape with audible and inaudible beeps, a script and a leader's guide. The cost is $80. The TV tape, which sells for $50, does not come with the script and leader's guide. The program is available for purchase or loan from the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, NY 10016.

Talley Gallery At Bemidji Opens New Art Exhibit

Various art forms depicting the fragility and future of the environment by five northeastern Minnesota artists are currently being displayed in the Talley Gallery at Bemidji state university through January 29.

Entitled "Earth and Spirit," the drawings, photographs, jewelry and batik illustrate the evolution of ideas, from the personal to the political, materialized in a visual form, according to Sandy Kaul of the Talley Gallery.

The Talley Gallery, located in the education-art building, is open free to the public 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesdays. Visitor parking is available adjacent to the gallery.

More information concerning the exhibit may be obtained by contacting Sandy Kaul, Talley Gallery, Bemidji State University, Bemidji, MN 56601-2699, phone (218-755-3734, ext. 116).

Regulations For Mental Health Occupations Aired

Two advisory bodies and staff from the Minnesota department of health have all produced separate recommendations regarding the regulation of mental health occupations in the state.

Sister Mary Madonna Ashton, Minnesota commissioner of health, is currently evaluating the three sets of recommendations. She will make her own recommendations to the Minnesota legislature in early January.

One group of recommendations came from an advisory task force on the regulation of psychotherapists, created by the 1985 legislature. The task force was asked to look at (1) the need for regulating currently unregulated providers of psychotherapy services, (2) the need for finding new ways to discipline psychotherapists who harm clients, and (3) the need for new ways to respond to the complaints of clients harmed by psychotherapists.

In addition, the state human services occupations advisory council (HSOAC) was asked to review the requests of three specific occupational groups that are actively seeking to be regulated. The three groups — social workers, marriage and family counselors and professional counselors — are considered to be part of a "mental health family" of occupations.

HSOAC is a permanent body, set up specifically to advise the commissioner on the regulation of health-related occupations.

Both HSOAC and the task force were required by law to find the "least restrictive" form of regulation that would still protect the "safety and well-being" of Minnesota's people.

A majority of the 16 member task force called for the licensing of psychotherapists by the state. However, dissenting members produced two spearate minority reports, recommending less stringent forms of regulation.

The minority recommendations include a system of formal registration for occupations involving the practice of psychotherapy, and an ongoing survey of consumers who have used psychotherapy services. The survey would be used to evaluate the quality of psychotherapy services in the state.

HSOAC rejected licensing as an option for all three of the occupations asking to be regulated. It did recommend registration for social workers and marriage and family therapists, but did not recommend any form of regulation for professional counselors.

Staff at the Minnesota department of health also produced recommendations regarding the regulation of mental health professionals in the state, dealing primarily with consumer protection issues.

Licensing is the most restrictive form of regulation available for health-related occupations in Minnesota. Under a licensing system, all persons who practice an occupation must be formally recognized by the state, after they have met certain qualifications. Persons who haven't been recognized as members of that occupation — and licensed by the state — are prohibited by law from practicing the occupation.

Under a registration system, members of an occupation can have their names placed on an official roster of practitioners, again after meeting certain requirements. Persons on the roster then have the exclusive right to use a certain occupational title, but others are not prohibited from offering the same types of services.

Any proposal to license psychotherapists or other mental health professionals would require action by the legislature. A licensing authority or some other appropriate body would have to be created or designated to handle the licensing process.

A registration system could be set up by the commissioner of health without legislative action.

Urge Awareness Of Symptoms For Diabetes In MN

International Diabetes Center, (the United Nation's World Health Organization center for diabetes education and training) has announced the beginning of a new public education effort to call attention to the serious problems associated with the complications of diabetes.

Here in Minnesota 119,000 individuals have been diagnosed as having the disease and the incidence is increasing daily. Yet it is believed that another 93,000 remain undiagnosed. Left untreated and uncontrolled, diabetes can lead to death and avoidable complications.

Diabetes and its complications are the third leading cause of death in Minnesota and in the country. Diabetes is the leading cause of new blindness and amputations, and a contributor to kidney failure, birth defects, coronary disease and strokes.

The International Diabetes center is urging Minnesotans to watch for the signs of diabetes in their family and to seek immediate help from their physician. Common symptoms include extreme thirst, frequent urination, excessive appetite ad fatique. Professionals point out that with Type II diabetes there may be no symptoms. The disease must be diagnosed through a blood test.

The center plans to hold free community education programs throughout the coming year to conduct special classes for people with both Type I and Type II diabetes.

Currently available medical evidence suggests that the long-term complications of diabetes. Thus, an effective diabetes education program combined with good diabetes management therapy is believed to significantly reduce deaths and complications.

DAC Receives Contract For Service In 1987

PETER LAVALIER of the Occupational Development center in Thief River Falls presented the center's request for endorsement for licensure as a developmental achievement center at the county welfare board meeting on Thursday.

Pennington county welfare board gave another year's contract for service to the Falls Day Activity center Thursday afternoon but left the door open for a future split in services by authorizing the Occupational Development center to apply for state licensure.

Commissioner Donald Grabanski made the motion to award the contract for services to the DAC as the sole provider for 1987, noting that the DAC is presently the only licensed provider of services in the county. The motion was seconded by Oliver (Skip) Swanson and passed on voice vote without dissent.

Charlie Oakes, administrator of the DAC, made the presentation of the center's proposal, emphasizing that efforts will be made to comply with the county's direction that greater emphasis be placed on vocational training and specialized therapy be provided.

Daily rate for services at the Falls DAC for 1987 wil be $23.26 or and increase of 3.4 per cent from the $22.50 per day charged in 1986. The amount will be retroactive to January 1, 1987, although the DAC has been providing services under extended contract since its 1986 contract expired at the end of the year.

Oakes said that the total budget projected for the coming year at the DAC was $193,000 — a decrease of $6,000 from the $199,000 expense of 1986. He said that if the amount was divided by the 29 participants which the center serves, the daily fee would be $37.04. Continuation of the center's charitable gambling operation is projected to provide $65,000 in revenue to offset its operating costs.

The center maintains good control of the gambling operation, Oakes said, having one person handling it at all levels. "No one could run a cleaner operation," he said. "Personally I'm not interested in the gambling but it provides too much money for us to simply walk away from."

Oakes also said that the county board's concern about the governing board of the DAC meeting standards for a new organization had also been addressed. The board now consists of 11 members, including three from the previous board and eight new members. The new members include Rodella Tieman, Goodridge; Jim Fulton, Lowell Burkel, Bruce Hall, Janeen Kalsnes, Sue LeMoine, Richard Neitz and Rev. Cliff Kalmoe, all of Thief River Falls. Previous members continuing board service are LeRoy Larson, current chairman; Ernest Derosier, Red Lake Falls; and Anna Hanson, Thief River Falls.

Fulton is the incoming chairman of the board with Mrs. LeMoine as vice chairman, Derosier as secretary and Neitz as treasurer.

Vocational emphasis will be provided by restructuring of the daily program along the lines of the series "Becoming Independent" prepared

COMPARISONS between total government expenditures for cities in Minnesota of 2,500 to 10,000 and the city of Thief River Falls show some interesting differences. Overall however, the largest single category of city expenditures in Minnesota was in public safety. Not so in cities with a population between 2,500 to 10,000 and Thief River Falls. The single largest category of city expenditures for Thief River Falls and other cities in the same category was streets and highways, followed by public safety, and general government expenditures. Expenses noted in this graph for Thief River Falls with a slash indicate they may be accounted for under a different expense or not at all. Pension funds are charged to each department and not lumped together. Sanitation and airport expenses are treated as enterprise fund expenditures. The total government expenditures figures were provided by the Minnesota state auditor's office and Thief River Falls' figures from Roger DeLap, assistant city clerk.

MN State Auditor Releases Financial Report On Cities

State Auditor Arne Carlson today released the annual report on the revenues, expenditures, and debt of cities for 1985. Carlson noted that city spending overall grew 7.4 per cent from 1984 to 1985. Although this represented a decline from a year earlier, the growth rate was twice the 3.5 per cent increase in the consumer price index. Bonded debt was up even more, with a 19 per cent increase in 1985 leaving $3 billion outstanding as of December 31, 1985.

Commenting on the 7.4 per cent increase in city spending, Carlson noted, "It was double the increase in prices for the period. However, it was less than the 12.4 per cent increase for 1984. City capital spending did not grow as rapidly in 1985 as it had in 1984, accounting for the sharply lower growth rate."

"Bonded debt of the cities now stands at $3 billion, up $478 million from a year earlier," Carlson stated. "The category increasing the most was tax increment debt, which was up $303 million in 1985."

"The pattern of revenue sources to cities continues to change," Carlson said. "Intergovernmental revenue is still a dominant source — at 38.1 per cent of total revenue in 1985 — but it is declining."

State Auditor's data shows that intergovernmental revenue as a per cent of city budgets reached a high of 43 per cent in 1980 and has steadily declined since then, to 38 per cent in 1985.

As in 1984, public safety was the largest single category of city expenditures, at $372 million in 1985. The second largest type of expenditure, at $367 million, was for streets and highways.

Other highlights of the 1985 report include these findings:

+ Of total governmental fund expenditures in 1985, the largest share, 20.3 per cent, was for public safety. Streets and highways were 20.0 per cent of the total, general government 9.6 per cent, park and recreation 7.9 per cent and interest expense 8.7 per cent.

+ Governmental fund revenues for cities totaled $1.755 billion while expenditures were $1.746 billion. The three cities of the first class (Duluth,

Amazing Grace . . .

Grace Hammer Has Sung At 40 Years Of Funerals

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

Grace Hammer is fond of a cartoon which someone gave her one day. It depicts a young girl talking to a clergyman, and the caption reads: "Who is this 'Amazing Grace' you keep talking about?"

There are many who would agree that Mrs. Hammer might well be amazing Grace, for she is widely recognized throughout the area for her musical ability and application of that ability to funerals, anniversaries and weddings. Over the past 40 years she estimates she has sung at about a thousand funerals — mostly for people she has known — and for many other special family events.

Furthermore, her sister Alice Skreland often accompanies her on the organ and both have been organists at area churches since they were teenagers. Alice had the benefit of about a dozen lessons from Vivian Thoreson at Goodridge; Grace took lessons about once a month during the winter from Fern Barnett at 709 North LaBree in Thief River Falls. Other than that minimal formal training, they have developed their abilities by themselves.

Alice and Grace are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dahlen who farmed most of their lives about eight miles east of Highlanding in eastern Pennington county. Their mother, the former Caroline Iverson, homesteaded the land while a rural school teacher and prior to marrying Henry in 1915. Henry moved to the area from Kindred, ND.

Ekelund Lutheran church was home church for the family and both Alice and Grace were organists there. Alice was born in 1916 and Grace in 1928 and they also were organists for Rev. Fladworks who conducted services every three weeks at the Little Oak school -- now a part of Pennington Pioneer Village. Grace was born at the Grygla hospital where Dr. Adkins was the physician. Alice was born at home.

Alice has been organist at Rosendahl, Salem, Telemarken and Goodridge Lutheran churches in that area of Pennington county and since moving to Oklee in 1979 has been organist at Zion, Salem and Valle churches of the Oklee Lutheran parish. She broke her hip in September of 1958 and admits she sat home and cried when she couldn't play the organ in church on Sunday mornings. By Easter of this year she was back at the organ again and she presently is organist at Salem and Valle churches, riding with the pastor between churches.

Grace has been organist at Rosendahl church, in addition to Ekelund church and the Little Oak school, and now has been organist at Bethany Lutheran church southeast of Thief River Falls for about 30 years. Foot pedal organs of years gone by have been replaced by modern instruments over the years and transportation has also changed from the days when Grace's father would take her to church with horse and stoneboat — sometimes up to six miles.

While both of the sisters have made church music a major part of their lives, it is Grace's vocal abilities added to her talent at the organ or piano that have made her in demand for funeral work. She was about 16 years old when she first sang at funerals, but she has been an active singer on a regular basis since she was about 18 — when she moved to Thief River Falls with her parents. She worked as an assistant for Dr. J.W. Ewing in his dental office until 1949 when she married Arnold Hammer and they began farming southeast of Thief River Falls.

Grace doesn't consider her contribution of music at funerals and other events to be a calling, but she does believe it to be a gift she is expected to use. And she intends to keep on doing it as long as her voice holds out and she has the health to get to where she is needed.

Over the years she doesn't recall having to turn down a request due to ill health or missing a service for that reason. She has had to refuse if there

Lincoln Advisory Meeting Thursday

Advisory committee for Lincoln high school will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Lincoln cafeteria, according to Terry Solne, principal at the school. The meeting is intended for parents of senior class members enrolled at Lincoln.

FAMILIAR SIGHT at churches in the area is Mrs. Grace Hammer providing music for a funeral service. She is being accompanied above by her sister, Alice Skreland of Oklee. Mrs. Hammer has sung for about a thousand funerals in the past 40 years and often accompanies herself on the piano or organ. Grace and Alice are the daughters of the late Henry Dahlen of Goodridge and both have been church organists since their teenage years. Arnold and Grace Hammer farm about a mile east of the Smiley bridge southeast of Thief River Falls.

Independence Of Children Needs Careful Guides

When children tie their shoes for the first time or brush their teeth and make their bed alone, they are becoming independent. As children grow, parents need to know how to help them become self reliant and make responsible choices drawn from their own inner resources.

Children will learn to act independently if parents allow them to act on their own, according to Saf Lerman, author and leader of parenting and leadership training groups. In the December 1986-January 1987 issue of "PTA Today," the National PTA's magazine, Lerman notes, "If a parent always does for a child what the child can do for herself or himself, then the child is deprived of chances to grow." However, there are times when children need help with one part of a task and then can forge ahead.

The article suggests that parents give every child in the family a chance to act responsibly so each one can develop skills, competence and confidence. Children should take on responsibilities appropriate for their age and capabilities.

Young children can help out at home in a playful way, so they feel they're participating. "As children gain experience, they will begin to be of real help and will become more responsible," says Lerman.

Older children will recognize certain obligations as their own such as placing their clothes in the hamper or hanging up their coats. Lerman says parents should help older children find ways to remind themselves of jobs, responsibilities and appointments. It is also good to assign them jobs that affect the entire household.

"Children need to see that their parents notice and value their efforts to be cooperative and responsible," Lerman points out. When children show a sincere effort to do their best, parents should not expect perfection. The author advises parents to comment proudly on a job well done.

It is also important for parents to avoid pushing children. "A child who is capable of doing something may not always want to be quite so independent," says Lerman, adding, "In this case, a parent can lend a hand." Sometimes, children want Mom or Dad to help them as an expression of extra loving care.

Parents should also avoid giving children responsibilities they are not yet ready to handle. "When too much is expected of children, they resort to teaching themselves — often incorrectly, haphazardly or incompletely," warns Lerman.

While helping children to act independently is part of parents' responsibility, they must also help them to think on their own. Lerman suggests parents encourage children to make choices, give them leeway, allow them to express themselves and show belief in them.

The December-January issue, entitled "Helping Children Grow," contains articles on helping children cope with change and teaching children to say "no" to peer pressure.

Application deadline is March 1. For more information on the types of services funded, a grant application form or further information, contact Faith Rud, NWRDC, P.O. Box E, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, phone (218) 681-2637.

MN Bicentennial Commission To Meet Feb. 19-20

Minnesota Bicentennial commission is holding a Bicentennial leadership conference on February 19-20 in St. Paul in preparation for the U.S. Constitution Bicentennial this year.

This conference is designed to give community leaders, service and professional groups and individuals the tools they need to plan their own programs, activities and events. It will feature "how to" workshops as well as program demonstrations, exhibits of resource materials and an opportunity to meet with those already planning for the commemoration of the Bicentennial.

Representatives from the National Commission on the Bicentennial and a number of national and state organizations will be present. A resource manual will be distributed to all attendees.

For further information and registration materials contact: Scott Fride, 200 Ford Building, 117 University Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55155, phone (612) 296-8997.

Information On Summer Youth Program Offered

Area employers interested in participating in the 1987 summer youth employment programs by hiring youths ages 14-21 are urged to attend one of several informational meetings, according to Mary Lou Harthun, program director of the summer youth employment program.

Meetings are scheduled for January 26, McIntosh city hall, 3:30 p.m.; January 27, Oklee ICCC offices, 3:30 p.m.; January 28, Goodridge public school, 3:30 p.m.; February 2, Red Lake Falls public library, 3:30 p.m.; February 2, Thief River Falls public library, 7:30 p.m.;

Also February 3, Plummer public school, 3:30 p.m.; February 4, Fertile community center, 3:30 p.m.; February 5, Thief River Falls public library, 3:30 p.m.; and February 5, Fosston civic center, 7:30 p.m.

At these meetings employers will be required to complete an application giving the program an idea of the needs for each worksite. In addition to taking requests for summer youth employees, the meetings will serve as information sessions and forums for questions and answers about the 1987 summer youth programs. A major new component of this year's program will also be discussed, Harthun said.

Both public and private sector employees are asked to attend the meetings. Questions may be directed to Harthun or Betty Halvorson at Inter-County Community Council, Inc., Oklee, MN 56742 or by calling 796-5144.

AVTI Graduates Recruited For Jobs In Texas

Six graduates of the Thief River Falls AVTI aviation mechanics program have been hired by Dalfort Aviation and will work in Dallas, TX, according to local AVTI officials. Several other graduates of the local program are also expected to move to Texas when they receive passing results on their FFA tests.

The graduates moving to Dallas reportedly were hired for $12 per hour plus health, dental and life insurance benefits. They will be working on repairing engines for commercial airlines. Taking the jobs were Brian Juvrud, New York Mills; Gary Lewis, Warroad; Tessema Maashio, Fergus Falls; Alan Markert, Moorhead; Thomas Nelson, Williams; and Hubert Thorne, Thief River Falls.

AVTI officials said that Dalfor Aviation hired 127 mechanics from Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota during the recruiting trip into this area. All applicants for the jobs were drug screened and none of the 15 applicants from the local AVTI tested positive, officials said.

Insurance Hoax Again Surfaces On VA Dividends

A government life insurance scam has again surfaced in North Dakota, according to David C. Engstrom, director of the VA medical and regional office center in Fargo. Each year since 1948, the hoax has appeared, usually in the form of photocopied "applications" or "bulletins" which urge veterans to contact the Veterans administration for payment of special dividends on their government life insurance policies, even if the policies have not been kept in force.

Engstrom emphasized that dividends are only payable on those participating government life insuranced policies which have been kept in force by the veteran, and that applications are not required for payment of such dividends.

Grace Hammer Has Sung At Funerals For Over 40 Years

is a conflicting time with another funeral she has already accepted (at times she has played and sung at three funerals in one day) and there have been times when she has declined for emotional reasons.

"Funerals for children are the hardest," she said. "I have sung at funerals for babies who died of crib death and for people who were 101 years old, and just about everything in between. The services have been for murder victims, a number of suicides and quite a few accident victims as well as those dying of natural causes. Most of the time I know the people involved, but the idea that they want me to play or sing gives me strength when circumstances are difficult."

Grace says she has sung at nearly all the churches in Thief River Falls as well as Goodridge, St. Hilaire, Oklee, Middle River, Plummer, Red Lake Falls, Grygla and a number of rural churches as well as Forest Lake and Kindred and Fargo, ND. Most requested songs are "Amazing Grace," "How Great Thou Art" and for those of the older Scandinavian community "Den Store Hvide Flok" (Behold the Host").

Most of the time Grace provides her own accompaniment, although Alice and others are sometimes available. She is contacted most times by area funeral homes and only occasionally by individuals. In recent years she has been singing for more people she doesn't know — principally persons who die without a home church and whose services are held in the funeral chapel. In the 40 years she has worked there has never been a set fee for her services; she accepts what a family wishes to give.

The closest she came to missing a service in all those years was just a year or two ago. She was out in the yard helping her husband unload barley into a bin when her daughter-in-law came driving into the yard in a cloud of dust. "Aren't you supposed to be at a funeral?" she asked. "Not until tomorrow," Grace replied. "Well, they're expecting you at the church in 15 minutes!" her daughter-in-law said.

Grace rushed into the house for a quick clean-up and headed for the rural church a few miles away — "hoping my Right Guard hadn't run out," she laughed. She was to be a soloist rather than organist and the service was in progress when she arrived. The pastor had filled in with the first solo and her second song — "Den Store Hvide Flok" — was to follow the sermon. She took her place in time for the second number and most of the people attending were unaware that she was late. "I still think the funeral home gave me the wrong date," she insists.

Grace is able to sing just about anything the family prefers and she likes it when the family selects the songs, although she has made her own selections a number of times. Most of the songs are hymns, but she has also sung more contemporary numbers which have been favorites of the deceased.

In bad weather Arnold will go with her to a service, and there have been some storms over the years which were quite severe. On occasion she has had to sing on a half-day's notice — usually when the scheduled vocalist has been unable to perform. The Hammer family car is lightheartedly referred to by neighbors as "the funeral car," but one time Grace drove the farm's two-ton truck to a funeral because it was the only vehicle available at the time.

One time she had arranged to ride with a mortician to a service and he picked her up in a sedan instead of the hearse. "I thought you were going to have the body along," she told him. "It's in the trunk," the mortician replied, and Grace thought he was joking. As it turned out, the funeral was for a person who had been cremated and the remains were indeed in the trunk of the car.

Grace knows of at least one family where she sang for the wedding, for the 25th anniversary and for the funeral of the husband who died in a farm accident. There are many others where she has sung for both weddings and anniversaries.

"I'm able to do this because I have a very understanding husband," Grace says. "He doesn't object to my being gone and he even goes along or helps me get going when there might be problems." Arnold takes a more philosophical position: "Grace can do what she wants to do," he says.

The Hammers have four children. Son John is married to Delaine Fjeld of Goodridge and farms near the Arnold Hammer farm. Daughter Ruth is married to Rev. Gary Halverson and they live in St. James. Dale is married to Kathy Kotrba of Tabor and they live in Grand Forks, ND. Son Lynn is single and also lives in Grand Forks. There are five grandchildren.

FUNERAL FOLDERS which she has collected in the past dozen years or so are reviewed by Grace Hammer (left) with her sister, Alice Skreland. Mrs. Hammer has sung for about a thousand funerals in the past 40 years and has been accumulating the folders since a friend suggested it about a dozen years ago. Mrs. Skreland sometimes serves as an accompanist for Mrs. Hammer and both have been church organists since they were teenagers.

CHURCH ORGANIST at Bethany Lutheran church southeast of Thief River Falls for the past 30 years, Grace Hammer is also in demand as an organist and vocalist for funerals, weddings and anniversaries. She has been singing regularly at funerals for about 40 years and estimates she has sung at about a thousand funerals during that time.

Alice married Gunsten Skreland of Oklee in 1941 and they farmed in the Goodridge area until his death in 1968. She continued to live on the farm until eight years ago when she moved to Oklee, working seven years as a home health aide for Inter-County Community council.

Alice has six children. Harold is married to Elaine Iverson of Goodridge and they live in Inver Grove Heights. Anne Traxler lives in Plummer; Walter and his wife Gail in Holly Hills, FL; Martha Cole in Scandia; Mrs. Bill (Gloria) Niswonger in East Grand Forks; and Marian Vodinelich in Grand Forks, ND. She has 16 grandchildren.

Someone suggested to Grace about 10 years ago that she should start saving funeral programs from the services where she had played or sung. She took the advice and her current collection by actual count is 352. Prior to that time she believes she has averaged 20 to 25 services a year, making the total right around the 1,000 mark.

Certainly, she is an amazing Grace.

MN State Auditor Releases Financial Report On Cities

Minneapolis and St. Paul) dominate with revenues of $836.9 million and expenditures of $624.2 million. Their revenue and expenditures amount to 36.3 per cent of the revenue of all cities and 35.8 per cent of the expenditures.

+ Cities with population under 2,500 had revenue of $166.0 million or 9.5 per cent of total revenue, and expenditures of $161.0 million or 9.2 per cent of total expenditures. Smaller cities are less of a factor in total city spending than they were five years earlier (1980) when cities under 2,500 in population accounted for 11.1 per cent of city expenditures.

+ Total bonded indebtedness of the cities in Minnesota amounted to $3.0 billion or $928.85 per capita. This is an increase of $476.3 million or 19 per cent over 1984.

+ Comparison of the 1985 year to 1984 shows enterprise funds (those financed through user charges) reported higher operating incomes in eight out of nine categories. Liquor stores had lower operating incomes in 1985 than 1984. Of the 658 sewer utilities, 36 per cent (237) showed an operating loss for the year. Fourteen per cent of city nursing homes showed operating losses in 1985.

"Cities should be taking a closer look at their enterprises," Carlson said. "These are funds set up by cities to account for certain activities on a business-like basis. For example, they include depreciation as an operating expense to make sure that the cost of capital assets is allocated over their useful lives."

DAC Receives Contract For Service In 1987

by Edmark Associates, the administrator said. The 29 participants at the center have been divided into four groups for instructional purposes. These groups include nine participants with mild developmental disabilities, nine with moderate developmental disabilities, six with low moderate to high severe range of disability and five in the severe to profound range of disabilities.

An item has been placed in the budget to provide for mental health service, Oakes said. He also noted that financial record-keeping is being addressed with regular annual audits to be conducted of the center's finances.

Oakes speculated that the ODC would present information that it is a national trend for consolidation of developmental achievement centers with sheltered workshops. He said there is no support for that claim, and that it would be unusual for a rural county to have a duplication of services. He expressed concern about which center would get new referrals if two were in existence and noted that the daily fee was based on a program with 29 participants. If the numbers dropped, daily fee would have to increase or program be reduced.

The DAC administrator said he had a definite concern about referrals and had noted people being referred away from the DAC but none being brought back in.

Prior to making his motion to continue a contract with the DAC, commissioner Grabanski said that commissioners were concerned about dollars spent but most concerned for the people involved in the program.

Peter Lavalier, director of the Occupational Development center, presented that organization's request to receive authorization to apply to the state department of human services for licensing. He noted that the ODC is licensed through the division of rehabilitation services while the DAC is licensed through the department of human services.

Lavalier said that ODC serves a 11 county area, has qualified and competent staff and earns 65 per cent of its total revenue from production. A DAC operation at the ODC would operate in separate space from the ODC which is presently available. A DAC program would be set up as a separate entity and evaluated quarterly.

Mrs. Lynn Bylander, coordinator at the Thief River Falls ODC, explained how the day activity program would be structured to develop vocational skills and habits and assist in incorporating the DAC participants into the community. Staffing ratio would be one-to-six, she said, with one-to-three on smaller groups.

The ODC serves 180 vocationally handicapped, she said, and the ODC has worked closely with DACs throughout the area. Regarding duplication of services, she said that there may be two licenses but that the operations would be different. The ODC program for DAC participants would not serve only county residents, she noted, and there would be a vast difference in program capabilities. Small DACs in the area have contacted the ODC asking for a program.

Lavalier said that the ODC would like to start out with eight participants to make the program cost effective but would consider fewer than that number on an initial basis.

Gary Erickson, county welfare director, reminded the board that it would be up to the state to consider the situation before granting a second DAC license in the county. If the division believes the handicapped can be better served by having a second licensed agency available, it will likely grant the license. Cost proposed per day by the ODC was $24.

Motion to permit authority for the ODC to request a license was made by Skip Swanson and seconded by Donald Grabanski. It also was passed without a dissenting vote.

Deaths And Funerals

John "Bill" Wahlbeck, 87

Thief River Falls — John "Bill" Wahlbeck, 87, died Thursday at Northwest Medical center. Funeral services for Bill Wahlbeck were held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Green Funeral chapel with Rev. C. L. Kalmoe officiating. Interment will be at Greenwood cemetery.

Music was provided by Don Wahlbeck with "Beyond the Sunset." All friends attending the service were considered by the family to be honorary pallbearers. The Green Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Johan Wilhelm Wahlbeck was born Nov. 22, 1[illegible], in Black River township, Pennington county, to John and Anna Mattson Wahlbeck. He grew to adulthood and farmed in Black River township until he retired in 1961. He then moved to Thief River Falls.

He is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Preceding him in death were his parents; three brothers, Walfred, Sam and Albin; and four sisters, Ellen, Clara, Ebba and Amanda.

Esther Johnson, 80

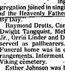
Plummer — Funeral services were held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Evangelical Covenant church in Thief River Falls for Mrs. Arthur (Esther) Johnson, 80, who died January 11 at her home at Mission, TX.



Rev. Donald Peres officiated at the service, with Mrs. Helen Dahlstrom as organist and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erickson singing "How Great Thou Art" and "Good Night and Good Morning." The congregation joined in singing "Children of the Heavenly Father" and "Day By Day."

Raymond Drotts, Conrad Woetzel, Dwight Tangquist, Melvin Johnson, Jr., Orrin Linder and David Johnson served as pallbearers. The Green Funeral home was in charge of arrangements. Interment will be in the Viking cemetery.

Esther Johnson was born June 12, 1906, at Viking, to Rev. Vernon and Augusta Drotts. She attended school there and was confirmed and baptized at the Viking Covenant church. She cared for her invalid mother for 41 years and worked as a cook for the Lutheran Brethren school in Fergus Falls, at Northwestern hospital, the Rex Cafe and the Fountain Cafe in Thief River Falls, at the Warren nursing home and at a Grand Forks university sorority.

She was united in marriage to Arthur Johnson Mar. 13, 1976, in Thief River Falls. They made their home in Plummer and spent their winters in Mission, TX. They had worked as volunteers at the Sioux Diabetic camp at Grand Forks and at the Border Mission in Mission, TX.

Esther Johnson is survived by her husband; three nieces, Carol Woetzel, Albert Lea, Evonne Peterson, Glenview, IL, and Phyllis Linder, Plummer; two nephews, Rev. Wallace Drotts, Citrus Heights, CA, and Rev. Lowell Drotts, Attleboro, MA.

She was preceded in death by her parents and her brother, David Drotts.

Arnold Engelstad, 79

Gatzke — Arnold "Arnie" Leroy Engelstad died Tuesday at Oakland Park nursing home in Thief River Falls at the age of 79. Funeral services were held Friday at 11 a.m. at the United Lutheran church in Gatzke with Rev. Robert Amundson officiating.

Pallbearers were Richard Engelstad, Ronald Engelstad, Lee Baker, Mylan Abrahamson, Robert Thorson and Duane Loven. Interment will be in Landstad cemetery, Gatzke, with the Helgeson Funeral home of Roseau in charge of arrangements.

Arnold "Arnie" Leroy Engelstad was born Set. 14, 1907, at Gatzke, to Christ and Emma Engelstad. He grew up there and lived and farmed on the family homestead all of his life. He was united in marriage Mar. 28, 1946, to Anna Loven in Gatzke.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Robert, Gatzke; three grandsons; and a sister, Mae Tucker, Grand Forks, ND.

He was preceded in death by his parents, three brothers and three sisters.

Leona Broeker, 57

Edina — Leona Phyllis Broeker, 57, formerly of Thief River Falls, died recently. Funeral arrangements are pending with the Belmont Funeral home of Thief River Falls, and a complete obituary will follow in a later edition of the Times.

Dear Friends,

Among the personal data required on the deceased are: full name, birthplace and date, father's and mother's name, social security number, military service details, list of organizations and offices held. The latter information is valuable, not only for death benefits, but for participation in the funeral service. It is well for this data to be prepared in advance.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Joe Drevlow Is Student Rotarian For This Month

Joe Drevlow

Student Rotarian for the month of January is Joe Drevlow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Drevlow and a senior at Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls.

A three-year football letterman, four-year swimming letterman and track team member for two years, Drevlow has also been in the concert choir at Lincoln for three years and earned star ratings at regional competition in solo and mixed ensemble divisions.

He is president of St. John Lutheran church youth group, president of the Crookston circuit youth, vice president of Region I in the Minnesota North District — all involving groups of the Lutheran church-Missouri synod.

Hobbies include weight lifting, music and sports while other interests are mathematics and science. He hopes to major in biology and minor in chemistry in college and enter medical school with a view toward general practice or general surgery.

Joe has an older brother, Fells, 20 and a younger brother Guy, 11.

Senator Stumpf Urges Residents To Be Informed

State Senator LeRoy Stumpf of Plummer reminds District 1 residents that "representatives can't represent unless our constituents let us know what's on their minds."

Stumpf urged area residents to make use of the information services of the Legislature and keep legislators informed of issues that interest them as well as letting their vies be known.

Both the state House of Representatives and the Senate publish weekly summaries of the legislature's activities, he said. "Briefly," published by the Senate, can be obtained by writing to the Senate Publications Office, G-23 State Capitol Building, St. Paul, MN 55155, and the House counterpart, "The Session Weekly," is available from the Public Information Office, 175 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155.

Among other information services available, Stumpf listed the following:

Committee Schedules — Senate phone (612) 296-8088; House phone (612) 296-9283; Bill Status — Senate phone (612) 296-0504; House phone (612) 297-1264; General Information — Senate phone (612) 296-2887; House phone (612) 296-2146; and Services for the Hearing Impaired — Senate phone (612) 296-0250; House phone (612) 296-9896.

Stumpf also urged District 1 residents to keep him and the district's two House members informed of their views on specific legislation and their ideas or recommendations on what new laws, or changes in existing law, are needed.

They can be contacted by writing or calling: Sen. LeRoy Stumpf, 306 State Capitol Bldg., St. Paul, MN 55155, phone (612) 296-8660; Rep. ## Kiwanis Club To Honor Its Past Presidents Tues.

Thief River Falls Kiwanis members will mark Kiwanis International's 72nd birthday during Kiwanis Anniversary Week, January 18-24, according to Cliff Larson, president.

The local club will celebrate by honoring its past presidents at its regular Tuesday morning meeting.

The first Kiwanis club was chartered Jan. 21, 1915, in Detroit, MI. Today, the men's service club has 8,300 clubs and 315,000 members in 76 nations around the world. Clubs sponsor community service projects and conduct fund-raising.

Last year, Kiwanis clubs raised and spent more than $54.5 million on community service activities, with a special emphasis on meeting the needs of underprivileged children. Kiwanis members also donated more than 22 million volunteer man-hours to theses service activities.

TRAIL . . .

Tuesday evening a potluck supper was held at the Albert Aaknes home. They had a farewell party for Dale Aaknes of Franklin, WI, who will be leaving for the army on January 27th. Dale Aaknes was in the National Guard for three years. Besides the honored guests were Gwen Altman of Sparta, WI, Wayne and Kathy Bakke, Wade and Kurt, Scott and Leann Bakke all of Gonvick, Vi Radniecki and Adeline and Erwin Prevost, all of Oklee, Darlene and John Eisbrener of rural Thief River Falls and Dale's grandparents, Albejt and Rose Aaknes. A decorated farewell cake was made by his aunt, Kathy Bakke of Gonvick.

Minnesota Heart Ass'n. Sets Goal Of $2,445,000

American Heart association, Minnesota affiliate has set a $2,445,000 goal for its 1986-87 campaign, according to Dr. Richard Grimm, president of the Minnesota affiliate. "The goal of $2,445,000 represents a 10 per cent increase over last year's successful campaign which raised $2,220,423," Grimm said.

Funds raised by the Heart association are dedicated to research, community program and educational efforts to combat America's number one killer, heart disease. Last year, heart disease claimed the lives of 986,370 Americans including 16,080 Minnesotans.

Although heart disease is responsible for nearly 50 per cent of the deaths in the Unites States, deaths due to heart disease have declined 32.5 per cent from 1972 to 1984.

Over 300,000 donors contributed to the Minnesota affiliate last year. This widespread support reflects great confidence in the Heart association and its work," Grimm said. "Our challenge for 1987 is to increase this broad base of support."

Ag Commissioner Joins In Pushing PIC Certificates

"Farmers can help themselves and help others farmers by marketing their Payment-in-Commodity (PIC) certificates through the National Farmers organization (NFO)," Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Nichols said today.

The NFO has established a trust fund to purchase PIC certificates from farmers and then resell the certificates to other farmers. Farmers can redeem the certificates for grain needed for livestock feed. Dairy farmers and others who ordinarily do not put their grain under loan could make as much as 45 cents per bushel under the NFO program, Nichols said.

Nichols said farmers may put their grain under loan at current loan rates and then redeem the grain at current cash prices with PIC certificates purchased from the NFO.

"The result is that farmers are able to help themselves and keep PIC certificates out of the hands of multinational grain companies," Nichols said.

"PIC certificates are responsible for the current low cash grain prices which ordinarily would be at or above the loan rate," Nichols said. "Farmers who ordinarily would not sell their grain until the cash price exceeded the loan rate are now dumping millions of bushels of grain on the market at prices below the loan rate because of the PIC certificates.

"The real winners in the PIC certificates are the consumers who continue to be subsidized with cheap grain and the grain companies who buy and sell the certificates," Nichols said.

Farmers can call toll-free, 1-800-247-8113, to the NFO grain department for information on application to the program

Johnston Farms Has Top Cows In Red Lake DHIA

Johnston Farms had the top two individual cows and seven of the top 2 among those completing 305-day lactations in December in the Red Lake county dairy herd improvement association according to David E. Kabes, Red Lake county extension agent.

Johnston Farms cattle had the following milk and butterfat production records: 25,086 pounds of milk and 984 pounds of butterfat; 24,501 and 945; 20,543 and 977; 23,265 and 809; 23,064 and 827; 18,904 and 836; and 20,489 and 792.

Other cattle in the top 20 came from the following herds: Conrad Zak & Sons, 28,156 and 815; 18,978 and 794, Mrs. Jean Beyer, 24,825 and 846; Willard Harstad, 22,755 and 855; Roger Odegaard, 22,192 and 832, 20,498 and 829;

Also NW Ag Experiment station, 23,348 and 781; 22,364 and 716; Warren and Randy Gast, 19,620 and 846; 17,171 and 771; Don and Karen Konickson, 19,711 and 732; 16,940 and 753; and John W. Malwitz, 19,420 and 792.

Kabes said the top cows selected were based on minimum production of 22,000 pounds of milk, 750 pounds of butterfat or 700 pounds of protein.

Ag-Arama Slated This Week At 'U'M - Crookston

Ag-Arama, the mid-winter fun fair at the University of Minnesota-Crookston (UMC), will be held Friday and Saturday. Although many UMC students and alumni will be competing, the public is invited to compete in many of the events.

Ag-Arama includes over 50 activities ranging from technical contests in flight simulation, crops judging, horticulture, livestock, natural resources, forestry, and soils, to activities such as driving blindfolded, tree felling, golfing, egg tossing, pie eating, pie throwing, match splitting, snow shoeing, tug-of-war and climbing Jacob's Ladder.

Many contests take place on Friday on the college campus with some contests and all of the fun activities taking place Saturday at the Red River Valley winter shows north arena.

Ag-Arama is a student production. About 20 students, chaired by Greg Dvergsten of Greenbush, serve as a steering committee for about 150 to 200 members of various student clubs who put on the contests and enter competition. About 400 students participate in addition to UMC alumni and many community people.

Understanding Trillions

Word is out that the federal government — principally the present administration — plans to spend two trillion dollars on the military in the next five years. Most folks can't begin to comprehend how many dollars that total involves. Keep in mind that a million dollars is a thousand thousand dollars; a billion is a thousand million dollars, and a trillion is a thousand billion dollars.

Some statistics that have been floating around the area newspapers lately shed some light on just how much a trillion dollars is. They are being quoted from a letter written by Conrad Zak, chairman of the Polk county Farmers Union.

"If you had a trillion dollars," he wrote, "you could buy a new $75,000 house, put it on $5,000 worth of land, put $10,000 worth of furniture in it, add a $10,000 car in the garage and give it to every family in the states of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Colorado and Iowa.

"After that, you would have enough money left to build a new $10 million hospital for 250 cities and a new $10 million school for 500 communities in that area."

And according to Zak's figures the remaining funds could be invested on interest and provide a $25,000 annual salary for 10,000 nurses and teachers and give a $5,000 bonus to every family in that area every year forever.

And that's HALF of what the plans are for defense spending in the next five years.

We are strong advocates of a strong national defense. Without it, and the threat of nuclear devastation that could be inflicted on those who would attack us, our precious freedom and way of life would be wiped out and our people annihilated. That's a fact. But it would seem that an adequate — totally adequate — defense could be provided for less than the $2 trillion in question.

A New Day For Farming

Following article was written by Bob Bergland, executive vice president and general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative association, and published in the Land O'Lakes Mirror. Bergland is originally from Roseau, is a brother of Phil Bergland and Mrs. Morris Roadfeldt of Thief River Falls, and is a former Seventh District Congressman and U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

It's a new day today for the American farmer.

We don't know yet if it will be a better day. The wheel is still turning; the cycle of change is not yet complete.

For some, sadly, even a good result will be coming too late. Already, farms and homes and a truly American way of life have been lost, and there is no way to compensate the losers.

We can fasten our attention, however, on the things that we can do something about. As a starter, we can look back at the way things once were for our farmers and examine the extent of the changes that have brought us to where we are today.

My measurement of change starts with my recollection that there were seven million farms in this country when I was young. And life was different, much different. Most of the farms of that day were fully independent units, just as my own parents were independent on their Minnesota farm. They were pretty much self-sufficient.

What a sharp contrast in today's farms, strongly affected by events over which farmers have no control. The old independence no longer works. The oil crisis of several years ago fed a galloping inflation in this country, and few things have been the same since. Our farms were bound to be gravely affected because American agriculture runs on petroleum energy.

Our farmers also are feeling the impact of the national food policies established by many governments throughout the world. Basically, such policies encourage domestic producers to provide as much as possible of the supplies needed at home. Of course, this shrinks the world need for imported foods.

This doesn't mean that there are no more commercial opportunities for U.S. agricultural exports. Such prospects remain good, but increasingly in a north-to-south pattern. Growth in this trade very likely will be seen as countries of the southern hemisphere seek to provide nutritional variety for the diets of their people.

Just as the realities are changing for today's agriculture, so are the facts of life for our farm cooperatives that must look in new directions to meet the amended needs of their farmer members. The captive market provided by the compact and committed member-ships of yesterday's cooperatives is no longer available. New and different services, and improvements to old services, appear to be essential if today's economically pressed members are to be satisfied and retained.

All of us involved in cooperatives need to study closely today to learn if there are some things our cooperatives can do better than anyone else. That was our rugged test in the beginning; that is why we are here. And that must be our aim right now if we are to be essential to the basic interests of our members. When we are not that, we are excess baggage and have lost our reason for existence.

Regardless of the variety of ways in which it is put to use, the fundamental purpose of a cooperative is to open the path to help for self-help. That is what makes it a very special kind of economic democracy. When people join together to share a common load, they fulfill the very best purposes for which this country was put together as well as those for which all of the world's major religions were established.

This is the nature that demands that the people — the cooperative members — must lend their hands, and their heads, to the search for a meaningful cooperative purpose. As they do this, they must look for answers that will not merely serve themselves, but will demonstrate concern for each other.

In this harness of togetherness, America's agriculture certainly can move on to a far better time. And so can America's cooperatives.

Prayer For All Seasons

The following prayer appeared recently in the Land O'Lakes Mirror;

I am growing older . . .

Keep me from the fatal habit of thinking that I must say something on every subject.

Release me from craving to straighten out everybody's affairs.

Make me thoughtful but not moody; helpful but not bossy.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details: give me wings to get to the point.

Seal my lips on my aches and pains — love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be mistaken.

Keep me reasonably sweet; I do not want to be a Saint — some of them are so hard to live with — but a sour old person is one of the crowning works of the devil.

Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places and talents in unexpected people. And give me, Lord, the grace to tell them so.

Amen.

YOUR TIMES

A Look At Church Merger
by K.B. Knutson, Oklee

In the near future many Lutherans will be asked to make an important decision about whether to give up their church affiliation of possibly a lifetime and join a completely new church which we know very little about.

In theory we are merging, but in fact we are dissolving the ALC, LCA and AELC and creating a brand new church with unknown theological doctrine and a philosophy based more on social activism and less on the infallible scripture of life, faith and repentence.

Rev. Herman W. Preus, retired professor of Northwestern Lutheran seminary in St. Paul is an uncle of Dr. David Preus, president of the ALC, and Rev. J.A.O. Preus, president of the Lutheran church-Missouri Synod. He recently said, "The Lutheran church faces a critical threat, ecunemical pressure, merger fever, human secularism, new morality, de-emphasis on christian education, and reduced emphasis on confessional studies in our churches and seminaries.

"Errors usually occur with the theological leadership and pastors in our churches. In some cases the leaders have corrected each other and kept the church faithful, but here may be a time when lay people must enter the battle to maintain the truth, and that time may now have arrived."

Past dissolutions and mergers were not brought on by the lay people, but the struggle for power by church leaders. The "family row" in the Lutheran hierarchy is well documented in Lutheran history. The results have been loss of church membership by joining other churches, creating new ones or even becoming unchurched.

I believe now is the time for the lay people to say "enough is enough" and vote against the merger. This we did at the Oklee congregations of Zion, Salem and Valle by a two-to-one margin.

The INSIDE SCOOP
From Lincoln High
by GAYLE BORCHERT

Activities at Lincoln are getting busier as Sno-Fest week draws nearer. For now, however, students at Lincoln are facing the end of the quarter and the end of the semester this week. For the students this means that all make-up work must be done or incompletes and possibly failures will be given to them.

For Mr. Dyrud's College Prep Composition students, the end of the semester will also serve as the deadline for their last and biggest research paper. The students have been working off and on all semester on this paper. The paper is based on two novels by a famous author. After the student reads these novels, he or she begins the process of finding secondary sources and references.

The paper must be the equivalent of seven to 12 typewritten pages complete with footnotes and bibliography. Intent is to teach the student the process of writing a research paper. To quote Mr. Dyrud, "The first research paper you ever do will be the hardest." No one taking the class is disagreeing.

The German club is looking for families to help host the German students when they come for their visit in the spring. The exact dates of the visit are not known yet, but they are expected either the last week in March of the first week in April. They will be here for a total of three weeks. German club activities that have been planned for the visiting students and their advisors are get-togethers, dances and banquets.

Lincoln high may be sending a group of high school students to Germany for three weeks. Any student in grade 10 through 12 is eligible. They will visit Germany with their advisor, Miss Neumann. Anyone interested in hosting a German student should contact Miss Neumann as soon as possible.

Lincoln's marching band is again practicing for the annual band night. This year band night will be held on Friday, January 30, at the boy's basketball game and will be directed by Mr. Ryan. This is one of the first years that band night has fallen in Sno-Fest week.

Students at Lincoln are gearing up for the annual Sno-Fest week January 26-31. The week will include the powder puff broomball game between the freshman and sophomore girls, button sales, attendance at games, wall decorations, coronation program and dance.

Lincoln students have Monday, January 19, off due to in-service for the teachers. On January 22, the Lincoln parent advisory group will meet. Anyone with a student at Lincoln is encouraged to attend.

Activities Schedule

January 19 — No School; girls basketball vs. Karlstad (home);

January 20 — Hockey at Warroad;

January 22 — Boy's swimming at Grand Forks; ninth grade boys basketball (home);

January 23 — Boy's basketball (at home);

January 24 — Boy's swimming at Fosston; hockey vs. Bemidji (home).

Fuel Assistance Applications Are Being Accepted

Fuel assistance applications are still being taken by Northwest Community Action, Inc., Badger. Those who think they qualify, and need help in paying fuel bills, can make an appointment for application.

Appointments can be made by calling the outreach aide in the applicant's county. In East Marshall county call Karen Skadsem at 222-3309. Questions about eligibility and application procedures will be answered at that time.

Eligibility for assistance is determined by household income, size and fuel type. Certain deductions can be made in computing income for eligibility. Net assets held by all household members cannot exceed $25,000.

Income eligibility guidelines by household size are as follow: household of one, $7,620; two, $9,964; three, $12,312; four, $14,850; five, $17,388; six, $19,926; seven, $22,464; and eight, $25,002.

Fuel assistance applications will be taken until May 31.

to the Editor

To The Editor:

I would like to express my response to the family who is hurt and confused. My husband was recently laid-off right before Christmas. We never know from year to year if we will have money to buy Christmas gifts. We tell our kids that Christmas might be late but there will be a Christmas nevertheless. We worry about how it would affect them but they reassure us that it's "okay" if Santa stops at our house last.

Our attitude, like our kids', is positive. Just when things seem their worst, there is someone — friends, relatives, even strangers — to step in and help. Our kids were put on the "Angel Tree" this year. We were called and asked first. I thought there must be kids more needy than ours but I put my pride aside.

I was also asked if I knew of any other kids who could be put on the tree. I find it hard to believe that someone so needy as yourselves were overlooked. It seems to me that the originators of the "Angel Tree" covered all the angels. All of our kids received a very nice gift. They couldn't believe strangers cared so much for them. They decided they'd like to give something of their own to kids who haven't as much as they do. They are in the process of giving their own toys and clothes they received last year to charity.

They learned an important lesson this Christmas; it's great to receive gifts, but giving to others, whether it's newly bought or something loved and used by a child, is what it's all about. Somedays things will be easier for us, and I only hope that we have the goodness — giving in our hearts as the people who gave to the angels of the "Angel Tree." A special thank you to you all!!

As for the rest of the letter, we have had to apply for medical assistance a few times in the past and have been turned down for one reason or another. Things always seemed to work out because we just tried a little harder. Guidelines are set for a reason. Otherwise everyone would be on Welfare.

I sympathize with people who are in need of food and shelter and I'm glad there are programs to help out but not to someone who asks for free appliances and plane tickets. When your husband is laid-off, you go get a job. That's what we do; there's no babysitting fees and it works out great. There are lots of jobs out there, you just have to get out and find them.

Maybe volunteering to help someone worse off than yourself would bring better things your way. It doesn't cost anything to volunteer! Give and you shall receive!

Name withheld upon request

TRAIL . . .

Wednesday afternoon visitors at the Albert Aaknes home were Dale Aaknes of Franklin, WI, Gwen Altman of Sparta, WI, Vi Radniecki and Adeline Prevost of Oklee. John Eisbrener of rural Thief River Falls was a coffee guest.

The winner of $260 on game night on Sunday, January 4th, was Beverly Dolalie of Gully. Congratulations.

Dale Aaknes of Franklin, WI, and Gwen Altman of Sparta, WI, left on Thursday morning for their homes. They spent their vacation at the Albert Aaknes home and Eugene Aaselin's at Oklee and also with his aunt and uncle, Wayne and Kathy Bakker at Gonvick; and with his cousins, Wade, Kurt, Scott and, Leeann Bakke also of Gonvick.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Prevost of Oklee and Mr and Mrs. Albert Aaknes and Wayne Bakke of Gonvick and Robert Halum of Bemidji were out cutting wood with four saws going, and the ladies loading the four pickups. It was just like old times, lots of fun. After we came home from the woods, the Aakneses and Prevosts were supper guests with Wade Bakke on his birthday at the Wayne and Kathy Bakke home in Gonvick. Other guests were his other grandma, Helen Bakke, and Scott and Luann Bakke and his brother, Kurt, all of Gonvick.

Last Saturday evening Dale Aaknes of Franklin, WI, and Gwen Altman of Sparta, WI, spent a few days with their grandparents, the Albert Aakneses and Eugene Abselin of Oklee and with his aunt and uncle, Wayne and Kathy Bakke, of Gonvick.

Albert Aaknes attended the funeral for Alvin Larson of Oklee.

Thief River Falls THE TIMES

Prowlers' Press Lifts Unbeaten TRF Girls Past EGF 56-47

Something different — a full court press — rescued the Thief River Falls girls Thursday as the Prowlers overcame a 10-point second quarter deficit with an agressive momentum-swinging defense that carried them to a 56-47 high school basketball win over visiting East Grand Forks, the two-time defending Region 8A champion and last year's Class A state tournament runner-up finisher.

East Grand Forks turnovers and Thief River Falls points came in bunches when the Prowlers put the press into effect after a second quarter time-out, enabling the winners to stretch their 1986-87 unbeaten status to 12 games.

The press hasn't been a Thief River Falls weapon in the past, said head coach Tom Schafer, because the Prowlers' Iron Five starting line-up generally plays the full 32 minutes, causing concern for fatigue if that much energy is used at both ends of the court.

However, desperate times call for desperate measures. And Schafer was desperate. The Prowlers were badly out-played from the start, with very little offensive movement and poor shooting creating a nine-point first quarter deficit and a 23-13 hole after a pair of Tami Wills free throws with 6:26 left in the second quarter.

That's when the press went into effect, with immediate results as Thief River Falls out-scored East Grand Forks 12-1 over a three-minute span to give the Prowlers their first lead of the night, 25-24, following a Laura Beito rebound basket with 3:15 remaining in the half. East Grand Forks was unable to handle the pressure, turning the ball over on five consecutive possessions during that Thief River Falls rally.

The half ended in a 27-27 tie, but the complexion of the game had changed entirely.

"The press is something we've been working on," explained Schafer. "We put it in after the Crookston game (a 48-44 win Jan. 8), but we never really put it in a ball game until tonight. But we had to do something to give us a lift. We weren't playing well. We weren't moving. The press opened things up. It got us going."

East Grand Forks had a couple of one-point leads early in the third quarter, but a 13-2 Thief River Falls scoreboard surge put the Prowlers in command. Trailing 32-31 with 4:41 to play, Thief River Falls exploded for seven straight points from guards Kelly Cornell and Brenda Russell, who both wound up with 21 points for the night, for a 38-32 lead with 3½ minutes remaining in the third quarter. Denise Hawthorne of the Green Wave interrupted the Thief River Falls scoring by breaking the press with a lay-up that made it 38-34 with 3:14 to go, but the Prowlers promptly scored six more points for their biggest lead to that point, 44-34, with 2:14 on the clock. Beito scored to start that streak by grabbing back-to-back offensive rebounds, Cindy Kruta, who contributed 10 points to give the three-guard Thief River Falls offense 52 backcourt points, hit a set shot from the side, and Cornell dropped in a high-arching short base line jumper.

Thief River Falls was in control the rest of the way. The Prowlers' biggest lead was 54-43 following a pair of free throws by Russell with 2:25 remaining in the game.

"I was worried," admitted Schafer. "We weren't doing anything early in the game, and that's what scared me. But they came back and did a nice job. After that poor start, I thought we came back and played some pretty good basketball."

Diane Chase, a slick 5-9 senior forward, led East Grand Forks with 15 points.

Thief River Falls was 22-for-66 from the field (33 per cent) and 12-for-23 from the free throw line (52 per cent). East Grand Forks was 18-for-44 from the field (41 per cent) and 11-for-26 at the line (42 per cent). The Prowlers had a 33-26 rebound edge, including a big 20-5 advantage on the offensive boards. The Green Wave had more turnovers, 19-11.

The Prowlers host Tri-County tonight (Monday) and have an interesting assignment Tuesday at Plummer, where the 8-1 Cardinals figure to be a top District 31A challenger this year.

Hockey Team Is A 6-3 Winner

What for two periods Saturday night in the Prowler's hockey game against Fargo South at the Sports Arena, appeared to be a game of strategy nearly turned into a rout during the third period when the Prowler's scored four goals.

The Prowlers, struggling with a 4-7 record in section 8 play after this game, boosted morale with a 6-3 win over Fargo South in non-section 8 play. It was their first home game win this year.

During the first two periods of play the Prowlers demonstrated good control, with crisp passes, but were unable to get past Fargo South goalie John Knight, who had 28 saves during the night.

The score was tied 1-1 in the first quarter with goals by Fargo South player Chris Songstad, and Thief River Falls player Marty Levin. In the second period Fargo South scored two more goals to Thief River Falls' one. But the third period was all Thief River Falls.

Third period action saw Scott Novak score with assistance from Bill Dicken, Jim Breiland score unassisted, Blair Lund score with assistance from Scott Novak and Bob Geatz, and Bob Geatz score with assistance from Bill Dicken.

The Prowler's will need all the confidence they can muster. On Tuesday they will play at Warroad, which is the number one team in section 8. On Saturday the Prowler's will host a strong Bemidji team 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the sports arena in Thief River Falls.

Scoring

First period — Fargo South, Chris Songstad (Jeff Rogne, Brad Packes), 11:00; TRF, Marty Levin (Bill Dicken, Rick Looker), 12:30.
Second perriod — Fargo South, Dave Kelly (Jerry Peterson, Mark Sorgaard), 8:02; TRF, Bob Geatz (Scott Novak) 1:48; Fargo South, Rogne (Songstad, Dave Lymes) 12:34.
Third period — TRF, Scott Novak (Bill Dicken) 2:58; TRF, Jim Breiland (unassisted) 10:21; TRF, Blair Lund (Scott Novak, Bob Geatz) 11:07; TRF, Bob Geatz (Bill Dicken), 13:37.
Goalie Saves — TRF, Shayne Anderson, 5-5-9 — 19; Fargo South, John Knight 11-9-8 — 28.

EAST GRAND FORKS' Diana Chase tried to get around Thief River Falls' Brenda Russell during Thursday's girls high school basketball game played in the Lincoln gym. The Prowlers remained unbeaten with a 56-47 come-from-behind win over the Green Wave. The game's top three scorers are all included in this picture as Russell and teammate Kelly Cornell (trailing the play) both had 21 points, while Chase had 15.

EGF Boys Win 50-49 In Two Overtimes . . .

Green Wave Shades TRF

What Friday night's 'Prowler basketball game against East Grand Forks lacked in finesse it more than made up for in excitement as the visiting Green Wave came away with a 50-49 win in double overtime.

The see-saw contest, which saw the momentum swing from one team to the other, like a pendulum, wasn't decided until Dana Coulter, a junior forward for the Green Wave, drilled two free throws with three seconds remaining on the clock at the end of the second OT.

Depsite having Chris Bjorgaard on the bench with an ankle injury and Chris Nelson joining him there with three personal fouls in the first minute and 26 seconds, the Prowlers played a strong first quarter and led 15-8 at the end of the period. It appeared that the adjustment to play without two of their top players had been made.

But East Grand Forks tallied 17 points in a ragged second quarter while holding the Prowlers to eight and take a 25-23 lead at the half-way point. Thief River Falls could muster only six points in a disastrous third quarter while East Grand Forks scored nine to raise the lead to 34-29.

Thief River Falls made its run late in the fourth quarter and Griff Newland knotted the score at 34 with the front end of a one-and-one free throw opportunity with 2:21 on the clock. Garret Hjelle, senior center for the Green Wave, muscled his way under the basket for a quick two-pointer but Brian Stark of the Prowlers made a good baseline move for a lay-up to tie the score at 36.

Guard Tom Hagen of the Green Wave tossed up a long jumper which rebounded off the back of the rim and the Prowlers gained control with the clock running down. Hagen stole the ball on the sideline with a fine defensive play and fed Vu Pearson who cashed in a fast break lay-up for a 38-36 East Side lead. On the ensuing Prowler possession Chris Nelson was fouled and calmly iced both gift tosses to tie the game at 38-all with 10 seconds remaining to be played.

A hurried scoring effort by the Green Wave went awry and Thief River Falls took one wild toss before regulation time ended.

Early in the first overtime Chris Nelson tossed a 12-foot jumper through the twine but Hjelle grabbed an offensive rebound and was fouled hitting both free throws for a 40-40 tie. Stark gave the Prowlers a short-lived lead with a field goal but Hjelle scored on a jumper in the lane to knot the count at 42. A desperation shot by the Prowlers ended the first overtime.

East Grand Forks drew first blood in the second extra stanza when Hjelle laid the ball off the glass for two points, but Chris Nelson canned another arching jumper to tie the score at 44.

Paul Szymanski scored a field goal in heavy traffic and was fouled but missed the free throw and the Prowlers had the ball. A short jumper was rebounded by the Green Wave and Hjelle scored another lay-up and was fouled, having a chance to seemingly put the game out of reach. But he missed the free throw, the Prowlers rebounded and Todd Solsten cashed in on one of two free throws. A turnover gave the Prowlers the ball again and Jarrod Kalsnes swished a jumper to pull Thief River Falls within a single point.

Garret Hjelle, who had carried much of the Green Wave play in the overtimes, was fouled but missed his free throw and the Prowlers got a break when Kalsnes was fouled. The senior guard hit the first free throw to tie the game and then put the Prowlers in front when the second shot also nestled in the netting.

With the Prowlers leading 49-48, East Side hurried the ball down court and Dana Coulter was fouled on his drive to the basket. The six-foot junior who led all scorers with 19 points hit both free throws to put East Side up by one with three seconds left. It wasn't enough time and the Prowlers lost a tonsil-tester by the narrowest of margins.

Coulter's 19 points included nine free throws and Hjelle's 17 points included seven gift tosses as East Grand Forks won the game at the line. Thief River Falls had 17 field goals to only 14 for East Grand Forks but the Wave made good on 22 of 30 free throw opportunities while the Prowlers hit 15 of 21.

Bemidji Swimmers Top Prowlers 95-74

Prowler boy's swim team members turned in 21 career bests and 13 career bests in a dual meet against Bemidji Friday at Franklin Middle school in Thief River Falls, but it wasn't enough to unseat Bemidji.

"It was a very competitive meet with both teams turning in hot times," said Coach Jay Forney for the Prowlers. "For us, just about every swim was either a career best or season best time," he said.

This loss, 74 to 95, puts the Prowler's dual meet season record at 3-1. This meet was considered their toughest yet. Despite so many career bests, season bests and two section meet qualifyers, Todd Carlson in the 200 freestyle and Aaron Tofte in the 100 freestyle, the Prowlers were unable to unseat top rated Bemidji.

First place finishers for the Prowlers included: Shon Thompson in the diving event; Rick Rosetta in the 100 yard butterfly event; Paul Glauque in the 100 yard freestyle event; Joe Drevlow in the 100 yard backstroke event; and Brian Schindler in the 100 yard breaststroke event.

Bemidji took first place in six events including both freestyle and medley relays. Bemidji came away from the meet with first showings by Marc Baer in the 200 yard freestyle, Ken Nichols in the 50 freestyle, Mike Ross in the 200 yard individual medley, and by Marc Baer in the 500 yard freestyle. With greater depth and a larger team, Bemidji outscored the Prowlers in both varsity and junior varsity competition.

MINNESTOA TWINS' 1987 Talkin' Baseball Tour stop in Thief River Falls Wednesday night featured relief pitcher George Frazier (left) and catcher Mark Salas as guest speakers.

Large Crowd Greets Twins On TRF Stop

By Mike Lundgren,
Times Sports Editor

The Minnesota Twins were a big draw in Thief River Falls Wednesday. An unexpectedly-large turnout for the KTRF Radio-sponsored Twins 1987 Talkin' Baseball Tour stop at the Best Western Inn exhausted the hot dog supply, and required additional seating to accomodate the men, women and children who showed up to see the Twins' personnel, watch a highlight film, gather autographs and have a shot at a few prizes.

Minnesota might not be a World Series-winning caliber baseball operation right now, but the Twins are certainly champion salesmen. [illegible] the club who were in Thief River Falls — relief pitcher George Frazier, catcher Mark Salas, broadcaster John Gordon and front office representative Glenn Gostick — sold an overflow crowd of approximately 250 on the Twins, the Metrodome and Major League Baseball — in January.

Frazier, the righthander the Twins acquired from the Chicago Cubs in a deal that involved unpopular Ron Davis last August, was the crowd favorite. Articulate and humorous, Frazier promoted the Twins' "changing image" front office, the "youthful and energetic" players on the roster, touched on the subject of drugs and joked about life as a relief pitcher in the Major Leagues, a pressure-filled occupation that has to be handled properly mentally. "You need to be a little goofy in the bullpen," he told the audience. "You're a parttime individual."

He also took a shot at Major League owners for their "collusion" in refusing to actively seek available free agent talent, and warned against drug abuse, a problem that has made headlines in professional sports in recent years. "We're trying to clear up drugs in baseball and in society," said Frazier. "I try to set a good example."

Salas confessed the Twins played in a state of confusion last summer when managerial and front office moves kept changing the roster make up in revolving-door fashion. "It was like a Triple-A Major League team," he admitted.

But both players were optimistic about the 1987 season under new manager Tom Kelly. Both were happy with Kelly's off-season appointment as manager, a role he filled on an interim basis when Ray Miller was fired late in the 1986 season. Kelly beat out Jim Frey for the job, and Frazier was relieved. "If they would have hired Jim Frey, I might have shot myself," he said. "He's not at the top of my Christmas list, and I'm sure I'm not at the top of his."

Gordon's booming voice promised plenty of enthusiasm in the Twins' broadcasts this year as he steps in alongside of veteran Herb Carneal.

Gostick admitted the Twins' front office [illegible] do a "hard sell" to potential ticket-buyers, "but I refuse to do it," he said. He didn't have to. The presentations to that point had already created the support from the public that will likely produce ticket-buying responses this summer — the goal of the three Twins touring teams throughout the Upper Midwest this month.

JARROD KALSNES of the Lincoln high school Prowlers found himself surrounded by East Grand Forks Green Wave players late in regulation time of the basketball game Friday night in the Lincoln gymnasium. Green Wave players from left are Vu Pearson, Paul Szymanski, Tom Hagen and Garret Hjelle. It was Hjelle who carried the major load for East Grand Forks in the pressure-packed double overtime, eventually won by the Green Wave on two free throws by Dana Coulter with three seconds remaining. Kalsnes had 10 points for the Prowlers, including a field goal which pulled them within 48-47 and a pair of free throws for 49-48 lead late in the second overtime.

MCC Rally Beats Roseau 59-55

Marshall County Central boys overcame a 22-point deficit to stage a remarkable come-from-behind 59-55 high school basketball win at Roseau Friday.

"It was the most unbelievable game I've ever coached in," reported Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland, whose Nordics, down just 15-10 at the end of the first quarter, surrendered 17 straight points to start the second quarter in falling behind 32-10.

"We played very poorly," admitted Ueland, "and we didn't get any breaks."

Roseau owned a 37-21 halftime lead, but the spread was sliced to just 43-42 at the end of the third quarter, and Marshall County Central took over in the fourth period.

"We never played well offensively, but our defense played hard, and that was the deciding factor," explained Ueland, who said the Nordics' defense was directly responsible for 10 or 12 third quarter points. "Mentally we were never in it. But we played hard when we had to."

Darin Rokke scored 22 points to lead the Nordics, who are 5-4. Rick Stotts and Matt Anderson both had 14 points for the Rams.

Marshall County Central was 25-for-69 from the field (36 per cent) and 9-for-20 at the free throw line (45 per cent). Roseau was 25-for-55 from the field (45 per cent) and 5-for-14 at the line (36 per cent). The Rams had a 44-30 rebound advantage, but they also had more turnovers, 27-14.

Grygla . . . . . . . . 65
Badger . . . . . . . . 42

Grygla won its third straight game and put its record at 4-3 Friday with a 65-42 victory over visiting Badger.

Reed Engelstad paced the Eagles with 24 points, while Thor Smerek hit 14 and Jason Engelstad had 13. Brian Lange led Badger with 18 points, while Robby Davy had 16 and Scott Erickson contributed 10.

"We took good shots, and we made them," said Grygla coach Vern Johnson. "We moved the ball and got some good shots. I was pretty pleased with the offense."

Grygla had quarter leads of 16-13, 37-24 and 53-32.

In the shooting department, Grygla was 30-for-66 from the field (45 per cent) and 5-for-12 at the free throw line (42 per cent). Badger was 21-for-62 from the field (34 per cent) and 10-for-15 at the line (67 per cent). The Eagles had a 35-25 rebound advantage, but also had more turnovers, 16-7.

Grygla hosts Marshall County Central Tuesday, with the Eagles looking for their first-ever win over the Nordics.

Plummer . . . . . . . . 56
Goodridge . . . . . . . . 53

Plummer edged Goodridge 56-53 in a Friday night overtime game in the Cardinals' gym.

Goodridge had a 16-14 first quarter lead and held on to a 26-22 halftime edge before Plummer went ahead 38-33 in the third quarter. It was tied 50-50 at the end of regulation time when the Huskies' Shawn Groven scored on a tip-in as time expired.

Working the ball for a final attempt at a game-winning shot in overtime, the Huskies rushed the shot, explained Goodridge coach John Rahn, picked up a foul on the rebound and sent Plummer to the free throw line for the winning points.

"I thought the kids played the best we have all year," noted Rahn, but 21 turnovers cost the Huskies, who dropped to 1-9. Plummer is 7-2. "You just can't do that (turn the ball over 21 times) against a good team like Plummer," pointed out Rahn.

Groven had a game-high 24 points for the Huskies. Shane Freyholtz led Plummer with 21 points, and Wade Grinde had 19. Neil Huotari of the Cardinals and Roger Coan of the Huskies both scored 11.

Goodridge was 22-for-53 from the field (42 per cent) and 9-for-16 at the free throw line (58 per cent). Plummer was 19-for-38 from the field (50 per cent) and a productive 18-for-31 at the line (58 per cent).

Both teams play Friday. Plummer hosts Fisher that night, while Goodridge entertains Oslo.

Huskies Lose 29-27 Contest

Goodridge girls came close to ending an eight-game losing streak Thursday, but the Huskies still came up a basket short in a low-scoring 29-27 high school basketball defeat at the hands of Alvarado.

A slow start cost the 1-10 Huskies, who came up with just five first half points. Alvarado grabbed a 10-2 first quarter lead and had a 17-5 halftime edge before host Goodridge made a game of it in the second half, pulling within 22-19 at the end of the third quarter.

"Second half, we played a solid basketball game," pointed out Goodridge coach Patti Johnson. "As you can see by the numbers, we didn't do very well in the first half."

The Huskies received strong performances from 5-9 seniors Bridget Sjulestad and Cindy Vettleson, the game's only double figure scorers. Sjulestad scored 11 points and grabbed 11 rebounds, while Vettleson had a 10-point, 17-rebound game.

Goodridge was just 11-for-52 from the field (21 per cent) and only 5-for-17 at the free throw line (29 per cent). But Alvarado had shooting troubles, too, going 12-for-42 from the field (29 per cent) and the Indians had an identical 5-for-17 figure at the line. Goodridge had a big 50-21 rebound advantage.

The Huskies were scheduled to visit Oslo tonight (Monday). They travel to Fisher Thursday.

Grygla . . . . . . . . 54
Warroad . . . . . . . . 44

Wendy Lawrence scored 23 points and grabbed 15 rebounds Thursday to lead Grygla past host Warroad 54-44.

It was just the second win in eight starts for the Eagles, who trailed 17-13 at the end of the first quarter, but took a 32-28 halftime lead and had a 41-34 third quarter edge.

"We did make a lot of mistakes," admitted Grygla coach Mike Gast, but there were certain points we did real well," he mentioned, saying the Eagles rebounded well, played strong defense and ran the transition game well.

Alison Stanley joined Lawrence in a double, double figure performance with 12 points and 12 rebounds. Rachel Fausher led Warroad with 19 points.

Grygla was 21-for-52 from the field (40 per cent) and 12-for-20 at the free throw line (60 per cent). Warroad was 17-for-57 from the field (30 per cent) and 10-for-13 at the line (77 per cent). The Eagles had a 44-23 rebound advantage.

MCC . . . . . . . . 51
Middle River . . . . . . . . 34

Marshall County Central overcame a slow start Thursday to beat rival Middle River 51-34 in the Skippers' gym.

Middle River limited Marshall County Central to a single first quarter free throw in posting a 7-1 lead at the quarter stop. But the Nordics went ahead 18-14 at halftime and had a 33-23 third quarter edge. The results extended the 7-1 Nordics' winning streak to seven games and dropped the Skippers to 7-4.

That one point first quarter was a combination of two things, according to Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde. "We were playing the wrong offense for the defense they were in, and they played real good defense against us," he said.

Marshall County Central was 0-for-10 from the field over those first eight minutes. But some offensive adjustments put the Nordics in control the rest of the night as Jodi Foss scored 13 points, Andrea Kragness 12, Natalie Ueland 10 and Kelli Anderson 10. "Natalie and Kelli did a real nice job inside," pointed out Mjelde.

Stacie Sparby was the only Middle River scorer in double figures, netting 10 points.

"We played hard, but we just couldn't get the ball in the hoop,' pointed out Middle River coach Steve Larson. "I think we tired a little bit, but they kept hustling right to the end."

Marshall County Central charts showed the Nordics 21-for-58 from the field (36 per cent) and 9-for-17 at the free throw line (53 per cent), and had Middle River 12-for-40 from the field (30 per cent) and 10-for-20 at the line (50 per cent). The Nordics' figures also had them with a 31-20 rebound advantage and showed Middle River with a 28-18 high number in the turnover department.

The Nordics host Badger Monday and entertain Greenbush Thursday. The Skippers are at Badger Thursday.

LOW . . . . . . . . 35

Wendy Lawrence turned in another outstanding performance for Grygla, scoring 25 points and grabbing 15 rebounds in leading the Eagles to a 53-35 Saturday win over visiting Lake of the Woods.

Nikki Lian added 12 points to the Grygla total as the Eagles improved their record to 3-6 with their second win of the week. Cindy Wangerud led Lake of the Woods with 11 points.

It was a 12-12 tie at the end of the first quarter, but Grygla went ahead 25-20 at halftime and opened up a 35-26 third quarter advantage.

Grygla was 21-for-62 from the field (34 per cent) and 11-for-17 at the free throw line (65 per cent). Lake of the Woods was 16-for-50 from the field (32 per cent) and 6-for-10 at the line (60 per cent). The Eagles had a 35-32 rebound advantage.

It'll be a week off for the Eagles, who won't return to action until Monday, January 26, when they host Middle River.

Crookston Dairy Day Attended By Record Turnout

Northwest dairymen turned out in record numbers (178) to tour the new dairy facilities and attend the Northwestern Minnesota "Dairy Day" held at the Northwest experiment station at Crookston January 13. The theme, "Adjustments to Making a Difference" was well carried out by the speakers.

Dr. George Marx, dairy scientist, Northwest experiment station, Crookston, reviewed the many projects which he has conducted. Feeding high-moisture shelled corn vs. high-moisture ear corn for milking dairy cows, utilizing barley dried distillers grains, and comparing canola meal and sunflower meal with soybean meal as protein supplement were some of the reports given by Dr. Marx.

An update on the rebuilding of the dairy barn and research and teaching center was presented by Dr. Larry Smith, superintendent of the Northwest experiment station. He mentioned the building project was virtually complete with the exception of the milking parlor which is pending. An extensive campaign to support the rebuilding program to augment the legislative appropriation was conducted and is continuing with dairy farmers, dairy cooperatives and agri-related businesses to raise funds to complete the modern facility.

Dr. Jerome Hammond, a University of Minnesota economist, gave a historical perspective of government involvement in milk marketing with future possible control options including production quotas, another dairy buyout and various progrlams adn bills proposed in Congress.

Gary dairyman Gerald Visser spoke on breeding, feeding and managing a successful dairy operation by adjusting to economic situations and adapting new technology, such as embryo transplants to increase genetic potential, use of high-moisture grain and quality forages, solving management problems such as stray voltage and mastitis, and even overcoming a tornado which devastated his farm in 1978.

Dr. Jeff Reneau, veterinarian and dairy extension specialist, presented tips on improving A.I. technique and herd fertility. We stressed that the management of all components, including the semen storage tank and thawing technique, are important in maintaining good conception rate in the herd. He said that 97.7 per cent of the 20,000 pound milk production herds utilized artificial insemination and as production of herds decreased the utilization of A.I. also was down in percentage.

Dr. James Linn, dairy extension, department of animal science, U of M, St. Paul, spoke on improving production and profits by utilizing applied principles and practices. Linn outlined a planning strategy for dairy farmers who have a critical need for a controlled nutritional supply of feed and then utilizing these feeds in an economically balanced ration to make more milk per cow.

Gordon Shafer, extension district program leader, presided at the program.

Franklin Middle School

Fertile-Beltrami rallied in the second half Tuesday for a 29-25 basketball win over the Franklin Middle School eighth grade girls.

Franklin led 11-3 at the end of the first quarter and had a 13-9 halftime edge before falling behind 22-17 in the third quarter.

Becky Bjerken led the Spartans with 10 points; Molly Pinkerton had 8. The Spartans visit Roseau Tuesday, drive to Crookston Thursday and participate in an invitational tournament at Bemidji Saturday.

Franklin Middle School eighth grade boys lost their first basketball game of the 1985-86 season after four season-opening wins Tuesday, a 67-41 decision to Marshall County Central.

Travis Lewis scored 18 points and Bryan Delorme had 15 for the Spartans.

Travis Lewis scored 17 points and Peter Balmer had 10 Thursday as the Franklin eighth grade boys defeated Roseau 59-34.

Franklin seventh grade girls faced Fertile-Beltrami Tuesday and met Red Lake Falls Thursday. The Spartans trailed 20-16 at halftime, but rallied to beat Fertile-Beltrami 40-28 as Jodi Kruta scored 16 points and Tarik Koivisto had 10.

Red Lake Falls edged the Franklin seventh grade girls 23-22 in an overtime B game, but the Spartans won the A game 40-9. Tanya Schob led the Spartans' B game scoring with eight points, while Kruta scored 21 in the A game.

Franklin eighth grade boys participated in a Saturday tournament at Bemidji at both the A and B level.

Spartans' A team beat Crookston 42-26 as Pete Balmer scored 11 points and Brian Delorme had 10; defeated Park Rapids 35-32 as Tim Benson scored 10 points; then lost to Bemidji 59-42 as Delorme scored 11 points and Travis Lewis had 10.

Franklin B team beat Park Rapids 36-35 as Chris Lillevold scored 23 points and Mark Fuller added 10, but lost to Bemidji 52-19 as Lillevold scored eight points.

The 7-2 Spartans visit Fertile-Beltrami Tuesday.

Freshmen Boys Win 53-51 Game

Jason Kempert scored 22 points to lead Thief River Falls past Grand Forks Schroeder 53-51 Thursday in a freshman boys basketball game in Grand Forks.

Thief River Falls had quarter leads of 19-12, 27-25 and 40-33, owned leads of 7-to-10 points in the fourth quarter, then held on at the end to win for the fourth time in five starts.

Chris Beaucage and Paul Lofberg scored 11 and 10 points, respectively, for the winners, who were a busy 17-for-39 at the free throw line.

Thief River Falls hosts Grand Forks Valley Thursday at 4:15 p.m. in the city auditorium.

TRF Girls Win JV Ball Game 42-28

Thief River Falls girls defeated East Grand Forks 42-28 Thursday in junior varsity high school basketball action.

The winners had quarter leads of 9-5, 20-9 and 34-19.

Tammy Beito and Kari Torkelson led the Thief River Falls team scoring with eight points apiece.

Freshmen Girls Gain First Win

Thief River Falls freshmen girls picked up their first basketball win of the 1986-87 season Thursday by beating East Grand Forks 42-34.

Monica Haapoja and Kari Wald scored 14 points apiece for the winners, who had quarter leads of 14-5, 23-12 and 33-23.

Thief River Falls, 1-8 for the year, will be idle until a Tuesday, January 27, game at Fertile-Beltrami.

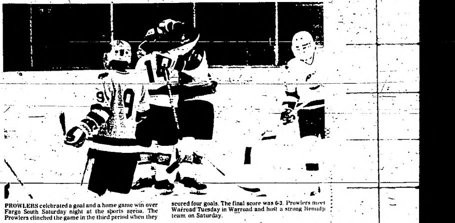
Chancellor List At UMC Has Three From This Area

Area students named to the 1987 fall quarter chancellor's list at the University of Minnesota-Crookston (UMC) were announced by Dr. Donald Sargeant, chancellor.

To qualify for a place on the list, students must complete 12 or more hours of college credit while attaining a perfect 4.0 grade point average. Students named to the list include:

— Jolene R. Hampton, Erskine, daughter of Elroy and Mary Lou Wagner, majoring in hospitality and home economics in hotel-resort management; Charlene R. Myhre, Red Lake Falls, majoring in business accounting systems; and Lyle C. Olson, Thief River Falls, majoring in diversified agriculture.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) establishes minimum wage, overtime pay, recordkeeping and child labor standards which affect some 63 million employees in private firms, 7.7 million employees of state and local governments, and 2.3 million federal government employees. The act is enforced by the U.S. Department of Labor.



PROWLERS celebrated a goal and a home game win over Fargo South Saturday night at the sports arena. The Prowlers clinched the game in the third period when they scored four goals. The final score was 6-3. Prowlers meet Warroad Tuesday in Warroad and host a strong Bemidji team on Saturday.

TODD SOLSTEN (35) of the Prowlers was fouled by Dana Coulter of East Grand Forks on this drive to the basket in overtime of Friday night's basketball game in the Lincoln gymnasium. He made one free throw to pull the Prowlers within three points. Coulter was the eventual hero for East Grand Forks, however, as the junior nailed two free throws with five seconds remaining in the second overtime to give East Side a 50-49 win.

— News From Minnesota DNR —

With chainsaws, bulldozers and other heavy equipment, loggers have begun attacking Minnesota's "wall of wood" to create wildlife habitat and new stands of aspen for tomorrow's wood-products industry.

"Wall of wood" is a nickname foresters have given to the thousands of acres of rapidly maturing, or already dying, aspen that make up much of any northern Minnesota forest. These trees, 60 to 80 years old, are rapidly declining in value for wood products and wildlife habitat.

Two years from now, when loggers have downed about 14,000 acres of the overmature aspen on state land, profuse aspen saplings, abundant deer browse, deer beds and grouse drumming logs will exist in its place.

Department of Natural Resources effort to "recycle" aspen is part of Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM), a new state program to enhance fish and wildlife habitat by retiring erodable farmland and clearing overmature forests. The 1986 Legislature appropriated $1 million over the next two years to cut aspen on state land in northern Minnesota.

Purpose of the aspen program is twofold: to create habitat for ruffed grouse, deer and other wildlife in a forest that has grown too old to be productive; and to avert a future timber shortage by rejuvenating aspen stands.

"It may take eight or nine years for the benefits of aspen recycling to start more grouse showing, but it should continue for two or three decades," said Gordon Gullion, DNR grouse research biologist. Deer, too, should benefit. Both species need aspen in a variety of ages.

Minnesota's timber industry also is excited about the program. It will provide important additional contract work to local loggers, some of whom have faced troubled times since housing-industry cutbacks.

"I'm favorably impressed with the work done to date in wildlife and aspen regeneration in areas that were otherwise not salable," said Bruce Baker, Timber Producers Association vice-president.

Steve Lane, assistant supervisor in the Littlefork area forestry office, said much of our aspen grew in the wake of pine forests logged from 1910 to 1930.

Aspen once was considered a "weed tree" but now is Minnesota's most important source of wood. Unfortunately, even with the recent construction of several waferboard plants that require aspen, these forests are aging faster than they are being cut.

"As aspen ages it becomes infected by a fungal growth called white trunk rot, and this causes the heartwood of the tree to decay. This destroys the marketable value," Lane said.

[illegible] overmature aspen ties up thousands of acres better used by younger trees, setting the state for an aspen shortage in 20 years, said Barry Morse, DNR forest management supervisor.

Aspen left undisturbed slowly dies, enabling other species to take over sites through natural succession. If cut, however, aspen sprouts back vigorously.

In recent years, about 11,000 acres of state-owned aspen and 80,000 acres statewide have been harvested commercially each year. The recycling program will focus on about 14,000 acres of aspen that are too old or have insufficient volume to interest commercial loggers.

DNR foresters and wildlife managers together select the areas to be cut. Wildlife objectives call for about 25 per cent of the aspen in a 4-square-mile management area to range from one to 10 years old. Recycling projects ideally will be scattered within this area. Wildlife managers may also identify areas to be kept as permanent openings. These will be seeded with clover and grasses.

Once the cuts are planned, the DNR asks for bids on the jobs from local loggers and contractors. During the next two years, the project may provide part-time employment to a couple hundred wooods workers or more.

Aspen stands are cut from November to April, when the land is frozen and trees are dormant. Workers use chainsaws, bulldozers and giant hydraulic shears called "fellerbunchers." The equipment and method used on a particular tract depends on the topography, depth of frost and characteristics of the trees.

Nearly all the downed timber from sparse but pure aspen stands will be left on the ground to rot to return nutrients to the soil. When balsam fir and heavy brush are mixed in with the aspen, the felled material will be piled and perhaps burned to increase the aspen sprouting.

Land surrounding some aspen-cutting sites is seeded with clover to provide high-quality wildlife food. The nearby forest provides shelter. If the areas slated for cutting will not have adequate regeneration for a productive aspen stand, white cedar or other conifers may be planted or seeded instead to provide winter cover for deer and grouse.

Result of all this work is a forest that ensures a future growth of usable aspen and productive wildlife habitat.

The $1 million appropriated for the aspen-recycling program last year will pay for the clearing of about 14,000 acres during this winter and the next. But thousands of acres of overmature aspen will remain. Moreover, many thousands of acres of presently mature aspen may age into uselessness if demand for the wood is slack. So, the future of the aspen program will depend on continuing support from the Legislature.

With that support, the future of timber and wildlife will grow only brighter — for outdoors enthusiasts and loggers alike.

Hunter Education Classes

Advanced hunter education classes sponsored by the Department of Natural Resources will begin in January, February and March throughout the state. The classes are designed to improve ethical hunting skills, to promote better relationships between landowners and hunters, and to enhance hunting experiences by teaching about wildlife and habitat use.

More than 35,000 hunters and nonhunters, including entire families, have participated in advanced hunter education classes since the program's inception 11 years ago. Roger Grosslein, hunter education coordinator, said the program is dedicated to "Minnesota sportsmen and women and their continued efforts tro preserve wildlife habitat and the privilege of hunting."

First-time students and graduates of the youth firearm safety program are also encouraged to attend classes. Locations, times and dates can be obtained by calling toll-free 800-652-9747.

TIMES Around The Region

They're Back At It

East Grand Forks — The James Gang rode again Thursday robbing three banks in East Grand Forks. The armed hold-ups occurred after 10 a.m. at First Bank of East Grand Forks, American Federal Savings Bank and Citizens State Bank, led by Jesse and Frank James and Frank Cole. The robberies were part of a kick-off of the private-business division of fund raising for the East Grand Forks centennial that will be held this summer, and the James boys and other members of the gang were played by East Grand Forks businessmen.

Ice Art

Detroit Lakes — Maynard Hemmah is an ice carver. He uses ice cut in big blocks from local lakes, and a chain saw, ice chisel and other hand chisels to turn the blocks of ice into art objects. He says he always "sees the object in the ice before he begins carving it and the whole process of one carving usually takes less than an hour from start to finish. The objects are rough cut so that melting will bring out a smooth, glass-like finish and round off rough edges. He also said he prefers to use lake ice because it has natural cracks and air bubbles and becomes crystal clear after the melting-buffing process. He said manufactured ice will often have a cloudy core that he doesn't like. Hemmah lives between Lakes Eunice and Maude, southwest of Detroit Lakes, and has taught his craft at the Moorhead AVTI for the last 22 years, having learned it himself from a chef at a hotel where he worked as a fry cook.

Blackened Bakery

McIntosh — The McIntosh Bakery is being thoroughly cleaned and its oven serviced after a fire and explosion that occurred January 8. A fire began in the oven after routine maintenance by former owner Howard Schimanski. He used a fire extinguisher to put the fire out, but insulation continued to smolder. Fire chief Dick Parent was called to observe the situation and make sure everything was under control. Later that night when owner Scott Schimanski, Howard Schimanski and Melford Grundyson attempted to restart the oven, a backfire occurred, filling the bakery with smoke and soot. No one was injured in either incident and the bakery plans to reopen for business again soon after January 20.

Valentine Mardi Gras

Middle River — The Middle River community club will have a Valentine's Day masquerade party. The event will be at the American Legion club there with cash prizes awarded to costume contest winners.

First-Hand Experience

Warroad — Two members of Warroad's Emergency Technician squad used their technical expertise recently to handle their first delivery of a baby. Dorothy Brewster and Glen Heppner were on their way to the Warroad clinic emergency room at 4:30 a.m. January 12 when Queena Latda Phommasene decided to maker her appearance. Queena was born right at the Warroad stop lights, assisted by Dorothy and Glen. It seems only fitting that the two were named godparents for the baby. Mother, Nola Phommasene, and baby Queena are doing fine, as are father, Sourikong, and three sisters and one brother at home in Lakewood Park west of Warroad.

Is This Goldilocks Or What?

Bagley — 'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house...Mrs. Mabel Evermoen of Lake Minerva, near Bagley, was stirring, her winter's nap interrupted for some unknown reason. (Perhaps on the lawn there arose such a clatter, she sprang from her bed to see what was the matter.) Away to the window she flew like a flash, tore open the shutter and threw up the sash. The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow gave a luster of midday to objects below...bears? Mama Bear, Papa Bear and three Baby Bears were taking their Christmas Eve walk in the woods right in the Evermoens' back yard. Since the bears have continued to visit the Evermoens from time to time, we can assume that their long winter's nap has ended for this year. The Fertile Journal that ran the bear tale didn't mention whether Santa and his reindeer made it past the bears to fill the Evermoens' stockings, but we hope they did.

A Cold Contest?

International Falls — The city of International Falls has received the Minnesota copyright to the title "Icebox of the Nation," but will now have to compete with a Colorado town of 500 for the federal copyright. Fraser, CO, officials hope to begin the year-long weather match-up this spring. Judging plans are to award the town with the colder mean temperature each day one point, and the town with the colder absolute temperature each day one point, and tally up the totals at the end of the year. Fraser Mayor C. B. Jensen conceded that International Falls has a colder temperature during the winter, but says Fraser, at 9,000 feet elevation in a valley bordered by 13,000-foot high mountain peaks, stays chilly all year round. January 10, Fraser had a low of minus 22 degrees compared to International Falls' low of 14.

Two-Vehicle Collision

Hallock — A two-vehicle accident one and one-half miles south of Hallock on highway 75 resulted in $3,500 damage to a 1977 Chrysler driven by Steven Logan of Minneapolis and $1,000 damage to a 1953 truck driven by Roy Jacobson of Hallock. The Logan vehicle was attempting to pass the Jacobson vehicle as Jacobson was turning off the road. The accident happened at 11:58 a.m. January 12, according to the Minnesota state highway patrol. Logan's wife, Debroah, was treated and released at the Kittson Memorial hospital, and neither driver was injured.

PLUMMER COMMUNITY will have the use of an 8x16 portable concession stand, two picnic tables and a portable bleacher as a result of project work by volunteers with a $2,500 grant from Aid Association for Lutherans. Branch 2444 of AAL received the grant under the parent organization's community action benevolence program and the work was done by AAL branch volunteers and Plummer saddle club members. Officers of Branch 2444 are Loretta Hesse, president; Barbara Culkins, vice president; and Peggy Hesse, secretary-treasurer. Photos above show work being done on the project and the nearly completed concession stand.

All In A Name

Crookston — The senior citizens group of Crookston has an unusual name. They call themselves the "Experienced Americans."

New RLF State Trooper

Red Lake Falls — Trooper David Spray, 22, Minnesota highway patrol, has been stationed in Red Lake Falls, assigned to cover the counties of Pennington, Red Lake and part of Marshall. Trooper Spray is a 1982 graduate of Bagley high school, was a criminal justice major at Moorhead State university and attended Arden Hills training center for the Minnesota highway patrol. He was a part-time patrolman in Fosston before his assignment to Red Lake Falls.

Society Of Arts And Letters Sets Vocal Contest

This year's category in the career award competition held annually by the National Society of Arts and Letters is in vocal music. The Northern Minnesota chapter has set Saturday, February 14 as the date for its competition at the area high school in Park Rapids.

Competition will be open to U.S. citizens from 19 through 29 years of age who show career potential in vocal music and are interested in a career in that field.

The chapter plans to award its first place winner with $200 and second place winner with $100. The winner of first place will also have the opportunity, if adjudged of career potential, to represent the chapter at the national competition, all expenses paid, to be held during the annual conference in Bloomington, IN, May 20 to 24. First award in the national competition will be $5,000, with other awards as available.

Complete details and entry blanks may be obtained by writing Mrs. James Hurd, Career Award Chairman, Route 1, Green Acres, Park Rapids MN 56470, or by telephoning her at (218)732-8658. Completed entry blanks should be returned by February 1.

Beverage Dealers Propose To Form Insurance Group

Minnesota License Beverage association is attempting to form a reciprocal insurance company to provide liquor legal liability insurance for its membership. This will enable the members to secure this insurance coverage which is required by law in an insurance company which is owned and manage by the membership.

There will be a meeting January 24 at 11 a.m. at Eldie's Fourth Street Station, west end of Grand Rapids, to determine if there is enough support and interest in such a program. Nonmembers as well as members are urged to attend the regional meetings.

The proposed program will be similar to that which the doctors organized to handle their professional liability insurance.

NDSCS Rep To Visit Here Jan. 26

Those from Thief River Falls area interested in returning to school are invited to visit Monday, January 26, with a North Dakota state college of science (NDSCS) representative at Lincoln high in Thief River Falls at 1 p.m.

Local and area residents who are homemakers, farmers, single parents, displaced workers or just seeking more skilled training or retraining are urged to stop in and talk with Darrin Tonsfeldt of NDSCS.

Robert Breiland In "Who's Who"

The 1987 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges" will include the names of 13 students from North Dakota state university-Bottineau who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders. Included is Robert A. Breiland of Thief River Falls.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

Commodities To Be Distributed In Area Centers

Surplus commodities will be distributed and income verified in Marshall county on the following dates and times: Holt senior citizens center, Tuesday, January 20, 2:30 to 4 p.m.; Strandquist city office, Wednesday, January 21, 2 to 4 p.m.; Middle River community center, Thursday, January 22, 10 a.m. to 12 noon; Grygla community center, Thursday, January 22, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.; and Gatzke senior center, Friday, January 23, 2 to 4 p.m.

A 1987 commodity card is required in order to pick up surplus commodities. Bring proof of income, so a new card can be issued. Examples of proof of income are copies of paychecks, W2 wage statements, check stubs, deposit slips, interest statements, letters of determination and current tax forms.

Sources of income could be, but not limited to, wages, social security, pensions, annuities, interest and dividends, public assistance payments, unemployment benefits, rental income, child support and alimony. Income also includes net receipts from non-farm or farm self-employment. Those who have applied for fuel assistance since Oct. 1, 1986 and were issued a 1987 commodities card at that time, need not have income verified again.

For additional information call Karen Skadsem at 222-3309.

Beltrami county residents who live in the Grygla area must have income verified before the surplus commodities can be picked up at the Grygla community center.

(The above report was prepared by Jerry Sieve of the Minnesota Charitable Gambling Control board. Not all organizations on the list operated charitable gambling for a full year. Figures listed represent totals of monthly reports during the year.)

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of reports on charitable gambling in Pennington county. Each report will look at a different angle of charitable gambling with a view toward giving as many differing viewpoints on the subject as possible.)

Charitable gambling in Pennington county generated $735,435.85 after prizes were awarded and taxed collected from July of 1985 to June of 1986. Minnesota Charitable Gambling control board indicates that licensed charitable gambling operations in Pennington county recorded $4.7 million in gross receipts during that 12-month period.

The figures lie in stark contrast to economic hardships reported in Pennington county for the last four to five years. But none-the-less, profits from charitable gambling keep being reported not just in Pennington county but throughout the state.

Since control and regulatory authority was vested in the Minnesota Charitable Gambling control board in March of 1985, profits have continued to soar. The state of Minnesota recently reported that it has collected over $10 million in taxes in one year from charitable gambling. In the month of December alone, taxes amounted to over $1 million.

Under city codes, before the state took over the regulation of charitable gambling, there was a limit on the amount in prizes awarded. An organization could not exceed $35,000 in total prizes. Because of this rule, the organizations found ways to create smaller organizations within each or halted operations. The end result was less profit than realized now.

In Thief River Falls profits have increased dramatically. In 1982 gross receipts after taxes and prizes were $114,702; in 1983, $136,800; in 1984, $165,127. In 1985 gross receipts after taxes were $558,391.48. (The city figures were based on calendar years and 1985 through 1986 was based on a fiscal year, July 1, 1985 through June 30, 1986.)

Current regulations appear to grant cities the authority to adopt more stringent regulation of gambling. The language appears to be broad enough to allow cities to either adopt regulations similar to but more stringent than those of the statute of to adopt regulations on points not covered by the statute. Most cities seem to choose to record an application for charitable gambling and send the application on to the state. If no action is taken by the city, referral to the state is taken as approval to grant the license, although the charitable gambling control board has its own regulations.

In the report released from the Charitable Gambling Control board, 20 Pennington county charities reported profits and losses. Those charities include not only the larger clubs but smaller charities just barely able to handle a gaming operation.

Gambling in Minnesota is limited to organizations raising money for charities. There are

Poverty Levels Drop In Pennington, Marshall

Poverty levels of people in Pennington and Marshall counties have declined from 1984 to 1985 — the last year for which figures are available. The decline follows a national trend and, although the percentage of decrease is greater than the national average, the percentage of poverty in the two counties is also well above the national average.

A report recently released by the census bureau indicates that the national poverty level declined from 14.4 per cent of all Americans in 1984 to 14 per cent of all Americans during 1985. It also showed that the number of poor people dropped from 33.7 million in 1984 to 33.1 million during 1985 — the lowest number and percentage of poor since 1981.

Level of poverty in Pennington county declined from 23.2 per cent of the local population in 1984 to 19.4 per cent by 1985. In Marshall county the level of poverty declined from 23.6 per cent in 1984 to 19.8 per cent in 1985.

The federal government determines poverty status through a formula [illegible] both the number and incomes of persons living in a household as well as the age of persons living in a household. The government updates this formula annually to allow for inflation.

For example, a family of four with an income of less than $10,989 was classified as poor in 1985. During 1984 the poverty level for a family of four was 10,609.

It should also be noted that the federal government does not include a number of non-cash benefits available to the poor in its computation of poverty levels. Food stamps, rent subsidies and medical assistance to the poor are not included as income for the purpose of defining poverty. Poverty has changed considerably in Pennington and Marshall counties and nationally

Big Brother, Sister Program Is Underway

Operation of a Big Brother and Big Sister program in Thief River Falls is being organized under the direction of Mrs. Roger (Beverly) Rupprecht and sponsorship of the community education department of School District 564.

The program is intended to match boys and girls age six through 15 with volunteers 18 years of age or older who will serve as "big brothers" or "big sisters" to the youngsters. Usually the children will be from single parent homes where the influence of a mother or father is missing from the childhood experience.

An office for coordination of the program has been established in the School District 564 service center and Mrs. Rupprecht can be contacted there on Monday and Friday mornings and all day Thursday. Telephone number is 681-2700, extension 341.

"We are looking for people willing to serve as volunteers in working with children on a time available basis and in activities where they feel competent and comfortable," Mrs. Rupprecht said. "They do not have to be professionals in child care but simply mature, stable, personable men and women of good character who are willing to take time to help unfortunate youngsters along the road to good citizenship without assuming any legal or financial responsibilities."

The coordinator emphasized that Big Brothers and Big Sisters are not substitute probation officers, substitute pastors, physicians, psychiatrists or social workers. They do not come into the child's life to moralize

$500 CONTRIBUTION from the Thief River Falls Rotary Club was given to the Big Brother and Big Sister program of Thief River Falls to assist with its organization and development. Peter Lavalier, vice president of the Rotary club, presented the check to Beverly Rupprecht, coordinator of the Big Brother and Big Sister program.

Grafft Corrects Times' Headline

President James Grafft of Certified Parts Corporation in Janesville, WI, has asked the Times to clarify the situation regarding his company's sale of some of its assets to Arctco Inc., of Thief River Falls.

A "kicker" above the main headline of the January 7 Times story announcing Arctco's purchase of tooling, trademarks, equipment and service parts stated, "Following Purchase of Certified Parts Corporation..." The main part of the headline stated "Arctco Will Consolidate Parts Operation Here."

The "kicker" should have used the preposition "from" instead of the word "of" to properly indicate what had taken place.

"Arctco has only purchased certain assets, consisting of the certain Arctic Cat tooling, trademarks, equipment and service parts," Grafft said. "It is erroneous for your readers to believe that Arctco has purchased Certified Parts Corporation."

He further adds that CPC is still in business and will be selling Spirit replacement parts for all popular snowmobile and [illegible] Scorpion service parts manufactured by Arctic Enterprises. "We will also be selling parts for other popular OEM lines," he said.

The Times regrets presenting misleading information in the headline and thanks Mr. Grafft for calling the error to our attention.

Brunner To Speak At Jobs Inc. Meet

Jay Brunner

Jay Brunner executive director of the Northwest Regional Development commission headquartered in Thief River Falls will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of Jobs Incorporated Thursday at 12 noon at the Best Western inn of Thief River Falls.

Brunner, who moved here from Alaska to assume the executive position at the commission's office in the Arctco, Inc., building, will report on recent activities of the commission. An evaluation of the commission — required by state law every four years — is being completed by the management analysis section of the state department of administration.

Roger Reuter, president of Jobs Incorporated, will preside at the meeting where Donald Stewart, community development director, will review the past year's activities and project plans for the coming year.

Nominated by the nominating committee for election to directorship in the organization are Everett Ault, Arve Moser, Donavon Narverud, Ronald Nelson and Christopher Twomey, all for two-year terms, and David A. Johnson for the 1987 term vacated by James Winjum. Election will be conducted at the annual meeting Thursday and all members are [illegible]

Individual membership in Jobs Incorporated is $25 per year and a $100 Builder of Thief River Falls investment is also encouraged from businesses and individuals. Luncheon cost is $5 and may be paid in advance or at the door. Reservations should be made by calling 681-7387.

Cookie Sale For Girl Scouts Set

Annual Girl Scout cookie sale in Thief River Falls will begin on Friday and continue through February 2, according to Diane Johnson, cookie sale chairman for the local organization.

Scouts will be going door to door to take orders for any of seven different kinds of cookies at $2.50 per box with delivery to be made to customers from March 2 through March 15. Persons not contacted by February 2 and who would like to order cookies may call Mrs. Johnson at 681-7148 after 6 p.m.

Karla Lokken And Robert Purdy Celebration Of Marriage

Karla Carmen Lokken and Robert Stephen Purdy joined in the celebration of marriage August 23 at Zion Lutheran church. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Lokken, Thief River Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Purdy, Morson, Ontario, Canada.

Rev. Clifford L. Kalmoe officiated at the double ring, 6 p.m. ceremony. Acolytes were Chris Larson and Derek Schanil.

Prelude music included a duet, "That's What Friends Are For," sung by friends of the couple, Melissa Bondy and Linette Olson, accompanied by pianist Ruth Jensen. They also sang "The Wedding Song" during the lighting of the unity candle and presentation of roses to the mothers. Organist, Jerry Joringdal, and trumpeters, Doug Engstrom and Mike Lehrer, joined in the processional, "Trumpet Voluntary" and recessional, "Trumpet Tune." Mike Lehrer also sang "He Has Chosen You For Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The church was decorated with large fuschia bows on the pews, with an arrangement of ivy, babies' breath, alstroemaria, stephanotis and fuschia bows on the front pews. Two large candelabra trimmed with bows, ivy and babies' breath graced the altar.

The bride was accompanied to the altar by her parents. She was attired in a white organza and taffeta gown with sweetheart neckline, fitted sheer lace sleeves adorned with seed pearls and crystal sequins forming a point at the wrist, and pouf ruffles at the shoulders. The fitted bodice was adorned with Venise lace and pearls and extended to a dropped waistline. Back interest featured a dropped V with pearl buttons and pouf ruffles flowing to the triple scalloped semi-cathedral train.

To compliment her gown, the bride wore a Venise lace and pearl-covered hat with fingertip blusher and attached pouf back veil. She wore a pearl necklace and heart and pearl earrings, gifts from her parents, and carried the Bible that her mother had carried at her own wedding. The Bible was decorated with cascading ivy, fuschia, alstroemeria, stephanotis, and an orchid, with flowing white satin ribbon.

Maid of honor was Candi Mundell, friend of the couple. Serving as bridesmaids were Coreen Erickson, cousin of the bride; Karla Ulbricht, Sally Stetz, Missy Hveholt and Jodi Mundinger, friends of the couple. They wore strapless fuschia taffeta gowns with fitted, dropped waist and a large pouf over the left shoulder. They wore their gifts from the bride, Black Hills gold crosses, and carried arm bouquets of long-stemmed alstroemeria, stephanotis, and babies' breath joined with a white satin bow.

The bride's personal attendant was Mona Tedford, a friend of the couple.

Accompanied to the altar by his parents, the groom wore white tails with matching bow tie and cummerbund and fuschia pocket square. His boutonniere was alstroemeria and stephanotis nestled in babies' breath.

Best man was Dan Ulmer, friend of the couple. Other attendants were Dean Lokken and Mike Purdy, brothers of the bride and groom, respectively; Warren Mahlke, Byron Trochman and Bob Nelson, friends of the couple. They wore black shadow-weave tails with pleated shirts, fuschia bow ties and cummerbunds, and boutonnieres of alstroemeria and babies' breath.

Ushering the guests were Steve Carriere, Doug Schubert, Tony Arens and Rick Peterson, all friends of the couple. They wore black tuxedos with matching ties and cummerbunds and fuschia pocket squares. Their boutonnieres were similar to those of the groomsmen.

The mother of the bride wore a pale blue floor-length gown and the mother of the groom wore pink. They were presented with corsages of white orchids and alstroemeria. The fathers of the couple wore black tuxedos.

Guests of honor were the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. Clara Mickelson and Mrs. Jennie Lokken, and the groom's great-grandmother and grandmother, Hilda Bakke and Myrtle Lofgren.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the parents of the bride in the church parlors. Host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Lester V. Larson, aunt and uncle of the bride. Dawn Engelstad and Sue Williamson attended the guest book; Kim Ballou, Delaine Johnson, Sherry Sabo and Jackie Hayes served punch.

The four-tiered wedding cake highlighted the serving table, with satin streamers leading to two heart-shaped side cakes. The cake was decorated with pink flowers and was topped with a Precious Moments bride and groom. It also featured a lighted church and greenery surrounding the base.

Cutting and serving the wedding cake were Geri Swenson, aunt of the groom, and Carmen Stratmoen, aunt of the bride. Verna Noper and Janice Sandahl, aunts of the bride, poured. Waitresses were Michelle Sandahl, cousin of the bride, and Lisa Hejlik, Heather Bakke, Jodi Finke, and Diana Olson, friends of the couple.

Gift attendants were Beverly Finke and Karen Sorenson; flower hostesses were Denise Hagen and Juli Gundrum; and Jodi Schanil, cousin of the bride, distributed rice packets to the guests.

A dance was held at the Thief River Falls Country club following the reception. The groom's dinner for the bridal party and immediate family was hosted by the groom's parents the evening of the rehearsal.

Following a honeymoon trip to Manitoba and Ontario, Canada, the couple is at home in Eagen where they both are employed at Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance company in downtown St. Paul.

$4.7 Million Is Spent In County Gambling Games

five games currently allowed under regulations set by the state. The most common include pull-tabs, raffles and bingo. But the list also includes paddlewheels and tip boards. Different licenses apply to different games or combination of games.

Organizations which conduct gambling five or fewer days in a calendar year and whose prizes do not exceed $50,000 are exempted from any license fees, tax restrictions and tax obligations and have minimal reporting demands made on them.

Organizations that conduct bingo can spend not more than 50 per cent of receipts after taxes for allowable expenses with the balance going for lawful purpose expenditures or "charitable contributions," as they are called, according to Roger Franke, executive secretary of the Charitable Gambling Control board. Organizations conducting the other kinds of gambling cannot spend more than 40 per cent of their receipts after taxes for allowable expenses with the balance to go for lawful purpose expenditures.

The percentages are based on the after tax figure for the simple reason that gross receipts may be somewhat deceptive. As Jerry Wigness, Thief River Falls city clerk, explained, if a person spent his only $20 on tickets, won $50 from the tickets he purchased, spent that $50 on more tickets winning $75, and then spent all of that and lost, he would have spent only $20 and not the $145, that might be recorded as gross receipts.

The bottom line of all these regulations, which includes a sizeable amount of regular paper work and computations, is that approximately half of the $735,435.85 should go to charities or lawful purpose expenditures.

As any of the organizations involved in charitable gambling will be quick to point out, the profits are not all they seem. What is often neglected in reports are expenses such as rent, supplies, insurance, bonding, custodians and time. Time seems to be the most important.

Don Stewart and one other person, both representing the Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey association, spend an average of 20 to 30 hours per month taking care of the necessary accounting, taxes, license applications, deposits, budgets and the many other duties which befall volunteers in organizations with charitable gambling licenses. In many larger organizations, however, paid staff usually handles the paper work.

A great deal of work is required of any organization involved in charitable gambling. For example, in a box of crisscross ($1 tickets), there are 2,304 tickets. Of those $1 tickets, $1,950 is paid out in prizes, which is about 84.6 per cent. Generally there is an 82 per cent payout. However, of the 2,304 tickets, there are probably around only 204 winning tickets. Each winning ticket must be accounted for, placed in the correct box and sealed.

Stewart described the necessary chore as tedious at best.

Despite the time and effort put into the operation of charitable gambling, profits are to be found and so are willing charities. Inside the Thief River Falls VFW clubrooms a white sign proudly proclaims a list of 60 organizations directly benefiting from the proceeds of that club's charitable gambling. The total amount on the sign adds up to just under $60,000. This amount has grown considerably in size since it was recorded on the sign by actual donations to other organizations.

Eldon Harbott, charitable gambling manager for the VFW, said the organization, like many in the county, tries as best it can to keep the donations local. Those proceeds go to the county fair, the purchase of circus tickets for children who cannot afford them, the police department, American flags, youth baseball, hockey, senior citizens, college, orphans, veterans hospital, Christmas seals, gifts to underprivileged and many others.

In the next two issues of The Times stories on charitable gambling will include a look at the organizations involved in charitable gambling, what they are doing to protect their interests, responses of area citizens and a discussion with a compulsive gambler.

Deaths And Funerals

Rick Kiesow, 25

Grygla — Funeral services were held today (Wednesday) at 10:30 a.m. at Grace Lutheran church in Grygla for Rick Kiesow, 25, who died Saturday afternoon in a snowmobile accident near Baudette.

Rev. Percy Smerek officiated at the service, with music provided by Joy Nordby, organist. The congregation joined in singing "Children of the Heavenly Father" and "Amazing Grace," and Joy Nordby and Marie Anderson sang "Because He Lives" and "He Lives."

Pallbearers were Bruce Kiesow, Daniel Haack, Lee Saurdiff, Greg Jelle, Dwight Ruud and Brian Stanley. Interment will be in Jerusalem cemetery in the spring with the Belmont Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Ricky Dale "Perkins" Kiesow was born Aug. 17, 1961, in Roseau, the son of August and Harriet Bakke Kiesow. He grew up in the Goodridge and Grygla area and attended school in Grygla where he graduated in 1979.

After graduation, he worked for Jim Easley, Delton Anderson and Arnold Stanley in the Grygla area. In March of 1986, he began working for Marvin Windows of Warroad. He was a member of the Grygla-Gatzke area Jaycees.

He is survived by his parents, August and Harriet Kiesow, Goodridge; one brother and sister-in-law, Gary and Julie Kiesow, Goodridge; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Bakke, Thief River Falls; one nephew, Trevor; and several aunts, uncles and cousins.

He was preceded in death by his paternal grandparents and his maternal grandfather.

Leona Broeker, 57

Edina — Funeral services will be Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls for Leona (Lee) Broeker, 57, who died Saturday at her home in Edina. Interment will be in St. Bernard's cemetery.

Visitation will be after noon on Wednesday at the Belmont Funeral home in Thief River Falls, with a Biblical wake service that evening at 7:30 p.m. There will be no reviewal. A complete obituary will be in a later edition of the Times.

Kenton Smith, 47

Holt — Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at Nazareth Lutheran church in Holt for Kenton Smith, 47, who died Monday at Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Eugene Floistad will officiate at the service, with Yvonne Larson serving as organist. Inez Mathson will sing "Mansion Over the Hilltop" and "The Lord Is My Shepherd." Congregational hymns will be "I Know Of A Sleep In Jesus' Name," and "Children Of the Heavenly Father."

Active pallbearers will be Kevin Smith, Kyle Smith, Kent Smith, Todd Peterson, Troy Peterson, Chad Peterson and Trent Peterson. The family will consider all friends attending as honorary bearers. Interment will be in the Holt cemetery, with the Green Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Kenton Smith was born June 18, 1939, in Thief River Falls, to Frank and Alma Smith. He grew up in Holt and attended school there and at Marshall County Central. He worked in construction and as a farm laborer in the Holt area for many years.

He has been a resident at Valley Home since June of 1985, and a patient at the CNC unit of Northwest Medical center for the past few months.

Kenton Smith is survived by his mother; two sisters, Mrs. Elroy (Carol) Benitt, Holt, and Mrs. Gordon (LuAnn) Peterson, Middle River; and one brother, Ronald, South Milwaukee, WI.

He was preceded in death by his father, who died Nov. 19, 1986.

Chester Galland, 80

Wadena — Chester Galland, 80, died Friday at Tri-County hospital in Wadena. Funeral services for Chester Galland were held at 2 p.m. Monday at Zion Free Lutheran church in Wadena, with Rev. Fred Carlson and Rev. Lynn Kinneberg officiating. Interment was at Wadena cemetery.

Pallbearers were James Galland, Kevin Demsky, Joel Erickson, Marcus Erickson, Bruce Galland and Leon Borchert. Honorary bearers were Raymond Jacobson, Rodger Larson, Warren Sanford, Ted Tebben, Norman Olson and Adrian Benedick. The Johnson Memorial Home of Wadena was in charge of arrangements.

Chester Guy Galland was born Mar. 8, 1906, in Mentor, the son of Orin and Stena Galland. He married Eldrid Dordal Sept. 26, 1936, in Mentor. He was engaged in farming, construction work and worked with Peterson-Biddick. The couple lived in Wadena for nine years.

Survivors include his wife; daughters, Mrs. Harold (Bethel) Erickson, New York Mills, and Mrs. Barry (Marjorie) Demsky, Apple Valley; a son, Rev. Les Galland, Thief River Falls; 8 grandchildren; and sisters, Mrs. J. A. (Viola) Grimstad and Mrs. Hilding (Nell) Bergh, both of Thief River Falls, and Mrs. Raymond (Berdie) Erickson, Ada; and two brothers, Raymond and Wilson, both of Mentor.

Victor Jung, 67

La Mirada, CA — Victor F. Jung died December 13 at his home in La Mirada, CA, after a short illness.

He was born Feb. 24, 1919, in Thief River Falls and grew up here. He graduated from Lincoln high school and from the University of Minnesota. He married Frances Crawford of Duluth in August of 1941.

He served five years' active duty during World War II and retired with the rank of Lt. Colonel. While in Thief River Falls, he was in business with his father and uncle in Jung's Bakery.

Victor Jung is survived by his wife, Frances; two daughters; two sons; 10 grandchildren; and one sister, Harriet Eiwen of Arlington, VA.

He was preceded in death by his parents and two brothers.

CORRECTION

The obituary for Sidney Wilson in Monday's Times inadvertantly omitted the names of a surviving brother, Warren, of Goodridge, and sister, June Berg, Bloomington. The Times regrets the error.

Poverty Levels Drop In Marshall, Pennington Co.

since the federal government began its efforts to identify and reduce poverty in 1966.

Information provided in the 1960 census indicated that poverty was far more widespread at that time than most Americans realized. While the 1960 census did not directly provide information relating to poverty status, it did provide comprehensive information relating to income levels for 1959. According to the 1960 census, 39.5 million Americans or 22.4 per cent of the national population had incomes that fell below the poverty level in 1959.

Income data from that census indicates that 29.8 per cent of the Pennington county population would have been classified as poor at that time and 23.6 per cent of Marshall county's population would have had the same classification.

The next 10 years showed a sharp drop in the incidence of poverty. In 1969 the number of poor Americans had fallen to 24.1 million or 12.1 per cent of the national population. Changes in the poverty level in Pennington and Marshall counties were also impressive. By 1969 the number of poor residents in Pennington county had declined to nine per cent of the population while the poverty level in Mrshall county had declined to 16.1 per cent.

The following decade showed only minimal changes in the national incidence of poverty. Fluctuations in the poverty rate nationally ranged from a low of 11.1 per cent in 1973 to a high of 12.3 per cent in 1975. By 1979, 26.1 million Americans or 11.7 per cent of the population were classified as poor. In 1979, 11.2 per cent of the residents of Pennington and 16.2 per cent of the residents of Marshall county wre considered poor.

From 1979 through 1983 the national poverty level consistently increased. In 1983 the national poverty level was higher than at any time since 1969. There were 35.5 million Americans or 15.3 per cent of the population classified as poor in 1983.

Since 1983, however, the level of poverty in America has declined. By 1984 only 14.4 per cent of the nation's population was classified as poor and this number dropped to 14 per cent in 1985. This represents a decline of 2.8 per cent in the national incidence of poverty.

The trend was also apparent locally. In Pennington county, it is estimated that the incidence of poverty declined from 23.2 per cent in 1984 to 19.4 per cent in 1985 while the incidence of poverty in Marshall county declined from 23.6 per cent to 19.8 per cent. These figures represent a 16.4 per cent decline in the overall incidence of poverty in Pennington county and a 16 per cent decline in overall poverty in Marshall county.

Fire Department Responds To 111 Calls During '86

Thief River Falls fire department responded to 111 calls in 1986, a substantial increase over the past several years. There were 90 calls in 1985, 89 in 1984, 77 in 1983 and 82 in 1982, according to David Bjorkman, fire chief.

During 1986 there were 84 calls within the city of Thief River Falls and 27 in the rural area. The rural calls included 13 in Rocksbury, three each in North and Smiley and four each in Silverton and Norden.

There were 37 false alarms among the calls received during the year, Bjorkman said, but he noted that they were not malicious calls, usually resulting from mechanical failures in alarm systems which triggered the alerts.

Chimney fires were the next most frequent reason for calls with 10 of those reported. Nine house fires — including two caused by candles — and nine grass fires were reported, along with eight auto fires, seven smoke calls, seven appliance fires and six fuel spills.

The fire chief said there were five trash fires, four auto accidents where fire department assistance was requested, four investigations, two downed powerlines, one garage fire, one anhydrous leak and one drowning.

Big Brother, Sister Program Gets Underway

or to lecture but to fill a void by providing the affection, security, sympathy, understanding and guidance, important and necessary to young boys and girls."

Mrs. Rupprecht said it will be necessary for parents who believe their child or children could benefit from a relationship with a Big Brother or Big Sister to "make the first move" toward program participation.

"We will conduct interviews with the parents and with the children to find out more about their backgrounds, interests and needs," Mrs. Rupprecht said. "We will also interview the volunteers willing to serve as Big Brothers or Big Sisters to evaluate their suitability and to match them with the children's needs and interests."

The program is based on the premise that youth, in order to reach their full potential as men and women need the influence of mature, responsible and responsive adults during their formative years. That influence is often inadequate due to parental limitations or absence. Relationship between young people and program volunteers provides the means for the young person to develop in that area and reach his or her potential.

An advisory council was formed to organize the program when it was perceived that a need was created by a skyrocketing divorce rate, financial difficulties facing residents of northwestern Minnesota, the stress factor in today's children, chemical abuse and suicide rates among young people.

Programs with goals similar to the Big Brother and Big Sister program have been attempted for a number of years in Thief River Falls but have generally been of short duration due to time demands on volunteer directors and coordinators. Having a part-time paid coordinator is believed to be the answer to this problem. Interest among both volunteers and families which desire to participate has been high during prior attempts.

Funding for start-up of the program is being advanced through the community education department of the school district with contributions from area charitable organizations expected once the plan is operating. Applications for grant funds from agencies and foundations are also being made.

A set of guidelines for adult volunteers in the Big Brother or Big Sister program will be developed but most are just common sense suggestions for developing relationships and benefitting the Little Brother or Little Sister.

For instance volunteers must be consistent and dependable to build trust in a child. That includes not making promises that can't be kept, not oversleeping when a morning outing is planned or failing to show up for a planned activity.

Volunteers should be supportive of parents, never discuss the Little Brother or Little Sister in front of him or her, set realistic directions and goals, allow youngsters to help with tasks they enjoy and let them join in making decisions about activities to be shared.

Volunteers shouldn't try to be a "Santa Claus, taxi service, child-saver or parent rehabilitator. They should see the child only for the agreed upon frequency, let the parent know what activities are planned and return the child at the agreed upon time.

"There are children with needs and serving as a Big Brother or Big Sister can provide an individual with a sense of worth and accomplishment that can be achieved in no other way," Mrs. Rupprecht said. "I encourage people interested in volunteering and those who have children they believe would benefit from having a Big Brother or Big Sister to call me during the office hours listed."

Otter Tail Power Sets $16.4 Million For Construction

Otter Tail Power company's construction budget of $16.4 million has been approved by the company's board of directors which also approved Otter Tail's five-year budget (1987-91) of $100.8 million.

This year's construction budget includes $1.2 million for power plant work, $3.5 million for transmission lines and substations, and $7.1 million for distribution lines and substations. Additional funds are needed for computer hardware, microwave communications equipment, computer software and other projects.

The 1987 construction budget of $16.4 million is a decrease from $19.3 million originally estimated a year ago. The five-year budget of $100.0 million (1987-91) is also a decrease from the previous five-year estimate.

"One of the main causes of these reductions is that we believe it is prudent to scale back our construction because we perceive a stable, not expanding, overall construction cycle in our service territory," notes John MacFarlane, Otter Tail's president and chief executive officer.

Otter Tail Power serves portions of western Minnesota, eastern and central North Dakota and northeastern South Dakota. It provides electric service to an estimated 250,000 people in 459 communities and more than 3,000 farms.

The Times — A Great Gift!

Food Inspection Service Combined In Some Counties

Aitkin county public health has become the state's eighth local government agency to enter into a cooperative agreement with the Minnesota department of agriculture for eliminating duplications of inspections and licensing while intensifying consumer protection services on all retail food distribution, according to Tom Masso, director of food inspection, Minnesota department of agriculture.

Under the cooperative agreements, previously in effect in Olmsted, Otter Tail, Stearns, Washington, Winona, LeSueur-Waseca and St. Louis counties, the state and local government agencies share resources to more effectively coordinate regulatory responsibilities for licensing and inspection of retail food stores.

These cooperative agreements also provide for swift and effective response to emergency situations such as food product recalls, food-born illness investigations, handling of consumer complaints and inquiries, and the training of food inspection personnel.

This is the seventh year of operation for the cooperative food consumer protection program in Minnesota. The pilot project was established in 1980 with the cooperation of the Olmsted county board of health.

For more information contact Thomas W. Masso, Director of Food Inspection, Minnesota Department of Agriculture, 90 West Plato Blvd., St. Paul, MN 55107, phone (612) 296-2627.

Orpen Selected As Outstanding Board Member

Leo Orpen of Middle River was among six school board members, chosen from nearly 2,800 locally elected board members, honored Monday night for their service to public education. The awards will be presented by the Minnesota School Boards association (MSBA) during the 66th annual convention banquet in Minneapolis.

Other recipients of the 1987 outstanding school board member award were Merton Johnson, Bloomington; Arnold Kazemba, Round Lake; M. Joan Parent, Foley; Lucille Rupprecht, St. Charles; and (Mr.) Francis Sykora, Browns Valley.

MSBA annually honors individual school board members for outstanding contributions to the educational programs and to the students of their districts. The 1987 award winners have served a combined total of 100 years on their local boards. Parent tops the list with 29 years.

MSBA is the eighth oldest school boards association in the nation, founded in 1920. Membership in the non-profit organization is voluntary, and all public school districts in Minnesota belong.

Thought Provoking Comment On Subjects Of Public Interest

More On Double Nickels

Sen. J. James Exon of Nebraska has the following comments about the 55 mile per hour maximum speed limit:

As a former governor with a long record of highway safety leadership, I say it's time for reason to replace the scare tactics of the universally ignored 55-mph speed limit.

Safety need not be ignored. I do not agree with those who want the speed limits raised on all roads. Nor do I believe that we should keep a law that is neither enforced nor enforceable. I predict it will be changed on rural interstates in the next Congress.

Without the national and economic security interests that prompted the national 55-mph limit in the 1970s, enforcement has steadily eroded. State statistics clearly indicate few interstate tickets are issued below 65 mph, which is the unofficial speed limit. This proves that people drive to the enforced limits and not necessarily to posted speeds. This also makes suspect the argument that the 55 mph limit saves lives on the rural interstates.

There can be no question that unreasonable speed, especially on congested, non-controlled entrance and exit roads, and standard two-lane highways causes excessive injuries and deaths. Statistics clearly show that more than 90 per cent of all traffic deaths, occur on two-lane roads.

The interstates were built for safety at higher speeds. As a result, head-on collisions have been virtually eliminated. Hence, today's 55-mph limit on rural interstates is ridiculous. Statistics show a motorist is 10 times safer, even at higher reasonable speeds, on a rural interstate than on two-lane primary and secondary roads. The solution is to give states the option to set speeds at a higher limit on federal rural interstates.

The withholding of federal highway funds to prevent lax enforcement of the 55-mph speed limits is faulty and must be changed. Since up to 49.9 per cent of a state's drivers may now violate the 55-mph law without losing federal funds, it's obvious why so many states report noncompliance ratings in the 40 per cent range.

We should provide a reasonable highway maximum speed limit on rural interstates, somewhere near where they are now driving; raise state compliance from 50 per cent to 80 per cent to keep all federal funds; and then require strict enforcement. That is the formula to real highway safety and to rebuilding the respect of drivers for the law.

At Last We Know!

Well it's about time that science quit fiddling around with things like cures for disease and came up with some discoveries which are really worthwhile for the average person!

At San Francisco, CA, a Caltech research team has made a discovery that should make all of us breathe a lot easier. The team has discovered that the earth's molten metal core is not a smooth sphere but roughened by mountains taller than Everest and valleys six times deeper than the Grand Canyon.

It's not that many of us expect to go there to visit, because the core mantle boundary is located about 2,000 miles beneath the earth's surface and that's a long way to dig. But what takes place in the bowels of the earth has profound impact on everyone.

According to the scientists, friction from the sloshing of the liquid across these geophysical features may explain why the planet rotates with a slight jerkiness that makes a day five-thousandths of a second longer or shorter than 24 hours every decade. That's a colossal discovery!

Everyone knows that friction between the earth's surface features and wind in the atmosphere alters earth's rotation so that a day really varies in length by one-thousandth of a second over the course of a year. You knew that, didn't you? We thought so. But that jerkiness was something that really bothered us, not to mention its affect on man's greatest mechanical and electronic challenge — making an accurate watch.

We have owned wind-up pocket and wrist watches, self-winding wrist watches and even battery-operated electronic marvels that take a second and split it down to infinite movements. But not one of them kept truly accurate time, and that has long been a real concern.

Now we know why. How could we expect a piece of machinery you wear on your wrist to deal with the likes of sloshing in the earth's core? Especially sloshing that can make a day five-thousandths of a second either longer OR shorter than 24 hours every decade? Now we know why an accurate timepiece is impossible to own.

It will now be entirely logical for an employee who is confronted by his or her boss for being late to work to explain: "Well, boss, there are these big mountains and valleys in the middle of the earth, you see, and when the molten nickel-iron core starts sloshing around . . . " What employer in tune to modern technology wouldn't accept such an explanation?

We shouldn't be one to pooh-pooh science which has brought us such marvels as the Frisbee and the Rubik cube, but one has to question the true value of such discoveries as the news out of San Francisco. Maybe it isn't only the rotation of the earth that gets a little jerky at times.

A Case For Indigestion

Democrat candidate John Milliken of Virginia was unsuccessful in his campaign, despite his fanciful fund-raising effort.

"All people have some basic needs," he wrote in a letter to his constituents. "As a human being, you need to eat. As a politician, I need to get on TV . . . If you took your family out to eat, the bill could easily top $100 — perhaps more if you were really going fancy.

"Here's my suggestion. Instead of going out to eat, have a TV dinner at home — and send me the check for the difference. I promise I'll use the money to buy the TV time I need to reach the voters." . . .

If that rationale doesn't give you an upset stomach, you have a tolerance level for politics that defies comprehension.

Borrowed Nonsense

More Press Boners:

- "The bride worn an aquamarine floor-length gown and carried an old-fashioned."

A man called his doctor to find out what to do because a mouse had run into his wife's mouth. The doctor said he should hold a piece of cheese in front of her mouth and that the doctor would be there in a few minutes. When the doctor arrived, he found the man waving a fish in front of his wife's face. "I thought I told you to use cheese," the doctor said. "You did," the man agreed, "but first we have to get the cat out."

A Case For Cased Guns
by Dan Reed, Togo, MN
(formerly of Thief River Falls)

This column is in response to Milo Larson's article "Let's Change the Gun Case Law." Although Mr. Larson raises some valid points they are very argumentive.

For example, in his opinion he states that the gun case law does not prevent poaching. Yes, it is true that if a person goes out to poach wild game, having his or her gun in a case will not be considered. However, one must remember that the poacher is going to poach with or without a gun case law. The point being made is that by having the gun cased it will make things a lot less tempting for other unsportsmanlike people (sad as it is) who think, "Just this once won't hurt."

Mr. Larson also mentioned the question of gun safety. He points out that it is just as easy to put a loaded gun in a case as an unloaded gun. It will be hard to convince me that by not having guns cased there will be unchanged statistics in hunting accidents. Let's face it, people are more likely to unload their guns when putting them in cases, then by just walking up to their vehicles and putting them on the seat or in the rack. Cased guns will cut down on accidents.

It would be very easy to go back and forth (both pro and con) on all the points regarding this issue.

The reason I felt the urge to write this letter is: Why is it so important to change the law in the first place. Is it because some people are to lazy to unzip their gun cases? So what if North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Montana don't have gun case laws, are they gaining anything?

I say, let's stop making big issues about worthwhile laws for the sportsman and start concentrating on issues that will benefit the sportsman like preserving and acquiring habitat.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

There are two things that man fears most — death and taxes. President Reagan fears the latter. I don't think the average man or woman knows what benefits come from taxes to the country, city and people.

I will try and outline just a few benefits if you live in the country or city and have kids. A school bus will come early in the morning and pick them up and return them; no charge. Later in the day the mailman delivers your mail; no charge.

If you live in the country or city and it has snowed, a plow will come along and open the road for you; no charge. Let us say you are going to town; a highway patrolman has cleared out the drunks, speeders or any other careless driver so it is safer for you to drive; no charge.

One day, you find Johnny's bicycle has been stolen or there is trouble in the neighborhood, stray dog or whatever it may be, just call and a sheriff or policeman will try and solve your problems; no charge.

One day you have a fire in your house. You call and in a matter of minutes the men and fire trucks are putting your fire out; no charge. You send your boys and girls to school for 12 years to learn how to survive in a complex world we live in now; no charge.

My sons own and operate a small packing plant. They have a fulltime man who inspects all animals alive and dead to assure the public that no sick or contaminated meat is sold; no charge.

Let us say you are unfortunate enough to be a farmer. You are growing crops but the grain doesn't look right, the wheat has dark spots, the barley leaves are yellow and the sunflowers have bugs all over them. Help is as near as your telephone. Our local county agent will call on you and to the best of his knowledge he will recommend the right chemical or spray; no charge.

Let us now think about the many unfortunate people, due to sickness, accidents, drugs, drinking or the bread winner has lost his or her job and many more ways of not being able to put food on the table. This is where a lot of your tax dollars are going. They call this relief; I call it hard luck, and we should be thankful we are not one of them.

Now we are driving down a super black top highway. We see all the bridges, overpasses and other structure. This is one way of seeing your tax dollars working. Now billions of dollars are being spent for transportation, air lines, railroads, buses, schools, college, farming and much, much more — taxes that our government collects but are paid out in subsidies to almost everything you can name.

So in closing I want to say next time you pay your taxes, always remember we live in the best country in this civilized world. Without taxes this country would come to a standstill.

Thank you,
-s- Melvin Joppru

Rosalie Mozinski visited Edith Drydal Thursday. Del Otteson visited Tuesday evening.

Hats Off to 4Her's

Highlanding

Highlanding 4-H club met January 9 at the senior citizen center in Goodridge. Meeting was called to order by vice president Todd Anderson, flag pledges were said, roll call taken and secretary's report given.

Club members discussed the Red River Valley winter shows and activities they could participate in, and the 4-H ski trip. Janelle Kveton gave a demonstration on making chocolate covered potato chips and Arlen Stenvik gave a project talk.

A program on how to give a demonstration was presented by Karla Rupprecht, Dale Nelson, Marie Gonsorowski, Jenny Ose and Tammy Ortloff of the Silverton 4-H club. Highlanding members gathered into groups with these leaders and gave demonstrations using items from a paper bag. Lunch was served and a slide presentation on demonstrating was shown.

Janelle Kveton, reporter

Silverton

Silverton 4-H club met on January 8 at the Silver Creek church. Flag pledges were said, roll call taken and secretary and treasurer reports given.

It was announced that 4-H plays have been cancelled with the possibility of all clubs combining and putting on one or two plays. March 14 is the favorite food show. February 13-19 is Red River Valley winter shows with youth day being February 14.

Call the extension office for information regarding a first aid course. Karla Rupprecht was chosen at district record judging to compete at the state level. Jacinda Fimrite gave a demonstration in the pets project. Project talks were given by Kim Sorter on junior leadership, Dale Nelson small grains and Cory Anderson on aerospace.

There were 25 members, 14 parents and two guests present at the meeting. Next meeting will be February 12 at Silver Creek church.

Thursday, January 21, 1937

— The automobile industry, which was on its toes all during the depression, will be on its uppers if those strikes should last indefinitely.

— The president's budget for the next fiscal year includes an item of $981 million for national defense. Maintaining peace, it seems, is about as expensive as waging war.

— Folks hereabouts will be thankful when the flu has flew.

— A depression, according to a Texas colleague, is when you are down in the hole without a ladder, and a boom is when you are up in the air without wings.

— Sometimes, it seems, it pays to speak ill of others. Walter Winchell, New York wisecracker, collects $60,000 a year.

— It is to be hoped that Bemidji folks didn't get Paul Bunyan confused with Paul Jones.

— Last Sunday was the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, apostle of economy. Too bad he couldn't be on hand to address our state officials.

— Frost visited southern California this month. Pity the poor folks who are obliged to live in such arctic regions.

— Some girls are not afraid of mice, they say, while others have pretty legs.

— There are hogs with horns, an editor reminds us. Of course, they are road hogs.

— An expert, it has been determined, is a man who gets paid whether his advice turns out good or bad.

— Simile — As responsive as an audience in a radio broadcasting studio.

— Now that Minnesota has been pulled out of the mud it has been suggested that the next step is to pull the highway department out of the red.

Tidbits From The Times
Thief River Falls

Excerpts from the January 21 Times of fifty years ago, rewritten by Sharon LaCoursiere.

Again we find some fascinating bits of Thief River Falls history in the "Red River Valley History" column by Win. V. Working in the 1937 Times.

July 18, 1896, notice was issued for the hearing of petitions for the incorporation of the city with election to be held September 1. The names "Thief River Falls" and "Twin Falls" were submitted for the city. One Hundred thirty votes out of 177 cast September 1 favored the incorporation, and 78 votes were received for the name "Thief River Falls" and 52 for "Twin Falls."

The first city election was held October 20, 1897, with the following officials elected: Mayor, Frank H. Kratka; aldermen, John Burkee, P.O. Bergh, C.A. Robbecke, G. Gilbertson, C.J. Knox and O.T. Tandberg. J.W. Wallini was elected Treasurer. Mr. Knox was later chosen president of the council; Lars Backe, clerk; E.S. Wilcox, chief of police; and Fas. Farr, chief engineer.

"...On April 9, 1897, a special act of the legislature legalized the incorporation and Thief River Falls became a city in fact as well as in size, name and prestige."

MELVIN JOHNSON, president of the Eagles club in Thief River Falls, presents a check for $500 to Eleanor Erickson, who represents the Thief River Falls public school special olympics. The contribution was made from the charitable gambling fund at the Eagles club.

Winter Shows Talent Contest Offers Prizes

Prizes totaling $300 will be awarded this year to winners of the 28th annual talent festival to be held Sunday, February 15, at the University of Minnesota-Crookston (UMC). The event is held in conjunction with the Red River Valley winter shows.

Categories of competition are vocal and instrumental solos, vocal and instrumental ensembles, variety acts and piano. Amateur talent acts are eligible to enter the tryouts and audition for places in the Sunday night finals. Tryouts will be held on the UMC campus with registration beginning at 10:30 a.m. on February 15.

The first place award will be $100, second place $80, third place $60, fourth place $40, and fifth place $20. Results of the judging will be announced after the evening's performance. The first place winner will be eligible to enter the Minnesota state fair talent contest held in August.

The public is invited to attend the show at 7:30 p.m. in Kiehle Auditorium on the UMC campus. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for high school and grade school students.

For further information, call or write: George French, General Chairman, RRVWS Talent Festival, Division of Arts and Sciences, University of Minnesota, Crookston, MN 56716. Telephone number is 218-281-6510, ext. 389 or 377.

SBA Guaranteed Loans Made To 59 MN Companies

George W. Griebenow, district director of the Minnesota office of the U.S. Small Business administration, reports that $13,087,300 in SBA guaranteed loans have been approved for 59 Minnesota companies, $2,599,000 approved in economic development loans for 17 Minnesota companies, and $20,000 in direct loans during the months of September, October, November and December of 1986.

Direct management assistance was provided to 2,740 Minnesota firms through the Service Corps of Retired Executive (SCORE), the 27 small business development centers and the 10 colleges participating in the small business institute program.

Two hundred seventy-two loans were paid in full during the months of September, October, November and December of 1986.

HIGHLANDING...

Florence Hamm and Daryl attended the baby shower for their grandson, Christopher, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hamm. The shower was held at the Oklee community center on Sunday afternoon.

Steiner

Mrs. Alfred Solem, Rt. 2, City
681-3897

Your correspondent regrets the error she made in the Steiner news column of the Jan. 5 issue of The Times. At the Satersdal Christmas service Saturday evening, Dec. 27, instead of Mrs. Adeline Moe lighting the old fashioned candles on the beautiful Christmas tree while everyone sang "Jeg Er Saa Glad," it should have read Mrs. Gladys Vedum lit the candles. I wish to apologize to Mrs. Vedum for my unintentional mistake.

Trip to Chicago

Eldon Moe accompanied Randy Carpenter and his bus service to Chicago Friday, Jan. 2, with the Northland college hockey team, a thirteen hour drive. Several places of interest were visited while in Chicago, besides playing a three game series of hockey, as several of the passengers had not been there before. They returned home Tuesday morning, the 6th, after driving all night.

Funeral

Lester and Violet Muzzy attended funeral services for Melvin Walberg at the St. Petri Lutheran church of rural Grygla Saturday afternoon.

Supper Sponsored by John Deere Company

The John Deere implement company sponsored a turkey supper with all the trimmings at the Thief River Falls Armory Friday evening, Jan. 9, in honor of the 50th anniversary of John Deere day. This year also marks 150 years since the John Deere company was organized in 1837. A very interesting program with a film showing the progress in the invention of John Deere machinery from its earliest times followed the supper. Among the many who attended the event by invitation were Eldon and Evonne Moe, Leonard and Shirley Yonke, LaVerne and Olive Rondorf, Clifford Jorde and Lester and Violet Muzzy.

Curtis Swanson was admitted to Norwest Medical center Sunday, Jan. 4, for a ruptured appendix surgery. We are happy to report he was able to return home Friday.

Late afternoon visitors and supper guests at the Lloyd and Harryet Larson home Monday last week were Kenneth and Gerinda Nelson of Thief River Falls.

Sunday dinner guests and afternoon visitors at the home of Lester and Violet Muzzy were Mr. and Mrs. Odin Hanson of Silverton and Edwin and Henry Aaby and Mildred Aaby all from Twin Valley.

Funeral

Harold and Alpha Halverson, Alfred and Rebecca Solem, Mrs. Debi Drees and David and Madelene Halvorson of Bemidji were among the many who attended funeral services for Alvin Larson at the Salem Lutheran church of rural Oklee Monday afternoon, Jan. 5. Mr. Larson, who was married to Alpha's sister June, passed away early New Year's day at his home near Oklee after a lingering struggle with cancer.

---

Clifford and Marzella Jorde left Saturday, Dec. 27, by car for Everett and Tulalip, WA, where they visited at the home of George Dovre. They returned home Monday, Jan. 5.

Mrs. Lenora Harstad of Viking spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Harryet Larson at her home. Orville Harstad joined them for supper.

Peter and Solem and Mr. and Mrs Alfred Solem were Tuesday evening visitors at the home of Loiell and Mary Dyrud. There seems to be much interest in preserving family Christmas traditions and also interesting anecdotes from former, as well as present, residents of Excel township. These stories would be collected and assembled into a book, hoped to be ready for sale by December 1st as a suggestion for Christmas gifts. Rural school Christmas programs, school socials, Christmas fooling (Jule Booking), and other means of entertainment seem to be events of the past and young folks of today give a questioning look when they are mentioned. If there are any questions about your stories or where to bring them, contact any one of the committee, who are hoping every family in Excel township will be enthusiastic of the idea and cooperative.

Mrs. Marzella Jorde attended the TLCW workshop at the Trinity Lutheran church Sunday afternoon. This was for all circle chairman, education secretaries, stewardship secretaries and the TLCW executive board.

Bob Thompson of Thief River Falls had dinner with Lloyd and Harryet Larson at their home Wednesday noon.

Bridgett Stock Has Birthday

Bridgett Stock enjoyed having all the girls from her kindergarten class at the Northrop school help her celebrate her sixth birthday at her home Wednesday after school, the 7th of Jan. Others present were Mrs. Virginia Swanson, Jennifer, Jared and Jonelle and Mrs. Renee Coan, Anne and Paul. Games were played and supper served, including cake and ice cream. Mrs. Connie Stock brought the girls home later in the evening.

Birthday

Clifford and Marzella Jorde were supper guests Sunday evening at the home of Ellen Bottem in honor of Todd's birthday, Jan. 11.

---

LaVerne and Olive Rondorf were Sunday afternoon visitors and luncheon guests at the Raymond Molskness home in Numedal.

Saturday afternoon visitors and luncheon guests at the Alfred Solem home were Lester and Thelma Halvorson of North. Other visitors Saturday were Peter and Valerie Solem, Andrew and Rebekah from Grand Forks and Brenda Jevning from Fosston.

Mrs. Shirley Yonke attended a meeting of the Abundant Life Faith circle Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Millie Kverno in Thief River Falls.

Keenager's Meeting

Alvin and Nina Halvorson, Leonard and Shirley Yonke and Mrs. Harryet Larson were among the sixty people or so who attended the January meeting of the Keenagers at the Holt community center last Friday, starting with a noon pot luck dinner, the club furnishing sandwiches. Guest speaker for the program following the meal was Jay Borchert, who discussed HMO. Cathy Erickson provided musical selections.

Birthdays

The birthdays of Mrs. Amanda Russell, which was Jan. 3, and Bridgett Stock, which was Jan. 7, were celebrated at the Bill and Connie Stock home Sunday, the 11th, with noon dinner guests Knute and Connie Knutson, Bernice Knutson and Mavis Hillyer. They were joined in the afternoon for birthday cake and ice cream by Mrs. Amanda Russell and her weekend visitors Don and Lois Russell of Minneapolis and Jim and Marge Russell, who have been stationed in Bangledesh the past one and one-half years and their daughters Mary Clair and Jennifer from Nevada. The Don Russells and the Jim Russell family left Monday morning for Hibbing, where the Jim Russells will visit Marge's brother and family and also her mother in a home for the elderly, before going to Nevada, where the girls are employed.

Sunday evening Bill and Connie Stock and John and Lorraine Sannes accompanied the Luther Leaguers from the Silver Creek Lutheran church for bowling at the local bowling alley. Following bowling they enjoyed lunch at the home of Jim and LuAnn Giles.

Mrs. Clara Jaennette enjoyed having Ned and Dorothy Blodgett, Sheryl Johnson and also Mark and Laureen Johnson from Grand Forks visit her Sunday afternoon.

Curt and Carol Johnson spent the past weekend at the Gerald and Pam Nelson home of rural Red Lake Falls. The Nelsons have purchased some Salers, a new breed of beef cattle.

Mrs. Angie Larson visited at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Jim and LuAnn Giles, Sunday evening.

NORDEN . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Dobias from Pine River were Christmas weekend guests at the Inar Mikkelson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hallan spent New Year's eve and New Year's day in Oklee with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Swenson and family. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Swenson and family spent Christmas eve until Saturday morning at the Floyd Hallan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Olson motored to St. Paul to visit children and families. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lance Erickson and children, Oliver and Andrew, until Sunday. On Christmas day they visited Dianne Guessford at her home. On Friday they were guests at the E.O. Dietz home at Northfield. On Saturday they were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lennert Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. Craig Erickson.

On December 22, Don Olson was a coffee guest at the Herb and Joyce Swenson home. On December 23, he was a coffee guest of Norman Olson.

Those who enjoyed Christmas eve supper with Duane and Janice Olson and Jeff were Wayne and Susan Hjelle and children Sammi, Travis and Todd, Danny and Cole Olson, and Steve Olson.

Janice Olson and Susan Olson, Sammi and Travis attended Christmas eve church services at Oak Ridge church.

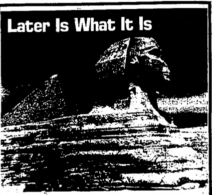
On Saturday, Wayne and Susan Olson and family visited at the James Hjelle home at Newfolden. Also visiting there were Russ and Susi Hjelle from Fargo, Dale and Sherry Warne, Christ and Nick from Roseau, Dean Hjelle and also Stacy Gustafson from Thief River Falls. They all enjoyed dinner and later opened gifts.

That Saturday afternoon Russ and Susi Hjelle, Wayne and Susan Jjelle, Dale and Sherry Warne, Dean Hjelle and Stacy Gustafson visited Hjalmer Hjelle.

On December 20, John and JoAnn Bauer, Clint and Karen Bauer and children, Michael and Matthew, enjoyed Christmas dinner with Tom and Barb Twamley and children Sara, John and Ivan at their home at Kennedy. Everyone returned home late that night.

Mike and Celeste Leach and family enjoyed New Year's day with Larry and Gloria Leach and Brian in Thief River Falls. Also visiting were Greg and Marya Leach and children Matt, Kelli, and Christa from Bismarck, ND, and Kevin Leach was home from Minneapolis.

Norman Olson, Lilas Klefstad, Judy Taylor and son, and John and Sharon Brahoski were Christmas eve guests at the Ray and Janet Berg home.



I received a birthday card that stood somewhere between comical and serious. It stated "Sorry this is late. Guess you knew that sooner or later I'd send you a card—but gee whiz, I'm sorry that sooner is what it ain't and later is what it is!"

That will hold you for a while! And pinch you awake as you remember all those things you promised yourself you would do: that trip "down home" to visit the kin, a long overdue letter still unwritten, that kindly phone call not yet dialed.

"Sooner is what it ain't."

What about those things you promised yourself? The unread good book? The lazy day and walk through the park?

Sometimes we discover that we live life in the land of "later is what it is." Gone are those precious persons who could have lighted our lives, and [illegible]. Gone are the [illegible] opportunities to touch and be touched by hosts of persons standing at our door knocking.

"Later is what it is," and we stand over the stone markers of unseized privileges and weep, knowing that such markers could have been monuments to achieved moments but instead they are tombstones to failed causes.

Accidents Involve Snowmobiles Last Week In LEC News

Snowmobile accidents were reported to the Pennington county sheriff department in Thief River Falls during the weekend. And in Thief River Falls several incidents of juveniles involved in vandalism or shoplifting were among incident reports in Thief River Falls police news.

SHERIFF NEWS. Snowmobile accidents. On January 4 Tony Moe of Grygla was parked when Roger Daniel Wold of Goodridge was driving a 1981 snowmobile and ran into Moe's vehicle. Wold stated that the throttle was stuck when the accident happened. The accident took place 30 yards from the intersection by Osmund avenue in front of the Goodridge school. Damage to Moe's vehicle was estimated at $50 and $400 to the snowmobile.

On January 3 during the evening, Mitchell Bruggeman from Thief River Falls was traveling west on his snowmobile on the shoulder of highway one when his hand hit a mail box. Bruggeman broke his hand and complained of a sore arm.

On January 17 a snowmobile driven by William Paradis of Plummer, was traveling in Red Lake county when the driver was thrown from the snowmobile and cut his left knee.

On January 17 at 3 p.m. a snowmobile driven by Wallace Anderson of Goodridge, was traveling west in a ditch of county road 63 when he hit a drift. He lost control of the snowmobile which rolled over and in the process Anderson's foot was caught in the track of the snowmobile. Anderson suffered a six to eight inch laceration on his lower leg and foot.

Other incidents. On January 9 a resident of Thief River Falls reported someone put sugar in his fuel tank. The vehicle was parked at the Thief River Falls airport terminal. No damage report is available at this time.

On January 8 at 1:41 p.m. Steven John DeHann was traveling East and in the process of passing another vehicle DeHann's vehicle was forced into the ditch to avoid a collision. DeHann's vehicle hit a field approach, went over a culvert and then flew over county road 61 and ended up in the ditch to the East of county road 61. Damage to DeHann's vehicle was estimated at $500. DeHann reported that the other car was weaving and did not stop.

On January 5 a resident of North township reported a burglary at his residence. The resident reported that $27 in loose change, four cans of beer and one male cat, silver and grey in color with long hair, were taken. The loss was valued at $30.

On January 4 at 8:54 p.m. a resident of Warren reported an assault done to him in Norden township. The incident is still under investigation.

On January 16 at 11:57 a.m. a resident of Grand Forks, ND, reported vandalism done to the glass insulators on the power lines. The damage loss is unknown. The incident happened in Silverton township and it appears that the power lines were shot out by someone over the last few weeks.

POLICE NEWS. Juveniles. On January 16 Pamida reported catching a juvenile boy, age 14, for shoplifting. He had taken a live hampster valued at $2.99. Charges of theft are pending in juvenile court. On January 17 two local youths, both age 9, were caught after taking money from the locker room at the new arena during a college game. The amount taken added up to $48 of which $45 has been recovered. Charges of theft are pending in juvenile court.

On January 17 the manager of the Pamida store observed two juvenile females had taken something and put it in a bag they were carrying. Before he was able to catch them they had left the store. He followed the juveniles to Kmart where he saw them place a camera in a bag and Kmart authorities were notified. Two juvenile girls, age 14 and 15 from Viking, MN, had taken items from Kmart, Pamida, J.C. Penney, Woolworth's and Ben Franklin totaling $364.93. The merchandise was recovered and charges of theft over $250 are pending in juvenile court.

On January 17 Kmart caught a juvenile boy, age 16, from Clearbrook, for shoplifting a cassette tape valued at $9.77. The merchandise was recovered and charges are pending in juvenile court.

On January 18 at 6:07 p.m. an alarm at the Kmart store went off and police investigated. A 12 year old male had hidden in the rest room until the store was closed. He took a BB gun pistol and shot out two flourescent lights. His tracks were followed by officers to the youth's residence. Charges of burglary are pending against him in juvenile court. The gun and flashlight that was also taken were recovered.

Vandalism. On January 13 Kermit Maidment, Thief River Falls, reported a picture window was shot out with a BB or pellet gun. It happened within the last couple of days. Damage was estimated at $400. On January 13 Vernon Kees, Thief River Falls, reported one of his windows were broken sometime during the previous night by a hockey puck. The damage was estimated at $40. On January 15 Henry Hastad, Thief River Falls, reported finding a BB hole in the rear sliding window of his pickup. The damage was found on January 12 and is estimated at $12.

On January 16 Scott Salvhus, Thief River Falls, reported someone slashed all four tires on his vehicle which was parked in his back yard. This damage was estimated at $300. More damage was found to the driver's side and windshield. It appeared that it was done with a sharp object. Damage was estimated at $500.

On January 19 a report was received that someone had run down the mailboxes at the entrance of Greendale Manor. Les Snetting, owner, reported damage was estimated at $200.

Accidents. On January 16 at 3:32 p.m. a pickup driven by Jeffrey Millsop, Warroad, was going west on highway 59 and attempting to pass a pickup driven by David Fimrite, Thief River Falls, and owned by David Dupree, Thief River Falls. Fimrite was also driving west and attempting to make a left turn at RV driveway. The two vehicles collided causing $600 damage to the Millsop vehicle and $300 to the vehicle driven by Fimrite.

On January 16 at 4:42 p.m. a car driven by Beverly Boe, Newfolden, was going east on Third street in the 100 block. She stopped for traffic and was struck in the rear by a pickup driven by Dwayne Myers, Thief River Falls, who was also going east. Damage to the Boe vehicle was estimated at $300 but no damage was reported to the Myers vehicle. Ms. Boe complained of neck and back pain.

On January 19 at 10:06 a.m. a car driven by Jesse O. Anderson, route Two, Goodridge, was going south on LaBree avenue, and a van driven by Keith Maidment, Thief River Falls, was going east on Fifth street. The two vehicles collided causing $1,800 damage to the Anderson vehicle and $800 to the Maidment vehicle. Theodora Anderson received a bump on the head and right arm.

On January 19 at 12:49 p.m. a car driven by Keith Tormanen, Thief River Falls, and owned by Gary Heden, Thief River Falls, was going east on Annie street. A station wagon driven by Susan M. Colden, Thief River Falls, was going north on Kendall. The two vehicles collided in the intersection causing $600 damage to the car driven by Tormanen, and $800 to the Colden van.

Other. On January 17 charges of assault in the fifth degree were pending against Gary Lambert Erickson, route one, Goodridge, age 48, following an incident at Northland village in which he engaged in a fight with another male.

On January 19 Jeff Sebenaler, Thief River Falls, reported some articles of clothing taken from the Brite Spot Laundromat. Four shirts valued at $88 were missing.

Unemployment Insurance Fund Now Has Surplus

Minnesota's unemployment insurance fund had a surplus of $45.7 million on Dec. 31, $12.7 million more than the $33 million which had been projected earlier, according to Commissioner Joe Samargia of the Minnesota department of jobs and training.

That's an improvement of more than $130 million over the year. In January 1986, the fund was $86.2 million in the red.

There are fewer weather-related layoffs of workers last month than in December of 1985 due to relatively mild conditions in the last half of December, Samargia said, and consequently the state paid out less money in unemployment insurance benefits.

The fund, which is supported by employer payroll taxes, had been overdrawn for almost six years until Aug. 31, 1986, except for a short period in May. In 1986, when the fund was in debt and the state borrowed from the federal government to pay benefits, Minnesota employers paid a maximum penalty of $77 per employee, which represents 1.1 per cent on the first $7,000 of each employee's wages, Samargia said.

The turnaround in the fund balance also resulted partly from lower unemployment rates in Minnesota during the past seven months, he added.

Red Lake County Shows Increase In Unemployment

Red Lake county was the only one among the seven counties of Region One which noted an increase in unemployment from October of 1985 to October of 1986, according to the "Minnesota Labor Market Review," published by the Minnesota department of jobs and training.

Red Lake county unemployment was listed as 10.3 per cent in October of 1986, compared with 9.5 per cent in October of 1985, although the 10.3 percentage had dropped from 11.4 per cent in September, 1986. Red Lake county unemployment during the October 1985 to 1986 period remained at 192 but the labor force declined from 2,019 to 1,864 — resulting in the higher unemployment rate.

In Pennington county the unemployment rate dropped from 6.1 per cent to 4.9 per cent during that October 1985 to October 1986 period. Number of people unemployed declined from 383 to 309 while the labor force dropped slightly from 6,291 to 6,251.

Lowest unemployment rate was in Roseau county where only 3.7 per cent of labor force was employed in October of 1986, compared with 4.5 per cent in October of 1985. The labor force in Roseau county increased from 6,953 to 7,174 while the number unemployed dropped from 316 to 263.

Next lowest unemployment rate was in Norman county where the rate in October of 1986 was 4.4 per cent, compared with 4.6 per cent a year earlier. Unemployment declined from 383 to 309 people while the labor force also dipped substantially from 3,800 to 3,594.

Unemployment in Marshall county dropped from 8.2 to 7.4 per cent, number unemployed dropped from 439 to 381 and the labor force decreased by 240 from 5,373 to 5,133.

In Kittson county unemployment dropped from 6.4 to 5.4 per cent and number unemployed went down from 185 to 143 during the October to October period. Labor force in Kittson county declined during the same period from 2,896 to 2,654.

Polk county unemployment tumbled from 6.7 to 5.6 per cent as number of people unemployed decreased from 1,025 to 889 and the labor force dropped from 15,341 to 15,052.

For Region One as a whole, the unemployment rate declined nearly a full percentage point from 6.4 to 5.5 while the number unemployed dropped from 2,716 in 1985 to 2,285 in 1986. The labor force also declined during the period from 42,673 to 41,722.

In northwestern Minnesota, according to the "Minnesota Labor Market Review," there were a shortage of specialized mechanics but a surplus of clerical workers, construction workers, general laborers, production and sales workers.

Ogaard Reelected President Of LRR Watershed Board

Members of the Lower Red River watershed management board (LRRWMB) reelected Don Ogaard, Ada, president for 1987 during the annual reorganizational meeting last Wednesday. The annual meeting was held in conjunction with a joint meeting with the North Dakota Red River joint water resources board, hosted by the North Dakota board in Grand Forks.

Ogaard, who represents the Wild Rice watershed district on the LRRWMB, was reelected by unanimous vote, as were all other officers elected.

Other officers for 1987 are: Arnold Person, Oklee, vice president, representing the Red Lake watershed district; Harley Youngren, Hallock, secretary, representing the Two Rivers watershed district; and Roger Ward, St. Vincent, treasurer, representing the Joe River watershed district.

In the year end treasurer's report from Ward it was reported that the LRRWMB funded $998,771 to retention projects and stream gauging in 1986. A breakdown of money spent includes: Red Lake watershed district, Moose River project, $633,829; Middle River-Snake River watershed district, stream gauging, $3,754; Buffalo River-Red River watershed district, Stony Creek project No. 8, $356,250; Red Lake watershed district, stream gauging, $4,938.

The treasurer also reported that the LRRWMB balance of funds at year end, including projected receipts of $133,457 from member watershed districts, totaled $2,643,017.

In other business, the board moved to pay U.S. geological survey (USGS) $23,690 for stream gauging services in the eight watershed districts. Individual districts reimburse half of the bill for stream gauging in their districts.

In a related matter, the board heard a report from George Carlson of the St. Cloud USGS office who explained the present programs of that agency.

Wild Rice watershed district presented a water retention project proposal at the meeting for step one approval. However, the board determined that estimated costs of the proposed project in its present form were to high when comparing estimated cost versus acre feet of water retention. The district will reevaluate the project's design.

The board also discussed proposed legislation which would provide for a priority list of projects approved for construction within watershed districts, amending present drainage law. It was the board's opinion that the proposed legislation would, in effect, subordinate the decision-making process on proposed projects to the county board of commissioners. It was observed that the intent of the watershed act has always been to remove the decision making process from local political pressures.

The board agreed to send Representative Bernie Lieder a letter outlining the board's opinion and projections of current initiatives which will include prioritization. The letter also requests that Lieder withdraw support for the proposed legislation.

Also discussed at the meeting were efforts currently taking place in the basin to create an over-all comprehensive water management plan for each Minnesota county in the Red River basin. Jay Brunner of the Northwest Regional Development commission explained that in the coming weeks he will be contacting county boards in the basin to discuss the methodology of creating these comprehensive plans and possible funding available through this initiative passed by the legislature.

The board agreed to take part in the process of creating these comprehensive studies to help assure that in the development of water management plans, the Red River watershed is approached on a basin-wide perspective.

On Wednesday afternoon, both the LRRWMB and North Dakota Red River joint water resources board met with numerous water managers from both Minnesota and North Dakota.

North Dakota chairman Bob Thompson observed that the joint meeting was an opportunity for water managers from both sides of the Red River to find ways to help one another reach water management goals shared by each.

"This is an opportunity for us to kick around some new ideas," he said.

There were also numerous presentations on Wednesday afternoon's agenda. Stan Kummer of the Army Corps of Engineers went over current corps projects in the Red River basin. There was also a presentation from Tim Fell of the corps of engineers permitting office and Doug Ehorn of the EPA who presented their agencies' views on the controversial section 404 of the Clean Water Act.

Dan Thul, LRRWMB coordinator, updated managers on the Red River agricultural diking situation. He noted that since the court order demanding that Minnesota land owners give license to the Middle River-Snake River watershed district to lower the dikes, about 90 per cent of the 24 miles of dike have been lowered to the level agreed on at arbitration. The remainder will be lowered in the coming year, according to Thul.

Pioneers, Trojans Renew Hockey Rivalry Tonight At TRF Sports Arena

First place in the Minnesota Community College Conference standings, plus the usual Northland Community College and University of Minnesota-Crookston rivalry is expected to produce a fan-drawing hockey game tonight (Wednesday) when the Pioneers and Trojans face-off at 7:30 p.m. at the Thief River Falls Sports Arena.

Northland is 10-3 for the year and 6-1 in the MCCC standings following a 5-0, 5-3 weekend sweep over visiting Rainy River. UMC is 9-2 overall after beating Vermilion twice over the weekend, 8-2 and 13-2.

"With everything on the line tonight, it should be a good hockey game," said Northland coach Scott Bergland. "We hope to have a good crowd. If we're ever going to have a good crowd, this should be it."

Northland and UMC met earlier this year, with the Pioneers posting a season-opening 6-3 nonconference win at Crookston. They will have another MCCC-counting meeting Wednesday, February 4, in Crookston.

Bergland said the Pioneers performed well in sweeping Rainy River for the second time this winter. Northland took an 8-3, 5-1 nonconference series from the Voyageurs in a December 20-21 meeting at International Falls.

"We're improving," said Bergland, "and Rainy River is a much-improved hockey team. You've got to be somewhat satisfied any time you sweep somebody."

The team is relatively injury-free, mentioned Bergland, although a couple of players are battling illness. "But I think it'll take a broken leg to keep them out of the Crookston game," quipped Bergland.

Dean Hanson turned in a 39-save shutout effort Friday night as the Grand Forks Central graduate led Northland to a 5-0 series-opening win over Rainy River at the Thief River Falls Sports Arena.

Steve Wiskow and Joe Blankenfeld, a pair of Thief River Falls natives, both scored twice for the winners, with Jim Speidel adding a single goal. Wiskow also had three assists, as did Thief River Falls defenseman Bill Desrocher.

Northland led only 1-0 after one period, but coasted into the third period with a 5-0 cushion.

Scoring

First period — NCC, Steve Wiskow (Jim Speidel-Russ Cagnoni), 14:39.

Second period — NCC, Wiskow (Bill Desrocher), 7:17; NCC, Speidel (Wiskow-Brian Nelson), 10:55; NCC, Joe Blankenfeld (Wiskow-Desrocher), 16:06; NCC, Blankenfeld (Wiskow-Desrocher), 16:25.

Third period — none.

Goalie saves — NCC, Dean Hanson 14-13-12, 39; RR, Clinton Bahr 16-17-6, 39.

DEFENSIVE EFFORT BY Thief River Falls' Laura Beito made it difficult for Karen Porter of Tri-County to get off a shot during Monday's girls high school basketball game played in the Lincoln gym. The Prowlers beat the Rabbits 61-46.

Prowlers Handle Cardinals 56-33

Thief River Falls made quick work out of what was expected to be a close game Tuesday when the Prowlers jumped out to a 15-2 first quarter lead and rolled to a surprisingly-easy 56-33 girls high school basketball win at Plummer.

It was the 14th straight win for the unbeaten Prowlers, and was just the second loss in ten starts for the Cardinals, who have lost just three games on their home court over the past three years.

A match-up of the Prowlers, who figure to challenge for North Sub-Region 8AA honors, and the Cardinals, a District 31A contender, figured to be a close game. Instead, Plummer lost by a 20-point margin for the first time in ten years.

"We were disappointed," admitted Plummer coach Rick Koivisto. "We felt we should be within 10 points of them. We took ourselves out of it in the first quarter. We like to press after we score, but if you don't score, you can't press."

Laura Beito, a 6-0 senior center, keyed the Thief River Falls victory with a dominating 17-point, 22-rebound performance. Guard Brenda Russell led the Prowlers with 19 points, and backcourt mate Kelly Cornell contributed 12, but it was Beito on the inside that dictated the outcome, according to both coaches.

"Laura was probably the biggest reason we won," said Thief River Falls coach Tom Schafer. "They (Cardinals) were getting just one shot, then she'd get the rebound."

Plummer was just 1-for-12 from the field in that disastrous first quarter. "We just couldn't hit the shots we normally make," explained Koivisto, who said the Prowlers' 2-3 zone gave the Cardinals problems.

Thief River Falls carried a 27-14 lead into halftime and had a 39-22 third quarter cushion.

Plummer made a little run at the Thief River Falls lead in the third quarter when the Cardinals pulled within 31-22, but the Prowlers called a time-out and finished the quarter with eight unanswered points to put it away for good.

Robin Brantl and Janelle Konickson scored 12 and 10 points, respectively, to lead the Cardinals.

According to Thief River Falls charts, the Prowlers were 27-for-65 from the field (42 per cent) and 2-for-5 at the free throw line (40 per cent), while the Cardinals were 15-for-50 from the field (30 per cent) and 3-for-10 at the line (30 per cent) and from the field (30 per cent) and 3-for-10 at the line (30 per cent). Thief River Falls charts also had the Prowlers with a 41-18 rebound advantage, and showed the Cardinals with a 14-13 high figure in the turnover department.

"It was tough playing two games back-to-back," said Schafer, whose team beat Tri-County 61-46 Monday. "I'm glad this week is over."

Thief River Falls will be idle until Tuesday when the Prowlers visit Fertile-Beltrami. Plummer will be at East Grand Forks Sacred Heart Thursday.

A 51-15 victory in the preliminary game put the Thief River Falls junior varsity record at 7-4.

A winner on the road to start the 1986-87 Minnesota Community College Conference schedule, the Northland Community College men's basketball team will try to duplicate that effort at home this weekend when the Pioneers take on Vermilion Friday at 8 p.m. and Mesabi Saturday at 2 p.m.

Northland swept Northeast Division foes Rainy River 72-52 and Hibbing 73-67 Friday night and Saturday afternoon, respectively, for a 2-0 start in the Northwest Division standings. The victory over the Voyageurs wasn't too surprising — University of Minnesota-Crookston beat Rainy River 95-69 the next day. But the Northland triumph at Hibbing was a mild upset. The strong Hibbing team beat the defending MCCC state champion Trojans 79-76 in overtime Friday.

"It was a good ball game," reported Northland coach Chet Engelman after the victory over Hibbing put the Pioneers at 7-5 for the year. "They have a good team. We played well; probably as well as we have all year."

This weekend's schedule offers Northland the same kind of challenge. Vermilion is recognized as a state power, figuring to battle Itasca and Hibbing for the Northeast Division title. Mesabi, meanwhile, trails the field, along with Rainey River.

Rainy River . . . . . . . . . . . . . 52

A productive night at the free throw line helped Northland breeze to a 72-52 victory over Rainy River in International Falls.

Northland went 29-for-39 at the line (74 per cent) to make up for a 35 per cent shooting effort from the field (21-for-60).

Greg Campbell led a group of 11 Northland scorers with 18 points. Ray Davis had 11 and Morris Matthews 10. Troy Marcio led Rainy River with 13 points.

Northland had a comfortable 40-28 halftime lead.

Rainy River was 19-for-62 from the field (31 per cent) and 12-for-24 at the free throw line (50 per cent). The rebounds were even at 50-apiece, with Randy Henrickson grabbing 13 of them to lead the Pioneers. The Voyageurs had more turnovers, 36-20.

There were 10 ties and the lead changed hands 14 times before Northland emerged with a 73-67 victory at Hibbing.

Northland had a 44-38 halftime lead, but didn't take the lead for keeps until the final 4½ minutes of the game, described as a "little bit physical."

Guards Ray Davis and Morris Matthews came off the bench to score 24 and 11 points, respectively, for the Pioneers, who also got a 13-point, 16-rebound game from Anthony McCullough and a solid relief effort by 6-11 John Logan. Brian Dudek, a former high school standout in Duluth, led Hibbing with 22 points.

Northland was 29-for-73 from the field (40 per cent) and 13-for-19 at the free throw line (68 per cent). Hibbing was 27-for-75 from the field (36 per cent) and 11-for-14 at the line (79 per cent). Northland out-rebounded Hibbing 51-47, but also had more turnovers, 19-15.

Girls 61-46 Winners Against Tri-County

Win No. 13 for the Thief River Falls girls was made easier Monday by 28 Tri-County turnovers as the Prowlers defeated the visiting Rabbits 61-46 in high school basketball action.

It was close only at the start. Leading just 6-4 midway through the first quarter, Thief River Falls ran off a string of eight unanswered points for a 14-4 gap with 1:43 left. Tri-County never recovered, trailing 18-10 at the end of the first quarter, down 34-20 at halftime and behind 50-30 through three quarters.

Thief River Falls matched its biggest lead of the night when sophomore Val Noel hit a short base line jumper to make it a 22-point, 60-38 spread with 3:02 remaining in the contest. The final three minutes were staffed by Thief River Falls reserves who have seen little varsity court time this winter playing behind a starting five of Laura Beito, Lisa Lillevold, Cindy Kruta, Brenda Russell and Kelly Cornell.

Russell, a 5-3 senior guard, led the Prowlers with 22 points. Beito, a 6-0 senior center, had 16. The Rabbits received 20 points from 5-10 junior forward Karen Porter and 12 points from 5-3 junior guard Lori Spilde.

Thief River Falls coach Tom Schafer said he hadn't anticipated such an easy win. "I was worried about this one," he noted, "but our 2-3 match-up and our aggressive play on their wings got them out of their rhythm. It was a consistent ball game for us."

Thief River Falls was 28-for-75 from the field (37 per cent) and 5-for-12 at the free throw line (42 per cent). Tri-County was 19-for-48 from the field (40 per cent) and 8-for-9 at the line (90 per cent). The Prowlers had a 31-29 rebound edge, including an 18-11 advantage on the offensive boards. The Prowlers had just 11 turnovers to the Rabbits' 28.

Close Losses Continue

Thief River Falls' frustrating habit of losing close hockey games continued Tuesday when the underdog Prowlers challenged Section 8 leader Warroad before surrendering a 4-3 decision.

The Prowlers are 4-8 for the year, but seven of those eight losses have been by one or two-goal margins. Four of the setbacks were one-goal losses including an overtime defeat; and one of three two-goal losses included an open-net goal in the final seconds.

Widest margin of defeat for the [illegible] goal 4-1 setback at Bemidji December 23. They have another shot at the Lumberjacks Saturday in a Section 8 rematch at the Thief River Falls Sports Arena.

Bemidji shut out Lake of the Woods 11-1 Tuesday, but that followed a surprising 6-0 loss at Roseau Saturday, the first shutout defeat of the year for the 7-5 Bemidji squad that was expected to be a Section 8 contender. Bemidji beat Roseau 5-2 earlier this winter.

Another Section 8 surprise Saturday was a 3-2 Detroit Lakes win over Fergus Falls that ended a nine-game winless streak for the Lakers, who hadn't won since a 6-2 season-opening victory over Hallock. The win over the Otters came 24 hours after Detroit Lakes had skated to a 1-1 overtime tie with Brainerd.

Miscellaneous

- Detroit Lakes High School boys basketball team, after starting the year 7-0 (including a 67-62 victory over Thief River Falls) is now 7-3. Lakers lost to Bemidji 59-57 last Tuesday, fell to Staples 67-61 Friday and lost to Moorhead 67-53 Saturday. "There's no question we were at a tremendous disadvantage," Detroit Lakes coach Jon Erickson told the Detroit Lakes Tribune after the demanding schedule was completed. "Yet, despite the three losses, I don't feel we played that badly. I feel badly that we agreed to such a monster

Grygla Beats MCC First Time

Grygla picked up its first-ever boys high school basketball win over Marshall County Central Tuesday, 51-46.

Thor Smerek scored 17 points, Brian Holte 14 and Reed Engelstad 11 as the Eagles ended a 22-game losing streak at the hands of the Nordics.

"It was a nice win for our ball club," said Grygla coach Vern Johnson. "It's definitely a plus for our program. It's a good measuring stick for us because year-in and year-out Newfolden (MCC) has one of the better teams in the area. The win should give our kids some confidence."

The game was close throughout. Both sides had five point leads during the contest that featured a 14-12 Grygla lead at the end of the first quarter, a 25-20 Marshall County Central advantage at halftime and a 34-33 edge for the Nordics heading into the fourth quarter.

Marshall County Central led by five points in the fourth quarter, but turned the ball over twice within a 15-second span, and Grygla converted both opportunities into points that started the Eagles on a surge that provided them with a five-point lead heading down the stretch.

"You have to get lucky to win sometimes," acknowledged Johnson. "We got lucky with a couple of steals that swung the momentum for us."

Grygla clinched it at the free throw line as Reed Engelstad made one of two tosses for a 48-46 edge with 32 seconds remaining, and after a Marshall County Central miss from the field, Jason Engelstad made it a three-point game with a free throw with 23 seconds left. Jason Engelstad also added a basket with 10 seconds to go for the final five-point margin.

"We worked hard to get the lead, but we didn't do a very good job protecting the lead," explained Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "Grygla has a nice ball club. They played well."

Lee Pemberton led Marshall County Central with 16 points.

Grygla shot well: The Eagles were 20-for-40 from the field (50 per cent) and 11-for-18 at the free throw line (61 per cent). Marshall County Central was 21-for-51 from the field (41 per cent) and 4-for-9 at the line (44 per cent). Marshall County Central charts showed Grygla with a 32-21 rebound advantage, and also had the Eagles with more turnovers, 22-15.

Marshall County Central, 5-5, will wait until Tuesday to play again, hosting Kennedy that night. Grygla, 5-3, will host a strong Warroad team Friday.

Northland Men Lose 73-62 To Air Base Team

Grand Forks Air Force Base defeated the Northland Community College men's basketball team 73-62 Monday, dropping the visiting Pioneers to 7-6 for the year.

It wasn't a very well-played game on the part of the Pioneers, admitted Northland coach Chet Engelman. It was a typical nonconference-type of outing sandwiched between a pair of conference doubleheader weekends, with Northland scheduled to host Vermilion Friday night and Mesabi Saturday afternoon. Vermilion is the No. 4-rated team in the latest Minnesota Community College Conference state coaches poll.

Northland trailed 40-26 at halftime Monday.

Anthony McCullough scored 21 points and had 13 rebounds for the Pioneers. Ray Davis added 11 points.

Northland was 22-for-55 from the field (40 per cent) and 18-for-31 at the free throw line (58 per cent). The winners were 26-for-59 from the field (44 per cent) and 19-for-32 at the line (59 per cent). Northland had a 46-35 rebound edge, but also had more turnovers, 26-22.

The Pioneers beat the Royals 86-83 a week ago in Thief River Falls.

LEFT ALONE on the side of the lane, Thief River Falls forward Lisa Lillevold launched a shot before Tri-County defenders Melanie Hilde (42) and Lori Spilde could prevent the shot during Monday's basketball game in Thief River Falls. The Prowlers climbed to 13-0 with a 61-46 win over the Rabbits, who fell to 4-6.

Sports Briefs

Sports Boosters

Northland Community College women's basketball coach Tom Neibauer will be the guest speaker Thursday at the weekly 12-noon Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club luncheon meeting in the basement of the Rex Cafe.

Sportsmen's Club Meeting

Pennington County Sportsmen's Club will meet Wednesday, January 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium. Election of officers will be held, and a vension stew will be served.

Halftime Show

Halftime entertainment will be provided during Friday's Northland vs. Vermilion community college men's basketball game, said Northland athletic director Rick Nelson.

Entertainment will be provided by Thief River Falls Community Education. Performing a tumbling routine will be youths from ages 5-11. The routine will consist of aerobatics, tumbling and the use of the Swedish Box. Instructors are Connie Dorn and Laurie Follett.

Northland plays Vermilion at 8 p.m. A women's game starts at 6 that night.

NCC Women Look For Sweep

Northland Community College women's basketball team opened its 1986-87 Minnesota Community College Conference-counting schedule with a pair of one-sided wins over two of the weaker Northeast Division teams — Rainy River and Hibbing — last week. This weekend the Pioneers will tackle two of the better Iron Range teams when they host Vermilion Friday at 6 p.m. and entertain Mesabi Saturday at 12-noon.

Rainy River fell to Northland 92-64 Friday night at International Falls, and Hibbing lost a 31-point home court decision to the Pioneers Saturday afternoon, 84-53. That put Northland at 6-6 for the year after a demanding nonconference schedule had taken its toll on the Pioneers' won-loss status.

Rainy River and Hibbing didn't offer much in the way of opposition, said Northland coach Tom Neibauer, with a matching weekend schedule also producing a 90-36 Rainy River loss to the University of Minnesota-Crookston and an 81-53 Hibbing loss to the Trojans.

Northland didn't play particularly well even in winning big, said Neibauer. "We looked better Saturday afternoon," he acknowledged.

Vermilion and Mesabi, along with Itasca the following week, will close out Northland's swing through the Northeast Division — games that count in the Pioneer's Northwest Division standings. "We get the two best Range teams this weekend," pointed out Neibauer. "We'd like to get a sweep of the Northeast teams to get ready for the Northwest teams; they're good," he said, looking ahead to home-and-home meetings with UMC, Brainerd and Fergus Falls down the stretch of the 1986-87 schedule.

Northland . . . . . . . . . . . . . . 92
Rainy River . . . . . . . . . . . . . 64

Janelle Lorsung (Waubun) and Angie Enerson (Mentor) scored 25 and 20 points, respectively, as Northland overpowered Rainy River 92-64.

Jody Pahlen (Plummer) added 17 points to the Northland total. Game-high scoring honors went to Kari Leseman of Rainy River with 37 points.

Northland led 48-32 at halftime.

The Pioneers were 44-for-83 from the field (53 per cent) and 4-for-9 at the free throw line (44 per cent). The Voyageurs were 24-for-56 from the field (43 per cent) and 16-for-24 at the line (67 per cent).

MCC Girls Handle Badger

Usually a slow starter, the Marshall County Central girls basketball team came out strong Monday with a 27-point first quarter that carried the Nordics to an easy 75-30 high school basketball win over Badger at Newfolden.

It was the eighth straight win for Marshall County Central after a season-opening three-point defeat at the hands of Thief River Falls. The Nordics host Greenbush Thursday.

"Usually we start slow," admitted Marshall County Central coach Tom Mjelde, "but we started well right off the bat. I was happy with the way we played."

He was especially happy with the inside work of 5-9 junior Natalie Ueland and 5-9 sophomore Kelli Anderson, who dominated the boards. Ueland grabbed 23 rebounds, including 14 off the offensive boards. Anderson had 15 rebounds, including 10 off the offensive boards. They scored, too, with Anderson netting 15 points and Ueland 10.

Jodi Foss, a 5-6 senior, led the Marshall County Central scoring parade with 18 points. Andrea Kragness, a 5-9 junior, added 14. Heather Meland led Badger with 10 points.

Marshall County Central had quarter leads of 27-8, 41-12 and 59-21.

The Nordics had a solid 37-for-87 night from the field (42 per cent), but went just 1-for-11 at the free throw line (9 per cent). The Rockets were 14-for-56 from the field (25 per cent) and 2-for-6 at the line (33 per cent). Marshall County Central finished with a big 51-27 rebound advantage, and Badger had more turnovers, 33-17.

— Youth Hockey —

Thief River Falls Legion Bantam B team defeated Fargo North, but lost to Brainerd and Bemidji while participating in the Brainerd Invitational youth hockey tournament over the weekend.

Troy Coltom scored twice as Thief River Falls began the four-team, round-robin format with an 8-1 Saturday afternoon win over Fargo North. Shawn Crowser, Duane Molstad, Mark Daniels, Charlie Lundgren, Ross Dalzell and Paul Hejlik all scored once, and Darin Tele had two assists. Chris Lawrence was in goal for the winners, who out-shot Fargo North 41-9.

Host Brainerd shut down the Thief River Falls offense in a 3-1 contest that had a 10 p.m. opening face-off Saturday night. Thane Espe scored the lone Thief River Falls goal. Bryan Cloutier was in goal. Thief River Falls out-shot Brainerd 31-14, but was also whistled for 11 penalties.

Despite the loss to Brainerd, Thief River Falls had a title shot in a Sunday afternoon meeting with a Bemidji team that went 2-0 Saturday. A Thief River Falls victory would have created a first-place tie, and Thief River Falls would have had a tie-breaking edge in the goal differential department. And Thief River Falls had a 4-3 lead until Bemidji tied it with 31 seconds remaining in regulation time. The tournament format called for two five-minute sudden-death overtime periods before a game would be left deadlocked. The two teams played 9:23 of scoreless overtime hockey before Bemidji clinched the title with a 5-4 victory by hitting an open net.

Brian Gillespie scored twice against Bemidji, with Duane Molstad and Jerod Kolden adding single goals. Jamie Thomton had two assists. Lawrence had an outstanding 27-save performance, before being pulled in the late stages of the second overtime since a tie would have given Bemidji the title, anyway. The Bemidji goalie made 24 saves.

Legion Bantam B week started with an 8-4 Tuesday night loss to Roseau at the Sports Arena. Thief River Falls trailed 8-0 before staging a game comeback that included two goals by Dazell and single goals from Crowser and Coltom. Hejlik had two assists. Cloutier made 22 saves, with the Roseau goalie kicking out 19 shots.

Those results left Thief River Falls at 13-10 for the year and 4-3 in District 16 play.

Bantam A

East Grand Forks and Warroad both broke games open with third period scoring that beat the Thief River Falls VFW Bantam A team on the weekend.

Thief River Falls surrendered four third period goals in the third period in an 8-4 Saturday loss to East Grand Forks. John Seaverson, Chad Kleinvachter, Paul Kezar and Corey Howe scored goals, and Paul Borchert had two assists. Ryan Haugen stopped 24 shots, while the East Grand Forks goalie made 28 saves.

Warroad also erupted with four third period goals in an 8-1 Sunday conquest of Thief River Falls. Kezar scored the lone Thief River Falls goal. Haugen stopped 27 shots, with the Warroad netminder making 17 saves.

Thief River Falls fell to 9-12 with the losses.

Pee-Wee B

Elks Pee-Wee B team won two of three starts, a good weekend for a team that had just one previous win to its credit.

Grand Forks North out-shot Thief River Falls 40-5 in a 3-0 Saturday win, but Thief River Falls blanked Bagley 10-0 the same day. Hans Helgenset, Chris Eide and Kevin Johnson scored two goals each, while Ryan Kraemer, Jason Niemi, Jeremy Olson and Brett Torkelson had single goals against Bagley. Niemi, Jim Olson and Matt Vagle had two assists apiece. Trevor Haugen had a 16-save shutout. Bagley goalie made 23 saves.

Thief River Falls added a 6-5 Sunday win over East Grand Forks when Kevin Johnson scored with just seven seconds left in the third period. It was his second goal of the game. Jeremy Olson, Jereme Fimrite, Kraemer and Eide had single goals. Kraemer and Olson also had two assists for the winners, out-shot 16-31.

Thief River Falls is 3-16-1 for the year.

Pee-Wee A

Wins over East Grand Forks and Warroad lifted the Eagles Pee Wee A record to 10-6-2 for the year.

Thief River Falls built a 5-0 lead through two periods, then hung on for a 6-5 Saturday victory over East Grand Forks. Jason Svir scored twice, while Nathan Hunt, Matt Steinert, Marc Haugen and Nathan Knutson scored single goals and two assists apiece came from Jeff Stengrim and Shane Skeim. Barry Dowers was in goal for the winners, who were out-shot 39-38.

Rick Ostby scored two goals Sunday as Thief River Falls defeated Warroad 4-2. Corey Mattson and Svir had single goals. Ross Boldt made 23 saves in the Thief River Falls net, while the Warroad goalie had 14 stops.

Squirts

Three Bemidji teams will be in Thief River Falls Saturday to play the five Thief River Falls Squirts In-House teams.

Each of the Bemidji teams — Duransky, Lake Sports and Keith's Pizza — will play twice during the day, with the six games meaning a doubleheader assignment for Thief River Falls' TG Sporting Goods team. Other Thief River Falls teams include Hardees-Bridgeman, Pepsi, Coke and Pizza Hut.

Schedule for the day includes 9 a.m. TG Sporting Goods vs. Duransky, Sports Arena; 10:30 a.m. Hardees-Bridgeman vs. Lake Sports, Sports Arena; 12:30 p.m. Pizza Hut vs. Keith's Pizza, Old Arena; 1:45 p.m. Pepsi vs. Duransky, Old Arena; 3 p.m. Coke vs. Lake Sports, Old Arena; 4:15 p.m. TG Sporting Goods vs. Keith's Pizza, Old Arena.

Pepsi-Northland Hotshot Contest Is Set Saturday

Pepsi-Northland Hotshot skills competition, being made possible through the sponsorship of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Thief River Falls in conjunction with Northland Community College, will be held at the Northland gymnasium on Saturday, January 24.

Open to boys and girls ages 9-14, the Pepsi-Northland Hotshot competition tests youngsters' speed, dribbling, shooting and rebounding abilities. There are six categories for competition — boys 9-10, 11-12, 13-14; girls, 9-10, 11-12, 13-14.

Two finalists in each of the six categories of the morning round will receive awards and play off for the age categories. The girls will play off at halftime of the women's basketball game between Northland and Mesabi starting at 12-noon. The boys will play off at halftime of the men's game between Northland and Mesabi starting at 2 p.m.

Forms to register for the Pepsi-Northland Hotshot program will be available at 9 a.m. Saturday at Northland. For more information contact Rick Nelson at 681-2181.

Poster Contest

Minnesota Conservation Federation has announced it will once again sponsor the state National Hunting and Fishing Day Poster Contest. The contest is open to students in grades 5 - 12, and is designed to encourage them to learn more about the sportsmen's role in conservation. This year's theme is "The Pittman-Robertson Act — 50 Years of Sportsmen Helping Wildlife."

Entrants will be split into two divisions — a junior division for grades 5-8 and a senior division for grades 9-12. Posters will be judged on how well they illustrate the theme, visual impact, originality, and appeal. The posters can be no larger than 22-inches-by-28-inches and may be done in pencil, crayon, paint, ink or other artist's media. Each entry must be accompanied by an information sheet providing the entrant's name, address, telephone number, grade, name and address of their school, and other information.

More information on the contest can be obtained by writing or calling the Federation office at 1036-B Cleveland Avenue South, St. Paul, MN 55116, 612-690-3077. Please mark request for information and entries to the attention of Duane Lund.

The 1987 contest marks the sixth year the Federation has sponsored the contest. MCF Education Committee chairman Duane Lund said last year was the first time all six winners in the state contest (three in each of the two divisions) went on to win prizes in the national contest.

That includes Cory Meyer of Raymond who went on to win the grand prize in the national contest, a $1,000.00 U.S. Savings Bond. (State winners are awarded $100, $75, and $50 dollar U.S. Savings Bonds for first, second, and third places, respectively, in each on the two divisions.)

Deadlines for entries is March 1, 1987.

Football Clinic Set Jan. 31

Plans have been made for the third annual Northwest Minnesota Football Coaching Clinic to be held on Saturday, January 31, at Northland Community College.

Four coaches who have worked with 1986 state championship teams will be guest speakers — Bud Bjornaraa and Rod Dirth, Apple Valley (Minnesota Class AA champion); Dale Hertel, Fargo South (North Dakota Class A champion); and Warren Keller, Argyle (Minnesota 9-man champion). Also on tap to speak is the Moorhead State University head coach Ross Fortier and Roy Hokkanen of Virginia, a 37-year veteran of 9-man and 11-man football.

Clinic is again sponsored by Northland Community College, the Thief River Falls AVTI, Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Thief River Falls, TG Sporting Goods and the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club.

Clinic director is Rick Nelson. For more information call or write Nelson at Northland Community College, Highway One East, Thief River Falls, MN 56701; telephone 681-2181, Ext. 63.

schedule, yet if we're to be a truly good team, we must be able to handle tough situations. We were in a position to win at Bemidji, we got off to a poor start at Staples, and, had we won at Staples, it might have been different on Saturday night. We just couldn't get it going against Moorhead, yet I don't feel we played that badly in any of the three games during the week. Had we played poorly, I would be concerned, but really we weren't very far from winning all three games."

+ Thief River Falls boys, 7-4 after the double-overtime loss to East Grand Forks Friday, have another tough Class A opponent Friday at Warren. The once-beaten Ponies stopped Argyle 47-39 Tuesday. Like the hockey team, the Thief River Falls basketball team has had its share of close losses this winter, including a five-point defeat at the hands of Detroit Lakes, a one-point, last-second loss to Crookston and the double-overtime setback at the hands of East Grand Forks. Only time the Prowlers weren't close at the end was a 69-45 loss at Moorhead back on December 12.

+ University of North Dakota men's and women's swimming teams will host the Sioux Invitational Friday and Saturday at Hyslop Sports Center. Prelims start at 10 a.m. each day. Finals are set for 5 p.m. Saturday. The UND women won the St. Cloud Invitational last week, with Michelle Puetz, a freshman from Thief River Falls, winning the 100 backstroke for the Sioux. The Sioux Invitational will include teams from Northern Michigan, University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, St. Cloud State, Mankato State, North Dakota State, University of Manitoba, University of Minnesota and the host Sioux.

+ Former Bemidji High School girls basketball standout Tina Erickson has withdrawn from Montana State University and will enroll at Lake Region in Devils Lake, ND. She holds the Bemidji single season and career scoring records after starting for four years for the Lumberjacks.

+ Two former Thief River Falls residents are part of the Proctor High School hockey team that started the 1986-87 season with a 10-0 record. Former Lincoln High School head hockey coach Bill McGann is on the Proctor coaching staff, and his son Steve, who played briefly with the Prowlers, is a junior center for the Rails, and one of their leading scorers. Proctor beat Duluth East for the first time ever earlier this year.

+ Bemidji boys pulled off another surprise in high school basketball Saturday by beating a strong 9-2 Crosby-Ironton 68-89 team despite playing without forward Randy Lish, sidelined by an ankle injury, and center Matt Swenson, who was serving a one-game suspension following an incident in the Bemidji-Detroit Lakes game earlier in the week.

Hallock Friday with a 68-57 Tuesday win over Greenbush.

"We controlled the boards, and we shot a little better percent than we have been," reported Middle River coach Eldon Sparby. "As a team, it was our best ball game we've played since before Christmas."

Middle River had quarter leads of 12-8, 30-22 and 50-33.

Marc Gram came off the bench to lead Middle River with 16 points. Tom Blazek had a 15-point, 12-rebound game and Tom Gullikson scored 14 points. Greg Pulczinski led Greenbush with a game-high 19 points.

Middle River was 26-for-64 from the field (41 per cent) and 16-for-22 at the free throw line (73 per cent). Greenbush was 24-for-60 from the field (40 per cent) and 9-for-17 at the line (53 per cent). The Skippers posted a big 42-28 rebound advantage, grabbing 17 offensive boards. Middle River also had more turnovers, 22-15.

The 5-7 Skippers visit Roseau Friday.

Franklin Middle School

Franklin Middle School seventh and eighth grade girls basketball teams split a pair of games against Roseau Tuesday.

The Spartans put their seventh grade record at 8-0 for the year with a 34-18 victory by out-scoring Roseau 24-7 in the second-half. Jodi Kruta scored 20 points and Tarik Koivisto had 7 for the winners.

Roseau pulled out a 37-36 double-overtime game when the eighth graders took the court. The Spartans received scoring from 10 different players, led by Molly Pinkerton with 9.

The Franklin eighth grade girls are 1-7 for the year.

Franklin girls will be at Crookston Thursday and will participate in a tournament at Bemidji Saturday.

— News From Minnesota DNR —

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is proposing general hunting and fishing license fee increases. Most increases are $2 to $3. The proposal requires legislative action in the 1987 session in order to become effective in March 1988.

"Without the increase, the present level of wildlife management will not be able to be sustained," said Larry Shannon, director of Fish and Wildlife. The DNR's fish and wildlife programs are funded almost entirely through fishing, hunting and trapping license fees.

New and expanded programs in the past several years have contributed greatly to hunting and fishing success and have encouraged tourism, especially in northern Minnesota.

"These programs have provided Minnesotans with many wonderful recreational opportunities," said Shannon. "However, they are not free. If the Game and Fish Fund is not adequately funded, we will have to reduce our program efforts, which will result in less recreation. This will not be felt immediately but in about two or three years."

Expanded habitat improvement programs for deer, pheasant and waterfowl, including cooperative efforts with private landowners, have put major demands on existing wildlife personnel. Both fish and wildlife management are labor intensive. Without adequate staffing and funding, recent achievements are threatened.

Currently the state has a record number of breeding mallards and the deer herd has reached a record high of nearly one million — compared with a low of 400,000 in 1971. In that year, the deer season had to be closed. The state now also has special hunts for moose, giant Canada geese and wild turkeys.

Special management programs for muskie, stream trout and salmon have enhanced the state's most popular outdoor recreational activity — fishing. New programs such as lake aeration, fishing pier construction and experimental lakes have provided expanded fishing opportunities. Survey efforts and special habitat management programs have been dramatically increased.

Last general fishing and hunting license increase was in 1982.

COUNTY COURT
PROBATE DIVISION

In Re: Estate of Harold D. Anderson, Deceased.

order and notice of
HEARING ON PETITION FOR APPOINTMENT OF PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE IN SUPERVISED ADMINISTRATION AND NOTICE TO CREDITORS
TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS AND CREDITORS:

It is Ordered and Notice is hereby given that on the 3rd day of February, 1987, at 10:15 o'clock A.M., a hearing will be held in the above named Court, at Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and for the appointment of Gladys M. Anderson whose address is Northwestern Trailer Court, No. 44, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, as personal representative of the estate of the above named decedent in supervised administration, and that any objections thereto must be filed with the Court. That, if proper, and no objections are filed, said personal representative will be appointed to administer the estate, to collect all assets, pay all legal debts, claims, taxes and expenses, and sell real and personal property, and do all necessary acts for the estate. Upon completion of the administration, the representative shall file a final account for the allowance and shall distribute the estate to the persons thereunto entitled as ordered by the Court, and close the estate.

Notice is further given that ALL CREDITORS having claims against said estate are required to present the same to said personal representative or to the Court Administrator within four months after the date of this notice or said claims will be barred.

Dated January 9, 1987.
